Protest Removal Of Crown Worn By RCAF Men

OTTAWA (CP)—An Ontario Progressive Conservative Tuesday protested against the removal of the crown from the badge worn by non-commissioned personnel in the air force.

J. H. Ferguson, Simcoe North, voiced his protest after Defence Minister Claxton said the badge for non-commissioned airmen was changed on orders of the chief of the air staff.

Mr. Ferguson said no cabinet minister had the right to order the removal of the crown.

Mr. Claxton said officers and non-commissioned officers of the RCAF wear a badge containing a crown and an eagle. Until May 8 1953, non-commissioned airmen wore a badge which was made up of the letters "RCAF" surrounded by a laurel wreath with a small crown at the top. They now wear a badge containing an eagle.

On the girl's throat were two bruises. Dr. Hay said they were caused by the sufficient to keep the girl from crying out but not strong enough to make her unconscious or kill her. She said they could have been made by a nylon stocking if the seam were bent the skin.

The girl's eyes were dilated more widely than the veteran pathologist had ever before seen in anyone living or dead.

Dr. Hay said that in his opinion the dilation was caused by a combination of darkness, strangulation, struggling and fear.

"Profound fear, especially," he added.

He said that before he performed the post mortem, he removed from one finger of the girl's left hand a gold ring with a clear gem and the jeweller's marking "10K LA." He identified a ring shown him in court and it was entered as an exhibit.

NOT MOLESTED

The doctor said the girl appeared not to have been molested sexually. He said she appeared to be a virgin.

Lt.-Col. Val Leduc, commanding officer of the 4th Canadian Guards to which Balcombe was attached, said he asked Balcombe last March 7 to stop and meet Miss Carrier. He said he told Balcombe that, as a married man he should not go out with the young woman who had been described to him as a good girl from a good family.

The colonel said his headquarters had charge of the CNAC units in the area. Miss Carrier was attached to one of the units as a reserve force sergeant.

The colonel said that Oct. 16, after hearing that the girl was missing, he telephoned Balcombe's father-in-law's home in Komoka, near London, Ont., where Balcombe had left word he could be reached while on leave.

Col. Leduc said Balcombe himself answered the phone, said he did not know where the girl was, and said he last saw her two nights previously in Quebec City.

Capt. J. V. Carlson, commander of Balcombe's company, said that during army training exercises at Wainwright camp in Alberta last June he saw Balcombe carrying two knives, one a hunting knife and the other a double-edged stiletto. He said both knives were missing from Balcombe's kit when his belongings were gathered and listed for safekeeping after his arrest.

Hastings County Farm Forum

Four farm forums met on Monday, Feb. 15, namely, Brookdale (15); Hazzards (43); Melrose (13); and Union Valley (15). Whose was Foxboro?

The topic was "Farm Policy in Relation to Production," and the question "What Kind of Marketing and Production Policy would be best for Canadian Farmers?"

As the answers were varied the reporter, decided to give each one as sent in.

Brookdale—"We think the time is coming when manufacturers and labor groups are beginning to see that in order to set the world on an even keel the farmers' buying power must be increased. Price supports help to stabilize prices during an emergency and have been a big help. We are not exactly in favor of selling cheaper to the export market than to the domestic but it may be that if we as the United Kingdom over a precarious time she may recover more quickly."

"We are definitely not in favor of production control when part of the world is starving. An international agency could distribute surpluses stored in the world food bank and not disrupt farm prices. Let us all put our shoulder to the wheel and support our farm organization because it is to them we look for our economic salvation.

Hazzards—"We all found this a difficult but a most vital topic to discuss. Because of bad reception we couldn't hear the radio discussion but we did read the guide carefully. The group and in open forum we agreed that plans 1 and 2 were our best plan. Price supports that are not too high that dangerous surpluses result give us a more or less certain security. The two price experiments on cheese seem to be justifying itself and will help us hold our export markets."

Melrose—"Our forum agrees that the kind of marketing policy that would be best for Canadian farmers would be like they have in Sweden and New Zealand where they have a dairy and meat stabilization fund. Also to support the farm organizations more financially. Also something similar to the subsidy on our cheese at the present time. We feel it would be all right to do away with government subsidies if other industries were not subsidized by government funds which we all pay."

Rivey Valley—"Canadian farmers want some floor price so that they can profit materially and morally. To keep up the standard of living demanded by the laboring class the government should see that all classes concerned should help to make this possible. If the farmer cannot produce at a profit to meet the world markets pay the difference like they do for aviation gasoline."

"A lesson could be learned from the parable in the Old Testament where Joseph foretold Pharoah's dreams and all the corn was gathered through the seven years of plenty and stored for the years of the seven years of famine which followed."

River Valley invited Foxboro and Hazzards farm forums for a review night on Monday, also local agriculture representatives and Junior Farmer and Junior Institute delegates to Chicago last November.

Hazzards report having a travelling library and are planning an evening of reading.

Price Increase For Gold is Seen Mines' Only Hope

TORONTO (CP) — Only a substantial increase in the official price of gold can offer any permanent solution to the difficulties of gold mines, V. C. Wansbrough of Toronto, vice-president and managing director of the Canadian Metal Mining Association, said today.

"In our view," he stated in an address prepared for delivery to the association's annual meeting, "nothing else will serve to remove the handicaps now imposed on world trade through an inadequacy, in volume and price, of the one universally-recognized medium of international exchange." He added, however:

"In view of the reiterated statements of officials of the United States treasury that they refuse to consider any increase in the gold price, it would appear unlikely to anticipate any early change in the present situation.

"Nevertheless, this merely underscores the importance of making every effort to see that public opinion here and abroad is better informed about the facts and importance of the issue."

SEES NO BETTERMENT

J. A. H. Paterson, of Toronto, retiring president, in his prepared address, also found "no radical improvement in sight" for gold mines.

"Without the continued assistance given by the federal government, it is difficult to see how any but a few producers could maintain their operations."

Mr. Wansbrough said labor unrest had given rise to some criticism of the government's Emergency Gold Mining Assistance Act "from certain politicians," and that the federal government had delayed renewal of the act until labor conditions had been restored to normal. He added:

"When the act does come up for consideration, certain members representing gold mining constituencies are well prepared to combat the unfounded criticisms which have been levelled from uninformed or biased sources.

"The facts prove beyond dispute that the act has performed satisfactorily the purpose for which it was designed; namely, to keep the gold mining industry and its wholly dependent communities in existence.

NO SUDDEN RICHNESS

"No company has grown rich on cost-aid. By far the greater portion received has gone to maintain payrolls and to meet increased wages. Further increases in costs could have only one result, the discontinuance of operations by many gold mines, with disastrous effects upon employees and communities alike."

GENIAL DOCTOR

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Dr. J. J. O'Connell of Curling was presented with a gift of more than $500 on retirement after 20 years' service in which he made many trips by dog-sled, car or motorboat. The genial physician was described as a real "country doctor."

Mayor Emphatic

OTTAWA (CP) — When Mayor Charlotte Whitton says "guts" that's just what she means—U-U-T-S.

At a board of control meeting Tuesday, she said certain groups in the capital are trying to undermine the development of recreation by "confounded grapevine gossiping."

"They haven't got the guts to come out in the open and make charges," Miss Whitton said.

"You mean intestinal fortitude," suggested Controller Paul Tardif.

"No I don't," replied the mayor, "I mean guts—the good old-fashioned Anglo-Saxon word."

Husbands Should Teach Wives About Finance

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—If more husbands taught their wives the ABCs of finance there would be fewer divorces, in the opinion of Margaret E. Kennedy, one of the few women in active partnership in a New York stock exchange firm.

"I'm constantly amazed," says this pink-cheeked petticoat tycoon, "at the number of otherwise intelligent, capable women who haven't the faintest idea where the family money comes from, how much there is of it, or what they would do if their husbands suddenly dropped dead."

Mrs. Kennedy, a young and feminine-looking widow and mother of two children, has established many financial "firsts" for women. She was the first woman account executive of the investment counsel firm of Van Sturm and Towne, first woman to be appointed a vice president of a large mutual fund sponsor and several years ago became the first woman wholesaler of mutual funds when she founded her own firm, Margaret Kennedy Co.

Last year she was admitted as an active general partner in the stock exchange firm of Seligman, Lubetkin and Co.

KNOW NOT PLANNING

A specialist in finance management, Mrs. Kennedy makes frequent lecture tours explaining her "woman's dollar" program. She explains:

"This all came about when I realized the awful paradox that, although women spend most of the family money, they often know little about the family's future planning, and aren't hep to the best ways of investing for the future."

As an illustration, Mrs. Kennedy tells of the wife of a wealthy and successful business man who runs a perfectly appointed home, shops wisely for herself and her children, is poised, charming and informed on all current world events, who recently said:

HOW MUCH IS $1,000

"Tell me, Margaret, how much is $1,000? I honestly wouldn't know. I know how much $100 is, because if my husband gave me that much to go shopping, I'd know what it would buy. But I don't think I've ever seen $1,000 in cash."

Mrs. Kennedy says:

"There are too many men who say to their wives—'Go ahead and buy what you want; I'll pay for it.' Often the wives have no idea how much the family can afford to spend, whether their husbands have unlimited funds or whether they are on the edge of bankruptcy."

Friendship Circle Enjoys Evening

Euchre and cribbage highlighted the Riverside Friendship Circle's third party recently in the Riverside school with John Hood, Mrs. Guy Stickle and Ray and Florence Hearns acting as convenors. There were eight tables of euchre and five of cribbage with prizes for both.

Prize winners for euchre were, ladies' high, Mrs. Vincent McCauley; men's high, Mr. Frank Carr, Belleville; lone hand, Mrs. Vincent McCauley; draw prize, Mrs. Ruby Morris.

Prize winners in cribbage were —ladies' high, Jack Wallis; men's high, Bobby Hearns.

There were four popcorn balls for booby prizes, the two for euchre going to Isobel Armstrong and Kenneth Rose, and the two for cribbage going to Connie Wallis and Stanley Roberts.

The two high ladies' prizes were white crocheted centrepieces donated to the Circle by Mrs. Alex Hood. Two crocheted pot holders were won by Miss Hazel Hearns.

Refreshments were served by the Riverside ladies.

Visitors were present from Belleville, Trenton, Stockdale, Campbellford, Hallerbury and Montreal.

The next party will be a "hard times" dance on Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Morris and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Rose as convenors.

Women's Activities

FLAINFIELD W.M.S.

The February meeting of Plainfield W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Harry McCreary with an attendance of 13 members and two children.

Mrs. Fred Hall opened the meeting and the worship service was taken by Mrs. Willis Sills. Several members assisted the leader by reading passages of Scripture. Hymns were sung and Rev. E. J. Kersey led in prayer.

The treasurer reported $10.50 was raised by the quilting at the home of Mrs. Fred Hall. Letters were read from Mrs. Denton, convener of the Dunca committee for Belleville Presbyterial, and from Mrs. C. S. McLellan, Presbyterial president.

The World Day of Prayer service will be held in Plainfield United Church with Bethel Zion W.M.S. joining in this service. Mrs. Blanche Emerson, group leader, gave an interesting chapter of the study book "The Ministry of Radio." Mrs. Willis Sills sang a solo.

The hostess and Mrs. Emerson's group served refreshments.

Carolyn and Keith Thompson of Carmel, played two piano and violin duets.

A Valentine reading by Mrs. O. Rollins was followed by a duet, "Life's Railway to Heaven," by Misses Beryl and Mona Swan accompanied by Mrs. Earl Rose.

Valentine boxes were auctioned Carman Huffman were the winning delightful social hour was enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Smith, Madoc, Celebrate Anniversary

MADOC (Special) — Events of half a century ago were recalled today by Mr. and Mrs. Allan Smith of Madoc village who were "at home" to a host of friends on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

The "at home" and reception is being held this afternoon and evening at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Ed. Armstrong of Madoc.

The couple was married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McCoy of Remington. Mrs. Smith was the former Miss Ottie McCoy. Attendants at the wedding half a century ago were Miss Jennie Love, later Mrs. Delyea now deceased, and Mr. Isaac McCoy.

Following their marriage the couple settled down to farming in S. S. For of Belleville and Mrs. Madoc township, but for the past 25 years have lived in Madoc village. Mr. Smith was for many years an employee on the Hastings county roads system. The couple are members of Trinity United Church in Madoc.

One of the couple's sons, Murray Smith, is reeve of Madoc village, a position to which he was elected last December. Other sons are Douglas of Eldorado and Jack of Houghton, N.Y. There are four daughters, Mrs. Percy (Laura) Archard of Wellington; Mrs. J. C. (Reta) Moore of Belleville; Mrs. Ed (Sadie) Armstrong of Madoc, and Mrs. Tom (Ruth) Burnside of Madoc. There are 17 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Mrs. Smith has two sisters, Mrs. Beth Rowe, Belleville and Mrs. Jessie Bell, Toronto. Her brothers, Isaac McCoy of Remington, Bert McCoy, Eldorado, William McCoy of Madoc. Mr. Smith has one brother, Ine, of Belleville.

Need Better Care For Aged People

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada should take better care of aged persons in this country, Professor Helen Tuck of the McGill School of Social Work, said Monday.

In a report to the executive of the National Council of Jewish Women, Prof. Tuck said Canada needs "extensive and imaginative legislation and social planning for its senior citizens."

In England there was a philosophy that old people should be kept living in their homes, among their own people, as long as possible, she said.

Great Books Group Discusses Pascal

Members of the Great Books Group held their meeting at the Corby Library, Monday evening.

The group enjoyed an invigorating discussion led by Mr. K. Rose on Pascal's "Thoughts" an apology for Christian religion.

March the 8th, Mr. H. Welch will lead in the discussion of Montesquieu, "On the Origin of inequality," a discourse on political economy.

A GIRL WHO NEEDS MORE FRIENDS

DEAR 17 of 15 who seems to have several articles about her mother's inability to know "how to make friends with other girls and boys." The obstacles in her way, as she explains them, are:

"I am very shy. Not only that, I am not allowed to go to clubs, dances or any place but church, and so, I am a fat girl and I don't think people like me. I weigh around 140 or 150. I have tried to lose weight, but I can't."

Now since reducing should be the least complicated of this girl's problems, let's start with that. She says she has "tried" to lose weight, but can't, and I suspect she has other beefs about her shortcomings by herself, without any help of criticism, or any urging at all. When people are unhappy, they often seem to eat more, rather than less.

I think this girl should ask her mother to take her to a reducing doctor and have him advise her just how to go about reducing. If he said she was overweight, he'd except under a physician's supervision. Once he has settled down, she will not only feel healthier and more energetic and ready to do things, but she'll also look so much more attractive that it will be far easier for her to make friends.

Besides getting down to her proper weight, she should work on some thought to her appearance in other ways. Is she wearing her hair in the best manner for her, or would a new style improve her looks? Does she pay enough time to groomed at all times? Does she wear clothes that really suit her? All these things may seem trivial to her at present, if she gives them some thought, she'll find places where improvements can be made. When she knows she looks her best, it will build up her confidence and help her to be less shy.

More knowledge about anything else in making friends, however, may be too far-fetched. She should try not to hang back from mingling with her schoolmates, but take part with them in the many school activities as possible. If she's always ready to lend a hand where help of any kind is needed, always cheerful, and endowed with good sport, she'll quickly find that people will want her included in everything that goes on.

From what she says about not being allowed to go anywhere but to church, I gather that the church to which her family belongs is one of the type which does not believe in young people having fun. Since she's not allowed to go to clubs or shows, dances undoubtedly are also out. This is too bad, but if such things are really against the creed her church, then I'm afraid that to avoid friction with her parents, she will just have to make the best of it until she is old enough to choose for herself what she wishes to do, and the kind of clubs to which she wishes to belong.

In the meantime, however, there must be some activities at school that her family and church would consider perfectly all right for her to enjoy. Certainly athletics can't be banned, and I should think there might be groups with some special programs in which she would take part.

I think it would be very advisable for her to go to some teacher she likes in school and tell her all about her problems. A teacher who is really interested in her pupils, and makes a real effort to understand their needs, would want to help her and will know how best to do it. Such a teacher might be able to find a way to bring friends with the girl's parents' sanction if she can't get them to let her have a little more freedom.

Here, then, are a lot of suggestions for this girl to start on, and I suggest she begin right away to follow them out. I would also like to send her my suggestions on how to be popular, and if she will write me again, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope so that I can get the direct touch with her, I will mail them to her promptly. She might also like to have my list of books for teen-agers, which will tell her how to make the most of her looks, how to develop her personality, what to do about dates, and all the other things teen-agers want to know. She should be able to find these books at her public library.

About all, this teen-ager should try not to be discouraged and feel that her case is hopeless. I'm quite sure it is not.

Homemade Hot Rolls

By Mary Moore

Tomorrow Lilian's F.'s letter will be printed. In it one of the recipes she asks for is "buns (with yeast) and muffins using graham flour."

Another reader, some time ago complained that the smell and taste of yeast was so strong in her breads that she couldn't enjoy making or eating yeast-raised breads.

Since then I've been using only 1 package of granular yeast in all of my yeast products. They require a little longer to rise, but I can detect no taste or smell of yeast in them.

I hope that reader, whose name I cannot recall, and Lillian like this recipe for yeast rolls as well as my crowd did.

HOMEMADE HOT ROLLS

(Yeast)

Into the measuring cup measure 1 teaspoon sugar; fill to 1-3 cup mark with lukewarm water. Sprinkle 1 package granular yeast, in. Let stand 10 minutes, then stir just a little. Sift all-purpose flour and measure 4 cups plus 2 tablespoons. In large mixing bowl beat together 1-4 or 1-3 cup sugar, 1-3 cup soft shortening, 1 teaspoon salt and 2 eggs until blended and smooth, using rotary beater if desired. Stir in this add 1-4 cup lukewarm milk. After yeast has soaked 10 minutes or more, has been stirred just a little, add it, and the sifted measured flour. Beat with spoon to mix. Scrape dough down from sides of bowl, cover bowl with slightly dampened cloth, then a plate and let rise until doubled in bulk—about 1 hour in warm room on top. Scrape out onto fairly generously floured board. When you start with the dough now is a matter of choice. I shaped mine into crescents and butterflies. For the Crescents divide dough in half and roll out one half to a 12-inch circle about 1-4-inch thick. Spread with soft butter. Cut into 12 pie-shaped pieces. Beginning at the rounded edge roll each piece up, and place on buttered pan, point underneath—leaving at least 1 inch space between each roll. For Butterfly buns roll out second half of dough to 12 inch thickness. Spread with soft butter and roll up like a jelly roll. Cut into 1-inch pieces. With the handle of your wooden spoon make a deep depression in the middle of each roll to make it roughly resemble a butterfly. Place one inch apart on buttered pan. Cover pans of buns with doubled towel and let rise until doubled—about 1 hours at 75 deg. Fahr. Bake at 425 deg. Fahr. about 15 minutes.

GRAHAM MUFFINS

(Baking Powder)

Butter and flour lightly your muffin tins and set oven at 400 degrees Fahr. before starting for this mix must be handled quickly. Sift graham flour, adding residue bran in sifter to sifted flour. Measure 1-2 cups plus 2 tablespoons. Sift bread or all-purpose flour and measure 1-2 cup and 2 tablespoons. Combine flour in sifter with 3 teaspoons baking powder (not powder as it's called) 1-2 teaspoon salt. Cream 1-4 cup soft butter or margarine or vegetable shortening until light then add 1-3 cup sugar beating and creaming well. Add 1 large egg and beat in until light. Add 1-2 cup lukewarm milk all at once, beat just a little then sift dry ingredients over batter, and stir only enough to make mixture moist. Turn at once into greased muffin ting, filling cups 2-3 full and bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for medium small muffins; 20 minutes for large, reducing heat to 375 deg. for last five minutes. When done turn out at once.

Note: If desired 1-4 cup steamed and dried raisins may be folded into the mix better with the dry ingredients—but do this last stirring quickly.

DIES AT BANGOR

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Sgt. Harry H. Peel, 52, with the Ontario Provincial Police 28 years, collapsed and died Monday night at a father-and-son banquet held by Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs.

He started with the force at Welland and was promoted to corporal in 1940. In 1946 he was made sergeant and took charge of the Barrie detachment. Two years later he returned to this area to become district chief sergeant.

Surviving besides his widow are a son, Sandy; a daughter, Nancy; and a brother, Jack, of Guelph.

Women's Activities

VALENTINE PARTY

Thirty members of the Evening Branch of the W.A. of Christ Church held a Valentine party in the parish hall. The committee in charge of the entertainment was composed of Mrs. A. Bongard, Mrs. I. Reid, Mrs. M. Button, Mrs. J. Ribbard and Miss F. Reid.

The program included a Valentine hunt, fashion relay, the matching of hearts to form singing groups, and other contests.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Lancaster, Mrs. O. Ragsdale, Mrs. J. Hibbard, Mrs. E. Smith, Mrs. J. Spencer, Mrs. J. Cocks, Mrs. C. Fuzzen and Mrs. P. Burton.

Following a sing-song refreshments were served from a pretty decorated table adorned with a Valentine centerpiece and large Valentine cakes, by the hostesses, Mrs. A. Cooper, Mrs. C. Fuzzen, Mrs. L. Baker, Mrs. E. Smith, Mrs. J. Miles and Mrs. B. Wells.

Rev. Everett Smith closed with prayer.

ST. PETER'S WOMEN'S CLUB

The February meeting of St. Peter's Women's Club was held at the home of Mrs. Cowan, St. Peter's Women's Club of Maple, was held at the home of Miss Ken Connor.

During the business session the treasurer's report was read and the club members were gratified to learn that in 1953 the sum of $2,350.27 was raised. Discussion and plans for projects for the year followed.

The entertainment program in charge of Mrs. Ken Connor was enjoyed and consisted of a solo by Mrs. R. McCaffrey, with guitar accompaniment by Mrs. Allan Franks, who also rendered guitar music with the members joining in the choruses. Mrs. Wood read the story of St. Valentine and concluded the program with a contest. Mrs. T. Connor thanked the hostess for her hospitality and all those who contributed to the program.

Officers elected for 1954 were: president, Mrs. T. Nicol; 1st vice president, Mrs. R. McCaffrey; 2nd vice president, Mrs. N. Whytock; secretary, Miss I. Cowan; treasurer, Mrs. J. M. Wood; devotional con., Mrs. M. Wright; pianist, Mrs. A. Franks; press reporter, Mrs. J. A. Watson.

JET BOMBER MISSING

MELBOURNE (Reuters) — An RAF Canberra jet bomber is missing between the Carolin and Admiralty islands in the Pacific, the Royal Australian Air Force announced here today. The Canberra was on its way to Australia to take part in high-altitude meteorological research at the Woomera rocket range.

Beauty

By HELEN JAMIESON

TINTING THE FINGER NAILS

Nail polishes come in so many colors these days that more and more girls are tying to harmonize the nail tint with the color of the dress they are wearing. Currently quite cute if you ask us—or even if you don't. Getting color-wise should be the ambition of every woman since the ensemble concoctes so much to good appearance. To follow this trend, however, you must have at least a half dozen different shades.

For the black frock one should use a true red or cardinal polish. The effect is gay and pleasing, strikes precisely the right note, especially if one carries a red purse, has a bit of red in the chapeau. Sartorially one is all in tune.

With the frock of navy blue, it is smart to wear a blue-red polish. Orchids, for instance, combines nicely with navy blue—not the bluish cast. Beauticians suggest pinkish-red polishes for beige dresses.

When evening frocks of pastel tones are worn, the nail glow should be soft and subdued. For light blue there are pinkish-reds and opalescent shades. With pink dresses, try for a pearl nail polish.

Gray dresses call for coral, which range from very faint to darker brown fabrics of similar hue, nail-shine get along happily together.

WOULD DONATE FOOD

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Roosevelt administration has told international peace says "the Christian conscience is saddened by the embarrassing piles of America's agricultural products" in the face of hunger elsewhere in the world. Urging the government to step up its free distribution of United States farm surpluses abroad, the association said Tuesday a statement that emergency relief is needed by "hungry millions."

Fashion Flashes

Crisp and colorful cottons are registering well, Silky cotton is white, with a pergod and blossom design in green and red, makes a nice little dress, with solid cotton facing the scalloped scooped neckline and hem and also forming shoulder lacings.

Another of the fabric novelties destined for success is pure silk suiting in a linen effect. The luster of the silk goes nicely with the rough, linen-like texture of the weave. It is crease resistant and has been dyed in a wide range of light Spring shades.

Bringing Up Baby

What a wonderful day for baby when daddy baby baby makes the first attempt to finger-feed himself. Of course it's messy! But think of the fun he's having trying to gain independence . . . of the real strides he's making in learning hand-and-mouth coordination. A plate bib will keep the dribbles from his clothes . . . shet plastic under baby's high chair will save the floor from stains and spills.

What a wonderful day, too, when baby graduates from strained to junior or chewing foods! When the first smattering of teeth come through, both you and baby will appreciate Gerber's Junior Foods. For the tender, minced texture gives baby something to chew and those new little teeth bite! (The babies his has really encourage chewing!) And the true-flavor, natural-color goodness which makes Gerber's, Strained foods so appealing, helps to keep Junior's appetite perked up.

First stage slept. Once your active little sprout starts getting the wanderlust, you can save him a few tumbles (especially on the kitchen floor) if you lightly sandpaper the soles of his first hard-soled shoes.

Five heavenly varieties of luscious sun-ripened fruits . . . processed to preserve the true-to-fruit goodness and flavors baby likes. Good eating gallon is in store for your teething toddler when you serve Gerber's Junior Fruits. Nice "as is" — swell for a cereal topping or as a spread on bread for an older child.

Send for this handy baby bib! Made of vinylite plastic with "catchall" bottom, sized in pink and blue. Wonderful for saving baby's clothes from mealtime spills. Just send either 6 Gerber's can labels or 1 Gerber's box top to Mrs. Dan Gerber, Box 17, Toronto 18, Canada.

Row Over Chief Justice Job Is Latest in Long Series

By ED SIMON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (CP) — The congressional row over the appointment of Chief Justice Earl Warren is the latest of a series of political disputes based on the time-honored doctrine of separation of powers in the government of the United States.

The doctrine, which sets up three separate and independent branches of government, is one of the most widely respected ingredients of the U.S. constitution, against which the most forceful presidents and legislators seldom prevail.

It defines and limits the powers of the three branches—the executive, headed by the president and personally responsible to him; the two chambers of Congress forming the legislative branch and responsible directly to the people; and the judiciary, headed by a chief justice appointed by the president and subject to congressional confirmation.

Normally a chief justice would not assume office until Congress has ratified his nomination, a procedure which usually is little more than a formality.

EMERGENCY APPOINTMENT

But Warren was named by President Eisenhower to fill the office temporarily when the precedessor, Fred Vinson, died several months before Congress was due to sit.

Confirmation of the appointment ran into violent opposition from Senator William Langer, a veteran North Dakota Republican who heads the Senate's judiciary subcommittee and has sworn to battle every Eisenhower appointment because he complains he should have been consulted in the naming of several postmasters in his home state.

Consequently Warren is attempting to fill his independent role as the highest judicial officer in the land while his qualifications still are under congressional debate.

A number of public figures of both political parties fear the continuing veto power of Congress over Warren's appointment and the violence of the attacks against him may hamper the chief justice in his functions and may hold up the high office itself in public distrust.

Senator Langer aroused widespread indignation when he released a list of unevaluated charges which he said had been sent to the sub-committee by various persons. They accused the chief justice of a number of offenses, including adherence to the Communist party line, consorting with "a notorious liquor lobbyist."

ACCUSERS NOT CHECKED

Langer admitted that the subcommittee staff had not even checked the names and addresses of Warren's accusers.

Prompted by the vigorous and widespread denunciation of Langer's action, the sub-committee hastily produced a favorable report on Warren and sent the nomination to the full judiciary committee for consideration. There appeared little prospect of further serious opposition to the appointment.

It was the second time in little more than a week that invoking of the separation of powers gave Congress pause in a projected action. The president fought on the same issue against a constitutional amendment proposed by Senator John Bricker (Rep, Ohio) which would have limited his power to make agreements with foreign powers without prior consultation with Congress.

The amendment currently is stalled while congressional leaders seek a compromise agreeable to both the president and the senator.

Former president Truman invoked the doctrine last November in refusing to accept a subpoena to testify before the Senate's un-American activities committee. The committee accepted his argument that a president is not accountable to Congress for his activities, and withdrew the subpoena.

Hydro Approves Rate Reduction

FRANKFORD— Ontario Hydro has approved a rate reduction to domestic and commercial customers of the Frankford Hydro Electric Commission, it was announced today by chairman, H. W. Rose. The new schedule of rates will come into effect in the next billing period.

Approval has also been given for the expenditure of $1,000 during 1954, from available funds, for extension to the Frankford street lighting system, Mr. Rose added.

W.M.S. MEETS

The February meeting of the United Church W.M.S. was held in the church hall on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Walter Morrow, the president, was in charge.

She spoke briefly on the "Work of the Disciples," and recited a short prayer.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. C. D. Powell. Mrs. Madill, treasurer, gave the financial report.

All were sorry to hear that Mrs. Frank Johnston is a patient in the Trenton Memorial Hospital. It was requested that other members, because of illness in their family, be remembered in prayer.

Mrs. Powell gave a brief talk on Christian Stewardship and read a poem.

Mrs. Fred Charlesworth took charge of the program.

An inspirational address was given by Mrs. A. Lott on the "Power of Prayer" and Rev. C. E. Clarke sang a hymn.

The study book was given by Mrs. J. M. Dafoe.

Mrs. Leslie Frost sang a solo.

Rev. C. Clarke closed the meeting with prayer.

PIE SOCIAL

A pie social sponsored by the W.A. of the Frankford United Church was held last Tuesday night in the Rose Every Hall. Due to the weather only eighty attended.

The Rev. C. E. Clarke was auctioneer as well as master of ceremonies.

All the pies were sold.

Entertainment which had been arranged for the evening was cancelled by the weather, and members of the church filled in the program most admirably. Numbered among those taking part were Mrs. Walter Morrow, who sang a solo; Mr. Ernie Wallace sang several solos, accompanying himself on the guitar.

The quartet of the church, Harry Slingerland, Ernie Wallace, Arthur Southworth and Ron Mitts, accompanied by Mrs. S. Martin at the piano, sang a few songs. Mr. Harry Slingerland played the bones, accompanied by Mrs. Martin at the piano. Mrs. Fred Charlesworth sang a solo, and Mrs. S. Martin and Rev. Clarke were heard in a duet. Mrs. Leslie Frost played the piano for the community singing which was a feature of the evening.

MISSION BAND

The Mission Band of the Frankford United Church held its meeting in the form of a Valentine's party on Monday under the leadership of Mrs. J. Pollard. The meeting was held in the Rose Lowery Hall and Sandra Morrow presided in the absence of the president, Eleanor Beach, who has been ill.

Margaret Sine played a selection which was taught by Mrs. Evelyn Martin. The members sang "How Wide Is The Ocean", "Fishers of Men," and "Jesus Loves Me." Colleen Chase read a Scripture, was read by Helene Hall. The offering was taken by Elaine Sharp.

A short program followed with a piano solo by Sandra Morrow; a song by Patsy Bowers; a piano solo by Caroline Carlisle. Reading of verse by Colleen Chase and a solo by Judy Carlisle.

The rest of the party was spent exchanging Valentines and playing games.

Refreshments were served.

BEAR HUNTER — It is in carvings such as these that the Eskimo does his best work, for nobody could be more familiar with the subject. Even in carvings the Eskimo makes sure the subject is well bundled against the cold. The bear possibly is poised over a hole in the ice, going fishing. (CP Photo.)

EYES POPPING — The hunter huffs and he puffs in this Eskimo carving, blowing up a seal bladder to be used as float at the end of his harpoon line. Thousands of such carvings are being turned out by Canada's Eskimos, mirroring every-day happenings in their Arctic home. The slightly pop eyes are inlaid ivory. — (CP Photo).

ARCTIC MOTHER—This family-type sculpture was done by an Eskimo in Canada's north and was carved with primitive tools from flinty gray stone. A market is opening up for this top-of-the-world art, giving the Eskimo a new income.—(CP Photo).

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Bush, River Valley, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Carman Richards and baby of Wooler, to Toronto on Thursday and the former couple were guests at the home of her brother, Mr. Duncan Montgomery and Mrs. Montgomery.

On Thursday the streets committee made arrangements to have the large piles of snow removed from the front streets of the town so that angle parking of cars could be resumed.

Mr. Douglas Patterson attended a committee meeting of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association in Toronto on Friday.

Mrs. R. A. Hermiston entertained St. Andrew's W.M.S. at her home on Tuesday and despite the heavy snow storm attended 30 ladies were in attendance. Mrs. Charles Peggy prepared a paper on St. Valentine, which was read by Mrs. Roy Eggleton. Mrs. W. L. Mumme spoke briefly on the study on Africa. Mrs. R. H. Williams brought a message from "Glad Tidings." Refreshments were served and Mrs. W. H. V. Walker thanked the hostess on behalf of the members.

Mr. and Mrs. George Noble entertained Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Fergerall and sons, of Toronto over the week-end.

Miss Roberta Good, nurse-in-training at Kingston, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Good, last week.

Mr. Ralph McCabe, who secures his father in commercial fishing in Belleville, reports that they caught a carp which weighed 21½ lbs. and it was on display in town last Monday. The fish was caught in the Bay of Quinte.

Gordon Vardy is a patient in Kingston General Hospital.

CHURCH REDECORATED

Mr. Everett Cooke has received a contract to refinish all the pews and woodwork in Carnegie United Church. He began the work last week. The work will be done in natural grain finish and it is hoped to have the re-opening service the last Sunday in February. The church floor and new platforms have been covered with grey battleship linoleum. Mr. Hector Eggleton has made the new pews and will finish that work in a few days.

Eskimo Sculpture in Stone, Ivory Selling Well in Shops

By DAVE STOCKARD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG (CP)—Canada's Eskimos are building a better life through the objects of art they are turning out near the top of the world.

Eskimo sculpture in stone and ivory is selling well in Canadian art and handicraft shops.

An Eskimo in the eastern Arctic sets aside his rifle or spear. He picks up a chunk of soapstone or serpentine and begins chipping with the crudest of tools, mirroring what he has seen on the hunt.

Down in the big cities the finished stone-and-ivory figure is snapped up, and not by just a highbrow handful: casual collectors are finding that the lines of sculpture turned out by a "primitive nomad" blend beautifully with the modern vogue in interior decorating.

MANY HAVE TALENT

This talent, which gives the Eskimo something to fall back on when the fox and caribou fail him, is not rare among the people of the north.

Both sexes and all ages are attacking the new market with such zest that artist James Houston, who introduced the Arctic sculpture to a buying public, calls the Eskimo "Canada's liveliest art group."

With nothing more than bone drills, files and knives, and sometimes a soaking in seal oil to bring out color, chunks of stone are being transformed into vital images of every-day happenings in the Arctic.

LIVELY PIECES

A stone hunter stands poised with an ivory harpoon raised for the plunge; a sleek stone seal or a grumpy walrus suns himself on the ice; a hunter, [illegible] ping, blows up a bladder; an Eskimo woman, full to the brim with her stone body, scolds a husky which has been eating up around camp.

And these are just a few of the pieces in hand a market. The number of works brought out since 1949 exceeds 30,000.

The story of the art's introduction began in 1948, when the Toronto-born Houston brought back a few Eskimo articles on his return from a trip into the north.

He showed them to the Canadian Handicrafts Guild and made another trip north in 1949 under that organization's auspices.

The sculptors he brought back from Port Harrison and Povungnetuk on the eastern shores of Hudson Bay was put on sale in Montreal. The sale was proposed to last a week. Every article had been sold in three days.

HANDICRAFTS GUILD HELPS

The Arctic project got into full swing when the federal government came through with a grant and the Hudson's Bay Company began to handle the carvings at its trading posts, turning them over to the Handicrafts Guild for sale in the cities.

The guild trades with the Eskimos through the post managers. No Eskimo does any set project; there is no attempt at mass production. The individual pieces come in slowly to the various posts where they are bought by the managers who know the quality and type required.

The price paid the Eskimo varies with the quality of the item. The collection of articles for the year arrives in Montreal in the autumn. The Handicrafts Guild, which has its headquarters in Montreal, worked on a government grant until last year. At the present time it reports it is just meeting its expenses of operation, as far as the Eskimo work is concerned.

Almost every carving is different because the Eskimos don't see much sense in duplicating something they have already done. But of late there has been a slight trend in the wrong direction.

"Some of it is definitely imitative," says Clifford Wilson of Hudson's Bay House, speaking of a few of the recent carvings. "When they find certain types sell well they are liable to do quite a lot like that."

WORK IS IMPROVING

But the general picture is one of improvement, he says. The Eskimos are doing more work in stone than they ever did in the past and these items are superior to the few old carvings that can be found in museums.

Much of the old work was all ivory. Now ivory is used mainly to set off the works in stone—for spears, eyes, teeth and the like—and as pegs joining multi-piece works; the Eskimo has no glues.

The handicrafts people generally limit their advice to encouraging the Eskimos to select better stones, to age ivory for durability and to clean skins to rid them of odor.

Houston says there is no doubt the Eskimo has "specified and will benefit still more in the future. In the HBC quarterly, The Beaver, he wrote:

"It is his (the Eskimo's) first step into the industry. Government relief in these areas is being reduced and the natives are obviously well pleased with their new earning power."

WORKERS LAID OFF

DETROIT (AP)—Three Chrysler Corporation divisions—Dodge, De Soto and Chrysler—were shut down Monday as a result of a short work week. The closings made idle some 25,000 workers. No reason for the shutdown was given, but it was believed designed to adjust production to the current lag in auto sales.

St. Laurent Sees Results Of India's Five-Year Plan To Modernize Village Life

HONORED BY U.S. FOR RESCUE WORK.

Sergt. Costuriere.

Sergt. Trent.

Sergt. Reginald W. Trent, 32, of Fellow, Sask., and Sergt. Joseph Costuriere, 33, Edmunston, N.B., RCAF safety equipment technician, have been awarded the U.S. soldier's medal for heroism during the crash of a USAF B-36 aircraft in Newfoundland, March, 1953. Members of an RCAF para-rescue team enlisted at...103 Rescue Unit, Torbay, Nfld., the two men parachuted to the scene of the crash from a height of 700 feet at great personal risk to aid possible survivors of the crash.—Central Press Canadian.

PLAYERS BREAK PLEDGES

BRONXVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—The principal of Bronxville High School said Tuesday that the rest of the school's basketball schedule has been cancelled because 10 of the 12 members of the team broke training pledges. The pledges were that they would not drink alcoholic beverages or smoke, and that they would get eight hours sleep and eight hours of it before midnight when possible—be home by 12 p. m. on the eve of a game, and keep up their studies and "ethical standards."

By WILLIAM STEWART
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW DELHI (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent drove today to the rural outskirts of this capital to see what is happening under India's five-year plan to modernize the lives of 600,000 people who live in primitive conditions in villages throughout the country.

The Canadian leader was taken through the little village of Zindipur, whose 300 people live in mud huts, sleep on mud floors and walk muddy streets. They cook in open mud ovens using as fuel the dung of cattle kept just outside their doors.

From Zindipur, which is scarcely 100 yards from one wall to another, the prime minister went half a mile to the improved larger villages of Mukhmelpur, where the streets have been paved with bricks and most walls of homes are painted with white or colored wash. The dung cakes have been moved to the edge of a new outer village road for use on the flat fields as fertilizer.

FLOWS STEEL-FOINTED

College students have come from the city to teach the children of illiterate parents. Public latrines have been built. A community reading room and library has been set up and steel points have been added to the wooden plough.

The prime minister, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Hugh O'Donnell, drove from the road to the village site at the head of a motorcade of 14 automobiles. When he arrived, the villagers were digging holes for tree planting, eventually to produce wood for fuel.

The villagers, who heaped flower wreaths at times around the visiting prime minister's neck, crowded around him when he took a hoe and worked at a hole offering his encouragement to the project.

Later the village gathered in a sunny square to hear his brief talk about the goodwill mission of his half-completed six-week world tour.

Mr. St. Laurent's words were translated into Hindi a sentence at a time by Finance Minister Chintaman Deshmukh Peshkam of New Delhi state.

TO AID MILLIONS

Village development all through India's million-odd square miles of territory was started in October, 1952, and there is in progress at 23,000 villages with 21,000,000 people.

A preliminary stage of improvement, which does not involve money, is going ahead in another 23,000 villages with a further population of 21,000,000.

The five-year program will apply to 120,000 villages with 84,000,000 people. The government has estimated the five-year cost at $1,000,000,000.

Speaking to a rural audience in Mukhmelpur, St. Laurent added: "This community development program is a symbol of the unity of the peoples of the world community at large."

Tonight at dinner the prime minister spent an hour visiting historic sites about that city and a high Indian capital to bear the name Delhi.

He saw the towering Qutab Minaro, built 800 years ago, the nearby Mybeorious iron pillar which has defied rust for centuries, and the brown granite forts of Purana Qila and Tughlakabad, associated with earlier Delhis.

Labor Minister Studies Question Of 'Checkoff'

OTTAWA (CP)—Labor Minister Gregg said Tuesday his department is studying the question of the checkoff union dues but he sees no "great urgency" about bringing legislation into Parliament.

Mr. Gregg was speaking in the Commons on a bill by Stanley Knowles (CCF — Winnipeg North Centre) to have the "voluntary revocable" checkoff written into the federal labor code.

Under the Knowles measure, it would be mandatory on employers under federal jurisdiction to deduct union dues from employees' pay envelopes when the workers submit this. Industries affected by such legislation would be railways, communications and other interprovincial operations under Parliament's control in industrial relations.

In the hour devoted to non-cabinet members' legislation Tuesday, Mr. Knowles' bill did not get to a vote. It will come up again later in the session.

When the hour expired, Opposition Leader Drew was talking after having made the suggestion that the government set up a royal commission to study labor legislation generally.

He said a suitable chairman might be Hon. C. P. McTague, former Ontario Supreme Court justice and chairman of the national war labor board in 1943-44. Mr. McTague also is a former chairman of the Ontario securities commission and of the National Progressive Conservative Association.

VOTED DOWN BEFORE

Mr. Knowles' bill, which he has proposed at several previous sessions of Parliament, came up for debate for the first time at this session. It was voted down a number of times earlier, but last year the Commons recommended the government give consideration to its principle.

The labor minister said Tuesday this consideration has been in progress by a labor department committee for some time. The committee also was studying a series of other amendments to the labor code, which went into effect in 1948 and has not had any major changes since.

Mr. Gregg said he cannot say when he will be able to submit a list of labor code amendments—including one on the checkoff—to the cabinet.

"I cannot undertake to give the House the exact time that the action can be taken or to forecast the results," Mr. Gregg said.

"I do not think the matter is of such great urgency that I should be able to say at a fixed date I would like to have further study given to all the proposed amendments."

Mr. Gregg also said that pt this time there "exists a very strong feeling in the public mind regarding jurisdiction" over labor affairs in disputes in which the checkoff was an issue.

This was an evident reference to the long struggle in the northern Ontario and Quebec gold mines now largely settled—in which the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL) lost out in a fight for the checkoff. These mines are under provincial jurisdiction.

FOR U.S.-BOUND.

TOKYO (AP) — Cpl. Claude Batchelor, an American prisoner of war in Korea, was flown to Tokyo about staying with the Communists, left for Seoul today aboard a plush military plane carrying 14 officials including two generals. Just before walking up the ramp, Batchelor bade farewell to his Japanese wife Kyoko, whose love letters played an important part in his decision to renounce communism, he has said. She hopes to join him later.

Two Risk Lives in Vain Effort to Save Five-Year-Old

Two persons, Rev. Joseph Patterson and 18-year-old Marilyn Fralick, risked their lives to save Colin Kragland, age 5, when this ice on this mill pond at Bloomfield, Ont., gave way. Rev. Patterson and Marilyn both had the ice break under them as they tried to reach the boy, whose two playmates were saved. Here searchers probe the pond to recover the boy's body. — Central Press Canadian.

Alberta Govt. Works Out Plan To Overcome Teacher Shortage

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Alberta government has worked out a plan to overcome a teacher shortage by the time the schools reopen for the fall term.

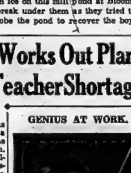
Education Minister Anders Aalborg described in the Alberta legislature Tuesday legislation the government plans to introduce later this session.

He said the government proposes to issue permanent teaching certificates after a five-year training and will introduce a six-week course to qualify Grade 12 graduates for a "student teacher" rating which will enable them to teach for a year in classrooms that would otherwise be without teachers.

Alberta now is short of 137 teachers as against 220 last fall and a high of 814 in September, 1946, Mr. Aalborg said. He added that he does not think the proposals will lower teaching standards and that he considers the change "justified under the circumstances."

A plea for the Saskatchewan government to spend more than $1,000,000 on the building of market roads was made in the legislature at Regina by John Horsman, Liberal member for Wilkie. He said in throne speech debate that, if the government would gravel roads municipalities would each build 10 miles a year.

DEBATE CLEO



The Manitoba legislature continued debate on a bill to permit oleomargarine sold in the province to be a deeper yellow than at present. P. L. Joblin, Liberal-Progressive member for The Pas, said too many members are concerned with the interests of the dairy industry and too few with the interests of the people of Manitoba as a whole.

World Minister Romeo Lorrain of Quebec said a proposed bridge between Fort Chambly and Village Richelieu on the Richelieu-Yamaska River highway will cost between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. It would replace a 50-year-old span over the Richelieu River.

Liberal leader A. C. Taylor, opening throne speech debate in the New Brunswick legislature, criticized the Progressive Conservative administration for not making a more equitable distribution of federal grants. He also said the throne speech contained no promise of anything substantial to improve the fishing industry.

The Nova Scotia Legislature, scheduled to open today, faced the task of choosing a new speaker. The former speaker, Gordon Bonnyman, was defeated in last June's election in which Premier Angus L. Macdonald's Liberals were returned.

GENIUS AT WORK.

Brian van Dale, 8, of Lincoln, R.I., is shown working a high school science problem on the blackboard of his 10th grade classroom in the Hamilton county day school at Norton, Brian, now away for college, has an I.Q. rating of 185, far above the genius rating. — Central Press Canadian.

Increasing Concern

OTTAWA (CP) — Broadcasters are becoming concerned about the "something - for - nothing" attitude resulting from five give-away shows and are discussing what steps to take.

A. D. Dunton, chairman of the CBC board of governors, said Tuesday in an interview that the CBC and representatives of the private broadcasters will meet here sometime next month to discuss the matter.

T. J. Allard, executive vice-president of the Canadian Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, said this is a problem that is giving broadcasters increasing concern.

"We have had consultations with the CBC in the past about giveaway shows. The something-for-nothing philosophy has gone far too far in many phases of our society.

"It isn't exclusively a broadcasting problem but where we can we hope to lessen its ill effects."

Mr. Dunton said the CBC has been holding similar discussions with advertising agencies.

Both he and Mr. Allard said it is unlikely that any steps will be taken except by mutual agreement among the parties concerned.

114 Police Dogs Putting Teeth Into The Law

By NORMAN MOSS

LONDON (Reuters) — Scotland Yard's 114 police dogs have been putting teeth into the law with remarkable success since the four-legged sleuths began pounding regular beats in 1946.

The German shepherd and Labrador dogs have proved most successful in Hyde Park, the rolling acres of lawns, woods and flower gardens in the heart of the metropolis.

In 1946, the harassed police force, seriously depleted by wartime demands, received reports of 219 cases of handbag pinching. By 1952, the number had dropped to about 100.

The thieves have learned canine cops are harder to fool than the human ones. The reason has often cost them torn trousers and deep tooth marks as well as arrest.

The London police dog accompanies a London constable on his beat at night, strolling at his master's side streets, alleys and empty buildings, and drawing attention to anything that warrants investigation.

OTHERS AT STATION

Many dogs, however, stay in the station, waiting to be sent by patrol car to the scene of a crime. Not only will the dog smell out a suspect, he will detain him by snapping his powerful jaws on a sleeve or arm.

Wide public recognition first came to a police dog in January, 1949, when Blaze, a German shepherd, cornered three thieves lurking in a garage and held them at bay until police-man-master arrested them.

Other police dogs, Rajah and Earl, won kudos in 1950, when they rounded up all 12 of a gang of young hooligans who were wrecking property in Hyde Park at night.

Some dogs have achieved remarkable records. Ben, a black Labrador, has 114 arrests to his credit, and Rajah has 66.

They generally are one - man dogs. Each goes through the entire three-month training period with a policeman, or "h a n d l e r," who learns to work with him alone. An exception are the Hyde Park scout dogs, who are trained to work with more than one man.

FACE OBSTACLE COURSE

At school, the dogs learn to track; to chase their prey over a six-foot fence; to recognize and grab him and hang on, without harming him.

Blank revolver shots are fired at them, together with other loud noises and distractions.

When a dog finishes his training, he lives in his policeman-master's home and the policeman is paid an allowance for doing so. One hour of the dog's work day is spent in grooming and keeping fit on police training grounds.

Their job consists of more than just catching criminals. Jimmy Rex, recently was called out to help search a forest on the outskirts of London for a man who tried to commit suicide by taking poison. Scout found the man lying hidden in tall grass—in time to save his life.

WOULD BUY CHURCH LAND

MADRID (AP) —The Spanish government Tuesday sent to Parliament for approval a bill to acquire all property in Spain belonging to the Roman Catholic bishops of Ireland at a cost of 2,000,000 pesetas (about $50,000). Some of the property has belonged to the Irish church since the 16th Century, when Irish priests began training in Spain because of religious persecutions in their homeland.

New Weapons More Deadly Than Known in Second War Being Delivered To Forces

By DAVE MANTOOTH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—New weapons far more deadly than anything known during the Second World War are being delivered to Canada's armed forces.

Even while this potent arsenal is being built up, the services and defence research board continues experiments in the ceaseless hunt for better equipment to give the fighting man every possible break in any future war.

New weapons now being delivered do not include atomic bombs or other nuclear weapons, which the Canadian services will get eventually.

In the cold war, there is no end to the problem in developing the forces with the most modern destructive machines. Defence Minister Claxton said in a recent interview: "You reach one goal, but even before you get there, you know there'll be a new one beyond that and another beyond that again."

Here is a rundown of some of the new weapons being fed to the forces. Others are being considered, still others are secret.

NAVY

Anti-submarine escorts — Five launched, nine under construction. Minesweepers — Four completed last year, 10 expected to be ready for the sea this year.

Aircraft carrier — the angled-deck Bonaventure, now a-building at Belfast, expected to be launched in 1956.

Destroyers — 21 are undergoing conversion.

Small craft, ranging from patrol vessels to floating derricks—43 completed or under construction. Banshee — Newest fighter in service. About 40 are on order from the United Kingdom to replace Sea Fury fighters by 1956.

Grumman S2F — anti-submarine aircraft—about 40 are on order to replace Avengers.

Sonobuoy — A new device for locating enemy submarines.

Squid — A new anti-submarine mortar with electronic fire control system, enabling detonation at predetermined depths.

Torpedo—New models for use in both ships and aircraft.

Armament—New three-inch electronic gun.

ARMY

Rifle — Belgian Fabrique Nationale automatic 30-calibre probably will be made in Canada as .303.

Tanks — Conversion to British Centurions from U.S. Sherman is almost complete. The army is developing a new tank to succeed the later-model Centurions or monster British Conqueror.

Anti-aircraft — Consideration is being given to purchase of the Bofors Nike, which fires guided missiles, or a similar weapon.

Radar — Ground-building machines are being tested but are still secret.

AIR FORCE

Aircraft:

Three defence squadrons are being equipped with CF-100 all-weather jets, believed to be the most powerful in any air force in the world.

The delta-winged CF-105 now is on the drawing boards.

So is the British Bristol Britannia, being developed for use as Lancaster bomber as an anti-submarine and transport plane.

Some 25 U.S. Neptune bombers are on order for maritime reconnaissance.

Some 200 Mark V Sabres now are being delivered to the NATO air division in Europe.

Engine conversion of Orendas are replacing U.S. J-47s in the Sabre; the defence research board is considering a new Canadian-designed jet engines.

Armament — Air-to-air guided missiles have been tested; a new rocket range on the Alberta-Saskatchewan border will be opened this spring.

Radar—McGill Fence now being installed as a backstop to the convention radar gridwork.

Wants Detroit To Go to Dogs

DETROIT (AP) — The city's buses will go to the dogs if Leonard J. Chouinard finds support for his idea to solve Detroit's transportation problem.

Chouinard, a video downtown in a little red "dog wagon." Three dogs provide the motor power.

The contraption now works on a dog wagon covers the three-mile distance in about 15 minutes. It also amounts to 10 cents a ride.

"We 40 cents a round trip, no start and stop, no smell—exhaust fumes, that is—and no trouble finding a seat," Chouinard says.

Chouinard's dogs are Kenny and Bobby, mongrels, and Rajah, the "big white one," a Siberian samoyed. They cruise about 12 to 14 miles an hour.

BLAMED BY COURT FOR DEATH OF SON.

Convicted of neglect in the death of their son, eight-months-old Andrew, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davidovich have court in Collingwood, Ont., remanded in custody for sentence on March 1. The couple, had left their three children alone in a car, Betty, three, and Andrew alone in their frame house. When fire broke out the parents, absent from home for two hours, were found in a beer parlor.—Central Press Canadian.

Misses Fortune By Neglecting To Stake Claims

GERALDTON (CP)—Fred Bergquist says he thinks he missed a fortune by neglecting to record 15 claims he staked last spring in the heart of the Manitouwadge copper discovery.

But the raw-boned, 200-pound Swede, reputed to be one of the strongest men in Canada, grinned about it this week as he parried in a Gradton hotel.

Roy Barker, William Dawidowich and Joseph Forster staked the fire into the Manitouwadge area in Forster's little plane last May and collected samples which assayed copper and zinc but they did not stake any claims.

When the three men flew back again, they found that Bergquist and his partner, Windy Sam Pretulac, whose homes are in Fort William, had staked it solidly without them. The Geraldton man had been there first.

"Me and Windy Sam were looking for nickel," Bergquist related. "We looked at the sample. We didn't pay any attention to the acidic rocks that had the copper. That was our mistake. That was our bad luck."

The Geraldton men waited to see whether Bergquist and Pretulac would record the claims at the Fort Arthur mines office within the 30-day limit.

BURIED PAPERS

"I intended to record," Bergquist said. "I made out the papers and I kept them with me a long time. But there was $75 recording fees to pay. Finally I threw the papers in the stove."

As soon as the 30 days were up, Forster, Dawidovich and Forster moved in and restaked the ground.

Today they hold 100,000 shares apiece of Corco, valued at about $12 a share, plus production royalties amounting to 10 cents a ton.

"But Windy Sam and me did all the right," said Bergquist. We came back in September and got Lunches."

From that discovery in the same general area, both partners are reported to have done well in cash and stock.

Federal Govt. Calls Parley To Control Road Traffic

OTTAWA (CP)—The government, after fighting for years to obtain legal jurisdiction over road traffic crossing provincial borders, now is telling the provinces it doesn't want to use this power.

Right after a Privy Council decision confirming this authority, the central government is calling a conference of provincial highway ministers to figure out ways to turn it over to the provinces.

The announcement was made in the Commons Tuesday by Transport Minister Chevrier, in a carefully-worded statement saying he hopes a "common understanding" will enable the provinces to control all traffic on provincial highways.

This would include both traffic within provinces — unquestionably under provincial authority — and away back—and that crossing provincial boundaries, which had been under dispute in the courts up until Monday.

SHOE SETTLED

The cross-border issue was settled Monday by the Privy Council, in the last Canadian constitutional case to go to the British body—in a decision that down federal jurisdiction over commercial road operations from one province to another and from a province into the United States.

But Tuesday, the government made a quick shift by announcing the calling of the provincial ministers' meeting and saying it does not want "divided jurisdiction" on highway matters.

The federal government feels, Mr. Chevrier said, it would only be in the public interest to have a provincial board controlling within its boundaries the same kind of general body regulating the same carriers that would be running across provincial boundaries.

The minister declined, in the Commons, to answer questions touching outside the chamber, to indicate what attitude the federal government might ask from the provinces in return for handing over its jurisdiction.

MOVE APPROVED

While the federal government has been saddled with the jurisdiction by the final authority, a legal view that is fair to all, to dispose of it to the provinces constitutionally. That could be done by an act of Parliament constituting provincial highways boards as provincial bodies for transborder purposes.

The federal move met with immediate welcome from the Canadian Trucking Associations, national body speaking for the $1,000,000,000-a-year "for hire" trucking industry.

"The minister's statement is wonderful news," said John Mercer, executive secretary of the CTA here, in the absence of president G. M. Parke.

He added it "gives hope that control of all trucking within and beyond provincial borders will continue to be administered by provincial regularity boards."

Family of 13 Provide Their Own Entertainment

No money is spent on entertainment in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Heildore Cyr, of Ledges, N.B. They provide their own entertainment as well as growing their own food and making their own clothes on their 400-acre farm. Mrs. Cyr recently gave birth to her 26th child in 26 years of marriage and her only regret is that seven of them died at birth or shortly after. MARMORA

I.O.D.E. Installs Officers for '54

MARMORA — The annual meeting of Marmora Chapter I.O.D.E. was held on Thursday evening in the Masonic Hall with the regent, Mrs. G. H. Rennie, presiding.

Preceding the reports, Canon J. M. Brownlee, representing the Marmora and District Chamber of Commerce, made an appeal for assistance in a campaign the Chamber is running for funds for the new Belleville General Hospital.

The secretary's report, in the absence of Mrs. A. F. Fraser, was read by Mrs. D. D. Marett. Mrs. C. R. Whittemore reported a favorable balance.

Other reports were given by Mrs. C. Hickle; Mrs. R. G. Walsh; Mrs. W. Tupper; Miss M. Savage; Mrs. E. Manchester; Mrs. D. P. Marett; Mrs. C. Brady and Mrs. J. R. Reynolds.

Officers elected for 1954 were installed by the past regent, Mrs. W. M. Regan.

They are: regent, Mrs. J. Aitchison; 1st vice regent, Mrs. R. Frost; 2nd vice regent, Mrs. M. Rowland; secretary, Mrs. D. P. Marett; treasurer, Mrs. C. R. Whittemore; educational secretary, Mrs. C. Brady; Echoes, Mrs. W. Tupper; standard bearer, Mrs. J. R. Wells.

Plans for the annual dinner to be held on February 24, were completed.

Refreshments were served.

W.M.S. PRESENTS GIFT

St. Andrew's Women's Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. Clarence Jarvis on Friday evening for the monthly meeting.

The president, Mrs. W. Tupper, was in the chair and there was a good attendance of members.

Miss Dorothy Aitkart took charge of the worship service, assisted by Mesdames Jarvis, K. J. Crawford, H. C. Barlow and L. McGinnis.

Plans were made for representation at the World Day of Prayer to be held at the Free Methodist Church on Friday, March 5. The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

During the refreshment hour, Miss Dorothy Aitkart was presented with a nosegay of handkerchiefs honoring her on her impending departure for Toronto. An address was read by Mrs. Roy Thrasher and Mrs. C. Jarvis made the presentation. Miss Aitkart thanked her fellow members for their gifts.

FIRE NOT SERIOUS

Promptness on the part of the local fire brigade checked what might have been a more serious fire at the bungalow residence of William Knox on North Hastings Avenue here. Mr. Knox was on the night shift at Deloro and his wife and two children were in the home at the time.

Mrs. Knox escaped and telephoned the fire department. The blaze was extinguished after damage by fire and water had been done to a bedroom in the rear of the house. A day bed was destroyed by the flames. Cause of the fire is unknown.

JAPAN CLAIMS ATTACK

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese foreign office charged today that a Japanese patrol boat was fired upon and seized by a South Korean Coast Guard vessel. The incident occurred west of Koje, former prison island at the south tip of the Korean peninsula and when last seen the Japanese craft was being towed in the direction of Koje, the foreign office said.

BANCROFT

Youth Sentenced On Five Counts

BANCROFT — A 16-year-old Bancroft youth, Garnett Redmond, was sentenced on three charges of breaking and entering and two of receiving stolen goods, Magistrate T. C. Jackson passed sentence of six months definite and six months indeterminate for breaking into Mallett's hardware store, Barker's dairy and Bierworth's garage.

Six months was also imposed on each charge of receiving. All sentences are to run concurrently and will be served in an Ontario reformatory.

For shooting a female moose, C. J. Wilson, of Belleville, was fined $200 and costs.

Milton Spence, of Bancroft, paid $10 and costs for being drunk and Milton Airhart, also of Bancroft, was fined a similar amount for having liquor at a place other than his residence.

Fines of $10 and costs were levied on John Johnson of Bells Rapids for failing to share on the road, and George McCaw, of Coe Hill for using an unregistered vehicle.

AXEMAN FELLS BEARS

A bear which objected to having its winter's sleep disturbed was quickly despatched by two well-aimed blows with an axe on Saturday morning near here.

Twenty-three-year-old Lawrence Green, of Bancroft, an axeman employed by Ontario land surveyor, M. J. McAlpine, was cutting a survey line through the bush near Centre Dungannon when a skull effectively finished off the bear.

TALK ON MIRACLES

The February meeting of the North Hastings Ministerial Association was held in the United Church parsonage, St. Ola.

President, the Rev. Alan Borland was in the chair and members present were the Rev. Herbert Gastmeier, Lesslie Haverson, Maynooth, the Rev. Leslie Hardy, United Church, Coe Hill; Rev. Theo Smith, United Church, Cardiff; the Rev. E. Owen Johnston, Anglican, North Hastings Mission; Mr. Sam Fuller, United Church, St. Ola.

The Rev. Leslie Hardy addressed the gathering on "Miracles", a talk based largely upon a book of the same title by the English writer and lay-theologian C. S. Lewis. The speaker concurred with the author that miracles are not contrary to either the nature of God or the workings of nature. They are the local, speeded-up applications of what God has been doing through the ages.

It was announced that the next meeting would be held at the United Church parsonage, Bancroft, on March 15 and the meeting closed with prayer led by Mr. Smith.

RELIEF PROMISED
for Arthritic and Rheumatic Pain
New relief without pill by greaseless, odourless, stainless cream.
Toronto, Ont. (Special)—Discovery of an entirely new method of relieving pain has been announced here. Science has now developed a cream that acts in a new way to bring relief from arthritis, rheumatic and muscular aches and pains. Sold under the brand name "InfraRUB", this new odourless and greaseless cream relieves these pains without the need of pills and other internal medicines.
InfraRUB does not merely set up a surface irritation but penetrates deep down into sore muscles and joints. This permits fresh oxygen-rich blood to flow freely through afflicted areas and actually helps drive away the pain-causing congestion and pressure.
Another feature of InfraRUB that appeals to so many people is its ease of application. No long and painful rubbing is necessary as InfraRUB penetrates in a few seconds and vanishes with a moment's light massage.
InfraRUB leaves no oily film or unsightly objectionable odour on the skin. Users find they are able to get on clothing in complete safety immediately after application.
Written medical reports on the success of this new help for patients suffering from rheumatic and arthritic pains and general muscular aches and pains have been prepared, based on hundreds of cases in British and French hospitals. InfraRUB users claim almost immediate relief from rheumatic and arthritic pains, sore muscles and joints.
Now for the first time, InfraRUB can be obtained without a prescription from your local drug store for only $1.50. InfraRUB is guaranteed to give hours and hours of comforting relief from arthritic rheumatic and muscular aches and pains or your money will be refunded in full.

FRANKFORD

Two Families Forced to Leave Home by Flood

FRANKFORD (Special)—Two families had to be evacuated and other families are carrying on under difficulties as the south part of the village became inundated when the water of Cold Creek overflowed the banks following an ice jam below the old mill dam.

The Patrick family and that of Harry Savoy had to get out of their homes as water crept up over the floors. Homes of several other families in the south part of the village were damaged by the water.

A heavy current of water coursing down through the creek from Stockdale jammed the ice below the Frankford mill dam Monday evening, and water from the creek bed. Hydro employees were on all day Monday with dynamite in an effort to blast a channel through the ice, but were unsuccessful.

Traffic on No. 33 highway at the southern limits of the village was slowed as up to 18 inches of water flooding the pavement in both directions. Highway Department employees flagged motorists down and advised caution. Tow trucks did a brisk business as motorists attempted to negotiate the road. The great a speed and ignition systems were splashed.

Police Chief Ed. McGeachie said the water over the highway was at its "deepest about 10 o'clock Monday evening.

"At least 18 inches of water was running across the highway at one point," he said. "The current was so strong that cakes of ice shoved heavy stones away from the side of the road."

RENTS SPARK STRIKE CALL

LIMASSOL, Cyprus (AP)—Members of communist and non-Communist trade unions were ordered today to stage a 24-hour strike in protest against the government's new rent control bill. The bill authorizes rent increases on shops and dwellings ranging from 150 to 350 per cent. Shop owners have also been called on to strike, and no newspapers will appear Wednesday.

IKE THANKS NEHRU

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—President Eisenhower today praised India's custodial forces for their handling of the exchange of prisoners-of-war in Korea. He expressed his thanks in a letter to Prime Minister Nehru, made public at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here immediately after it was delivered to Nehru in New Delhi by American Ambassador George Allen.

SIREN DISTURBS CITY

NEW YORK (AP) — A short circuit in an air raid siren Sunday night caused a 21-minute "all clear" blast that shattered the Sabbath in Manhattan, Queens and the Bronx. The high-powered howl was traced to a switch relay failure on Welfare Island. It brought hundreds of telephone calls to police and civilian defence officers.

Russian Citizens Looked After By Department Public Health

The Russian foreign office arranged an interview for CP reporter Bill Boss with a high official of the U.S.S.R. ministry of public health. In this, the first of two articles, Boss reports what he was told about medicine in Russia.

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW (CP)—Soviet medical authorities say every Russian citizen:

1. Is registered with a general medical practitioner;
2. Gets round-the-clock medical service;
3. Receives free general, specialist, surgical and hospital treatment when necessary;
4. Receives from one-half to full pay while ill.

Details of the set-up were outlined to the Canadian Press by Dr. Lydia Vasilyeva Greshishkova, 50-year-old head of a U.S.S.R. health ministry department.

ALL MEDICINE CONTROLLED

"Everything pertaining to medicine in the Soviet Union comes under the direction of this ministry," said Dr. Greshishnikova, 28 years a doctor. Her husband, also a doctor, was killed during the Second World War. Her daughter, 22, graduates in pediatrics this year.

Dr. Greshishkova said the main activities of the health ministry are discharged through eight boards. These control:

1. Treatment and preventive medicine.
2. Organization, construction and administration of health resorts.
3. Hygiene, sanitation and vaccination services.
4. Physical culture and sports.
5. Building of medical establishments.
6. Supply of medicines and medical instruments.
7. Training of medical workers—doctors, nurses, technicians, physical culture experts.

LOCAL RESPONSIBILITIES

Dr. Greshishnikova said municipal and regional soviets build their own hospitals, polyclinics and other facilities and operate them and their associated medical practitoners. The ministry lays down policy, plans and standards; the local Soviets carry them out.

Medicine here is organized around the polyclinics. Each is the hub of a medical "complex."

A typical complex, she said, serves a district, or ward, of 50,000 inhabitants. The district's streets and buildings are divided among 13 or 14 "sectors" of from 3,000 to 4,000 persons each.

The sectors correspond to our family doctors' practices but the doctors' offices are in the polyclinic, not in their sector's streets or buildings. Also located in the polyclinic are the specialists to whom the "GPs" refer patients.

Other elements in each complex are maternity clinics, creches, children's clinics, dispensaries for disease such as tuberculosis, and the inoculation centre. A complex may have three polyclinics, each with its hospital, and 10 to 20 creches.

MANY PATIENTS

While the general practitioner has from 3,000 to 4,000 patients on his register he regularly treats fewer than half that number.

Almost one-third of his register are children, already under the care of school doctors and children's clinics. Most workers are attended by doctors attached to their industries or enterprises.

The average doctor, who works a six-hour day, has from 800 to 1,000 regular patients.

A Russian who wants to see a doctor, yet is well enough to go to the polyclinic, visits him during morning office hours. He must go there once a year for his general medical examination.

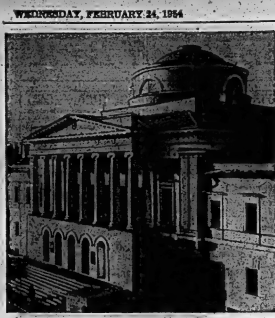
He also must be examined by his family doctor or those at his place of employment before taking his annual holidays. (The interpreter said Russians frequently try to dodge the latter examination, which may result in holiday plan delays through having to get glasses, or some other minor service.)

If too ill to go to the polyclinic, citizens may telephone or have a neighbor take a message. The doctor calls that day, usually after his office hours. At night a duty doctor handles the case until the individual's own "GP" returns in the morning.

Polyclinics with theatres in their areas maintain a "theatre watch" with doctor and ambulance available for calls should patrons fall ill or have an accident.

INDIVIDUAL TREATMENT

Dr. Greshishnikova said:



"We aim to have the same doctors and specialists look after the same patients. They become family friends, know their patients' troubles and sorrows and share their joys."

Patients can ask for other consultants if not satisfied with a finding.

Rural medicine is similarly organized except that the doctors live in the villages and the hospital with its teams of specialists is in the centre of the medical district.

"During the last five years the urban and rural systems have been coordinated."

Asked why, then, Moscow's current 10-year plan provides for a 26,000-bed increase in the city's hospital accommodation alone, she said the goal was to extend the availability of hospital accommodation beyond the present average of a complex for every 50,000 to 100,000 of population.

SOVIET MEDICAL INSTITUTE — This building of the USSR Academy of Medical Sciences in Moscow is where many Soviet doctors are trained. In Russia a general practitioner may have from 2,000 to 4,000 patients on his register; although he regularly treats fewer than half that number. (CP Photo.)

ADVANCED STUDENTS — A Soviet instructor presides over a study session in Leningrad's Institute for Scientific Research in Obstetrics and Gynecology. The students are doctors pursuing advanced training. Soviet health authorities say that every Russian citizen receives free general, specialist, surgical and hospital treatment when necessary. HAULING RECORD CLAIMED

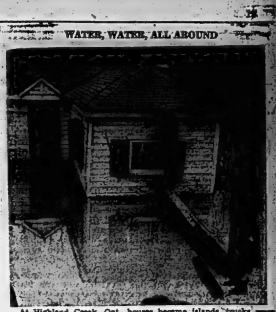
WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (AP)—A sled dog pulled 2,100 pounds of freight 25 feet Monday and owner Al Holten of Santa Rosa, Calif., claimed a world's record. North American Dog Derby officials said the previous record was 1,800 pounds, set eight years ago in Nome, Alaska.

Rawdon

EUCHRE PARTY

RAWDON — The seventh euchre party sponsored by River Valley Women's Institute was held at the school house on Friday with 13 tables in play. About 20 visitors were in attendance from Frankford, Stirling, Wellman's, Foxboro and Eldorado.



The prizes, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Philp, were won by: ladies' high, Mrs. R. E. Gould; ladies' second, Mrs. Harold Frost; men's high, R. E. Gould; second, Harry Brasman.

Refreshments were served.

FINE TREES

The western red cedar, one of British Columbia's important timber trees, grows as high as 175 feet.

WATER, WATER, ALL ABOUND

At Highland Creek, Ont., houses became islands, trucks were stranded in four feet of water on roads, chunks of ice 10 feet long battered their way into kitchens. This house is being evacuated by the plank-to-window method. Others had to have rowboat service. Seven families were forced to leave their homes and dozens of others moved into the top storey, as the creek rose ten feet above normal. (Central Press Canadian).

For Young Men of 16

Apprentice Training for a Bright Future

THE MOST ENTHUSIASTIC SUPPORTERS of the Canadian Army's Soldier Apprentice Plan are those young men now enrolled, and their parents. A happy, clean-cut group, the Soldier Apprentices receive a combination of school study, discipline and trades training, as well as sports and other recreation.

The carefully balanced programme of Soldier Apprentice Training helps to develop and mature judgment and self-discipline. There is plenty to study and learn, but the happy environment of Soldier Apprentice Training seems to make this whole process so much easier and more pleasant.

Out of his training, the Soldier Apprentice emerges as a qualified tradesman with the opportunity of building a fine career for himself in the Army.

The young man of 16 who enrolls receives:

- thorough trades training in one of 16 trades,
- academic training — in such subjects as physics, chemistry, algebra, English,
- the general military training of the Canadian soldier.

Learning and living with other young Canadians of their own age stimulates healthy and happy comradeship as well as intense pride in their squadrons and units.

Soldier Apprentices are eligible for all Army benefits, including 30 days annual leave. They receive half pay when 16 and on their 17th birthday they receive full pay.

The young man, with a minimum of grade 8 education, who is interested in the happy, healthy and purposeful life of the Soldier Apprentice should investigate immediately.

For an interesting booklet and full information on Soldier Apprentice training, write, phone or visit the Army Information Recruiting Centre nearest your home.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

CHAMPIONS OVERNIGHT!

Bill Spafford and his Belleville Crawfords had the proverbial bombshell drop in on them this week. The Ontario Hockey Association out of a blue sky declared the Crawfs, champions of the Bay of Quinte Senior Basketball League without benefit of playoffs. Seems the OBA pressed for time, and must have a district winner to meet the Peterborough playdowns representatives come Saturday night.

According to the edict handed down to Manager Spafford by the BOA moguls, the Crawfords will meet the sharp Kingston Monarchs in a two-game point-to-count series, the first game being scheduled for the BCI gymnasium tonight starting at eight o'clock. The second game will be played in Kingston tomorrow night with the series winner clashing with the Peterborough team in the Lifflock city on Saturday night.

The Crawfords, Spafford said, were declared champions of the Bay of Quinte League because of their undefeated record. We are not taking any honor and glory from Bill and his starry squad, but the edict does seem a bit tough on the RCAF Ghosts, the runners-up, who are relegated to practical oblivion without benefit of showing whether they are a "money" team or not.

On the record, we believe the Spafford crew would be the ultimate champions of the league, and represent the district in the OBA playdowns.

However, the die is cast, and the Crawfords go into the playdowns with little chance of readying themselves. The Crawfords are confident they are the equals of the Kingston opposition, but according to reports the Limestone city quintet is a bevy of ball-looters who know a lot of the nasaryen. A good event, it should be a thrilling series and hoop enthusiasts should not miss tonight's tussle in the BCI gymnasium.

GOING OVER 'OME.

Roly Sarault, teen-age goalie of the Memos senior "B" hockey club will finish his puck-stopping season in Britain. Roly leaves the Dorval airport Friday noon for "Ole Lannon" and will eat his lunch in the Strand Corner House, Piccadilly, Saturday noon. That night he will don the uniform of the Wembley club of the British Hockey League in a game against the Nottingham Panthers.

Sarault was recommended for the position by Bill Boucher, RCAF hockey coach, who knew the youngster when he played in his native Ottawa.

AN EXTRA DAY.

Doug "The Nobber" Day is passing out the cigars these days. For a bouncing bundle of masculinity arrived in the Day family the other day which boosts the Nobber's male output to two to date. Yup, that's the second boy for Doug and the missus, and all concerned are doing fine thank you. "The Nobber" expects to be back to normal come pickerel-fishing time. Only seven more for that ball team, bub. Congratulations.

WHAT, NO FISHING?

Now that hockey is on the home stretch, and the drew worms itching to poke their snouts through warm earth, summer sports are preparing to get organized. The baseball backeroon brotherhoods are off on the right foot and Lou Digby's tittle' laddies have arranged organizational meetings.

Rumour on the sports rialto has it that the Belleville District Softball Association will shortly gather around the conference table to discuss operations for the coming season. President Cy Barriage and his henchmen had a highly successful year last semester and are looking forward to a repeat.

With the Ontario Amateur Softball Association scheduled for North Bay, at Easter, associations intending to affiliate should have some seasonal plans under their collective belts before the master-minds go into session. The Belleville association rates highly with the OASA, especially in its minor division, and it should have a strong representation at the North Bay get-together.

Al Sherman, Late New York Giants, Signs as Coach For Blue Bombers

WINNIPEG (CP)—Al Sherman, veteran backfield coach of New York Giants of the National Football League for the last five years, will be Winnipeg Blue Bombers' head coach for the 1954 season.

The 31-year-old former quarterback with Philadelphia Eagles has been signed for one year by the Western Interprovincial Football Union club.

He will be the fourth new coach in the five-team WIFU this season. Calgary Stampeders have signed Lerry Siemering, formerly line coach with Washington Redskins to replace the fired Bob Snyder. Edmonton Eskimos are looking for a replacement for Darrell Royal, released from his three-year contract to become head coach at Mississippi State. British Columbia Lions, the league's new entry, will be guided by Annis Stukus, only Canadian coach in either the WIFU or the East's Big Four.

Sherman succeeds George Trafton who was dropped early this year with one year still remaining on a three-year contract.

President Ralph Misener announced Sherman's signing Tuesday night and said he was happy that Sherman had come to terms as "he was the man the Bombers were really after. I'm sure he will do a good job in Winnipeg."

FORMER QUARTERBACK

Sherman quarterbacked the Eagles under coach Early (Greasy) Neale from 1943 to 1947. In 1948 he took over as head coach of the Eagles' farm team, the Patterson Panthers of New Jersey in the American Association League. The Panthers promptly won the league crown, winning 11 of 13 games.

In 1949 he took over as backfield coach of the Giants, under head coach Steven Owen, a position he held until 1951, when he considered one of the top T-formation authorities in football.

In a telephone interview, Sherman said he was no stranger to Canadian football, having been with the Giants when they played Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four in an exhibition game a few years ago. In that particular game the teams played Canadian rules for one half and American rules for the second half.

"We'll certainly use the T in Winnipeg, but there will be a few interesting modifications," said Sherman.

Unheralded Hero of The Blues Never Won Trophy or Glory; Now Big Gun in Stretch Run

By MEL MORRIS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Paul Ronty of New York is one of the forgotten men of the National Hockey League.

He has never won a trophy, and never been voted to an all-star team. But New York fans will happily concede that the 25-year-old centre is one of the main factors in the Rangers' rise into contention for the fourth playoff berth.

Ronty has slipped into sixth place in the NHL scoring race with a total of 44 points on 13 goals and 31 assists.

However, the 160-pound Toronto native has been the big gun in the Rangers' last three games, all victories, with one goal and four assists in that period. He has been good enough to move Rangers to within one point of the fourth-place Boston Bruins—and the Rangers still have a game in hand.

New York fans are at a loss to explain how Ronty has been passed up each year by the all-star selectors. Last year, he was second only to Alex Delvecchio of Detroit in scoring. This season, Detroit but Fleming Mackell of Boston took the first all-star berth. Delvecchio was voted the second spot.

SAME FATE

Ronty, who broke into the NHL with Boston in 1947, had his best season in 1948-50, when he scored 23 goals and 36 assists for the Bruins. That placed him fifth in the scoring standings, but he was twice overlooked for all-star voting by Sid Abel of Detroit and Ted Kennedy of Toronto.

The same fate seems in store for him this year. At present he and Dutch Reibel of Detroit are used as the league's top-scoring centres; but Ken Mosdell of Montreal and Ted Kinard of Boston won the nod from the selectors in the mid-season voting.

Although he got his start with Boston, the Bruins won't be seeing his fans tonight when they meet the Rangers in a contest that could decide the last Stanley Cup playoff spot. A win for New York would put them in fourth place, one point ahead of Boston, and with a game in hand. A Boston victory would give the Bruins a two-point hold on the vital spot.

The losers in either case would have an uphill battle on their hands.

Gavilan Wins Dull Decision

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., (AP) — Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan won a dull decision over John Cunningham of Baltimore Tuesday night in the first tuneup fight for his meeting with Bobo Olson for the middleweight title April 16 in Chicago.

Referee Eddie Coachman once warned the fighters to mix it up and the crowd of 4,000, a record for the Miami Beach Auditorium, booed frequently.

Gavilan weighed 154½, Cunningham 152.

Cunningham, who scored the best decision of his career in Miami last year when he defeated lightweight champion Sammy Carter, looked well in his slugging exchanges with Gavilan and surprised the Cuban kid on three occasions by straightening hi mup with stiff lefts and rights to the jaw.

FORT WILLIAM (CP) — The Dominion junior ski meet is scheduled to be held at Nor - Lakehead this week-end and top skiing conditions are forecast for the meet. Six feet of snow has fallen in Fort William this winter.

Marlene, Dutch Qualify For Match Play

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Marlene Stewart of Foothill, Ont., and E.J. (Dutch) Harrison of Ardmore, Okla., shot a one-over-par 72 Tuesday for the match play in the 13th annual international mixed two-ball golf tournament.

The 19-year-old Rollins College sophomore and her veteran partner finished six strokes behind the leading pair, Grace DeMoss Smith and George Bolotta, who shot a 66 for medal honors.

In first-round play today the Stewart-Harrison team will face Betty Dodd of San Antonio, Tex., and Bill Kaiser of Louisville, whose qualifying score of 67 earned them second place among the 33 qualifying teams.

Marlene missed a two-foot putt on the 18th hole Tuesday that would have given her and Harrison even par figures. The team was three front and back nine in identical 36s.

'Dutch' Predicts Fine Future For Marlene

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — E. J. (Dutch) Harrison predicts that 19-year-old Marlene Stewart of Foothill, Ont., will be "one of the finest women golfers of them all in a short time."

The talented Ardmore, Okla., golf professional, Marlene's partner in the international mixed two-ball golf tournament, called the youthful British amateur champion "one of the finest women golfers I have ever seen" after the Stewart-Harrison team qualified for match play with a one-over-par qualifying score of 72.

"She's good from every type of shot," Harrison said. "She doesn't have a weakness and a girl like that can't miss being great. She should go far in golf."

Harrison, the 1949 Canadian open champion, was particularly high in his praise of his partner's game near the greens.

"In today's match against Betty Dodd of San Antonio, Tex., and Bill Kaiser of Louisville) if there's a chance of putting home on the first shot after the drives, I'm going to let them shoot. From 100 to 150 yards from the green Tuesday she was much better than I was."

PROFUSE ITALY-U.S. SWIM

NAPLES (AP)—A sporting goods store owner came up Tuesday with a whopping long distance swim: A 24-man relay team to swim from Italy to the United States.

Michael Lisi asked government aid in promoting the project, which he suggested could be accomplished in 65 days with each man swimming one hour a day. The swimmers would start here and end in New York, carrying a baton with a message inside from the people of Italy to America.

The big swim would start in July, 1955, Lisi said. Meanwhile he's rounding up a group of swimmers to make a relay tour of the Bay of Naples as a warmup.

Yankees Dont Bicker With Holdouts, Sign, or You Have A New Employer

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—You may look for the Yankees contract troubles to diminish rapidly now that the boss of the world champions, quiet George Weiss, has acquainted Vic Raschi with some of the more unpleasant aspects of a holdout's life.

Instead of spending another pleasant summer at the local stadium figuring out how to dispose of a $6,000 world series cheque, the big righthander finds himself an outcast from the American League ball baseball for St. Louis where the Cardinals, though ambitious and quick with a buck, are some years away from winning a pennant.

In announcing the deal which sent Raschi away for $75,000 and two minor players, the Yankee general manager left no doubt he was settled at the demands being made upon him.

Raschi became the scapegoat, first, because he was the most expendable of the club's high-salaried veterans, and, second, because he has been a thorn in Weiss' sensitive hide every spring. Since 1951, when he last won 20 or more games, Raschi has steadfastly refused to be reduced from his $40,000 bracket, though his fast ball obviously was departing.

Weiss was not sore enough at Raschi to deal him to a contending club. The other American League clubs knew that Weiss would quickly withdraw the pitcher, as he is entitled to do twice under the waiver rule before it is for keeps.

MEAN-LOOKING PITCHER

Raschi has long been one of our favorite pitchers. Out there facing a batter he looks as mean as Leigh Grimes used to, as if he would as soon toss the ball down said batter's throat as over the dish. There have been times, too, when he became convinced it was not just an optical illusion.

We hope he does well at St. Louis, and have a strong hunch that he will.

If he should turn out to have another real good season in his 35-year-old frame, the Cardinals will have one of the greatest bargains since Chicago Boroway, from the Yanks in a strikingly similar manoeuvre in 1945. Vic might not win a pennant, as Borowy did, but he won't hold the Cards back, either.

Memos Hand Oshawa Club 6-4 Trouncing Just to Prove They Are As Good As The Best

BOWMANVILLE — Belleville Memos, out of the running for a playoff berth in the Senior "B" group race, proved they are still having something to say about how the playoffs will be run when they came up with a fighting display here at Bowmanville arena last night to defeat the first-place Oshawa Truckmen 6-4.

Oshawa Truckmen suffered noticeably by the absence of their regular goalie, Les Cocks, out with strained groin muscles. Ken Courtney took over but his performance, while brilliant in spots, was hardly adequate over the full distance.

However, it was the relentless checking and puck-hungry tactics of the Memos that was the deciding factor, they had nothing particular to win but they went out to knock off the league-leaders and they did it.

THE ALIBI

Memos were skating faster and harder most of the time while the Truckmen were a paradoxical mixture of players who were trying to skate too fast and couldn't control the puck and others who were trying to take passes and play most of their offensive hockey while standing still—and it didn't work.

George Samolenko and Cecil Thaler were the hard-luck guys of the place. Each missed by inches on a couple of open chances apiece and the line of Youth-Holden-Wilson worked harder as a unit, than either of the other two lines.

TEDDER GETS TWO

Ted DeGray with two goals and an assist and the Belleville ace line of Eddie Smith-Dennis Jones along with Day, accounted for a couple of the visitors tallies, the two goals that gave them the victory margin, as a matter of fact.

DeGray opened the scoring early when he converted Vern Goyer's pass into a goal and then while Gerry Scott served an interference penalty that was meted out to goalie Ken Courtney, scored with help from DeGray and Jake Wade, made it 3-0. Frank Hooper's goal with Scott and Tiny Dickens helping, made it 3-1 for the first period.

The second period produced the best hockey of the night and saw DeGray score it 3-1 with Bob Holden potting Harry Sinden's pass three minutes later to make it 5-1. Keith MacDonald's looping shot glanced into the net off an Oshawa hand and then Gerry Scott scored a pretty goal with help from his two linemates and Dennis Dickens tied the score on a perfect pass from Maxie Youth.

Dickens laughed with DeGray a couple of minutes later, they drew roughing penalties against them respectively and then a penalty to Sinden in the last minute saw Erwin Duncan break the 6-4 tie on a three-way play with brother Edwin and Day.

Jack Thaler got a penalty just before the period ended and with Oshawa short two players to start the third, Day scored on Ed Duncan's pass to make it 6-4. Despite Oshawa's best efforts, it ended that way.

Belleville: Goal, Sarrault and Barclay (in 3rd period); defence, Semnik and Wade; centre, Ed. Duncan; wings, Day and Erwin Duncan. Alts., Bastedo, Goyer, MacDonald, F. Jones, DeGray and D. Jones.

Oshawa: Goal, Courtney; defence, McBeth and Sinden; centre, Scott; wings, Samolenko and Hooper. Alts., Dickens, Peters, Wilson, Holden, Youth, Etcher, Thaler, Samandl and Sherwin.

Officials: Ken Holmshaw and Stan Boulter, both of Toronto.

Petes Coach, Junior Player Draw Suspensions

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Hockey Association today announced that player John Morrow of the Peterborough Junior B team has been suspended until May 15, 1955.

Bill Hanley, OHA business manager, said the suspension was imposed Tuesday night by an OHA sub-committee. Coach Angelo Morrow attacked referee Larry Heffering in a game at Port Perry Feb. 18.

Coach Red Creighton of the Peterborough team was suspended for three games for going on the ice during the same game.

Hanley said also that an automatic three-game suspension had been imposed on coach Augie Herchenratter of the Waterloo Junior B team because one of his players left the bench to get into an altercation on the ice during a game with Preston at Waterloo Feb. 20. The player, Douglas Thiel, was fined $15.

Manitoba Only Unbeaten Rink In Schoolboy Curling Championship

HAMILTON, (CP)—Manitoba today remained the only rink with a perfect record as the Canadian high school curling championships went into its third day.

Manitoba, represented by the Gordon Bell high school from Winnipeg, Tuesday night won its fourth straight game by defeating Quebec 11-8 and the province tangled with Saskatchewan's 9-7 upset by northern Ontario gave it sole possession of first place.

Saskatchewan's loss was its first and it now stands second with one loss, three wins and one defeat. Five rinks—Ontario, northern Ontario, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Alberta—are tied for third place with similar records—two wins and two defeats each.

British Columbia, Quebec and Prince Edward Island are deadlocked for eighth place with one win and three setbacks.

The bonspiel winds up Thursday and Manitoba meets a surprising contender with a victory against Saskatchewan when they meet this afternoon. Saskatchewan is represented by Saskatoon Technical Collegiate, winners of the Hub and Sifton Trophy in 1951 and 1952.

LOST HIS CHANCE

Northern Ontario, in scoring its upset win over Saskatchewan Tuesday night, took six of the 10 ends, including a four-ender in the seventh. Skip Hayne Secord lost a chance to tie it up for Saskatoon in the 10th end when his first stone hit the house. The most he could have got, with the second stone would have been three, one short of a tie.

Manitoba and Quebec Tuesday night played an alternate knockout and draw game. The St. Michael's school rink from Riverbend, Que., were able to win only three of the 10 ends.

There were three mild surprises in Tuesday night's draw with northern Ontario blasted New Brunswick 12-4 and Alberta defeated Nova Scotia 14-5, with both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia eking out scoreless in the 10th and before a stone was thrown. Prince Edward Island, one of the guests in the event, spoiled their first game by defeating British Columbia 9-7.

The Sarnia Collegiate Institute rink from Sarnia, Ont., skipped by 17-year-old Bill Fraser, was their most improved rink in the bonspiel Tuesday night. The rink had dropped two straight Monday but came back to win the afternoon draw Tuesday with 10-9 decision over Quebec, in addition to their night victory over the Estburn High School from New Brunswick.

The Mills High School rink from Mills, Alta., came close to providing a major upset in the afternoon when it lost 7-6 to Manitoba. The rink, skipped by 18-year-old Robbie Thomson, could have tied the count in the final end but played his stone too cautiously and it missed a shot and went through stopped short of the house.

Bannister Will Run In Empire Games

LONDON (AP)—Roger Bannister Britain's brightest hope for the two-miles title, announced Tuesday he will set aside his medical books to compete in the British Empire Games at Vancouver this summer.

Bannister's entry means a race of three of the world's top milers at the games next July 31 to Aug. 6.

The other two are Australia's John Landy and New Zealand's Murray Halberg.

Bannister and Landy boast 4:02 miles but the British Amateur Athletic Association did not officially recognize Bannister's effort because the 24-year-old medical student ran it in an unscheduled school meet.

Twenty-year-old Halberg flashed across the tape with a 4:04.4 mile Feb. 13 in Auckland. His time was considered spectacular because he ran alone. Bannister's best official time is 4:03.6.

Under Halberg's 4:01.4 is the fastest mile ever run.

Bannister, B.M.C. Games might bring together four great mile runners were disappointed when Gordon Pirie, Britain decided to turn down an invitation because the long journey to Vancouver would tire him for the European games in Switzerland in late August.

Ladies Reach Spiel Semis

KIRKLAND LAKE (CP) — Mrs. Fortescue and Mrs. Sykes, both of Noranda, Que., Mrs. J. Harris of Haileybro, and Mrs. Elliott of Englehart Tuesday reached the semi-finals of the Hill-Clark-Francis Ladies Curling event in the annual Northern Ladies Curling Association bonspiel.

In the quarter-finals Mrs. Fortescue defeated Mrs. V. Armstrong of Kirkland Lake 15-6, Mrs. Harris defeated Mrs. Honaberger of Norgan 9-7, Mrs. Sykes eliminated Mrs. Towsley of Iroquois Falls 10-3; and Mrs. M. Wallace downed Mrs. Hall of Kirkland Lake 11-4.

Semi-finals of the second event, the D. Eplett Trophy, were also reached. Mrs. Kay Brandreth of Iroquois Falls, Mrs. Elliott of Leland Lake, Mrs. G. McGregor of Larder Lake and Mrs. M. Sayles of Kirkland Lake are the semi-finalists in the Eplett competitions.

Mrs. Sayles defeated Mrs. E. Monahan of Englehart 9-7 in the quarter-finals, Mrs. B. Landreth of Kirkland Lake defeated Mrs. Harriett of Kirkland Lake 11-1, Mrs. Elliot defeated Mrs. Honaberger of Larder Lake 7-6 and Mrs. McGregor defeated Mrs. A. Monck of Englehart 8-5 in the other games of the quarter-finals.

With The Minors

By GARRY ALEXANDER

The teams representing Belleville in the OMHA playdowns will be on their way to Kingston by now with hopes of bringing home margins —to carry into tomorrow night's clashes.

Coaches Jim Ehler, Vic Morris and Dave Jones have been giving the boys all the practice the pointers possible for the past week and if they should fail by the decide in the first round we're positive they will not do so without pulling up a tough fight.

The juvenile team looks well-balanced from goal to defence to forwards with Charlton and Kingston both ready to go in the net. The defencemen are all big enough to take care of themselves while some powerful flue line shots from Burrows and Murray should cause concern for the Kingston netminder.

The first line will more than likely consist of the three top scorers in the league, Gerry Goyer, Bill Vesterfelt and Vern McKenzie. They massed 30 goals in the seven league games they played and all but Goyer was out for several of those games.

The Bruins received the O.K. sign from the office of the OMHA in Toronto on Monday to play the following players. Adamson, Burrows, Bovay, Buskard, Calbury, Charlton, Day, Fraser, Goyer, Kingston, Little, McKay, McKenna, Murray, Upper, Vaughan, Vesterfelt and White.

The bantam team was selected on Saturday morning after a two hour workout. Defence appeared to prove to be the top unit on this team with five of the 13 picked playing this position. Bob Carrigan did a great job for the Leafs all season and is one of the leading reasons they finished on top of the league. He will team up with Dave Schwan on the first defence with the Brennan-MacDonald-Boulter line out front to form the champs are decided.

Windsor, Stratford Game Will Decide Lower Spots in Senior Hockey Loop

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Three games tonight close out the regular 1953-54 schedule of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series.

Two of those games — Niagara Falls at Chatham and Owen Sound at Kitchener-Waterloo—mean nothing in the third game—Windsor at Stratford—depend third, fourth and fifth places in the standings.

Actually it matters little who is in third, fourth or fifth behind under the new playoff plan, Owen Sound Mercurys, who have already clinched first place, will have their choice of meeting any of the other five teams in the first round of the playoffs.

Similarly, Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen, who are assured a second-place finish, can take any of the other three remaining teams for the first round. The two teams that remain will play each other in the other series of the playoffs.

The only occasion in which third place would be a difference would be if the Mercurys chose to take the Dutchmen in the first round. Then the third place team would have a choice of three teams.

TIGERS THIRD

Hamilton Tigers move into sole possession of third place Tuesday night when they closed out their season with a 6-2 victory over the Bulldogs in Windsor. In other games the Indians defeated the Mercurys 5-1 in Owen Sound and Kitchener downed the Cataracts 5-2 in Niagara Falls.

If the Bulldogs can defeat Stratford tonight they will tie Hamilton for third. Should the Indians win they will finish alone in fourth and move themselves into fourth, ahead of Windsor in fifth.

Mickey Roth, Lloyd Finkbeiner and Billy Flick were the snipers for Kitchener as they each shot for the only goal for Owen Sound.

At Windsor the Tigers never trailed. Frank Liscombe scored twice for the Tigers, George McCurdy and Ken Ullyett, Ferguson and Ab Conick were the other three for Hamilton. Fred Hibbard and Frank Battigate fired the markers for Windsor.

Kitchener's victory in Niagara Falls was costly to the Dutchmen. Although the win did nothing for Kitchener they lost the services of netminder Bill Harrington until the playoffs when he will be available. Ferguson and Ab Conick were the other two who left Windsor's lineup during the game.

Harrington and Ron Castalane of the Cataracts were the players involved in the fracas which ejected the netminder, ejecting them from the rest of the game and suspending them until the league reviews the case. Don Bagg, Ken Laurence and Don Rope, Don Oberholtzer, Charlie Revoker and George Scholes shared the ice in the Kitchener scoring. Ted Fau-

MONEY GOLFER

Rudy Horvath of Windsor, Ont., after setting a blistering pace at the outset, faded to end in a tie for 23rd place in the $12,500 Texas Open golf tournament at San Antonio. Horvath fired a near-record 81 on opening day. He earned $110 for his $72 in the open. He placed ahead of several other Canadian competitors.

Soviet Brand of Hockey Best Seen In Sweden, Say Stockholm Writers

STOCKHOLM (CP) — Stockholm hockey writers watched Russia's entry in the world hockey championships here and after a 46-0 defeat on a Swedish second-division team Tuesday night and pronounced the Soviet brand of hockey the best seen in Sweden.

Canada's representatives, Toronto East York, played at Leksand in central Sweden, where they defeated a local team last Saturday morning with the Black Hawks holding the biggest lead going into this week's games. They landed the Leafs a 4-0 setback. The Rangers are two goals back of the Bruins due to the 5-3 win for the latter. These two teams are evenly matched as are the Wings and Canadians who fought to a 3-3 tie.

The play-offs in the bantam league will get under way this Saturday morning starting at 9 o'clock. All series will be two-game total goal affairs.

The Maple Leafs and the Canadians will supply the action in the first game at the Arena and the Rangers battling it out at 9.40 and the two Memorial Cup Bruins and Red Wings playing the final fixture at 10.20.

Should the regular season's play the Leafs won two and tied once with the Canadians as they should take their set.

The Black Hawks held a 2-1 edge in games won with the Canadians and the Bruins won a single game over the Rangers with their other two meetings were ties.

The Red Wings were the only team that had a perfect record picking up their four points on the two Bruin tilts and one each with the Canadians and the Rangers.

The Bruins were tied or behind the Wings for the first half of the schedule but they won two games and tied another in the last five games to finish with twice as many points as the Wings. It'll be quite a fight all down the line with probably more than one upset before the champs are decided.

Teeps, Brian Cullen Ties Record With Five Assists Against Galt

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS.

Brian Cullen, who appears a cinch to clinch the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A scoring title, tied the league's scoring record Tuesday night.

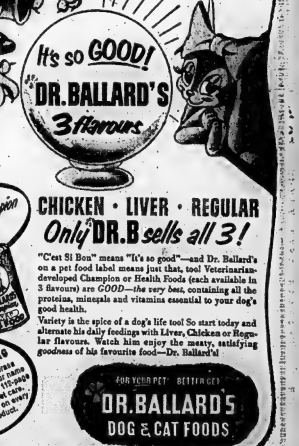
The team captain of league-leading St. Catharines TeePees picked up five assists while the TeePees were walloping Galt Black Hawks 9-4 in St. Catharines. The night's work gave him 82 assists, which, added to his 57 goals, totals 139 points, a tie for the scoring record set by Ken Laufman of Guelph Biltmores during the 1951-52 season.

In the night's other game, Toronto Marlboros edged Kitchener-Waterloo Greenshirts 5-4 in Kitchener to maintain their second-place six points behind the TeePees.

QUEBEC TOUR

The TeePees, who now embark on an interlocking tour of Quebec, Hamilton tonight.

again were led by the Brian Cullen-Hugh Barlow-Barry Cullen line.



Barry Cullen, Brian's brother, and Hugh Barlow scored two goals each. Other St. Catharines markers were Jim Bartlett, Chester Warchol, Cec Hockstra, Hank Cieslik and Wimpy Hamilton.

Galt's goals were scored by John Sleaver, Ken Crawford, Ed Switzer and Neil McDonald.

The Greenshirts came close to tying the game in the final minute when Ron Ingram, two goal scorer, Centre Billy Harris scored twice for the Blues as did rookie Bob Pulford. Wally Maxwell notched the other Toronto goal. Doug Vaughan, Ted Peters, Glen Cressman and Greig Hicks scored for Kitchener.

Guelph is at Montreal Canadiens, Toronto St. Michael's visit Toronto Marlboros, St. Catharines play Kitchener-Waterloo and Barrie is at Hamilton tonight.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

BY SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

Some bridge hands can be made at the first try only by a few of the players in the world. These few can more than play where unseen cards may be. Their minds can picture and retain the photograph.

See how a master player used his photographic mind in the deal shown here:

	NORTH
	♥None
	♦A K QJ8763
	♣5
	♠A Q 2
WEST		EAST
♠4 2		♠A 8 763
♥A 3 2		♥10 9 7
♦Q 6 5 2		♦4
♣K 7 6 3		♣10 9 8 4
	SOUTH
	♠K Q J 10 9 5
	♥None
	♦A J 10 9 8
	♣7 3

South had mentioned hearts as an ace and king showing suit. Thus, when the final contract was seven hearts doubled, south found himself the declarer at a grand slam without a trump in his own hand.

East was spotted with the spade ace when he doubled six spades. An opening lead of the diamond trey from west ran to south's eight spot. This forced west with the diamond queen.

Placing these important unseen cards made the basis of a plan. Only if west started with the jack-ten-nine lack of a finesse, can the contract be made. So, south held this mental picture.

If each opponent gets down to only four cards, west must hold another diamond with the queen. He can then have only two clubs. To cling to his spade ace, east can then hold only three clubs.

With such holdings, each will be squeezed at the time the tenth trick is taken. So, a spade was led and ruffed by dummy to reduce a trick. Seven more trumps were led and cashed by dummy.

Dummy was left with the diamond king and three clubs. East clung to his spade ace and three clubs. South had a spade, a club, and the diamond ace and jack. West had K 7 in clubs and Q 6 in diamonds.

The diamond king was led from dummy and overtaken with the diamond ace in south. Meantime, what will east give up. He dare not let go of his spade ace. So, he chucks one of his three clubs.

All south does is lead the club. Dummy's ace and queen trap west's king. The club deuce is also good now. Jackpot!

Remember When

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Jimmy McLarnin of Vancouver flattened New York's favorite lightweight Sid Terris with fast two punches at Madison Square Garden 26 years ago tonight. The victory in one minute, 40 seconds, established the quality of McLarnin, who moved up into welterweight ranks where he held the title alternately with Barney Ross between 1933 and 1935.

Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—As MGM celebrates its 30th birthday, a man whose memories is Clarence Bull.

For more than 30 years he has been photographing the MGM stars, from Garbo to Gardner. In the early days he not only operated the movie camera but shot the still pictures as well. Eventually he became the studio's top portrait photographer, reaching his highest fame as Garbo's pet lensman.

I asked him to list his favorite subjects, and he named these:

Greta Garbo—"Of course."

Jean Harlow—"She had an excellent face and figure; easy to get along with."

Gloria Swanson—"A fool-proof face."

A DREAM

Marlene Dietrich—"A dream to work with. She had once been a photographer's assistant and knew all the angles. She once even showed the director how to do their work."

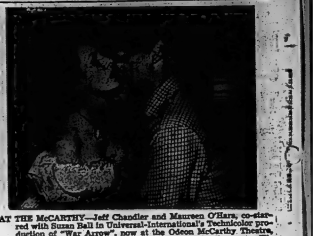
Joan Crawford—"We never could agree on her lips. She wanted them exaggerated, and I always cut them down in the retouching."

Norma Shearer—"She's still as beautiful as the statuley. She was often confused by too much advice; then she'd toss it all aside and make the right decision herself."

Jeanette Macdonald — "perfectly natural. There was nothing phony about her."

Lana Turner—"$1111 a real beauty."

Ava Gardner—"She comes the closest to Harlow as a real personality."



Ann Blyth—"A perfect face, but an interesting one."

Katharine Hepburn—"A distinctive type; very interesting face."

Eleanor Parker—"The acclaim of the new crop of stars."

AT THE CAPITOL—Robert Stack and Richard Arlen are officers stationed at a Japanese jet plane base from which our craft launched attacks on Korea. Action takes place in the United Artists color film, "Sabre Jet," which is slated to open Thursday at the Capitol Theatre. On the same program Will Bill Elliott in "Vigilante Terror." Both features are first Belleville showings and are to be seen on our new wide-angle curved vision screen.

AT THE McCARTHY—Jeff Chandler and Maureen O'Hara, co-starred with Suzan Ball in Universal-International's Technicolor production of "War Arrow", now at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre, take time out for an embrace during the sings by the savage Kiowa Indians. One of the most amazing chapters in the history of frontier warfare, "War Arrow" features John McIntire, Charles Drake, Noah Beery and Dennis Weaver in the strong supporting cast.

Senator Wants 'Beerless' Ball

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Edwin C. Johnson (Dem., Colo.) introduced a bill Tuesday to bring under the anti-trust laws any professional baseball club owned by a beer or liquor company.

Johnson, who also is president of the Western League,said his move is aimed at August A. Busch, president of the Anheuser Busch Brewing Company and owner of St. Louis Cardinals.

The Senator accused Busch of using baseball "merely to sell a few more bottles of beer."

In St. Louis, Busch termed the bill "hardly proper."

Little Benny's Note Book

Ma was eating her grapefruit diet this morning, saying to pop, Can you imagine, William, Mr. and Mrs. Salsberry go out to eat in restaurants every nite in the week.

You mean they have no kitchin? pop said, and no maid. Of course they have a kitchin. It's got all the modern conveniences including a garbidge disposal. The Salsberrys just got into the resterant habit, and now they're slaves to it. It's a wonder they have any digestion left, ma said.

Maybe they didn't have any to begin with, so they dont know the difference, pop said. Just the same, its a low trick to play on their garbidge disposal, he said, and ma said, He's not low good at anything ant is, it seems they're bound to serve you at least one thing that makes you mad.

And even if the miracle happens and everything is just like home, they dash your spirrits in the end by leaving a dash of lip rouge on your coffee cup, pop said. But you've got to give them credit for trying. They are very clever, the way they wax their paper napkins to keep you amused chasing them, he said.

Imagine, going to a resterant every day, ma said, and pop said, Imagine even going every other Wensday.

Still, William, everything has its other extreme, ma said. Of course, there's no food like home, but there's no use allowing a normal feeling to harden into a prejudice. I'm thinking about this evening. I have such a hizzy day ahead of me, it would be a blessing in disguise if we ate out, she said, and pop said, By golly something tells me—that's exactly what we'll do. Which we did.

Saxton Meets Bratton Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Johnny Saxton and Johnny Bratton meet here tonight in a 10-round scrap tentatively billed as the first of a welterweight title elimination series.

The "tentative" description would become permanent if welterking Kid Gavilan should beat Carl (Bobo) Olsen in their coming battle for the middleweight crown. The 147-pound title then would be vacant and up for grab by the likes of Saxton, Bratton, Jerome Basilio and Billy Graham.

Should Gavilan lose in this effort to annex the middleweight title, the Saxton-Bratton winner still would be in a good position for a title shot. A sell-out crowd in excess of 7,500 is expected for the nationally televised bout. The 23-year-old Saxton, from Flushing, N.Y., ruled an early 9-to-5 favorite over the 26-year-old Chicago veteran.

PRESERVES MILK

LIVERPOOL, England (CP)—A dairy here is delivering fresh milk to West Africa despite a 28-day sea journey. The milk is heated to 225 degrees and put in bottles sealed with corks.

Good Eating!

NEARLY EVERYONE LIKES A GOOD STEAK OR A GOOD PORTION OF FRIED CHICKEN

STEAK

To do it justice, a steak should be about one inch thick of the best quality (Red Brand) beef and hung from 3 to 4 weeks prior to cutting. Then cooked to taste.

FRIED CHICKEN

Should be Grade "A" well cooked in a good shortening, and a substantial enough portion so that you can really enjoy it.

Varsity Favors 4-Team Loop

TORONTO (CP)—The University of Toronto Athletic Association director Tuesday night squelched rumors that they would agree to keep McMaster University Marauders in the Intercollegiate Senior Football League.

At its regular bi-weekly meeting the directorate said it still approves of a four-team schedule, including Varsity; University of Western Ontario, Queen's University and McGill University.

Warren Stevens, Varsity athletic director, said he was in touch with Queen's and Western officials. "They assured me their position was still the same," Stevens said. He said that he was told by Queen's and Western officials "that any reported change in their colleges' official stand was news to them."

Your Individual Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars:

FOR THURS., FEB. 25, 1954.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Smoke rays in early hours should inspire, help to carry you through to favorable conclusions. Your personal outlook is mostly what you and your attitude.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Hold firm to your better ideas, sound principles; your mental alertness can open up many doors that will prove gainful. Guard against emotional stress during the pm.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — With a self-sacrificial front you can expect reasonable gain in your daily activities. Don't be involved by emotional reason most golds. Note others' actions.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — You are up against a partly dull, non-leaving day. Your born insight can size up demands and requirements quickly, however. Keep within your capabilities, but keep improving.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo) — What may be lacking in helpful influences today you can make up through your natural gifts. Use of Leo's top natal characteristics: Present ideas pleasingly, co-operate wisely, generously.

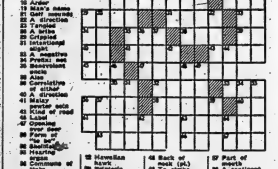
August 23 to September 22 (Virgo) — Rays now make up for most lack of stimulating vibration; aim to take advantage of the situation. Ponder well before acting; to forestall foolish mistakes and you will be well rewarded.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Some doubtful situations may cause confusion, uncertainty as to procedure. Summon your best judgment, others' knowledge, too. Your progressive spirit should help now.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — Today's big warning is about confidential matters; Don't treat them lightly; disclose nothing given in sincere trust. Subterfuge often causes unreasonable troubles; don't tie in with it.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius) — Honest and conscientious effort is stressed. Search for that silver lining and salary-ing goals. Analyze thoughtfully.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn) — Influences indicate a more pleasant, stimulating atmosphere, especially in matters close to home, property. Be at ease and your affairs will run more smoothly.



January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius) — Today's vibrations will back you if you don't violate nature's laws or show lack of ambition. Making the most of assets you possess is highly commendable.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces) — Stick to essentials rather than attempt overall coverage and wind up doing nothing thoroughly. In a.m. get routine started well. Keep surroundings in order.

YOU BORN TODAY: Your Sign and planet, Neptune denote sympathy and honest intent. You are of kindly nature, intuitive, usually methodical and adept at deductive reasoning, you are intensely idealistic, imaginative; neat and love to have order where you live. Work for matters that give you inspiration and the will to do bigger, better things are best for most Pisces natives. You make excellent lawyers, representatives of labor or business; many actors, musicians, artists in this Sign. Don't antagonize needlessly, no one was born unlucky and worries, hardships are man-made, can be overcome.

Birthdate of: Enrico Caruso, famous Italian tenor.

Prairie Gift Provides Food for Koreans

A $30 money order from a church group at Cardston, Alta., is given to a Korean mother by Mrs. John M. Anderson, senior Protestant Chaplain at the 25th Infantry, Brig. Anderson, travelling in and around Pusan, found thousands of families living in army tents and, in some places, found school classes being conducted in similar tents. Miss Wong, right, an orphanage supervisor, said the $30 would keep a family of four in food for two months. — Central Press Canadian.

BACARDI HEIR SAVED FROM KIDNAPPERS.

Eight-year-old Daniel Bacardi, the young heir to the Bacardi rum fortune, gets a fond welcome home from his mother—it hits on the top of the head—as his father, Daniel Bacardi Rossell happily looks on. The boy returned home after being kidnapped and held captive for nearly a day in a sewer culvert. He was rescued by an army lieutenant, one of 500 Cuban soldiers that pressed the search for him. One of the alleged kidnappers was killed while trying to escape and the other was jailed. The kidnappers had demanded $50,000 ransom for the return of young Bacardi.—Central Press Canadian.

Wellington

WELLINGTON — Mr. Don Morrison, of Rochester, left for his home after spending a week with his sister, Mrs. J. H. Rutter.

Among those from out-of-town who attended the funeral of J. H. Rutter were Mr. Don Morrison, Rochester; Mrs. Reta Gibson, Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Weddfield, Toronto; and Mrs. R. J. McLeod, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rutter, Lansdowne.

After spending the past two months in Vancouver with her daughter, Mrs. George Watt and family, and in Long Lac with another daughter, Mrs. Terry Dorland and family, Mrs. G. H. Greer returned to her home here on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Archard spent several days in Montreal recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Stewart and son of Maple Leaf, Ont., spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Newton.

Mr. Ronald Bailey who is attending colleges in Waterloo spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bailey.

Mr. Donald Bailey, Clifford Channel, Ivan Green, Harold and Jack McNeil attended a hockey meeting at Belleville on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Ogilvy, Mrs. Clifford Channel, Wayne and Orr spent the supper on —Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Bailey.

Mrs. Jack Whitney of New Toronto, spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Alva Morrison.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Post moved to Toronto on Sunday to spend a few days with relatives.

Mrs. Laura Wight left on Friday to spend some time with her cousins, Major and Mrs. R. M. Ramsay and family, at Wiarton.

Mrs. W. H. Tenkey and Mr. William Wiggins were guests for dinner on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Risner, Belleville.

Mrs. C. H. Greer is sick. Her son George Greer of Trenton spent the week-end with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Adams attended a party at Mr. and Mrs. Frank Osterhout's home, Burr's, on Thursday evening the occasion being Mr. Osterhout's birthday.

C.G.I.T.

The weekly meeting of the C.G.I.T. was held in the auditorium of the Wellington Consolidated School on Friday evening. Joyce Dick, president, presided. The devotional period included scripture reading and a hymn.

Rev. M. Poulter was the guest speaker. He spoke on Home Missions. Sally East thanked him for his talk. At the conclusion of group projects "Taps" was sung after which a few games were played.

Mrs. Annie Christy fell and broke her hip on Sunday afternoon. She was taken to Trenton Memorial Hospital by Ainsworth Ambulance. X-rays on Monday showed a clean break.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Wood spent a few days with their daughter, Mrs Reid and family in Peterborough.

Mr. Frank Brimley entered Kingston General Hospital on Sunday to undergo an operation.

Mrs. Hugh Weir, of Consecon, spent several days last week with Mrs. Stan Boyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Boyle and Benny of Trenton and Mr. and Mrs. Hutton Martin and family spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Boyle.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Grosser and family of Toronto, spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Dafoe.

Mrs. Elmer Carlyst teacher of grade 1 W.C.S. returned to her teaching duties after being ill for two weeks.

Many Will Be Inoculated Against Polio

OTTAWA (CP)—At least four times as many Canadians will be inoculated against poliomyelitis this year as last, a federal health department official said Tuesday.

Plans call for inoculation of 100,000 to 140,000 persons with gamma globulin, a blood derivative. Last year, about 28,000 persons, mostly children, were inoculated in Canada.

The health department recognizes that gamma globulin is not the final answer in the fight against polio. Health Minister Martin has said that there is little justification for undue optimism concerning use of gamma globulin as a polio vaccine.

At the same time, the official said, gamma globulin is the only polio vaccine now available, it is better than nothing, and its use will be expanded in Canada until something better comes along.

That "something better" could arrive soon. Connaught Laboratories in Toronto now is producing a polio virus from monkey kidneys which it is sending to the United States for checking in the new polio vaccine. This vaccine will be tested on some 400,000 children in the U.S. this year.

McCarthy's Foe, Stevens Becomes Pentagon Hero

By BEM PRICE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert Stevens, whom Senator Joseph McCarthy has called "the finest dupe Tyes ever saw," is pretty much of a hero around the Pentagon, United States defence headquarters, these days.

Stevens, secretary of the army, stepped between McCarthy and a pair of generals in the row over the senator's investigation of what he terms a pattern of "coddling Communists" by the army.

Stevens accused the Wisconsin Republican of unfair tactics and of abusing uniformed officers and ordered his two generals to ignore any further summonses from the senator. He said if McCarthy wanted any questions answered he would appear himself.

Their meeting, with network television cameras covering the proceedings, is scheduled for Thursday.

A colonel, long concerned with the whole morale problem inside the armed forces, said that when Stevens' name is mentioned "people didn't just climb, "it zoomed."

The contrast between McCarthy and Stevens began over the senator's investigation of the promotion and honorable discharge of a New York dentist and reserve major, Irving Peress. Press disputes as "sheer nonsense," McCarthy's contention that he is a Communist.

DEMANDED NAMES

McCarthy has said Peress was known by the army to be a Communist and that Peress in a closed session of his investigations army committee refused to answer questions on Communist affiliation, citing the guarantee against possible self-incrimination.

The senator has demanded that the army provide him with the names of all those responsible for granting an honorable discharge to Peress, and the names of those responsible for his promotion.

It was while he was seeking that information that he told Brig.-Gen. Ralph Zwicker, commandant at Camp Kilmer, N.J., where Peress was released to inactive duty: "You are not fit to wear that uniform."

Zwicker is a decorated veteran of the Normandy beach-head.

After that Stevens ordered Zwicker and Maj. - Gen. William Sergio, the army's adjutant-general, not to appear as scheduled.

This man who told the senator from Wisconsin to leave his generals alone has been in government service off and on since 1917, when he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the field artillery.

He also served as a colonel in the Second World War, trouble-shooting along the army's supply lines for the quartermaster corps.

The army secretary, 'five times called into government service, was born July 21, 1896, in Farmwood, N.J., not far from his present home at South Plainfield.

Doucett Suggests Railways Institute Commuter Services

TORONTO (CP)—Highways Minister Doucett, of Ontario suggested today that Canadian railways could take a "very heavy load off our highways" by operating commuter services to the larger centres.

"Thousands of our people living within 50 or 60 miles of our larger centres would welcome such services," he said, "and would be more than happy to utilize rail transportation in coming and going to and from their daily tasks."

However, the railways did not favor commuter traffic, claiming such services operate at a loss, Mr. Doucett said in an address prepared for delivery at the 60th annual meeting of the Ontario Good Roads Association.

WOULD AID COMMUTING

"I wonder whether some radical developments in equipment and operating procedures might not enable our railroads to develop an important and paying commuter business," he said.

Many people employed in the Toronto metropolitan area lived at points as far distant as Owen Sound, more than 100 miles northwest.

Railways had a network of lines reaching scores of suburban points radiating out of such centres as Toronto and Hamilton.

In a review of highway projects contemplated for 1954, Mr. Doucett said negotiations are under way with the federal government to relieve "Canada's worst highway bottleneck"—the Burlington cutoff near Hamilton.

"Construction of the burlington (bridge) will constitute one of the biggest projects of its kind in all Canada," he said.

Federal participation was necessary because of navigational rights involved on the Burlington ship canal at the entrance to Hamilton bay.

His department had already acquired the necessary land and made adequate engineering studies.

"With the development of the St. Lawrence seaway, Hamilton will be a most important Canadian port," he said.

URGES CAUTION

The minister advised "prudence" by municipal governments in planning road and street expenditures for 1954. They should not try to go "too far or too fast" but keep their plans "within the compass of the amounts expended in 1952 and 1953."

In 1953 his department completed 43 bridges on provincial highways at a cost of $4,331,309. At the close of the year, 23 grade separation projects were under way, involving an expenditure of about $5,000,000.

"We have 229 miles of controlled-access highways, 235 miles being of the dual-lane type," he said. Long-range planning called for completion of Highway 2 as a dual-lane route of, which 24 miles of grading out of Windsor and the 35-mile London-Woodstock by - pass were links.

FATALLY INJURED

PETERBOROUGH (CP)—Hector Edwards, 41, of nearby Lakefield, was killed Monday night when his truck went out of control and smashed into a hydro pole inside the northern city limits of Peterborough. Police said the cab of the truck was smashed in and Edwards was pinned behind the wheel. He died of a fractured skull.

MARILYN HEADED HOME

TOKYO (AP)—Marilyn Monroe left Japan for home today with a silver medal for her tumultuous four-day tour of Korea that also won her the cheers of American soldiers and a rumpy nose. A Pan American spokesman said her plane winged across the Pacific with Marilyn bedded snugly down in a berth where she can rest from the exertions of her Korea tour.

Youthful Rival Replaces Naguib As Egypt's Ruler

Nasser Named Premier By Revolutionary Council

By ROBERT B. HEWETT

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt's ruling Revolutionary Council has dropped Maj.-Gen. Mohamed Naguib, front man of the revolution that made a republic of this ancient land of the pharaohs, from the presidency and premiership.

The 11½ young army officers of the council today named as premier Lt.-Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser, 36, driving force of the bloodless coup that ousted King Farouk from the throne 19 months ago. He has been Naguib's deputy premier.

Nasser also succeeds Naguib as leader of the council. The presidency will remain vacant.

Naguib today was in army-guarded isolation at his simply, five-room home in suburban Helmieh. Capt. Galal Fahy, aide to Colonel Gamal Salem, said the Revolutionary Council "has no intention of taking any measures against Naguib."

However, a reporter always stationed at Naguib's home permitted no one to enter and the guard is on a strict order to "obviously Naguib will avoid leaving the house." Only telephone lines to the house were blocked.

UNEXPECTED RESIGNATION

A communique from the Revolutionary Council accused Naguib of seeking to set up Egypt "back to absolute dictatorship," declared he was suffering from a "psychological crisis," and reported unanimous acceptance of a resignation it said he submitted Monday.

The action came at a heated, seven - hour session Wednesday night of the 11 majors and lieutenant - colonels who, with Naguib, made up the council. Naguib was absent.

The 52-year-old Naguib had been avoiding council sessions lately at which he was not personally present, which suggested a struggle for power.

Saleem told reporters the office of president of the republic will remain vacant until Parliament is restored by elections which the regime plans for two years, after the end of the three-year "transitional period" proclaimed last year. During that period political parties are banned, although the government-sponsored "liberation rally" is rising as a political force.

CITY QUIET

Cairo remained quiet today. There were no signs of unusual military or police activity except for a detachment of soldiers directing the passes of reporters around the Abdin Palace.

Political observers believe there will be little immediate change in the internal policies of the new government, even though Nasser, Egypt's strong man behind the scenes, finally has stepped to the leadership as far as foreign affairs are concerned. That foreign policy has been defined as soo-co-operation with the West. Egyptian forces are being withdrawn from the Suez canal zone. The big question is the internal reaction.

There is bound to be concern over whether the new government party will adopt more radical measures. Naguib, in the past, has been regarded as the council's balance wheel.

Nasser is rated the most fiery exponent of Egypt's current bid for complete withdrawal from the canal zone.

Attorney-General Denies Opposition Charges on Roads

TORONTO (CP)—Attorney-General Porter was on his feet repeatedly in the Ontario legislature Wednesday answering charges made by the opposition on the highways department irregularities and the disbarment of a crown attorney.

Challenged by Albert Wren (Lib.-Lab.—Kenora), Mr. Porter agreed to table evidence in the disbarment of crown attorney Bernard Arnold Russell Taylor of Kenora.

Mr. Wren said no prosecution was made in Mr. Taylor's case after he was disbarred by the law society last month following a charge of money which he charged were provincial government funds.

"If my honorable friend has some information why didn't he lay a charge?" Mr. Porter replied when asked.

Mr. Wren said the case was placed before the attorney-general.

Mr. Porter replied that he was advised there was no basis for a criminal charge.

"That's not good enough," said Mr. Wren.

PC TARGET

On the irregularities, Mr. Wren charged there was "some definite association between the Progressive Conservative party and the department of highways" in northwestern Ontario.

He reiterated the opposition's demand for a judicial commission "to lift the veil of secrecy over this whole matter."

Mr. Porter said if the member had some information on the subject he was failing it before the house.

"Let's call the public accounts committee. The public is just as interested in your secret information, Mr. Speaker," Mr. Porter replied.

The throne speech debate will continue today.

Family Will Get $10,000 For Death Of Wife, Mother

TORONTO (CP) — Lawrence Parks, 41-year-old department store employee, and his three young children will receive a total of $10,000 in damages as the result of the death of his 24-year-old wife, Ruth, in a home-to-work accident on Morrisburg early last July 31 which also killed 19 other persons.

13 Red Publications Financed From Abroad

MONTREAL (CP) — An Ottawa immigration officer said Wednesday night 13 communist publications were printed in Canada as part of a "well-organized and highly vocal" propaganda machine aimed at the "destruction" of this country.

Alan Boyd, citizenship officer in the department of citizenship and immigration, said the papers, which he did not name, were subsidized from abroad and called "by a common Moscow - directed treasury located in Toronto."

He said in an address meeting at McGill University that 10 of the journals are printed in Toronto, two in Sudbury, and one in Winnipeg.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP)—Synopsis: A weak disturbance over south Ontario this morning caused cloudy skies and intermittent light snow occasionally mixed with rain during the night. Skies will clear over northern regions today and over southern regions today. Little change in temperatures is expected over the province on Friday.

SAY BALCOMBE MAN WHO RENTED TOURIST CABIN

Woman's Garb Found After His Departure

CORNWALL (CP)—Second Lieut. Peter Balcombe has been identified in court as the soldier who last Oct. 1 rented a Woodcock area tourist cabin in which a woman's clothing was later found in the attic.

Charles Clayton of Scarisville near Woodstock said there is no doubt in his mind that Balcombe is the man. He said Ez Balcombe rented the cabin for Ez Lauzon of the usual $5 on condition he would use it only three or four hours in the afternoon. Balcombe stayed in it all night.

Clayton testified Wednesday in the trial of the married 24-year-old British-born officer on a charge of murdering Marie Anne Carrier, 22, a reserve army sergeant with whom he had gone out while stationed at Valcartier camp in Quebec City.

The girl was stabbed body of the slender typist from the Quebec City area was found June 30 in a grassy ditch near Iroquois about 35 miles west of here on the St. Lawrence River.

Earlier in the trial, which started Monday, a waitress testified that the girl, whose brunette hair was lightly streaked with grey, was stabbed seven times with a thin double-bladed knife. He said one wound was in the throat and another was found to have been inflicted through the heart.

PLANNED MOVE FAMILY

Balcombe, who once attended Queen's Collegiate, also was identified as the man who rented an apartment near Quebec City last May. He said he planned to take his wife and two young children from London, Ont., to live with him there.

The slim, dark-haired officer was arrested Oct. 18 at the Komoka farm home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gray, Komoka is near London.

A crown witness placed Balcombe's car as being in Montreal at about 2 a.m. Oct. 15.

Edward Bannister said Balcombe called at his apartment at that time and left a package for safekeeping. The clothing belonged to Butcher's brother, a fellow officer Balcombe's wife was on the train to Korea. Butcher said his apartment in Montreal was the most direct route on the Quebec-Montreal highway.

The big surprise said Balcombe appeared at the tourist camp 440 miles away at 5 a.m. after about 2 p.m. He drove up alone in a 1950-model maroon coach, he said.

SHORT REST

Clayton quoted Balcombe as saying he was heading for the Wabash and had driven from the Quebec border that day. Balcombe told Clayton he had been hidden while before driving all night when he arrived at the camp he slept during the day. That was why he wanted to rest for three or four hours, he said.

About 8 a.m. next day, Clayton said, Balcombe came home that night watchman's duty at a factory and was surprised to see Balcombe there.

"I intended to say something to him but everything I knew to tell him said he would be on his way in the middle of the night, but he didn't give me the chance."

Clayton said his attention was drawn to the newspaper picture of a car. He said he recognized it as the car driven by the soldier to whom he had rented the cabin.

He said he and Howard Coulas, son of the owner of the cabins, searched the cabin and found a soldier woman's clothing.

Learning to Live Together in Peace Seen Life-Long Challenge To Us All

TORONTO (CP)—The United Nations secretary-general said today that the process of learning to live together without war . . . is going to be a painful and constant challenge for the rest of our lives."

In a prepared address to the Empire Club, Dag Hammarskjold said the fact that members mankind have created and maintained the UN is "evidence that mankind is capable of responding to the challenge of interdependence with which the evolution of human society has now brought us face to face as never before."

History has many lessons to teach about apparently irresolvable conflicts between peoples, he said. But with time, the nations

Dulles Assures People U.S. Lost Nothing at Berlin

By WARREN ROGERS Jr.

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dulles has assured the American people that as United States lost nothing at Berlin and gained much—including a chance to bring Red China "before the bar of world opinion."

Dulles, who returned five days ago from the month-long Big Four talks, told a radio-television audience Wednesday night:

"You may ask whether it was worth while to go to Berlin. . . . My answer is 'yes' and I have no doubt about that."

He said two results "will profoundly influence the future" and described them as:

1. Foreign Minister Molotov was forced by the U.S., French and British delegates to show Russia's hand"—a hand which Dulles said hung on to all it had, including East Germany and East Austria, and grabbed for more.

2. Molotov gave, at the last hour in a "concession . . . not to be ignored," and signed a declaration spelling out U.S. refusal to recognize Red China.

$1 BROADCASTS

It was this point—long-withheld U.S. diplomatic recognition of Communist China—which Dulles hit time and again. His half-hour speech, besides network radio-TV coverage, was beamed also in 33 languages to both sides of the Iron Curtain.

This report climaxed his campaign in Geneva's critics that the Communist world was not "appeased" in arrangements agreed upon at Berlin for the holding April 26 of an Asian peace conference at Geneva, Switzerland, and in a lack of progress on the German and Austrian questions.

St. Laurent Wins Applause At Indian Press Conference

By WILLIAM STEWART
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW DELHI (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent flew to Agra, today for a visit to the world-famed Taj Mahal, amid correspondents' praise in the Indian capital for the Canadian leader's handling of a hard-hitting 40-minute press conference Wednesday.

One correspondent said later that, "Mr. St. Laurent is a strong-minded, good-humored, it was the "toughest" press conference he had seen here. Another said that in six years it was the first time a New Delhi press conference had ended with applause.

CEASE-FIRE APPEAL

One query was about Prime Minister Nehru's appeal for a cease-fire in Korea when represented the April conference at Geneva to deal with Korean and Indo - Chinese issues.

The Canadian said he favors the cease-fire proposal.

Another question was about Chinese representation in the United Nations.

The prime minister said the UN is not a world government, China, and he doubted it would be admitted to the United Nations unless it were represented in the United Nations and a cease-fire status entated between the Chinese Communists and the UN.

Later he said the Nationalist government on Formosa does not represent the "great mass" of the Chinese people.

The government of China should become acquainted with China given itself, he said.

Asked about Russia, he said he did not suggest that the form of government existing in Russia should be changed, that was a matter for the Russian people.

He was questioned closely on his views of promised United States military aid to Pakistan, one of the major current issues in India, and said he is certain the U.S. is not "deliberately trying to create tension," but rather is trying to reduce it.

SATISFACTION

Asked about Indian fears that U. S. military aid to Pakistan could be directed against India, he said: "I am convinced, if there had been any slightest suspicion it would be directed against India it would not be agreed to."

Asked for Canada's reaction should India, in turn, seek military aid from the U.S., he said:

"We would be very much concerned if there were any flooding of military aid between India and any nation we looked upon as a potential aggressor.

Queen Awards British Empire Medal to Cpl.

OTTAWA (CP)—L. Cpl. Paul Dugal of Quebec City has been awarded the British Empire Medal by the Queen, the army announced Wednesday.

Dugal, 22, came out of Communist captivity in Korea April 21, 1953, with a little black notebook which he had managed to keep hidden from the Reds. In that notebook he had written the names of 15 fellow Canadians who were prisoners-of-war. Later he remembered having a name left out and added Michael Liston of Ottawa.

The army, which up to that time had been able to list only one Canadian as prisoner-of-war, checked Dugal's story closely. On the strength of his evidence alone, it listed all officially as prisoners-of-war.

Dugal's score turned out to be perfect. When the final prisoner exchange was completed last September, all 16 men listed by Dugal had been released as prisoners. Besides these 16, two other Canadians were repatriated; by the Communists.

Workers Vote Down Proposed Wage Decrease

HESPELER (CP)—Employees of the Dominion and Woollen Worsted Limited Wednesday voted down a proposed cut in pay by a vote of 218 to 201.

The company asked Tuesday to accept an approximate 8½ per cent reduction in the take-home pay of all workers to meet changed conditions in the Canadian textile industry. Average hourly wage at the plant is $1.31.

Hammarskjold also said tribute to Mr. Pearson, Canada's external affairs minister and former president of the UN Assembly. Hammarskjold said Pearson's term as president "was not the first occasion, nor, I am sure, will it be the last, upon which he has demonstrated a significant ability to the side of that positive and constructive approach to world problems which is epitomized in the United Nations charter."

Stevens Agrees To Let McCarthy Question Officers

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) —Informed sources reported today Secretary Robert Stevens agreed to Senator Joseph McCarthy's demands for information after being told voluntary orders are futile in the untenable position of defying the United States Congress.

Stevens and Defense have had to what would have been a dramatic climax today to the dispute that threatens to split the Republican honorable discharge of Ma), Irving Peress from the army and two high Dwight Eisenhower's Republican administration, and McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, the chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee. They have had to out before the television cameras.

CONSIDERED DEFEAT

Republicans generally are shocked that his agreeing to McCarthy's demands was considered a defeat for him and a victory for the senator. At a showdown meeting Wednesday attended by the two principals and the other Republican members of McCarthy's sub - committee, the agreement was made that the senator might question all army personnel involved in the Peress matter.

Stevens earlier had ordered two officers to disregard sub-committee subpoenas, and the army had ignored McCarthy's demand for the names of the persons involved.

Senator Dirksen is said to feel that he had obtained guarantees about future handling of army will not permit such "abuse" of officers.

KILLED BY CAR

TORONTO (CP)—Elinora Marie Ellis, 34, died Wednesday night two hours after she walked into the path of a moving automobile while crossing a street near her home in suburban Swansea.

WOULD RESPOND TO TRADE OFFERS FROM RED LANDS

PC and CCF Members Favor Expanded Trade

OTTAWA (CP)—Progressive Conservative and CCF spokesmen have called on Canada to respond to genuine offers from behind the Iron Curtain to trade in non-strategic materials.

J. M. Macdonnell (PC—Toronto Greenwood) said Canada should be prepared to buy anything sane of a desire to trade "and I emphasize the word genuine."

Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) said trade with any country would be encouraged "without too much fear of the political creed of a country."

They spoke in the Commons Wednesday during debate on a measure to expand the operations of the crown-owned Export Credits Insurance Corporation, which insures Canadian exporters against losses from delayed payment for goods from foreign countries.

John Dickey, parliamentary assistant to Trade Minister Gordon, outlined government policy on trade behind the Iron Curtain.

He said the Export Credits Insurance Corporation could insure exports to all countries "as long as an exporter can get an export permit." But, he added, each case is considered to be an insurable risk.

STRATEGIC BAN

"However," he added, "there are lists of goods for export purposes which have the responsibility of deciding whether an export permit will be granted. Certain countries should be granted."

His reference was to government regulations guarding against shipments of strategic materials to Communist countries. Any export behind the Iron Curtain must receive a government permit, and this is refused for strategic goods.

Dickey said in the seven years 1948-50, the corporation insured $2,800,000 worth of exports to Czechoslovakia and $600,000 worth to Poland.

The legislation was given second reading—approval in principle. It increases the capital stock of the corporation from $15,000,000 from $5,000,000 to permit insurance of more exports. The corporation can insure total exports up to 10 times its capital stock.

Minister Hopes For Favorable Court Decision

OTTAWA (CP)—Transport Minister Chevrier says he hopes for a favorable decision from the court of the United States Supreme Court regarding a case which has the power phase of the St. Lawrence seaway.

However, he told the Commons Wednesday it is unfair to say when such a judgment may be given.

Mr. Chevrier was asked by Hon. Ian Strachan (PC—Westmorland) when legal obstacles in the U.S. to a start on the project would be removed.

The minister said the U.S. Court of Appeals Feb. 9 upheld the right of the New York state power authority to join with Ontario in the 2,000,000 power project. On which the joint hydro-navigation undertaking depends.

Opponents had 90 days to make a final appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court but had not yet launched this appeal.

Churchill Predicts Soviet Satellites Will Break Away

Says Forces of Human Spirit Not Easily Extinguished

LONDON (Reuters) — Sir Winston Churchill today predicted the Soviet satellite nations will eventually break away from Russian domination because the "forces of the human spirit" are not easily extinguished.

The prime minister was speaking at the second day of a Commons debate on the results of the Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Berlin.

"No one can suppose that what happened to Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria and those countries can be ended in any sense," he said.

"No solution is in sight at present for these subjugated states. We have all rejected the course of violence forces for this purpose. Time may find remedies which this generation cannot command.

"The forces of the human spirit and of national character, alive in these countries, cannot be readily extinguished even by large scale measures of physical and mass education of children.

"This territorial empire and multitudes of subjects which the Soviets grasped for themselves in the days of allied victory, constitutes the main cause of division now existing among the civilized nations."

But Stalin's use of his triumph, Churchill said, has led to results which would live and last—the alliance and brotherhood of the English-speaking peoples upon which the life of the free world depended.

"Nothing but Stalinist Russia could have brought the conception of a united Europe from dream-land into the forefront of modern politics," he said.

"Nothing but the policy of the Soviets could have laid the foundation of the deep and lasting association which now exists between Germany and the western world, Germany and the United States, Germany and Britain, Germany and France.

"I cannot bring myself to believe that men with such able minds as the Soviet rulers have not taken stock of the price they have paid,as well as of the possessions they have gained by the Stalin policy," Churchill said.

Sale of Beer In Grocery Stores Is Advocated

TORONTO (CP) — The sale of beer in Ontario grocery stores was advocated in the legislature Wednesday by Morris Wren (Lib.-Lab.—Kenora). He also urged eliminating the beer parlors.

Speaking during the throne speech debate, Mr. Wren said he saw no reason why beer should not be sold in grocery stores. He thought such a move would probably have a good effect on temperance in the province.

"We should consider soon the elimination of the use of liquor parlors," he said. "Beer is not permitted to be sold in private family friends. Membership cards are necessary to get into these Dagmo Orchestrie.

Vatican Reports Pope's Condition Slightly Better

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Ailing Pope Pius "slept well" during the night and his general condition early today showed a slight improvement, the Vatican press office announced.

Other Vatican sources earlier had described the Pope's condition as dire and unchanged. Severe attacks of hiccups had kept him from sleeping and severely weakened him during the first weeks of his ninth-long illness.

The pontiff, who will be 78 Tuesday, is believed to be suffering from gastritis, but his inability to retain the barium solution necessary for x-ray examination has prevented a complete diagnosis. He is on a semi-liquid diet and is able to leave his bed for only brief periods.

But the windows of the Pope's apartment on the top floor of the Apostolic Palace were unshuttered today to let in the morning light.

There was considered a good sign, since during particularly trying periods for the patient the shutters have been closed to keep out the light.

The constant watch by the Pope's physician and Vatican assistants is being continued. The private physician, Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi Lisi, who spent most of Wednesday at the bedside, again visited the Pope early today.

There was still talk in Vatican circles today of a possible consultation of several medical experts at the bedside. But the Pope has been against this measure.

Wheat Surplus Alarms Canadian, U.S. Farm Experts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leaders of United States and Canadian farm organizations called today for a more effective way of dealing cooperatively with the huge wheat surpluses and other problems of the two countries.

Allan B. Kline, president of the American farm bureau federation, discussing the wheat problem, told reporters after the end of the two-day meeting:

"I don't like to misquoting us if you said we agreed that it is a physics situation."

The 30 conferees met behind closed doors.

City and District News

ALL POLICE FOUND WAS NEIGHBOR'S CAT

Sound of movement on the roof of an Evans Street residence at a late hour last night resulted in a hurry-up call to the police department as the home owner feared that a would-be intruder was attempting to make entry into the home.

The police cruiser raced to the address and officers made a quick check of the roof. All they found was the neighbor's tomcat out for a midnight prowl.

MADOC SOLDIER COMING HOME FROM KOREA

One district soldier is included in a draft representative of most 25th Brigade units, which is scheduled to debark at the Port of Seattle on Sunday. He is Pte. W. A. Rose, of Madoc, Ont. All members of the draft are veterans of a year or more of service in the Far East.

'SABRE JET' WILL START AT CAPITOL TONIGHT

"Sabre Jet" and "Vigilante Terror" will be shown at the Capitol Theatre tonight. As the result of an unfortunate error, an advertisement appearing in Wednesday's paper stated that this double bill would start on Monday, instead of Thursday. The pictures next Monday are "Times Gone By," and "Jennifer." "Sabre Jet" stars Robert Stack, Coleen Gray, Richard Arlen and Julie Bishop. "Vigilante" Bill Elliott appears in "Vigilante Terror."

RED FEATHER RECEIPTS CAN BE OBTAINED

Persons who have as not yet received receipts for their donations to the Red Feather campaign held last year, may obtain them from Lloyd Sleaff at the Y.M.C.A. building.

Mr. Sleaff said today that 18 receipts mailed out to donors have been returned to the headquarters by the post office for a number of reasons. Since the donations are deductible from income tax, Mr. Sleaff said he felt sure these people, who cannot be reached by mail, are interested in receiving them.

BODY OF DROWNED CHILD RECOVERED

The body of five-year-old Colin Kragland, drowned Monday afternoon in a mill pond at Bloomfield was recovered in about a foot of water this morning. The boy was drowned when ice gave way while he and two other lads were playing.

Provincial police and citizens had searched almost continuously since Monday for the boy's body. It was only after water in the pond was lowered that the body was recovered.

J.T. Dalgleish New President Foremen's Club

At Tuesday night's regular monthly meeting of the Quinte District Foremen's Club held at the Y.M.C.A. the officers for the coming year were elected.

President of the club for 1954-55 is J. T. Dalgleish (Bakelite Co.), vice president in charge of program, Mr. F. O'Neil (Bata Shoe Co.); vice president in charge of membership Mr. F. Horcica (Bata Shoe Co.); treasurer Mr. K. Broadworth (American Optical Co.); recording secretary, Mr. P. Cleary (Northern Electric Co.); director of public relations, Mr. H. Jones (Northern Electric Co.); the only seventh office of executive secretary is automatically filled by Mr. L. Sleaff, general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. as advisor to the organization.

Other members of the 30-man committee which governs and directs the club will be chosen by the elected officers at a later date.

A special feature of the meeting was the introduction of five managers of overseas branches of the Bata Shoe Co. organization, by the retiring president H. Jones. They were F. H. Bennett, (Tilbury England; Mr. H. Dumas, Bataville, France; Mr. H Ahmeed, Batapur, Pakistan; Mr. C. Witter, of Miss Ethelland and Mr. R. Niemlen, Louisville, Kentucky. Other visitors to the meeting included management representatives from the Big "A" & Farm Supply Co. and Metal & Farm Supply —Co. and Mead-Johnson Co.

New System Outlined To Foremen's Club

"Incentive management is not a system of giving something for nothing or whenever a company has a profit" stated Mr. M. N. Vuchinich, president of Lincoln Electric Co. of Canada Ltd. at Tuesday night's meeting of the Quinte District Foremen's Club. "Primarily it is a philosophy which must be fully accepted by top management in any organization, a philosophy of work which determines compensation to the workers according to his contribution and efforts. Nor is it a substitute for paying regular wages to employees.

"The purpose of incentive management or profit sharing is to develop greater productive attitudes in the individual and the organization resulting in merchandise at lower cost to the consumer. This philosophy is based on the fundamental principle necessary in the thinking of all persons involved in incentive management if it is to be applied.

"The first is a genuine belief in workers as individual human beings who have latent abilities which will respond to the proper incentive given, or opportunity. If a man is led to believe that he can lag and put his talents and energies which, will be recognized and utilized by management he will respond."

ALL WORK DIGNIFIED.

The second concept is that there is dignity in hard work wether white collar man. All work at any level is dignified. The job of the man on the line is as valuable and important as that of the man at the desk. There is no distinction of importance or dignity between labor and management. When a man can see his part in the over-all picture of an organization he develops a sense of pride and belonging."

The third fundamental concerns the status of profit" remarked Mr. Vuchinich. "Profit for the company owners will not inspire loyalty in the workers. It is only with an incentive management considers its prime objective to more and more and better products to sell at lower prices and satisfaction to the customer, that the worker develops pride and loyalty for his job and his company. The result is increased efficiency and activity on his part which, eventually results in the largest profit share return to him."

Fourthly we in the "profit sharing" field believe in assigning individual responsibility to the worker with the frame work of the company policy. in addition we make allowance in the application to the individual who successfully accepts responsibility."

The fifth concept is that a worker should be rewarded in proportion to his contribution. We do not indulge in philanthropic giving out of company profits regardless of the degree to which an employee has worked. He gets what he has worker for, over and above his basic wage. In this manner he is proud of it.

Mr. Vuchinich stressed the fact that profit sharing is not a cure-all for bad industrial relations, nor is it a substitute for a program of industrial relations, and that it can be operated in an industry in which labor is organized.

The speaker was introduced by Mr. W. Colclough and thanked by Mr. F. Grandame who presented him with a travelling alarm-clock on behalf of the club members.

Calvary Temple Raises $24,911 For All Purposes

The annual business meeting of Calvary Temple was held in the church auditorium on Tuesday evening, when encouraging financial and other reports were presented by the treasurer and the various departmental officers. A total of $24,911.88 was raised for all purposes during 1953, which is an increase of $2,401.53 over the previous year. Money received through the general fund was $23,022.41. Sunday School $1,302.19. Christ's Ambassadors young people's group $355.66 and Women's Missionary Council $131.62.

The Deacons' Board elected for 1954 include the following: A. J. Becker, A. A. Dyer, G. Lott and G. Purves. The new treasurer will be appointed from the board. Mr. O. Shindell was elected to the office of trustee, replacing Mr. C. W. Jackson, who has moved to Hamilton.

Rev. L. H. Price expressed regret at the loss of Mr. C. W. Jackson, District Fruit Inspector, who has been promoted by the Dominion Dept. of Agriculture. Mr. Jackson had served as deacon and trustee for many years and his faithfulness and executive ability had played a large part in the success of the church. Mrs. Jackson, who has given valuable service on the Women's Missionary Council, will also be greatly missed by the congregation.

LARGE SUNDAY SCHOOL

Reporting on the Sunday School work, the superintendent, Mr. H. C. Harris, spoke glowing of the wonderful organization given by so many people on behalf of the school for which the Calvary Temple was the tenth largest Pentecostal Sunday School in Canada, the average attendance last year being well over two hundred. There is a staff of thirty-five teachers, consecrated, well trained and efficient.

In the report of the Women's Missionary Council, Mrs. A. Dyer enumerated the many activities and useful work performed by that group. Quilts, literature and boxes of supplies have been sent to various mission stations; fruit baskets and gifts to the bedridden and aged, etc.

Rev. H. M. Smith voiced his appreciation of the faithfulness of the various officers of the church. Before giving the benediction Rev. H. Price asked for united prayer that God would continue to bless and guide and that many more soul would come to a saying knowledge of Jesus Christ.

Airwoman Captures First Place in Three Events

Airwoman A. M. McGregor scored away from the annual Albert College - RCAF Station Water Birds swimming meet, recently, with her hands full of cups, awarded after she captured first in three events.

The Scottish lass, stationed at RCAF Station, Trenton, took individual honors in the station indoor swimming pool, where the visitors from Belleville gained a total of 61 points in all events to defeat the RCAF club by the narrow margin of two points.

A. Weggeman took individual honors for the College swimming team by placing first in the men's 50-yard free style, second in the 50-yard back stroke, and second in the 75-yard individual medley. Cpl. Val Scott added two cups, a medal, and two ribbons to his trophy shelf. Scott has laid the RCAF Water Birds to victory on several occasions in recent years.

Awards were made by W/C. C. Lee, president of the Water Birds, to successful participants after the meet. Mr. R. A. Beach, sports director of Albert College, challenged the local team to a second meet to be held in early March at the College pool.

Following is a list of winners: 100-yard free style (men), J. Lake, 60.2 sec., V. Scott, 68.4 sec., and Bigham, 69.2 sec. 50-yard free style (women), A. M. McGregor, 31 sec., B. Parks Board Flatly Refuses To Return Land to Council

TRENTON, (Special) — The Parks Board flatly refused a demand from the council for the return of a piece of land held in perpetuity by the Board.

Six members of the Parks' Board voted unanimously against reconveying a section of land north of the northerly retaining wall of Senator Fraser Park. Parks chairman Dr. J. W. Farley objected to ex-officio member Mayor Ross Burtt voting on the motion. Mr. Burtt had indicated his intention to oppose Dr. Farley's order.

Said Dr. Farley: "He (meaning Mayor Burtt) has no vote. He's ex-officio. I object to him voting."

"In fact I don't vote in council unless it's a tie vote," explained Mayor Burtt. "Yes, retorted Dr. Farley, "but this is not a tie vote."

NOT CLOSING LANEWAY.

Dr. Farley pointed out that council suggested that the Parks' Board was going to close the laneway off Quinte Street into the government dock area south of the Dundas Street shopping section. "You could close it at anytime", interrupted Mayor Burtt. "Yes and as Chief Magistrate of the town you could arrest me on the street", replied Dr. Farley. "That doesn't sound sensible," Mr. Burtt said. "It sounds just as sensible as the claim that the Parks' Board is closing the laneway," Dr. Farley added.

Members of the board present at the meeting were Chairman Dr. J. W. Farley, secretary O. G. Alyea, Miss Helen Sutcliffe, Mrs. Charlie Wilkins, J. A. Pounsett and Mayor Ross Burtt. Ex-Mayor K. J. Cossitt, the other board member was unable to be present but cast his ballot by telephone.

It was brought out at the meeting that previous councils with Mr. Burtt as a sitting member had transferred parks property to private interests. Mr. Burtt was asked by secretary Alyea if this year's council had a similar intention in mind. Mr. Burtt maintained that if the town needed the property north of Fraser Park they would have to seek a release from O. G. Alyea or his heirs.

Secretary Alyea revealed that the Parks Board was operating some 15 properties and that the town had produced only deeds for three of them. "We're living in a fool's paradise", he remarked. He reviewed the effort and time involved in the four years it took the board to acquire the land north of Fraser Park. He considered that the board's decision on council's demand affected the future of the community.

WILL FIGHT ACTION.

Mayor Burtt claimed that the board had him attend the meeting for the purpose of getting him into a discussion. "I don't want to get in an argument with two ladies present," he said. At this point the mayor assured the Parks Board that council intended to expropriate the land the board was holding north of the Fraser wall. "We are going to expropriate," he declared. "That is a matter asserted Dr. Farley, announcing that he would be the first of the board to fight council's intended expropriation action.

Dr. Farley told the meeting that a member of this year's council had been interested in buying the Booth property providing it could be extended across land held by the Parks Board. This is now Fraser Park area. He said the council member made a $500 deposit on the transaction and the Parks Board refused to part with any of their holdings. He added that Mr. Weaver had blamed him for holding up the development of the town.

"You don't score me a bit," Mayor Burtt remarked. He was questioned regarding a sale of former parks land to the Allore Company which was a member of council.

"Are you jealous" asked the mayor. "No", replied Dr. Farley, "I'm saying you weren't too brilliant."

Mayor Burtt shouldered most of the responsibility of creating the controversy about the land held in perpetuity by the Parks Board. "The man that makes the most uproar is me," he said. Mayor Burtt wondered why a deed drafted on December 30 last year was executed the next day." He noted that a number of other items on last year's council's agenda were passed along to the new council. He asked why the deed was not requested sooner.

RESULT OF EVENTS

Secretary Alyea explained the delay had been the result of series of events. He informed the meeting that Centennial Chairman Dr. J. E. Reston's untimely death had left the committee without a leader and he accepted the job. He informed Mayor Burtt that there were no members of council on the centennial committee. He made reference to the unprecedented success of the centennial celebration.

Mayor Burtt asked if there had been a request for council's help.

He was told that a former council turned the centennial celebration down because the expenditure involved was deemed excessive.

Mayor Burtt went back to the sale of land to the Allore Company, "As far as the Allore Company is concerned I was in council and did agree to the sale," Mr. Burtt said. He explained that the sale was made under a stipulation that the town would have the right to buy it back. "Apparently that clause was not in the deed," the board member observed. Mr. Burtt noted that other people in town had had town land made available to them. He referred to the late Norman Bower when he was a member of council. He said Mr. Bower recommended that all riverside land from the present bridge north be acquired for future beautification purposes. It was noted that the Allore land was part of this plan and the town had spent considerable money to fill it in.

STRONG SUPPORTER

Councillor James MacDonald who cast a dissenting vote against reconveying the land back to the town. Mayor Burtt pointed out that Mr. MacDonald was one of the strongest supporters on making available parking facilities in the downtown shopping district.

Secretary Alyea asked Mayor Burtt if he knew how many cars could be parked in the area council wanted reserved. Mr. Burtt said he didn't know because he wasn't an engineer.

"There is something more behind all reversed parked Mr. Alyea. I welcome this discussion. I want this mayor and council to bring this issue out in the open," Mr. Alyea remarked. Referring to Mayor Burtt Mr. Alyea said: "He wants it for parking but he doesn't know how many cars it holds."

SECRETARY READS LETTER

Secretary Alyea read a letter he directed to council in January. Excerpts from the communication indicated the Parks Board feeling about the land north of Fraser Park wall. "There is not one has ever been any intention of interferring with the present road from Quinte Street to the government dock. There is no intention at the present time to in anyway prevent orderly parking or use of the property controlled by the Parks Board in this area. It is the further intention and sole purpose of the Board of Parks management to make available to the citizens the maximum facilities of the Parks properties."

Mayor Burtt criticized the board for talking about a man while he was away on a holiday and not there to defend himself. Dr. Farley informed the mayor that he would repeat whatever he'd said to the man's face.

Secretary Alyea suggested to Mayor Burtt that council move to have wrecked cars removed from Quinte Street and utilize both sides of the street for parking. Secretary Alyea informed the meeting that the parks land under discussion would park 18 cars.

SUGGESTED PARKING LOT

Board member Mrs. Wilkins suggested leaving the land north of Fraser Park as a parking area this year because the board had no money for new work.

Secretary Alyea insisted that the town did not want the parks land for parking. "I want them to know that I know it. I'm going to smoke them out on this issue," Mr. Alyea declared.

Secretary Alyea suggested that council go on with the business of the town instead of wasting valuable time arguing with the Parks Board. "We have been in office only two months and haven't had an opportunity to do anything yet," Mr. Burtt replied. "If the Parks Board is so enthusiastic over this question will they come to council," asked the mayor.

MOTION PASSED

Secretary Alyea pointed out that the Parks Board suggestion to meet council in January correspondence had not been answered.

Dr. Farley suggested a resolution to reply to a resolution the Parks Board received from council. Moved by Dr. J. W. Farley: "That the land mentioned in the above noted letters January 20 and 27 with attached resolution of council be not turned back to the town and that they be advised accordingly." Board member Pougnet seconded the motion.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH WORK?

Dr. J. R. Mutchmor, secretary of the United Church's board of evangelism and social service, has criticized the growing practice of newly-married Canadian women continuing working.

Dr. Mutchmor has either said too much—or too little. Or else The Canadian Press has either quoted too much or too little of what he actually said.

There are sound arguments against mothers working outside their homes—if the financial position of the family makes it possible for them to avoid doing so.

But The Canadian Press report of Dr. Mutchmor's criticism contained no reference to mothers—merely to wives.

It may be argued that wives sometimes choose between work and motherhood and that it is desirable that they choose the latter and not the former.

But, once again, we find no reference to this argument in the report of what Dr. Mutchmor said.

Working wives, it is said, according to The Canadian Press, was that an increasing number of men and women "find it to their advantage, generally selfish advantage, to team up, boldly partnering-to-bring."

There are some of us who see nothing wrong in such an arrangement. After all, the housing shortage and the high cost of living frequently force newly-weds to commence their married lives in small apartments, in which modern inventions speed the comparatively small amount of housework which needs to be done. Can a dutiful and loving wife, using these qualities only by confining herself to these cramped quarters during the daytime hours, lifting not a finger to assist her husband in establishing the family fortune—but merely waiting for him to return from factory or office with his pay envelope? Dr. Mutchmor apparently thinks a wife, to be worthy of the name, must follow this course. If she works, the union becomes "a marriage of convenience."

"This joint arrangement," he says, "scarcely to be dignified by the name marriage, makes it easier to pay the rent, purchase stylish fur garments, buy the TV, operate the car, pay for the cocktail parties and generally 'go modern'."

There was a time when paying the rent was looked upon as both wise and honorable. Perhaps the same cannot be said about purchasing fur garments, TV and a car but these purchases, and even the cocktail party, are predicents for a cocktail party, help to keep the wheels of industry and commerce turning. It may be that the wheels of industry and commerce should not turn in these directions, but working wives should hardly be expected to shoulder the entire blame for any misdirection in the national economic effort. They are assisting in this effort—and those of us who have always considered that all wealth was the result of labor will find it difficulty to agree with Dr. Mutchmor that these wives would be better citizens—and wives—if they sat at home to wait—whether for motherhood or bankruptcy or both he does not make plain.

HORSES — AND A LITTLE BULL

Prince Edward County residents must love their horses. The monthly crop and live stock report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture contains statistics on the number of horses in Ontario. These figures show that there were exactly the same number of horses, 2,275, in Prince Edward County on December 1, 1953, as there were six months earlier, on June 1, 1953. Furthermore, the separate figures for mares, geldings and colts and fillies are exactly the same for the two dates. This means that there must have been a remarkable set of coincidences. Either, during six months, not a horse died and not a horse was born, not a horse left the county and not a horse entered it. Or, more remarkable still, the number of colts and fillies which died, the number of colts entering the gelding and stallion classes exactly equalled the number of geldings and stallions which left the county, the number of colts and fillies born exactly equalled the number which passed the two-year-old mark.

No such remarkable coincidences occurred in Hastings County. Here the total number of horses declined, from 5,600 to 5,300, in keeping with the provincial trend, which saw the total number of Ontario horses drop from 202,200 to 194,300. The number of mares remained unchanged, at 3,000, but the number of geldings dropped from 2,500 to 2,200. Colts and fillies under two years old remained unchanged, at 600.

But those Prince Edward figures? We hate to suggest it, but it appears to us that there must be a little bull in some of the reports from those Prince Edward stables.

In Springfield, Ohio, Dick Patton, 24, is paid to wash the goo off birds' feet. His employers spread the gooey substance on their building ledges to discourage roosting. When the birds land, Patton washes away the sticky substance and sends them on their way, says a news report. Send them where? Back to the sticky ledges?

A man wearing a special metallic suit walked through an inferno generating 3,600 degrees F and came out unscathed in a test before a French army engineers in Paris. Such a suit might possibly save some combustible French politicians in the Chamber of Deputies next time that body tries to pick a new premier.

SICK MAN WAILING

The doctor merely said: "Hello,
Then off he went.
To listen to my tale of woe
No time he spent.

What I resent, when ill am I,
Is being told
By everyone who happens by:
"It's just a cold."

CLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

February 25, 1934

George Wardle, secretary of the Salvation Army Band here, has received a letter from Capt. Percy Gray, president of the Marmora Post of the Canadian Legion, inviting the Army Band to give a concert in Marmora Memorial Legion Hall on a rearranged when weather conditions are more favorable. The invitation has been accepted.

Stirling High School hockey team defeated the Frankford Continuation School in a hard game at Frankford on Friday afternoon, score being 6 to 1. The following composed the teams: Stirling, Goodfellow, Jobbin, Jones, Munro, Robinson, Brookes, subs, D. Rogers A. Rogers and W. Sutherland. Frankford, Lawrence, V. Losey, Bonisteel, Lockwood, Dyer, Hutchinson, Losey, F. Losey, Corrigan, A. Foster and Conley. The referee was M. O'Malley.

Capt. Earle McQueen of Ameliasburgh was in the city yesterday and met many of his old friends.

The Rev. A. Beauchamp Payne, vicar of St. Thomas' Church, celebrated on Feb. 25th the 20th anniversary of his ordination as a priest in the Church of England. He was ordained by the late Bishop Grisdale at Regina. Mr. Payne preached on the 20th anniversary at matins at St. Thomas' yesterday and his sermon was on the sacred subject of the church.

A large part of the goods which were stolen from Mr. Geo. T. Woodley's fur store here in January last, have been recovered according to a telephone message from Montreal which was received by Chief of Police Alex. Kidd from Sergt. Detective Jack Trudell of the Belleville police department, who has been working on the case continuously since the robbery. All pelts taken from the store amounting in value to $4,500 have been found, the thief arrested and it is expected that a large part of the finished furs will be recovered shortly. Officer Trudell has done excellent work in tracing the stolen goods. Mr. Geo. T. Woodley is now in Montreal.

Mayor William McGregor of Napanee was in town today.

Mr. and Mrs. James Weir of this city will spend the week-end with friends in Melrose.

Major J. R. Orr of Madoc has been promoted to the rank of Lieut. Col. and will succeed Lieut. Col. Ed. Harrison as commanding officer of the 49th Regiment, Hastings Rifles. Lieut. Col. Harrison's term of office expired recently.

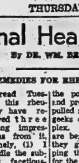
Mr. Fred S. Deacon, an old Belleville boy, who has been living in New York City for some years, has returned to the "home town" to reside. He will be welcomed by many friends.

Envious Eyes on Canada

(By Jamieson Bone of Belleville, president of the Ontario Property Owners' Association, in "The Property Owner and Building Maintenance")

We live in exciting times here in Canada—big industrial developments under way. Some of these have almost as much world interest as Champlain's discoveries had at that time. We are indebted to the Imperial Order for some of the facts mentioned here-in.

Oil developments out West have been of very great importance. In the year 1947 the total crude reserves increased by 300 million barrels but we have a half dozen other discoveries that might quite easily turn out to be major fields, one of which was $250 millions and ultimate capacity half a million barrels daily. Even with the increased reserves of natural gas,out west and another world record established to convey this gas from the thinly populated West to the industrial areas of Ontario and Quebec.



The iron ore deposits at Steep Rock Mines the also being developed are a gigantic, open pit mines in Ungava, which territory was formerly considered practically useless, are proving to be red as super-colossal. To give an idea of the Ungava project, there are some facts not generally known or realized. The complete railway, built many months had eighty planes in operation, taking in 200 tons of freight per day with 13 airfields or strips to land on. At least 70 air pilots are steadily employed, and Seven Islands (pop. 3,000) clocks more air "take-offs" per day than any other of our regular Canadian Airports. Half a million tons of high grade ore await completion of the 358 mile railway—further than from Toronto to Montreal. They have hydro power sites, to be developed, amongst the greatest in the world. Late in 1954 they will be moving 80,000 tons of ore per month, which will require many more outstanding discoveries of uranium, copper and other highly valuable minerals. The St. Lawrence Seaway will make the longest navigable stretch of inland waterway in the world and with ore carriers specially built for the ore projected waterway it is imperative that it get under way at once.

Our country is fast becoming a veritable Eldorado as a magnet for immigrants—if they only have half a chance to enter. At the same time we should know that a most interesting saga could be written about the fabulous real estate enterprises, each of which entailed engineering skill, financial endurance and engineering. Canada can look forward to a future even greater than that of our neighbors to the south, provided some effort is made to protect us from enemies, without and within.

COUNTLESS REMEDIES FOR RHEUMATISM—(Part 2)

Dr. Brady.

If perchance you read Tuesday's installment of this column's main story you may have received the impression from it, namely, (1) I handle the subject superficially, (2) I am prejudiced about treatment and (3) I have little respect for other doctors' views of the nature and treatment of the malady and too much respect for my own.

Now I concede that any or all of these impressions may be right. As I tried to explain in Part 1, rheumatism (call it arthritis if you prefer), is the bane of my knowledge, a still unsolved riddle—and any physician or medical authority who says to dispute this assertion may be assured of the utmost professional courtesy from me. I am sure like a cat under praise from a physician, but still I am free to confess and admire the doctor who tells me just where or why I am wrong. For years I tried to sell you customers the idea that no specific ailment is or can be identified as chronic rheumatism. There isn't room here to go into that, further than to say that the word rheum means a "flux, a catarrah, a watery discharge, any mucous membrane, especially of eyes and nose, and when entire" (Webster). How the "cold" settled in the joints—come, come, let's not be too heretic.

Since the wiseacre portion of the population learned to spell rheumatism at this class, I've pulled my punches, lest these poor geeks develop a superiority complex.

But now, I believe, they are beginning to wonder whether they gained anything in swapping their homely old rheumatism for the more exclusive arthritis.

Chronic (that is, of long duration) arthritis is a misleading term, for the simple reason that inflammation of joint or joints is not a feature of chronic rheumatism.

No, children, the notion that to which, with the essential nature of chronic rheumatis is an error into which the old timers fell because they had inadequate knowledge of the microphabiology of rheumatism. But in the minute changes in the joint tissues, visible under the microscope.

Now we arrive at a certain point in the story of the rheumatic. No matter how many times I reach this point I'm almost tempted to quote Mark Twain's Smith-Corona goes silent, the twisted or rather two-fingered typist gets up and walks around the joint, trying to decide what to do next. Then he approaches tellswith it and heads for the bowling green. But this time there's no bowling green and no evasion of duty.

My belief or conviction is that in most instances chronic rheumatis is physical degeneration of joint tissues and cells.

There, I've said it, and now I leave you to work up the remains of physical degeneration in Webster or in a medical dictionary if you have such a one. (Watch for Part III tomorrow).

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

DISTINCTIONS THAT COUNT

Can you define the term "a bad man"?

Different people would give different answers to a question of this sort. One would say a bad man is one who lies and steals. Another would always associate evil conduct with immorality and loose living. Some would peer deeper into the problem and declare that pride and avarice are the source of all wickedness in men's hearts.

How about this for a definition: a bad man is one who does doesn't want to be better, t'wo men may do the same evil thing and one may be a bad man and the other not a bad man. One would—for example—be glad to see the old war-horse back in the saddle."

Then there was the Irishman who declared: "I smelled a rat. Nine times out of ten in the air, but I shall yet nip him in the bud."

Which reminds us of the British parliamentarian who congratulated his political opponent in these words: "I am glad to see the old war-horse back in the saddle."

And the man who, although he does exactly the same thing as the first companion, is at heart not really bad.

The source of all evil is the unwillingness to be better. No matter how bad a man may be, if he has left his within him the desire of a desire to be better there is one dim light shining on the dark whole seventy road which leads to be travels. But if he has no desire to be better, he is indeed he is hopeless.

This is what Jesus had in mind when He addressed to the scribes and Pharisees that the publicans and sinners would enter the kingdom of heaven while many of the pious would be excluded. The only people who hopelessly are the self-satisfied. The only man truly lost is the one who has no desire to be saved.

Student Finds Bass Hungry

(Chicago Tribune)

A graduate student of zoology at Southern Illinois university Carbondale, has caught 552 bass in Southern Illinois lakes and thrown them all back. He catches them by a device that gives them an electric shock and they float to the surface. Then he scoops them into his boat, rams a metal cone into their throats, takes a measurer's lamp, and peers down their throats. Then he measures and throws back.

This sounds like queer behavior, but the student has a purpose. He wants to see what's in the stomach of bass. Out of the first half of the 552 bass, he reports, bad empty stomachs. We relay the news that our Illinois bass do not always have an easy time finding a meal and that the angler fisherman is our acquaintance. We should say that his study indicates that the fish will be biting well this year.

Can Refuse Pay Increase

(Brockville Recorder).

The salary increase given Members of Parliament by the House of Commons is definitely in order and long overdue. Members of the opposition, as a matter of principle, who voted against the increase did so, we feel, for political reasons.

If there were any members who did in fact vote against the increase for honorable reasons of principle, they have our sincere approving this; namely, by refusing the increase. We shall be interested to see how many members who voted against the increase do refuse to take it.

Some Mixed Metaphors

(Kitchener-Waterloo Record).

Speakers frequently turn out the most famous mixed metaphor on record in the House of Commons was the one that came along some years ago when an MP declared forcefully: "If the Government persists in ramming this thing down our throats they will have a long and rocky road to travel."

This recalls that a Charlottetown orator some years ago delivered himself of this statement: "I don't care what you say, I'll let the chips wall where they may."

Then there was the Irishman who declared: "I smelled a rat. Nine times out of ten in the air, but I shall yet nip him in the bud."

Which reminds us of the British parliamentarian who congratulated his political opponent in these words: "I am glad to see the old war-horse back in the saddle."

Newfoundland Here We Come!

(Lethbridge Herald).

Newfoundland, like Quebec, has far more legal holidays than other Canadian provinces. In fact, Canada's newest province has 18 statutory holidays, considerably more than Ontario, for instance, has.

Just for the record, and in case you are ever in Newfoundland, here's receive the following holidays, exclusive to their province, such as they are, because they like it or not: Robbie Burns' Day, St. Patrick's Day, St. George's Day, St. John's Day, Orangeman's Day, and Regatta Day.

Newfoundland, here we come!

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

You sometimes wonder how all the store keepers in the world in their lives stretch, up town, down town, hundreds of them, thousands of them, can make a living, and live. Some of them are such quiet, shy people. You see them standing at the grocery stores and the butcher shops; people are always wanting something and they are always handy; and people are always eating.

But the fancy goods stores, the modest little shops with cotton prints in the window, the small furniture places, the antique and second-hand dealers—all appear to two in a block. And there they sit, apparently idle, or by the very least substituting, despite the giant competition of the great department stores, chain stores, mail-order shops. And now and then, a desire for salesmanship is to be found in the owners of these smaller emporia. In our neighborhood, there was, for years, a rather fine old lady who dealt in canaries, budgies and the feeds and cages and amenities that go with them. About three months ago, it quietly failed, and a new proprietor took over in her place as a pet shop.

The transformation was enough to make us call in your tracks as you walked along the old familiar street. The quietly established windows, a new and lively stock of goods littered over the floor to stop, look and, indeed, enter for a glance around.

But the new owner had rigged a loud speaker in the transom over his door. And all day long the riot of bird song rang out over the street as you passed by, so that you stopped, looked and also listened. You just had to go inside to see the canaries and budgies that were making all this joyous noise.

"I'm doing all the former business, "said the new owner," in the back," he sighed, looked around and so forth. But I am also selling love birds that I can help hold of."

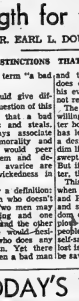
You encounter ideas uptown as well as down.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

BABIES BORN IN 1809

In the interval between Trafalgar and Waterloo, there were born into the world, among others, six babies that were to become statewarts in human history. Here are the names: Gladstone, later Prime Minister of England, was born at Liverpool: Tennyson at the Somersby Rectory; Oliver Wendell Holmes in Massachusetts and in very same day of that same year, Charles Darwin was born at Shrewsbury, and Abraham Lincoln in Kentucky. And, to grace the world of music, Felix Mendelssohn was born at Hamburg.



There were no celebrations over the birth of any of these babies. Anyway in Europe, people were too busy with wars, destroying babies who had grown into soldiers. Wendell Phillips once said: "In war there are no Sundays." Likewise, in war, people do not think about the significance of babies being born, while nations are at war. Those who once were babies, born for later slaughter. What a waste to human hope and happiness are all wars! Imagine the thoughts that are going on in the hearts of millions of mothers, whose babies are now being born, as they have year 1809 gave to the world six great statewarts and the world predicts the great born today? They are just babies—but what potentialities are veiled in them and what must be the dreams that every mother conceals within her heart!

A baby is a mother's greatest treasure. And as sacet to a nation is so valuable as its babies. Their birth means hope. Nothing can mean more than all the wealth of which it may boast. Some of the babies who today are sure to be the ones who will lead and rule later on. Perhaps today's baby is a future Canadian Prime Minister! Who can know? Think of those babies that were born in 1809.

Kinettes Hold Men's Night Annual Party

The Kinettes of Belleville entertained their "Valentines" at their annual "Gentlemen's Night", held in the Knights of Columbus rooms last Monday.

President Mary Hallam, welcomed the guests and presented each gentleman with a boutonniere.

During the evening cards were played in the lounge room while others danced to the music of Warhurst's Orchestra.

Bob Farquharson acted as master of ceremonies.

Door prizes were won by Gardner Duff and Frank Lang.

The program committee under the leadership of chairman Jean Lennox, had planned several novelty dances which were won by Kinsmen Harold Farrow, Hammie Doidge, Ted Follwell, Sid Martin, and Newt Wilbur.

Refreshments were served by social chairman, Monica MacDonald, and her committee.

Bell Telephone Visited By Coronation Club

The Coronation Club of Bridge Street United Church enjoyed a very informative tour through the Bell Telephone building on Bridge Street, on Monday, after which they held their regular meeting in the church parlors with Mrs. J. Kuntze presiding.

A most interesting devotional theme, "The Work of Our Hands" was taken by Mrs. D. Sharpe and Mrs. E. Sutton.

Members were reminded to make an extra jar of marmalade or preserves for the 'Country Store'—club project at the annual bazaar—and to bring dessert recipes for the forthcoming Dessert recipe book.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Foley, Mrs. J. Dickens and Mrs. George Greatrix.

Women's Activities

ST. MARGARET'S GUILD

The regular meeting of St. Margaret's Guild was held on Monday evening with the president, Mrs. F. E. Moore in the chair.

Mrs. R. E. Wood reported on the activities of the Guild in catering to several groups and mentioned the possibility of future undertakings of this sort. Mrs. C. Bonisteel suggested that a bridge and euchre be held in May, with the approval of the Guild initial plans were made for this event.

Following a few more items of business the members began work on tea towels and choir gowns.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Ritchie and Mrs. C. W. McIlraith and brought the evening to a close.

Women's Hospital Auxiliary Presents Colorful Fashion Show

Milady of the city and district will get her first close-up of what Fashion has decreed for 1954 spring and summer apparel at the annual Spring Fashion Show being held in the collegiate auditorium on March 4, starting at 8.15 p.m.

The Show Window of Fashion sponsored by the Women's Hospital Auxiliary of the Belleville General Hospital, is said to be by far the most colorful and entertaining of its kind since its inception.

Seven beautiful models will show what Dame Fashion has approved for the spring and summer season. Selected for personal attractiveness and ability to show the new styles and designs in all their feminine glory, the models will parade in the latest creations of evening wear, sports wear, the bosom wear, tailored ensembles and all the rest dear to the heart of milady.

Then too, there will be the last word in luggage, millinery and shoes. Jewelry, the finest in the newest styles and designs, cosmetics of the newer shades, luxurious furs and absolutely the latest in hose stylings will be shown against a beautiful background of spring flowers.

Special door prizes will be given. Topping a list of nine beautiful gifts is a ladies exquisite wrist watch. There will be added attractions in the form of special entertainment. It is a show that embodies all that is dear to the hearts of the ladies.

The entire proceeds of the Fashion Show go to the fine work being done by the auxiliary for of evening wear, sports wear, the hospital.

Contact Club Completes Busy Month

February has been a busy month for the Contact Club of Christ Church, action sets under the convenership of the "Bayview Queens" group and a luncheon was convened by the "Energettes" were two of the month's very successful projects.

Two busy work-meetings were well-attended and a large number of members have expressed their desire to learn to smock.

The girls are smocking baby nighties which will be sold at the Spring tea and bazaar in June. The club will make ten complete baby layettes, six of which will be sent to the Indian reservation at Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, and four which will be retained for use of needy members of the parish.

It was decided to pledge $500 towards the parish hall building fund in addition to the several other commitments which the club assumes each year.

On Wednesday the "Atom Squad" will provide refreshments for the social evening in Prince Charles School at which the teachers of Belleville entertain the members of the Board of Education. The meeting next week will take the form of a "Bring-a-a-table-party," sponsored by the "Energettes."

Hostesses for the last two meetings were Evelyn Luttrell, Bess Clarke, Barbara Clarke, Dorothy Batchelor, Bunny McLean and Dorothy Rutter.

STORES REASSESSED

H-S Assoc. Hears Talk On Good Lighting

The Queen Elizabeth Home and School Association held its regular monthly meeting in the school auditorium. Mr. Dougherty introduced the speaker Mr. Sydney C. Rose a well-known Belleville optometrist.

Mr. Rose spoke on "The Coordinated Class room" and dealt mainly with the various effects lighting has on the school child and in what manner it affects his mental as well as his physical health. He illustrated his talk by means of slides and it was most interesting to see how important correct lighting is for vision and posture.

He pointed out that the newer schools now being built are utilizing the best possible features for the health of the children.

There was a discussion period on the subject and then Mrs. J. Godwin thanked Mr. Rose for his address.

Refreshments were served in the kindergarten room following the meeting.

Making of maple syrup and sugar by Canadian Indians is mentioned in contemporary accounts as early as 1685.

New hope for single women

Marria was 29, stuck in a small town and afraid of remaining single. Then one day she held her baby nephew in her arms and came to a quiet decision. Six months later, she had found a new personality and was happily married! You'll enjoy the thrilling report of the work done in the Marriage Readiness Course initiated by Dr. Paul Popenoe. Don't miss "How to be Marriageable" in the March Ladies' Home Journal. On newsstands now.

Kate Aitken To Make World Tour

Canada's "flying" Kate Aitken will circle the world in March on a two-weeks' tour that will concentrate on India, Pakistan, and Australia. Leaving Toronto on March 10th, she will visit Britain, Italy, Pakistan, India, Burma, Malaya and Australia. She will return via the Philippines, San Francisco and Vancouver.

Feeling that India and Pakistan can play the lead role in bring peace to Asia, Mrs. Aitken will interview natives from all walks of life in Karachi, New Delhi and Calcutta in order to clarify, for Canadians, the Asian viewpoint on troubled East-West relations. At the same time, she will observe to what extent Canada's contributions to the Colombo plan are raising the substistence level in both Pakistan and India and whether both countries are actually progressing under their new Commonwealth status.

Proceeding through the Asian countries to Burma and Malaya, a highlight of Kate Aitken's world tour will be her three-day stay in Australia where she will greet Queen Elizabeth II on the Duke of Edinburgh on their arrival in Melbourne.

Mrs. A's Good Luck broadcast during her absence will include cabled reports from the countries she will visit. On Friday, March 12th, she will broadcast from London, England, and on her return from Vancouver, March 22nd.

Study Guild Discusses Film Board

The topic of discussion at the February meeting of the Women's Study Guild was "The National Film Board". The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. M. P. Buck, Chatham Street, on Monday.

The organization, functions, and history of the film board, were discussed in detail from the time of its formation in 1935 as a National Film Society to the present. Its importance in producing documentary pictures during the Second World War and its advances in establishing a rural film council were points brought to light during the discussion.

It was noted that the Belleville Film Council was one of the first to be established and the first rural film circuit in this country was organized in Foxboro.

Prior to the discussion, Mrs. A. D. Archibald, chairman, conducted a brief business session. It was agreed to donate a further $10 to the Unitarian Service Committee, an organization set up to assist the children of Korea.

During the worship service which dealt with science and religion, Mrs. Douglas Shaw sang "O Divine Redeemer."

It was announced that a film festival, comprised of documentary films, will be held in Queen Alexandra School on March 7-8. The public will be invited to attend.

CHECK ON ACCIDENTS

HARNIA (CP) — Sarnia police have announced a new "white card" system to help eliminate unreported accidents. Police investigating traffic accidents will give drivers involved a white card. Garages have been asked to report any auto brought in for repairs without a white card.

PROSPECTORS' SCHOOL

TORONTO (CP) — Dr. W. D. Harding, geologist of the Ontario department of mines, has announced that a short course for prospectors will again be held March 1-5 in the mining building of the University of Toronto. The course, a preliminary to the annual convention of the Prospectors' and Developers' Association, will be conducted by Dr. Harding. No charge is made for the course.

Where'd they all go? Even without free-handed little girls like this, more families ran out of Kellogg's Corn Flakes this morning than any other cereal. This is happening all the time. That's because Kellogg's Corn Flakes just naturally taste better to more people than any other cereal. Always have. Still do. No wonder so many women pick up a spare package of Kellogg's Corn Flakes every time they buy any other kind of cereal.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

SHE NEVER LOVED HER HUSBAND—SHOULD SHE LEAVE HIM?

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 31 and my husband is 34. We've been married five years and have two children, one two and a half and the other a year old.

My problem is that I don't love my husband, and am sure now that I never did, and I have started divorce proceedings. He knows how I feel and he also knows that I love another man who also loves me, and that's where things get complicated.

You see, my mother thinks I'm doing wrong to leave my husband for another man, and my husband has threatened me and this man, saying he will make trouble for us and will not allow us to take the children out of the state. The man I want to marry lives in a distant state. My husband also says no man is any good who would break up another man's home.

Am I wrong in wanting the man I love? I know my husband loves me, but he often mistreated me and I left him several times before our children were born. It's four months now since I left him this time. Can he stop me from taking my children with me if I marry this man? — M.A.R.

Dear M.A.R.:

If you have definitely made up your mind that you cannot go on living with you husband; that there is no possible hope of getting together and remaking your marriage, and that you are sure you will be doing a wise thing to marry this other man, then I don't think anyone can advise you to stay with your husband. You don't give me the reasons why your mother feels it is wrong for you to leave him, and you don't say whether or not he is willing to change the things in himself that have made it difficult for you to live with him, so I don't know that side of the story. With nothing more than what you yourself tell me, I cannot, as I say, conscientiously urge you to stick by your marriage.

As for taking the children out of the state, that is a matter for your lawyer to handle and quite out of my field, so I am not qualified to express any opinion.

TWO GIRLS WHO ARE BEING A LITTLE SILLY

Dear Miss Fairfax:

My girl friend and I are in love with the same boy. The trouble is that he takes both of us out and does not show any preference for either. In fact, when either of us is out with him, he tells that one he loves her, but when he sees both of us together, he doesn't bother with us.

This girl and I have been friends for a long time and we do not want to break up our friendship, but we don't know what to do.

S.D.

Dear S.D.:

I think both of you girls are being a little silly, and another think I think is that you, and all other teen-agers, should stop talking about being "in love" when what you really mean is that you just like a boy very much.

If you're smart girls, you'll put all this "love" business out of your heads, enjoy yourselves when this boy invites you out on dates separately and agree that you are all just being good friends together. Nothing could be more foolish than to let your interest in this boy break up your friendship, especially when he makes it so plain that he has no great interest in either of you. You girls ought to know that in these days it's just part of the routine for a boy to tell a girl he "loves" her when he takes her out. He thinks she expects it of him and he doesn't want to disappoint her. Let this boy see that you know the score.

Beauty

By HELEN JAMIESON

SOME MAKE-UP SECRETS

There's beauty gold in the items of a make-up kit. There is magic that gives the pale face a faintly rosy glow, gives a gardenia texture to the complexion and brings pretty coloring to the lips. That is, if you are keen on a neat, steady or handsome hand know precisely what you are about. Make-up technique is something of an art.

For instance, there are right and wrong ways of using lipstick and rouge. One must be subtle. This rule applies most especially to the woman whose lipstick is showing, who has long since lost fingertouch with her youth. A bit too much and the countenance looks haggard and weary, all the little wrinkles are accentuated. Make-up should always be applied in such a way as to create natural effects. one should endeavor to create the illusion that the beautiful complexion was a birthright, a gift from heaven.

The rouge compact must be used sparingly. Often it is better to substitute a cream rouge, put it on tiny dabs, blend them together. Lipstick should impart only a slight film instead of forming a heavy application that makes the lips look thick and heavy. It is a good plan to trace an outline with the lipstick, then fill in, blotting afterward with tissues.

The discreet use of coloring on the cheeks and lips gives freshness to the skin, radiance to the eyes. Cosmetics serve the purpose for which it was intended. Laid on with the lavish hand, make-up can make the countenance look hard and brittle.

Before making a new face for yourself, condition the skin. Go over the surface with a light cream, tissue it away. There will be enough moisture left to make powder adhere. If you delight in a foundation cosmetic see that the color is the same tone as your skin and follow directions carefully. When putting on powder remember it is better to subtract than to add. Even then the surplus should be removed with a powder brush.

'...And I Do Mean Canadian'

By Mary Moore

In the United States I have many friends whom I love dearly but I lament the fact that some folks who write to me wonder if I am American.

I'd like to settle it once and for all time. I was born in Hamilton, Ontario. I'm a Canadian living in the most thickly populated part of Canada, and I love it.

My children and whole family are Canadians and I love that too.

I cook Canadian, eat Canadian, buy Canadian, breathe Canadian and sing "God Save the Queen" at the top of my lungs.

Now is that settled?

Some Canadian friends of mine are raising Canadian chickens for broiling (in a Canadian way that is) and such lovely broilers never sizzled under my broiler before.

One weighing 2 lbs. and 11 oz. served three of us. very generously, and if you will indulge me I want to tell you each step I took in preparing the little beast for the grill I mean.

BROILED CHICKEN

Barb had prepared the chickens "oven-ready" in clear plioflim bags, so I merely wiped them all over with a clean damp cloth. I set the oven thermostat to 450 deg. Fahr. and turned on both top and bottom burners.

With the cleaver I divided the chicken foursquare, so two folks had a breast and a wing, one had a thigh attached to a drumstick, then we argued over the leftover thigh and leg when it came to second helpings.

I placed them on the greased broiler, without the rack in, skin side down and spread the bony cavity with 2 tablespoons butter and a sprinkling of lemon juice. With the broiler 6 or 7 inches from the burner I broiled that side for 30 minutes. Then I turned them and basted skin side with the butter on the pan; salted and peppered and sprinkled them and put them back to broil for 15 minutes. Then I turned them twice more. They required 50 minutes in all to cook them through at the thickest parts which is where the top of the drumstick overlaps the thigh, and the wing connects the breast. We served apple jelly and hot rolls and a big salad with it. Dessert would have been Roquefort cheese and crackers, but there was no time for it for I was going out to sit with a sick friend.

QUESTION:

I had wonderful success with your medium dark fruit cake recipe at Christmas. Everyone raved about it! I passed the recipe on, . . . would you send me another copy? . . . also, have you any recipes for buns (with yeast) and muffins using graham flour? . . . have tried such a lot of your recipes and like them all. The latest—six-in-one cookies, and they're good! All ready passing on that recipe too.—Lillian F.

ANSWER:

In the same mail three requests came for

MEDIUM DARK FRUIT CAKE 1953 (10 lbs.)

Cream thoroughly 1-2 lb. butter or margarine; cream into it gradually 2 cups each white and brown sugar until fluffy. Beat in 10 unbeaten eggs until smooth, then drained contents of 20-oz. can crushed pineapple and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Sift together 4 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon mace, 1-2 teaspoon each baking soda and cinnamon. To the sifted dry ingredients add these fruits and nuts: 1 lb. broken walnuts, 1-2 lb. each whole red and green candied cherries, chopped citron peel, mixed orange and lemon peel, currants; 2 lbs. seedless light raisins, 1 lb. seeded dark raisins. Mix fruits and nuts in to coat them with flour. Add them to the creamed mixture with 1-4 cup pineapple juice (from drained pineapple). Mix thoroughly. Line greased pans with buttered double-thick brown paper, then with 4 thicknesses buttered wax paper. Fill pans 2-3 to 3-4 full, smoothing top and pushing batter close to sides. Bake at 275 deg. Fahr. with water pan in oven. If cake is baked in 3 uniform pans it requires 2 to 3 1-2 hours. I baked it in 2 very large pan and it required 4 1-2 hours. Cake is baked when it is firm to the touch at the very centre. Replenish water in waterpan as necessary.

Lillian F. I answered the other part of your letter yesterday.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECHMAN

THIS GODMOTHER IS "MAKING UP A PROBLEM"

Dear Mrs. Beechman:

A friend of mine has quite a few children and she and I would deeply appreciate your advice. She is a friend who married outside the Catholic church, therefore her marriage is not recognized in her religion. She is expecting a baby very soon, and for the child's sake has consented to go through another ceremony with the church blessing. She has asked my friend to act as her maid of honor in the ceremony, and as the godmother for the child. The man who is to be the best man, and who will also be the godfather for the child, is totally unknown to my friend. She does not know whether she should ask him to help her pay for the child's baptismal clothes. Will you please advise me how to advise her? — R.E.

Your friend is really going out of her way to manufacture this problem. In the first place it is not the responsibility of the godparents, together, or either alone, to provide the clothes the child is to wear at the baptism. That is the responsibility of the child's parents. It is not customary for the godmother to provide this attire, but if your friend wishes to make this generous gesture, she of course may do so, first talking it over with the child's mother. But as she has no right in the world to say the man who is to be the godfather, or to contribute toward this gift. He undoubtedly will have his own ideas of what he wishes to give the child as a present for this occasion.

Presbytery Hears Proposal For New Building at Albert

The Belleville Presbytery of The United Church of Canada met in regular session in Tabernacle United Church, Wednesday, with Rev. L. Sheldon Thorpe, chairman, presiding, and Rev. Kenneth J. Crawford as secretary. There was a good attendance of ministers and laymen.

Following the routine business of the court, the reports of several committees were received, dealing with different phases of the church's work throughout the Presbytery.

Approval was given to the recommendations of the church property committee under the leadership of Rev. J. W. Platt, re the sale of certain unused properties in the Presbytery, and the building of a church hall by the Carmel congregation of the Camilton pastoral charge at an estimated cost of $3,000 to $3,500 of which amount $3,000 has already been subscribed.

The report of the Laymen's Association was given by the president, W. E. Thomson, which sanctioned the holding of five laymen's banquets at the following centres: Bancroft, March 9; Tweed, March 11; College Hill, March 12; Trinity Church, Napanee, March 17 and Wellington, March 18. Apart from the banquet, and the stressing of the work of United Churchmen, an evening service of an evangelistic nature will be held.

Rev. Dr. A. S. Murray an immigration port chaplain of the United Church of Canada, addressed the court on the work of a chaplain of immigration, stressing the position of displaced persons, and setting forth the urgent need of those desiring help, sponsoring their coming to Canada.

NEW BUILDING PROPOSED

Rev. A. E. MacKenzie Principal of Albert College presented the proposed campaign to be launched in 1955 to raise $300,000 for the building of a new residence for girls including facilities for household science and music. This project had already been sanctioned by the Board of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the church. On motion Presbytery gave assurance of its support for the same, and expressed appreciation of the work that Albert College had done and was continuing to do.

Rev. Dr. J. I. MacKay, superintendent of Home Missions for the eastern section of the Bay of Quinte Conference and the Montreal and Ottawa Conference, spoke following the presentation of the Home Missions report on the work of Home Missions and church extension. He stressed the urgent need of the support of the church extension work in the different Presbyteries of the church if the situation was to be met and the church not lose unprecedented opportunities for following our sons and daughters and aiding them in building and finding church homes in these new and developing districts of Canada.

Rev. W. E. L. Smith Professor of Queen's Theological College, and Professor Conn of Queen's University, presented the church extension situation from the Kingston Presbytery viewpoint in regions adjacent to Belleville Presbytery, seeking the co-operation of Belleville Presbytery.

The Court unanimously agreed to co-operate in the same and so instructed the committee on Church Extension.

Rev. Dr. H. C. Tuttle, Secretary of the Department of Pensions of the United Church of Canada, following the presentation of the report of the Pensions Committee, presented to the Court some of the difficulties with which the department was faced, and the challenge thereof to every minister and layman of the Church. He stated that with the co-operation of all, the problems would be satisfactorily solved, and that the next General Council would be able to make a pronouncement of a policy which would be of great benefi for all.

The report of the Evangelism and Social Service committee was presented by Mr. E. V. C. Lewis dealing with the moral and social problems facing the Church today. This report which was supported by Rev. S. E. Larman and Mr. James Robertson, received the unanimous endorsation of the Presbytery. Mr. Larman and Mr. Robertson and all who worked with them received the grateful commendation of the Court.

REACHED OBJECTIVE.

Rev. George Miniely, convener, presented the report of the Missionary and Maintenance Fund, stating that the Church as a whole had reached its objective of $3,-350,000 for 1953 an increase of 10 percent over 1952; and that Belleville Presbytery had almost reached its allocation-raising $54,697.39 just $403 short. The objective for the Presbytery for 1954 would be $57,000 or 4.3 percent of an increase over 1953.

The following motions were duly presented to the Court:

1—Moved by Mr. W. E. Tummon, seconded by Mr. Gaynor Rendall, and carried unanimously.

"The Belleville Presbytery of the United Church of Canada at its regular meeting held in Tabernacle United Church, Belleville, Ontario, on Wednesday, February 24th, 1954, hereby places itself on record as strongly commending the Ministers of the Presbytery for the stand they have taken on the free sale of alcoholic beverages, and in particular the leadership given during the recent plebiscite in East Belleville, when a decided victory for temperance was won."

2—Moved by Rev. G. A. Puttenham, and seconded by Rev. Alfred Poulter, and carried unanimously.

"The Belleville Presbytery warmly commends the vital leadership given by our Ministers in recent local option plebiscites; and expects that all its ministers shall give vigorous leadership where there is need."

Uranium Finds Near Bancroft Estimated in Millions of Dollars

BANCROFT (CP) — Owners of cottages in this bushland area north of Peterborough may arrive on vacation this summer to find uranium being mined in the hills nearby.

Since Christmas this area of lakes and rock, long a secluded haunt of fishermen and hunters, has been the scene of uranium discoveries estimated in the millions of dollars.

One company—Ventures Limited—says that in the area of Centre lake about 50 miles north of Peterborough an ore bed of an estimated 1,000,000 tons has been found. The ore has an estimated value of $14.50 a ton, making the bed worth $14,500,000.

During the last two months the staking rush into the area has increased. Earlier this week 235 claims were made official during one day at the mining recording office in Toronto. Almost 100 claims were recorded Wednesday.

The claims are spotted throughout a stretch of dense bush country 50 miles long and 15 miles wide. The land is in the townships of Herschel, Harvey, Burleigh, Faraday, Chandos and Lutterworth.

Staking in the area first began in July, 1952, when Garnet Burns and Granis Steele, both of Peterborough, staked a ridge of ground at Centre lake. This is believed the site of a 1,000,000-ton ore bed.

Fourteen diamond drills now are working in six townships.

PROSPECTORS ATTRACTED

Veteran prospectors from as far away as Yellowknife, N.W.T., and Bathurst, N.B., have been drawn by the mining companies. The men have clicked the claims with geiger counters and staked many claims.

It is thought new deposits may show up when the snow melts and geiger counters can get closer to the rock.

Where crown lands could not be staked outright, many square miles of marginal farms were leased for the mineral rights under them.

Companies staking in the area include Ventures Limited, Macassa Mines, Newkirk Mining Corporation, Consort Explorations, Inc Uranium and Orchan Uranium.

Any individual in Ontario, can stake a claim on crown land, provided he first gets a $5 miner's licence. Claims—stretches of land one-quarter mile square — are staked by surrounding the area with wire, with four wooden stakes at the corners.

Soviet Doctors Given Wider Powers Than Those in Canada

The Russian foreign office arranged an interview for CP reporter Bill Ross with a high official of the U.S.S.R. ministry of public health. In this, second of two articles, Ross reports what he was told about medical organization in Russia.

By BILL ROSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW (CP) — The powers Soviet doctors are said to have are wider than those held by their Canadian counterparts.

They may:

1. Order a patient to have an operation when they consider life at stake;

2. Over-rule a parent's wishes should they consider a child's life at stake and an operation necessary;

3. Authorize a patient, or a working mother whose child is sick, to be absent from work with pay during the time required for treatment and convalescence;

4. Close down a state enterprise if they consider it does not meet state health standards.

ALL ARE ELIGIBLE

Dr. Lydia Gvozdkhilova, a high official of the U.S.S.R. health ministry, told The Canadian Press:

"The special feature of our system is that medical assistance is given free, is available to the broad masses of the population, and is given by qualified personnel."

Continuance of salary during illness, she said, is determined by length of service in current employment. During the early years sick pay varies from 50 to 90 per cent of salary, but after six years a patient who belongs to a trade union, and practically everyone does, draws full pay while ill.

"Pregnant mothers draw 35 days fully-paid leave before delivery and have 42 days of paid post-delivery leave. They may take their annual leave after that and, if they want to, two months leave without pay."

STATE BEARS COSTS

Soviet citizens do not pay a direct health or social insurance, and the system's medical costs are borne by the state, municipal and regional Soviet budgets. Sick pay also is provided for in state, organization and enterprise budgets, and is turned over to the trade unions in the form of specially-allocated funds. These are administered by the trades unions.

Soviet life insurance is straight life.

If a citizen takes out a 10-year 10,000-ruble policy, premiums of 83 rubles 35 kopeks are paid monthly during the 10 years. During that period the insured's family is protected in the event of his death, and he is guaranteed indemnity in the event of permanent incapacity.

After 10 years he may take the 10,000 rubles he has paid, without interest, or leave the money with the agency until needed. There are also annuity or endowment programs since the state operates its own pension program.

The state and its various enterprises and industries operate convalescent and rest sanatoria for workers. Most persons recovering from illness get this service free but some pay part of the cost, usually one-third, their unions absorbing the remainder from special funds.

MANY CAMPS

Dr. Gvozdkhilova said 5,000,000 children attend summer camps for Pioneers, the Soviet version of Boy Scouts and Girl Guides. These camps are under the health ministry while also directing athletic activities.

Soviet doctors work a six-hour day and are paid a basic monthly salary of 800 rubles, with time-and-a-half for overtime. Most general practitioners and pediatricians are women; most senior specialists and lecturers are men. A doctor's basic salary, incidentally, is the same as that of a high school teacher.

(For exchange purposes the Russians quote the ruble at 25 cents, but this does not indicate its buying power in Russia.)

A doctor specializing in tuberculosis or infectious diseases draws a supplementary 15 to 30 per cent. Those assigned to distant areas, such as Siberia or the far north, draw an additional 50 to 100 per cent.

FIXED INCREASES

There are increases of 15 per cent after five years, 25 per cent after 10 years, 50 per cent after 20 years and a pension of 850 rubles monthly after 25 years. A doctor eligible for pension may continue to work and draw both salary and pension.

Doctors are eligible for the title Honored Doctor of the Soviet Union, which brings a 10-per-cent pay rise, bonus and many receives decorations such as the Order of the Red Banner after 25 years and the Order of Lenin after 30.

Professors in institutes are paid more than practitioners. A lecturer earns between 2,000 and 4,000 rubles; the head of a department up to 6,000 rubles.

Until recently doctors have depended on local housing authorities for their personal accommodation, but modern medical complexes—the network of clinics, creches and other services organized around each polyclinic and hospital—now include doctors' living quarters.

TOUGHER GARMENTS

EDINBURGH (CP)—Mrs. Grace Greaves, wife of a university professor, is leading a campaign against "well-tailored, short-lived" school blazers. She wants students dressed in gabardine blouses modelled on army battledress, with reinforced elbows, shoulders and cuffs.

HEIRESS.

A multi-million dollar smile illuminates the countenance of Mrs. Nancy Blaine Harrison, 35, after learning she is the heiress to one third of the $35,000,000 estate left by her grandmother, the late Mrs. Anita McCormick Blaine. The balance of the estate may be used to explore "possibilities of communication between the seen and unseen world." Mrs. Harrison is the wife of Gilbert Harrison, publisher of the weekly magazine, "New Republic."

Little Benny's Note Book

I was doing my homework and ma was talking to pop, saying I met a real hero today, William. Mamie Scudder's son came in during the bridge game, and Mamie introduced him to the ladies. He's got meddles and ribbons by the draw full, and he won a special rare deckoration for saving the lives of 9 men by attacking a machine gun empty handed, ma said.

Good work, pop said, and ma said, He's the ferst reel hero I ever met.

Well G, ma, you've met me often enough, and I saved a soldier's life once, I said, and she said, How how many times have you been told not to make up baicleia fabrications?

Meening nearly 8ce, and I said, I'm not, ma, and I can prove it.

Now dont make it werse, ma said, and I said, I'll tell you exactly how it happened. I was sitting on our front steps, and it was hot as anything last summer, and a soldier in his uniform came up and asked me to get him a glass of water, and I did, and he told me I had saved his life, and he ought to know, oughn't he, ma? I said.

Yes, and so ought you, ma said. You know very well that was just a manner of speeking, she said, and I said, Well then I'll tell you about one time I actually did save at least 15 lives without any manner of speeking. I unhooked the screen and chased a lot of flies out, when I could just as easy of swatted them, I said.

Oh, keep on with your homework or go to bed, whichever you please, she said.

Which I wouldn't actually choose either one, but I kept on with my homework just for an excuse to stay up.

CAMPBELLFORD

Rotarians Hear Biography Of Club Founder

CAMPBELLFORD. — Past president, Harold Carr, was the speaker at the Campbellford Rotary Club on Monday. He traced the growth of Rotary from its founding in 1905 to the present time.

Paul Harris, founder of Rotary, conceived the organization as a society of professional and business men whose ideals responded to the fundamental principles of friendship, fellowship and good will.

Born in Racine, Wisconsin, in 1868, the late Paul Harris was a graduate of the University of Iowa. In 1896 he began the practice of law in Chicago. In 1905 the idea of Rotary was born. Several business friends of the late founder joined with him in a weekly luncheon meeting, held in various places, hence the name Rotary. The first community service of Rotary was the establishment of public rest rooms in the city hall, Chicago, in 1907.

MEAGRE BEGINNING

From this meagre beginning, Paul Harris lived to see 6,000 clubs join what later became Rotary International, the ideals of Rotary having taken root in 80 countries. The Winnipeg Club, established in 1910, was the first in Canada.

Rotarians, regardless of race and creed are expected to be faithful to their own religion and to create an example of good citizenship. There were 49 Rotarians participating in the composition of the United Nations' Charter.

In memory of the late Paul Harris and by his request, a fund for the education of worthy students has been established.

This fund of $3,400,000 invested by Rotary International, has been responsible for 500 fellowships, financing students of various lands to pursue their studies in other countries. Thus they become good-will ambassadors among the nations where Rotary ideals have taken root. The memorial is a most fitting one for the founder of a great international movement.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Past president, A. D. Bennett, introduced the speaker and Rotarian Wm. Kingston, expressed the club's appreciation.

At Monday's meeting the following were elected officers of 1954-55: president, Bill McComb; vice-president, Arn. Bright; secretary, Hilton Beatty; treasurer, Austin Putnam; directors, Leo Doherty and Ross Richardson.

Exhaustive Research More In Public Interest Than Scare Publicity Says Tobacco Head

By W. R. WHEATLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — The president of Canada's biggest tobacco company says exhaustive research is more in the public interest than scare publicity, in determining any relationship between smoking and lung cancer.

"Regardless of the merits of claims either way, any suggestion that a product is related to ill health does scare people," E. C. Wood of Imperial Tobacco Company said in an interview.

"We have had in the past widespread scares that at certain vegetable became poisoned through canning and that use of a certain type of metal pot or pan in cooking foods engendered poisoning. The claims were established scientifically.

CLOSER DIAGNOSIS

"I don't mean to imply categorically that there can be no relationship whatever between smoking and lung cancer. But so far the reported increase in lung cancer cases has been statistical rather than clinical.

"Medical science has advanced tremendously in diagnosis, and cases established as lung cancer today were undoubtedly labelled something else a comparatively few years ago. Also, science now is giving closer study to lung cancer in relation to occupational diseases and to the increasing air pollution of our fast-growing industrial areas."

Mr. Wood said his company is taking no particular counter-measures to combat recent claims. There had been no effect on its sales. Publicity given the question had not brought any inquiry to the company from the public.

"We don't feel that propaganda is the right thing and we are not doing any kind of smoking as an offsetting measure," he said.

"We are not doctors and it would be pointless for us to get involved in propaganda which might only serve to establish a basis of suspicion.

"But we do co-operate and keep in touch with medical and scientific organizations. Our own laboratories are continually studying all phases of tobacco itself as sail as its growth and preparation. Anything we find is unreservedly passed along to these organizations.

"Of course the work of our laboratories is not aimed at medical research but I must say they have found nothing substantiate claims that tobacco smoking is a causative agent of lung cancer."

SCIENTIFIC VIEW

Lung cancer was a timely topic in the Canadian Cancer Society's January newsletter. It said that in 1935 lung cancer accounted for 2.6 per cent of cancer deaths whereas in 1949, last year for comparable Canadian figures, the percentage was 4.2.

"Just how much of this increase is apparent and how much is real are difficult questions to answer," said the newsletter.

". . . Over the same period of time medical science has made a number of advances which help to increase the accuracy of diagnosis of lung diseases, including cancer . . . A specific diagnosis of cancer of the lung is being made more frequently than it would have been 30 years ago.

"Moreover, doctors are more aware of the possibility of lung cancer being a cause of serious lung disease and it is possible that this diagnosis, rather than pneumonia, chronic bronchitis and so on, is being placed on death certificates more frequently. Again, in only a little more than one-half of cases is the diagnosis proven by microscopic examination of tissue, so the accuracy of death reports may always be questioned. On the other hand, it has been the experience of our larger hospitals that cancer of the lung has definitely increased. . . ."

SUSCEPTIBLE AREAS

The newsletter, after relating occupational causes of lung cancer in various parts of the world, said:

"Another observation worth noting is that deaths from cancer of the lung appear to be more frequent in urban than rural areas, suggesting that smoke, industrial wastes, the fumes from motor vehicles or factors unknown may be related to lung cancer. . . .

"Investigations in the United States, Great Britain and Scandinavia would seem to show that patients with lung cancer are more likely to be smokers and that these patients have smoked more heavily and for a longer period than comparable groups without lung cancer. . . .

"More recently, research workers in the United States have collected the tar from burning tobacco and with it have produced cancer of the skin in mice.

"However, those familiar with cancer research know that what happens to a certain strain of mice may not happen to another strain of mice, and any scientist would be loath to infer that a substance which causes cancer of the skin in mice necessarily causes cancer of the lung in humans.

"It is not our intention to belittle the evidence for a relationship between lung cancer and smoking, for the evidence in fact points in that direction, but we would be unwise to lose our sense of perspective at this time. . . .

"The National Cancer Institute has given support to three Canadian research projects related to lung cancer. It is to the credit of the tobacco industry that it is embarking upon a research program to learn more about the possible effects of smoking and bodily health. . . ."

Honest Men

NEW YORK. (CP) — Lord Dunsany, Irish poet and dramatist, gave reporters a reading of modern poetry Tuesday. He quoted from the works of the late Dylan Thomas:

"This she I have
The country handed grave
Bored into love
Rise before dark."

The reporters said they did not understand it.

"You are honest men, neither do I," he replied.

Loaded Garbage

NEW YORK (AP) — The crew of a garbage truck discovered Tuesday that their load of garbage contained nine sticks of dynamite. They quickly called police, who dumped the explosive in oil and called fire department experts. The garbage crew said they must have picked up the dynamite buried among other refuse.

Boy's Pup Burns

TORONTO. (CP) —A little boy's Christmas pup was burned to death Tuesday night while eight persons escaped without injury from a fire that destroyed a frame house in the west end.

The pup belonged to Wayne Arnold, 2, who had to be restrained from dashing back into the blazing home in a rescue attempt.

Seize Punchboards

ORILLIA (CP)—Albert Ramsay, 44, of Toronto, Tuesday was committed for trial on a charge of knowingly shipping punchboards. The charge, under the lottery section of the Criminal Code, followed seizure of 1,982 punchboards, police said.

Highway Safety Vital Concern To Farmers

TORONTO (CP)—No one has a bigger stake in highway safety than the farmer, James N. Allen, Progressive Conservative member for Haldimand-Norfolk in the Ontario legislature, said Wednesday.

"The farmer must use the highway in all kinds of weather, in all kinds of traffic and in all kinds of vehicles—including the automobile, the truck and the tractor," he said in an address prepared for delivery to the diamond jubilee convention of the Ontario Good Roads Association.

"I can't think of any other business whose production and distribution is hampered or disrupted more by accident than the farm industry. The farmer traditionally is almost always short of help. An accident to him or to one of his helpers can really hurt.

"And yet farm residents suffer more fatal motor vehicle accidents than any other type of mishap. Some are caused by farm people themselves. Many others are caused by non-farm residents who use the highways that go by the farms.

"The huge waste of vital farm manpower and material resources caused by traffic accidents must be stopped."

Bonarlaw

BONARLAW—Mrs. Ralph Wellan is ill with pneumonia.

On Monday evening the members of the Women's Institute held a progressive euchre party in Springbrook hall with 20 tables in play. Mrs. Gerald McFaul won the high score for the ladies and Mr. George Thompson won the men's prize. Mr. E. Johnson won the door prize.

Porter Denies Statement Made In Legislature

TORONTO (CP) — Attorney-General Porter has denied statements made in the Ontario legislature that two Toronto policemen used a rubber hose to gain a confession from Paul Cachia, twice convicted and then finally acquitted of a charge of armed robbery.

The charges were made by Robert Macaulay, Progressive Conservative member for Toronto Riverdale.

Mr. Porter said in the house that during the second trial the defence "for some reason" introduced a confession which Cachia testified was forced out of him by the use of a rubber hose.

"The officers were called . . . and swore under oath that they didn't use any rubber hose, they had no rubber hose, and used no method of intimidation on the accused."

Cachia, who had been sentenced to four years in prison, was acquitted in a third trial on the evidence of a missing witness who was finally located in Nova Scotia.

Mayor Allan Lamport, who is chairman of the Toronto police commission, termed the charges "irresponsible."

Five Are Killed Near Calgary

CALGARY (CP)—Five persons, four of them bound for a wedding reception, were killed and three injured Wednesday in a two-car collision on a straight section of highway about 20 miles east of here.

Dead are: David MacKinnon, 26; his wife, Loretta, 24; Jon Martin, 68; Mrs. George Perry, 28; and Mrs. Irma Basson, 55. All were from Calgary.

Cobourg's Drama Entry Called Unwise Choice

BROCKVILLE (CP) — Adjudicator Graham Suter said he found the play "Miranda," Cobourg's entry in the eastern Ontario drama festival Wednesday night "an unwise choice."

The play, presented by the Cobourg Opera and Drama Guild, was good in presentation, Mr. Suter said, but was not prepared properly.

The English adjudicator said, however, that the group had made a noble effort and some good laughs were provided by the fantasy of a mermaid, wanting to live for a short period as a human.

The festival continues tonight with the presentation of "The Curious Savage" by the Gateway Club of the Brockville Theatre Guild.

Halloway

HALLOWAY. — Miss Bessie McMullen is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson at West Huntingdon this week.

Rev. Mr. Merrick of Belleville, had charge of the service here on Sunday morning as Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Giffin are visiting in New York City.

The Kum-Double Club catered at the Belleville Livestock Sales on Tuesday of last week. Despite the terrible weather the proceeds were gratifying.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Foster and Mrs. Georg Foster were guests for dinner on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Townsend.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McMaster and boys, of Ivanhoe, were guests for supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McMullen on Sunday.

On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. George McMaster were guests at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. Embury Hough accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Robson to Toronto for the opening of parliament. They spent a few days in Toronto.

The Kum-Double Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McMullen on Saturday evening with a good attendance.

The program convenors were Harry and Edna McMullen.

The president, Lorna Hough, conducted a business period. Members decided to buy 135 chairs for the church basement. The next meeting is to be held at Coleman and Verna Townsend's home on March 3. A poem was read by Marie Emerson and a reading by Earl Snider. A singsong was held.

Refreshments were served by hostess.

FRANKFORD

Guild Sees Film On Trip to West

FRANKFORD. — The February meeting of the Guild of the Anglican Church, took place in the parish hall on Thursday afternoon with the president, Mrs. Marjorie Mikel, in charge.

The meeting opened with a hymn followed by Scripture reading by Rev. H. C. Secker.

Mrs. McLaren reported that four cards had been sent to sick members. Rev. H. C. Secker thanked the members of the guild who remembered his wife during her illness.

Members decided to hold a card party on March 1. It was agreed that Mrs. Kent, W.A. Diocesan secretary, of Stirling, be asked to speak at the March meeting. Rev. Mr. Secker closed the meeting with prayer.

Mr. Sam Caskey showed films of the trip to the West which he and Mrs. Caskey and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Caskey made last fall.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. C. Cooney and Mrs. B. Rose.

EUCHRE HELD

The euchre held in the parish hall of Trinity Anglican church, was a huge success with 20 tables in play. Prize winners were women's first, Mrs. Margaret Macaulay; low prize, Marjorie Russ; men's high, Mr. Max Houlden; men's low, Francis Frost. The door prize was won by Ruth Margetson.

Refreshments were served by members of the Guild. There will be another euchre held on Monday, March 1, the last before beginning of Lent.

Shannonville

SHANNONVILLE— Mr. Stanley MacDonald is a patient in Belleville General Hospital, where he was taken by ambulance last week. He is still seriously ill.

Boston Bruins Dim Rangers' Hopes For Playoff Berth With 5-3 Victory

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

CLEAN SHEET

Russ Fryers' fine little Stirling Juvenile "C" swept its two-game first playdown round with the hard-fighting Wellington youngsters here last night edging the Prince Edward County team, 5-3 in a nip-and-tuck battle. The Stirling team won the round 13-7. They advance to the second round playdowns probably against Bracebridge or Bobcaygeon.

MINOR HOCKEY

Belleville's younger hockey fry did not meet with much success down Kingston way last night in the first round of the OMHA playdowns. The Kingston youngsters swept all three tilts in the juvenile, midget and bantam divisions. The second goals-to-count games are being played here tonight.

The Juvenile went down before a 5-2 defeat with the bantams absorbing a 15-2 trouncing. The midgets exercised on the short end of a 4-1 score. Tonight's another night and the Juveniles and bantics have not given up hope. They will be playing on their own ice, and feel confident they can make up enough goals to turn the tide. Some fan support would be greatly appreciated by the youngsters. It would help no end in assisting them to pull a couple of wins out of the fire.

GRATITUDE!

Sports editors, like human beings, are funny. Also they're like hula dancers. You don't know what they're going to turn up next.

Take Marse Berube of the Peterborough Examiner. We cannot help it if we ranked him in the army days, but being an ex-ranker he has a memory as long as an elephant one day and as short as a two-bit borrower the next. From now on, the bloke will say "sir".

The little guy actually gloated when he learned the Belleville Bearcats fighting desperately and with valor, are eliminated from senior "B" competition. But behind the gloat was a long-drawn "Thank heavens". He knew that history would repeat itself, and if the Pefes were drawn with the Memos in the playoffs, the mighty Littlocker members of the lacrosse team would enlighten their puck skillsaghs for the gutted weapons, after the necessary games were played, and forget about hockey for the season.

Gad, the guy goes poetical, too. Here is what the bard of the Kawarthas penned while in a gloating mood. Quoth Cecil (Shakespeare) Perdue with the fore-note "A belated Valentine to our Quinte columnist friend, whose hockey favorites are gasping their last with a playoff spot just out of reach."

"No tax imports, so 'tis said,
Where Quinte hockey's concerned:
But no playoffs to tilt 'em out of the red,
So Bellevillians are burned."

"But Belleville fame will rise again,
Sertin Carvey says—or much as—
And we agree, but it won't be
Till the Pefes are all on crutches!

* * *

We, like the John Milton of the Kawarthas, haven't paid our dogmeat licence. But here goes:

The Memos tell the knell of parting ways,
The Truckies, Pontiac, Goodies are adieu.
The Panting Pefes eye Memos with the thought,
There but for breaks and gods of luck, go we.

Call them not "Those Mournful Memos"***
Life for them was not a dream.
They, departing, leave behind them.
Imprints of a danged good team.

Take away those one-goal losses,
Three games gone with 'empty coop'
Had they had the breaks of others,
Memos would have topped the group.

-pocketbook licence 64755380.

Now take the counterpart of Amar Yawartha. One Michael J. Rodden. We have seldom seen eye to eye with the opinions and statistics of the erudite Mr. Rodden, but now with the hockey bugles sounding the "Cease Fire" as far as the Memos are concerned, the hatchet will be buried.

Mr. Rodden pays a fine tribute to the Memos. In his column recently he wrote, "The elimination of the Memos was accepted stoically in Marmora (that's us, kiddies). Although hope was entertained that in some miraculous way the Devanlies would force a final deadlock with the Orillians. Since Memos, who lost too many goals by one goal margins earned the admiration of all and sundry by their staunch pursuit of a will-o'-the-wisp. They were a credit to the group and to the city they represented. Thank YOU, Mr. Rodden.

How different can two guys be?

As for the fourth sports editor one "Soup" Campbell of Oshawa, he stuck to his guns pretty well. The rest of us will even forgive him for calling the group the "Lakeshore League" at this late stage of the game.

Near-Record New York Crowd Sees Bruins Stop Blues Cold; Dave Creighton Paces Winners

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Boston Bruins weren't on the skids after all.

Their 5-3 victory over New York Rangers Wednesday night showed they won't be pushovers for the fourth and last playoff berth in the National Hockey League.

It was a key game for both clubs and the Bruins were in stride for it. They now lead the Rangers by three points, with 10 games left in the 70-game schedule.

Leftwinger Dave Creighton scored two goals in less than a minute to lead the Bruins to their 30th victory of the season and dim Ranger hopes of overhauling them for the Stanley Cup playoffs.

It was the only league game. In an exhibition tilt, the last-place Chicago Black Hawks defeated the league-leading Detroit Red Wings 4-3 at St. Louis.

At New York, a crowd of 13,485 fans saw the Bruins stop the Rangers cold from the start of the game. They jumped into a 2-0 lead and were leading 4-3 by the end of the second.

Rookie Doug Mohns, centre Milt Schmidt and defenceman Warren Godfrey got the other Boston markers. Wally Hergesheimer beat Boston netminder Sugar Jim Henry twice. Harry Howell scored the other.

TAKE 2-0 LEAD

Mohns sent the Bruins into a 1-0 lead at 5:25 of the first period on a play with centre Ed Sandford. Godfrey made it 2-0 midway through the period.

The Bruin drive picked up power in the second period, with Creighton scoring twice. That's when the New Yorkers came back with three straight counters.

The Rangers took over the play in the third period but couldn't tie the game. They rambled by taking goalkeeper Johnny Bower out in favor of a sixth attacker but Mackell scored in the empty nets.

The loss left the Rangers in fifth spot with 56 points.

Two games are scheduled for tonight. Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens, tied for second place, meet at Montreal and the Red Wings meet Chicago.

Brian Cullen Sets Scoring Record For Junior League With 142 Points

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

While the Memorial Cup is the climax as far as St. Catharines TeePees are concerned, Wednesday must have been a pretty hectic day for the league-leaders of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series.

One of the greatest thrills for the players must have been the plane trip from St. Catharines to Montreal to start the five-game interlocking tour with teams of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association junior league. The flight, first for most of the players, was made after the executive of TeePees chartered a plane to help ease the effects of the strenuous schedule ahead of the St. Catharines team.

Each player was insured for $50,000. Total insurance for the entourage was $1,050,000.

Then Brian Cullen, captain of the TeePees and leading scorer in the OHA league, scored two goals and got an assist against Montreal Royals to set a scoring record for the Ontario Junior loop. His two markers gave him a total of 56 goals, which added to his 86 assists, gave him 142 points—three more than the mark set by Ken Laufman of Guelph Biltmores during the 1951-52 season.

INCREASE LEAD

To top the night off the TeePees defeated the Royals 5-3 to increase their lead on first place to eight points over Toronto Marlboros.

Marlboros defeated the TeePees by dropping a 3-2 decision to Toronto St. Michael's College Majors at Toronto. The Majors trailed in six meetings between the two Toronto teams this year, hoisted the third-place Collegians to within four points of the Marlboros.

Montreal Canadiens, league-leaders of the Quebec league, improved their record with a 4-1 victory over Guelph Biltmores in Montreal.

Hamilton Cubs defeated Barrie Flyers 8-2 in Hamilton during the other game.

Brian Cullen's two-goal show against the Royals was matched by Cec Hoekstra. Don McLean scored the other one for the TeePees. Carl Wandovich, Stan Maxwell and Ed Eustace were the marksmen for the Royals.

The lead changed hands twice in Toronto before Paul Knorr scored two goals to tie and win the game for St. Michael's. Ken Gribbons scored the other goal for the Irish.

Dave Reid and Wally Maxwell were the Marlboro snipers.

Although Guelph held a wide margin in play throughout most of the game against Canadiens, they couldn't beat the brilliant goaltending of Gaetan Dessureault. Henri Richard led the Montreal attack with two goals. Claude Vinet and Warren Hynes collected one each. Ev Scott scored for the Biltmores.

In Hamilton the Cubs spotted the Flyers a goal but tied the score before the first period ended and went ahead to stay with two in the second. The score at the end of Hamilton going into the third and four unanswered goals in the final period settled it.

Ted Reid and Val Mitchell scored two each for the winners. Others went to Marlin McAlendin, Bill Stewart, Brian Kilrea and Bob Robinson. John Martan and Jim Robertson were the scorers for the Flyers.

Galt is at Kitchener tonight.

Johnny Saxton Wins Easily Over Bratton

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Brash young Johnny Saxton outpunched and outmaneuvered a back-pedalling and apparently disinterested Johnny Bratton to win an easy unanimous 10-round decision before a foot-stamping and booing crowd Wednesday night. Saxton weighed 148½ and Bratton 150.

Saxton lost one round as the 23-year-old New Yorker tried desperately to make a fight with the former 147-pound champion from Chicago. But Bratton apparently was in one of his no-fighting moods. The 26-year-old veteran punched little and continuously backed away from the aggressive Saxton.

A crowd of 8,838—who paid $27,-799—booed, stamped feet, tossed papers into the ring and in general voiced their disgust with the inept Bratton.

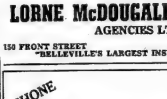
Marciano Meets Ezzard Charles On June 17

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano will make his third title defence at Yankee Stadium, Thursday, June 17, when he takes on Ezzard Charles, the former titleholder, in a 15-round bout.

The match has been in the hopper for some time and negotiations finally were completed Wednesday by promoter Jim Norris; Al Weill, manager of Marciano; and Tom Famas, co-manager of Charles.

Marciano, who will be putting his crown on the block nine months after his successful defence against Roland La Starza will receive 40 per cent while Charles will collect 20 per cent.

In case of rain, Norris said the fight would be postponed to Monday, June 21.



Norris, president of the International Boxing Club said no decision has been made on whether the fight will be televised into the homes or beamed into theatres. The chances are that there TV will bet a big plum and bonus viewers will be starting with a victory at Detroit the previous December.

Blind Golfers To Hold Tourney

TORONTO (CP)—A two-day Canada-United States blind golfers tournament will be held here next July. Tentative dates have been set for July 21-22.

Details were announced Wednesday by the Royal Canadian Golf Association and a distillery who will jointly sponsor the 36-hole championship. The sponsors said it would be an annual event with all proceeds going to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Seven golfers from each country will compete with three tilles at stake—team championship, international low score and Canadian low score. Competition this year will be limited to blind golfers of Canada and the U.S. but it is expected Britain and possibly other countries will compete in future.

Canada will be host country for the annual matches.

The tournament will be added to the regular RCGA schedule annually. The RCGA will organize the championships and the distillery will pay all costs.

WILL BUILD ARENA

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—The St. Catharines Lions Club has decided to build this city's first outdoor artificial ice rink. It is expected to cost $45,000.

Kingston Minor Hockey Teams Sweep First-Round Games With Belleville

The Belleville OSCHA teams traveled to Kingston last night where all three teams dropped decisions to the Kingston clubs in the first game of a two game goals-to-count home and home series in the first round of the playoffs.

The bantams took the full force of the Kingston bantam Vics attack and came out on the short end of a 13-3 count, the midgets lost a much closer 4-1 decision and the juvenile Bellevilles lost 5-3 in the best game of the three.

BANTAM GAME.

A team of fast skating little stickhandlers who have won the Kingston bantam title two years in succession with relative ease, Belleville scored three and assisted on the goals for the entire evening, denied the twine on five occasions while Senior scored a trio and clever one man rushes afterwards notched the odd marker.

The Belleville scoring plays were an unassisted goal by Garry Rowbotham in the second period, one by MacDonald and a goal by Plane with Vaughan - assisting, both in the last frame.

The Vics outskated their opposition on the large ice surface, matching them out of position time after time and going in to beat Hook with ease.

The teams:

Belleville: Hook, Garrison, Schwab, Brennan, MacDonald, Boulter, O'Neil, Dewson, Rowbotham, Collgan, Quinn, Hurst, Vaughan, Plane, Soden.

Kingston: Nichols, Holland, O'Brien, Turnbull, Senior, Jackson, Pettit, Noble, Mulholland, Aylesworth, Krock, Minnaker, McMahon, Coleman.

Referee: Joe Barrett and Walton.

MIDGET GAME.

This game started off much the same as the bantam game, Ball scoring for Kingston at the seven second mark and Murray making it 2-0 before the period ended. Leo St. Denis cut that lead in the middle frame, he carried the puck half the length of the ice, went between the two defencemen and just as they hit him, he fired a drive between them that beat O'Neill from fifteen feet out.

Ball scored again in the final period as did Walton and despite some fine play by the Belleville team they could not get the puck in the net. Leo St. Denis was the best for the visitors, Hagerman also playing well. The whole Kingston club played outstanding hockey with Ball getting two goals to lead his team.

The lineup:

Belleville: Beare, Irwin, Rowbotham, Foster, Crull, Wandamaker, Keegan, Leo St. Denis, St. Denis, Hagerman, Thomas, Ferguson, Wright, Gill, Sills.

Kingston: O'Neil, Stevenson, Decker, Hagerty, Sanderson, Ball, Frawley, McPhil, Wilson, Walton, St. Rexy, Turner, Brooks, Ibey, Cohpens.

Referees: Bud Ohlke and Joe Barrett.

JUVENILE GAME.

Belleville took the lead for the first and only time of all three games in the first period when at the 10.10 mark Gerry Goyer took a pass from Cam McKenna and whistled it on the Kingston goalie to beat the custodian from close in.

The game was fast and hard hitting from the start and the Monarchs kept it up until the middle of the second period when they scored to snap up a little lead the Kingston team took over. They streaked in on Bill Charlton in the Belleville cage from all angles, firing a barrage of pucks that finally beat the sharp-eyed goalie.

Tinkess tied it at the eight minute mark and by the time the clock read 12.30 the score was 4-1 for the homesters. The last goal by Drinka was the result of a picture pass from Brown that the goalie-chop-up-line had to let go.

Goyer and Vesterfeld were the Belleville goalgetters in the final period with O'Sullivan scoring for the winners.

Stripes led the Kingston crew with two goals and one assist and Goyer had the same in a losing cause.

The teams:

Belleville: Charlton, Adamson, Burrows, Buskard, Day, Fraser, Goyer, Little, McKenna, Murray, Upper, Vaughan, White, Vesterfelt, Kingston.

Kingston: Vanhoozer, Hanston, MacKintosh, Burnett, Drinka, Brown, O'Sullivan, Murphy, Botting, Howland, Peters, Rines, Soelgrave, Tinkess, Jackson.

55 Canada, USA Skiers Enter Big Slalom Event

By MEL MORRIS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP)—Fifty-five entries from Canada and the United States were in the hamper today for the start of the Canadian senior men's slalom championship race at Mont Tremblant, Que., Sunday.

The list, announced Wednesday night, was topped by Toni Corcoran and Bill Tibbits, two stars from Dartmouth, N.H. Corcoran is the recent winner of the Vic Comstat combined trophy at Stowe, Vt., and ranks as the favorite.

Both Corcoran and Tibbits are alternate members of the United States international ski team.

The Canadian championships are being held in conjunction with the 19th running of the Quebec Kandahar, a senior, junior, ladies and slalom event for amateurs. Two downhill runs will be held Saturday, with Sunday's two Dominion championship slalom runs also counting in the Kandahar competition.

Actually, 55 entries were received for the slalom run, including six professionals and four ladies, but ineligible for the Canadian slalom title but will compete for prize awards.

Top Canadians in the meet are Andre Bourque, Laval University, Quebec, recent winner of the Laurentian zone slalom; Andy Tonner, student at Carleton College in Ottawa; Bob Richardson of the Montreal Ski Club, the defending Kandahar champion; Jim Georges of Owen Sound, Ont., a member of the 1956 Olympic international team; and Bob Gilmour, last year's Canadian junior champion.

Thirteen entries were received for the ladies' slalom championship, headed by defending champion Rosemary Schutz and Rhoda Worden, both of Montreal. Three U.S. girls, Judy Kirby and Sally Kimball, Mrs. Bob of Middlebury, Vt., and Sally Deaver of Mount Mansfield, Vt., also are bidding for the title.

'Y' Basketball

The YMCA Youth Basketball House League series ended last night when the Crayiges defeated the Hoopsters on a score of 48-36 and the Hoopsters won over the Monarchs 77-40.

High scorers for the Crayiges were George Parkhurst and Stan Goyer, Little, McKenna, Murray, Upper, Vaughan, White, Vesterfelt, Kingston.

Kingston: Vanhoozer, Hanston, MacKintosh, Burnett, Drinka, Brown, O'Sullivan, Murphy, Botting, Howland, Peters, Rines, Soelgrave, Tinkess, Jackson.

Marlene, Harrison Are Eliminated In International Two-Ball Tourney

ORLANDO, Fla. (CP)—Canada's Marlene Stewart, acclaimed by her veteran partner Dutch Harrison as a girl who'll some day be up in the top ranks of the golfing world, bowed out Wednesday in the international mixed two-ball tournament here.

Harrison, who won the Canadian Open in 1949, had teamed up with the Penhill, Ont., lass who won the British amateur title last year, for the dual event. And they went down fighting to Betty Dodd and Bill Kaiser, both Americans, 1 up.

In fair, drizzling weather they bucked torrential rain and a high wind to finish only one stroke over par 71 for the 18 holes, and came dangerously close to sending the match into extra holes.

The last hole brought the decision after Marlene and her Chicago partner had tied it up on the 17th after having been two down. And the decision was in doubt until Marlene trickled her putt past the cup on the water-soaked green.

Harrison had fallen about three feet short of the green on his approach, while Miss Dodd and Kaiser had got on in three, and looked for a moment as if it might drop in, but it just missed and that ended the tournament for the pair.

However, Canada still has a contender in the event. Mrs. Alan McDougall of Saskatoon, teamed with Paul Kirby of Concord, N.H., play off today against fairway Patty Berg of Chicago and Pete Cooper of Tampa, Fla.—

They were tied after 54 holes when play ended for the day Wednesday.

High School Curling Title Decided Today

HAMILTON (CP) — Barring any major upsets, the 1956 Canadian high school curling championship will be decided today between Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

The two western Canada rinks, who have lost only one match each in seven games since the tourney most started Monday, have double games in the windup today. If they end in a tie for first place a playoff will be held tonight to crown a new champion.

The only other teams in the running are Northern Ontario and New Brunswick, tied for third place with four wins and three defeats. Two teams, Saskatchewan and Manitoba and two wins by Northern Ontario and New Brunswick would set up a four-way deadlock. But, it's highly unlikely.

Saskatoon Central Collegiate won the Sifton trophy and Canadian championship in 1951 and again in'1952, before it was taken to the east last year by the Collegiate and Vocational Institute in Oshawa, Ont.

Mustangs Suffer First Hoop Loss

TORONTO (CP)—University of Toronto Blues defeated University of Western Ontario Mustangs 77-60 in a senior intercollegiate basketball game Wednesday night.

It was the second victory in a row for the Blues. They defeated Assumption College of Windsor 74-53 Friday. The loss was also the first suffered by Western this year.

Reds Blast Bisons 13-5 To Set Record

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Buffalo Bisons are on top of the American Hockey League by 16 points and peace headed for the championship, but looking at Wednesday's league scores the casual observer would never know it.

Providence Reds, last place 31 points behind Buffalo, humiliated the Bisons 13-5—setting a single game total goal record. Previous record was 12 goals set five years ago by Buffalo and a now-defunct Philadelphia club.

Pete Kapusis set the pace for Providence scoring three goals while teammates Chuck Scherza and Al Rarcast got two apiece. Harry Taylor, Don Marshall, Gaye Stewart, Frank Eddolls and Gord Pennell were the Buffalo marksmen.

In the only other game Wednesday, Pittsburgh Hornets moved into third place in the Ontario Hockey League by beating Syracuse Warriors 7-2. Andy Barbe and Dan Lewicki scored two goals each for victors while George Ford and Eric Fogus tallied for the Warriors.

Champions Breeze Through To Wins In Canadian Badminton Tournament

By DON MATHESON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP)—Battles between the champions start tonight in the second day of the twenty-day Canadian badminton championships.

The selectors study to form as they set up the 122 matches that opened play Wednesday.

Both defending singles champions, Don Smythe and Marjory Shedd of Toronto, breezed through their games to lead every seeded player into the second round in the five open events.

Only in the junior events did the matchmakers miss. Third-seeded William Pidgeon of Oakville, Ont., and fourth-seeded Valerie Brown of Winnipeg were sidelined in second-round matches after tough battles in their opening draws.

It wasn't smooth smashing all the way for the masters of the feather touch, but no seeded player in singles, doubles or mixed events was ever in very serious trouble.

Bev Westcott of Toronto, second seeded in men's singles, Johnny Boucek, Vancouver, seventh-seeded, and sixth-seeded Tom Matthews of Winnipeg found themselves behind in one of their two fourth-round games, but pulled out to win in extra points and sweep both games.

QUARTER-FINAL WINS

Smythe (1), Daryl Thompson, Vancouver (3), Jack Muir, Toronto (4), Dave McTaggart, Vancouver (5) and Bruce Beham, Vancouver (8), joined the other seeded stars in the quarter-finals with fast victories.

They'll start to bat one-another down tonight, with the draw pitting first-eighth, second-seventh, third-sixth, and fourth-and-fifth seeded against each other.

The only four players seeded in the women's singles will clash in the semi-finals, barring upsets, tonight.

Jean Bardsley and Lois Reid of Vancouver drew a bye and then moved into the quarter-finals of the women's doubles with a 15-2, 15-4 win over Eileen Nicol of Edmonton and Helen Baxter of Calgary.

Smythe and Johnny Boucek of Vancouver moved into the quarter-finals of the men's doubles, while top-seeded Miss Bardsley and Thompson led the way to the quarter-finals of the mixed event.

Mercs, Maroons, and Dutchies, Tigers Clash in Take-Your-Pick Sr. Playoffs

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The 1953-54 schedule of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series was wrapped up Wednesday night and the playoff participants have been matched.

Owen Sound Mercurys, league leaders who finished their schedule by dropping a 5-4 decision to the second-place Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen in Kitchener, chose Chatham Maroons for the first round of the best-of-seven-game playoffs. First game of the series will be in Chatham Friday.

Kitchener took Hamilton Tigers as opponents and their best-of-seven series will start in Kitchener Friday.

Windsor Bulldogs, who defeated Stratford Indians 9-4 in Stratford, start their series—also a best-of-seven affair—in Stratford Friday.

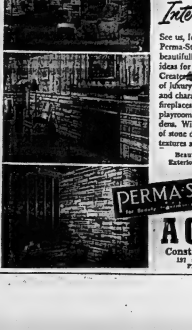
Bulldogs' victory gave them 39 points to tie them with Hamilton for third place. But Windsor has won 29 games while the Tigers have taken only 28.

CATARACTS ELIMINATED

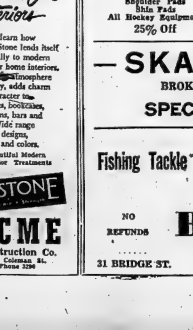
Sixth-place Chatham Maroons wound up the schedule by walloping Niagara Falls Cataracts 9-0 in Chatham. The game, which meant nothing to the Chatham, completed all OHA Senior A hockey action for the Cataracts who have put out of the running earlier in the season.

Kitchener's victory over the Mercurys let them finish the season only two points behind first place Doug Verity and—Ken Laufman each scored two goals to lead the victory. George Scholes notched the other counter. Harry Kazarian, Roy Sickle and Bob McCreagh were the Owen Sound marksmen.

Stratford gave the Bulldogs cause from behind a 2-1 deficit with four consecutive goals for their victory over the Indians.



Gord Haidy and Fred Hobbsbrand each scored two for Windsor. Clarence Jaster bagged the other one. Keith Tolton, Ron Ingram and Dinny Flanagan were the Stratford snipers.



Maroons scored four goals in the opening period, one in the second and four more in the third for their runaway win over the Cataracts. Jim Connelly led Chatham with three goals. Two went to Danny Blair and the rest were shared by Paul Oliver, Frank Bonello, Marty Sorice and Ed Dickne.

Sault Ste. Marie (Mich.) Indians climbed out of the cellar in the Northern Ontario Hockey Association Senior A Southern Group by defeating the Wawa 5-1 in Sudbury.

Don Rubic, John Raynack, Marcel Clements, Dean McBride and Gord Kerr tallied one each for the Indians. Bill Barrett scored the only goal for the second-place Wolves.

The Indians play the league-leading Sault (Ont.) Greyhounds in Ontario tonight while Sudbury meets the Trappers in North Bay.

Reinforcements Arrive In Stockholm For 'Second-Rate' Canadian Team

STOCKHOLM (CP) — Reinforcements arrived Wednesday for the Canadian team entered in the world hockey championships beginning here Friday.

Four players, a goalie, two forwards and a defenceman, reached the Swedish capital in the midst of a newspaper controversy over the relative merits of Russian and Canadian hockey styles.

Sports writers have picked the Russians, entered in the world championships for the first time, to edge out the Canadians. They prefer what they describe as the "collective" game the Russians play, over the Canadian style which emphasizes shooting and body-checking as much as passing.

The Swedish writers, who have criticized the calibre of players on the Canadian team—Toronto East York—had a grudging nod of approval for one of the newcomers.

SHILL TOUTED

One newspaper described Bill Shill, 31-year-old forward who is a regular member of the East York team but couldn't leave Canada with the rest of the team, as "perhaps the best ice hockey player who has ever visited Europe."

Other newcomers are Don Lockhart, 23, goalie for Niagara Falls Cataracts of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series, Eric Paulsen, Niagara Falls centre-ice and Tom Jamieson, 29, defenceman with Owen Sound Mercurys.

Ungar slipped while stepping from the plane on arrival here but his injured ankle is expected to be all right by the time the Canadians meet Switzerland Saturday in their opening game of the tourney. Most of the other teams start Friday.

Four other members of the Canadian team are nursing minor injuries. Bob Kennedy, Norm Gray and Tom Campbell were bruised about the legs with sticks and Harold Fiskari suffered a black eye in the Canadian B-1 exhibition victory over the Swedish B team Tuesday night. All will be in shape for the tournament, however.

GRASSO SIGNS

ST. THOMAS (CP)—Joe Grasso, leading pitcher of St. Thomas Elgins in the Senior Intercounty Baseball League last year, has signed his 1954 contract with the Elgins.

Grasso, the first player to sign with the Elgins for this season, was chosen the most popular player the year last season.

Kingston Edwards Defeat Crawfords By 90-62 Count

By Ed. MacDONALD

Showing a great lack of respect for the season long unbeaten streak of the Belleville Crawfords, the Kingston 'Edwards' basketball crew hauled into town last night and fair laid our laddies low. In this first game of a home and home total points series in the Ontario Intermediate basketball playdowns, the Kingston five showed themselves the masters in the under-the-basket play and Jack court checking in walking off with a 90-62 victory. The Crawfords had swept the Quinte basketball loop decisively, but last night Kingston wielded the broom.

The play was fast paced from the opening whistle. Kingston grabbed an early lead and managed to hold on to a 21-18 margin at the first breather. During the second quarter, the Crawfords came back strong and by showing plenty of the old fire and fight drew abreast of the Edwards and the half ended with the scores knotted at 39-39. Doug Soule, Ray Jefferies and John Batchelor were leading lights in the Belleville attack, but even they couldn't stem the Kingston tide in the final two quarters. At the three quarter mark the Crawfords were down 64-51 and were outscored 26-11 in the final quarter.

Play became somewhat heated during the latter part of the game as each side went all out for the win. The referees ruled with the iron hand and numerous fouls were called. Three Crawfords were given the official thumb, Chuck Muirhead for committing five fouls, Wayne Bovay for talking when he should have kept his mouth shut and Jack Batchelor, in company with Shepherdson of Kingston, for making like Whipper Watson and Yukon Eric instead of tending to their basketball.

Defensively as well as offensively, the Kingston team were superior to the local five. They snared more than their share of rebounds and showed a fast breaking attack that oftentimes left one of their mates loose with the ball under the Crawford basket. Net result, two more points. Duncan and Purcell carried most of the mail for the Edwards with 24 and 20 points respectively, however, every man on the Limestone squad got into the scoring act which points up their well balanced attack. Soule, Batchelor and Jefferies led the Crawford scoring parade with 18, 16 and 13 markers, in that order.

The second and final game is slated for tonight in Kingston. The Crawfords are down 28 big points going into the game, but have not conceded defeat and will be giving their all. The winner of this series goes against Peterborough in the next step to the Ontario crown.

Lineups:

Belleville Crawfords: Muirhead 7, Bovay 4, Jefferies 13, Garrow 2, Dolan, Peters, Batchelor 16, Scrymgeour, Soule 18.

Kingston Edwards: Purcell 20, Hartley 15, Cervenka 6, Exford 8, Shepherdson 10, Kelly 5, Exford 4, Duncan 24.

Stirling Edges Wellington 3-2 To Take Round

Wellington's juvenile hockey club pushed the surging Stirling team right to the wire in Memorial Arena last night before bowing to the Russ Pyear crew by a 3-2 score.

The victory was the second in as many nights for the winners, giving them the round by a 13-5 count. Stirling now advances to the second round of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association's juvenile "C" playdowns and will likely meet Bobcaygeon or Bracebridge in the next series. This, however, is not definite.

Stirling took the lead in the first period with Hadley pulling the trigger after taking a pass from MacMurray at 8.34. They added their second goal early in the middle stanza with Hermiston notching the one. He played a great game both on offence and defence and was the outstanding player on the ice.

Wellington came to life in the first six minutes of the final period to bang in quick ones by Garrison and Neil the latter at 2-2. Pulsen scored the winning goal at the 17 minute mark with Cockburn and Hermiston drawing assists.

Both netminders played excellent hockey as the scores indicates.

The joint meeting, opening at Arlington June 26, offers four races at $100,000 each: two at $75,000; four at $50,000; one at $30,000; seven at $25,000; six at $20,000, and four at $15,000.

ESKS SIGN U.S. TACKLE

EDMONTON (CP)—The signing of former all-American tackle Jim Weatherall was announced by Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Weatherall, 23, and discharged from the U.S. Marines 20 days ago, was one of Philadelphia Eagles' top draft choices of 1953.

He was with Oklahoma from 1948 to 1951 and was a key cog in the Sooner machine which set a U.S. college record of 31 straight wins from 1949 through 1951.

Sunday Hockey On TV Criticized

TORONTO (CP)—The board of evangelism and social service of the United Church of Canada has urged the CBC to stop televising Toronto junior hockey games on Sundays.

The board said in a resolution at its annual meeting Wednesday that although Ottawa had voted against Sunday sport, TV hockey programs are available to viewers in that city on Sundays. The resolution also urged the national religious advisory committee to take up to press for action on the Sunday hockey question.

The CBC said the Sunday afternoon hockey game from Toronto is not televised in Ottawa.

Royals Nip Aces, Climb Back To Share Lead

The race for the Quebec Hockey League championship is as tight as it ever was with Montreal Royals and Chicoutimi Saguenens back in a tie for first place.

Wednesday, Royals defeated Quebec Aces 3-2, and moved into a tie with the idle Chicoutimi club.

In the only other game, third place Ottawa Senators downed the tail-end Springfield Indians 4-2.

At Qebec Royals were trailing 2-1 late in the third period when Dick Wray and Lulu Denis came to give them the much-needed victory.

Red Johnson won the game almost single-handedly for Ottawa at Springfield. The husky forward rammed in three goals including the insurance marker.

Your Individual Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY, FEB. 26, 1954

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — A day for wisdom in spending, for curtailing all extravagances. Slow progress need not irritate; some things of necessity must go slowly. Plan, prepare for quicker action later.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Be calm, reasonable and don't fret today. Take time to talk things over if necessary; no need to rush or strain. Day will produce more advantages if an even tempo is maintained.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — You may feel like "flying" ahead with things generally, but don't. For good results, select carefully the urgent matters, attend to them quickly; then other tasks in order of importance.

June 22 to July 22 (Cancer) — Carry out necessary instructions, co-operate with business associates, heed the boss' advice and you won't have a bad day. Be thoughtful and tactful at home.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo) — Advice to Cancer and Aries can be most helpful now. And this should be sufficient for you guidance concerning folks. You may not seem to accomplish as much now but you'll make fewer errors.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo)—Avoid risks —in finances, property, in all undertakings. You can advance at your special duties, be appreciated and happier if you remain your cheerful, industrious self.

September 24 to October 22 (Libra)—The wise and popular one today will be the one who observes, thinks, then proceeds with sound action. There is never a day but what some good can be achieved. It depends largely on how we go about it.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—This day is a challenge. Big achievements may not come quickly but well-planned projects and work will yield eventuality. Never discard hope; look up and ahead.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Be especially careful in all money matters, investments, etc. Day is most friendly for mutual work, for artistic and scientific profession.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn) — Restrictions won't irritate or stymie you as they may others, for you usually work patiently, and concentrate on achieving. Cheer those who may not fare so well; pray, too.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Don't adopt a careless attitude because you feel languid. This is where you have to give yourself a pep talk and keep consistently on the line in order to accomplish.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Do not expend your energies in too many directions. Day can be deceiving and you may think you can handle more than you safely can. Better do less and do it better.

YOU BORN TODAY are idealistic, imaginative, industrious, well suited to work or professions that require inspiration, perhaps some emotionalism. You are very artistic yet have sound commonsense and practicality, too. You may tend—to underestimate your own value and capabilities. Squelch any notion that you can't compete with the best, the smartest. You can and should. Pisces men often follow the sea. 1954 has many —opportunities for gains, personal advancement. Birthdate: Victor Hugo, Fr. poet, novelist, dramatist; Wm. F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill", Indian scout, soldier.

Unemployment Lobbyists Get No Pledges From Govt.

OTTAWA (CP)—A one-day anti-unemployment invasion of Parliament Hill by a big Canadian union has ended without government pledges, but five lobbyists' leaders were fairly satisfied.

"We have created considerable heat, and I think the government is becoming aware of the situation," George Burt of Windsor, Canadian director of the United Automobile Workers of America (CIO-CCL), said after the lobby.

The 75,000-member Canadian division of the UAW sent about 125 members circulating among Commons members Wednesday with a UAW program for "full employment."

While two-man teams flagged down individual Commoners, Burt and other top officials put their "keep Canada at work" policy up to cabinet members.

The lobby came while the Commons was still involved in an unemployment debate that has been stretched through five sitting days. The government has beaten off one vote of non-confidence on the issue. Another is due next week.

Meanwhile the government formally announced unemployment figures for about a month ago.

SUBSTANTIAL INCREASE

These, previously made public in the Commons, unemployment debate, showed 534,000 persons looking for work at Jan. 31 through the labor department's National Employment Service. They contained bureau of statistics estimates that 280,000 persons were out of work and seeking jobs in the week ended Jan. 23. Both figures were up substantially over December, 1953, and last January.

Percy R. Bengough, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, said he estimates unemployment at 670,000.

Eugene Forsey, research director of the Canadian Congress of Labor, made a 380,000 estimate.

Indo-China War in Eighth Year and Hanoi Folk Used to It

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—Every night church bells summon the faithful in misty Old Hanoi. Heavy guns rumble on the nearby outskirts. The devout go to worship. The others—French, German, Arab, Moroccan and Viet Namese soldiers and civilians—flock to the cafes, the tea houses, dance halls.

The Indo-China war is in its eighth year and the people in Hanoi are used to it. This city is a centre of the French Union forces, including French colonial soldiers, the Bao Dai-trained Foreign Legion, and Viet Namese troops that can call this land their own. They are at war with forces which are led by a Communist but backed by many Nationalists. These forces are known as the Vietminh. Some estimates say there are so many Vietminh sympathizers in Hanoi that Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh would never attack the city—he would endanger too many of his friends.

SAIGON INDIFFERENT

A thousand miles to the south is lost Saigon, where shops display Paris gowns and night life abounds. It, too, is under control of the French forces.

The civil population is more or less indifferent. Viet Namese and Chinese carpenters work all day building hundreds of new homes and apartments for people who apparently never give a thought to the war or to the presence of artillery or planes might knock down some of these new buildings some day.

Many now believe a military victory by either side is an impossibility unless far more troops and supplies are poured into the fight. They hope the Big Five conference in Geneva in April and the conference of prime ministers of southern Asia in Ceylon in May will help end the riddle.

Gen. Henri Navarre, commander-in-chief of French Union forces, says:

"We have here a politico-military war. It is only when the Viet Namese government will have won the confidence of the people that victory will be possible."

BAO DAI HAS PROBLEMS

Where lies the root of this? Also Dai, has been trying to set up a national army without success. Precisely almost half of the 12,000,000 Viet Namese living in the area controlled by Bao Dai's government are directly aiding the Vietminh or inactively supporting them out of sympathy for Ho Chi Minh. But only a fraction of the population is really Communist. Most are just anti-French. Many are anti-Communist.

To gain Viet Namese approval, Bao Dai must take a firm attitude toward France. But until Viet Nam's fledgling army is a great deal bigger and better trained French forces are the only protection against the Vietminh, and Bao Dai cannot remain in power without them.

Meantime there is an Alice-in-Wonderland aspect to the situation. The forces on both sides cannot go anywhere militarily because it takes all their strength to stay where they are.

Two Sentenced To Be Hanged Next May 18th

SUDBURY (CP)—Two Montreal youths were sentenced Wednesday to be hanged May 18. They were convicted of murder in the beating death Oct. 3 of bush worker Frank Asselin.

Asked if they had anything to say before sentence was passed, Emile Sedard, 17, and Jean Guy Henaire 19, both of Montreal, said they were innocent.

The two were charged along with Robert Deslauriers, 20, also of Montreal. Deslauriers chose to be tried separately and will go to trial next Monday.

Asselin's battered body was discovered on a sandy sideroad four miles north of Sudbury. Police said they believed Asselin, who once worked in St. Catharines, was driven there in an automobile and fatally beaten and robbed after asking the way to a bootlegger's.

Hennine's lawyer, Gerald Kinman, said in his address to the jury it was Deslauriers who got into a fight with Asselin on the sideroad. He said Deslauriers, not Hennine or Sedard, was responsible for the slaying.

CAME FROM TORONTO

He called the two youths the "ugly ducklings" of the group. He said they were brought to Sudbury from Toronto by Deslauriers and a girl, Blanche Deschaperon, by Deslauriers' car.

Leo McKinnon, Sedard's counsel, said his client could not have taken part in the alleged conspiracy to rob Asselin, since none of the witnesses accused Sedard of taking any part of the $47 said to have been stolen from the victim.

Mr. Justice R. W. Treleaven took nearly an hour for his charge to the jury. He said the only possible verdicts were guilty of murder or not guilty.

Upset Stomach; Nerves On Edge, Couldn't Sleep Until She Took Syntona

MRS. WINNIFRED HUGHES

"So Much Better Now That Even My Work Seems Easier"... also Relieved Headache, Dizzy Spells, Backache.

"I would like to tell every person suffering as I did about the good results I got by taking Syntona," said Mrs. Winnifred J. Hughes, 100 Maple Street, London, Ontario, in a recent interview.

"I was terribly upset and I was feeling so tired and nervous all the time that I didn't know what to do. I suffered from constipation, had headaches, poor appetite, and felt badly in other ways. Sour stomach and nervousness were my worst troubles. I went to bed at 11 o'clock and couldn't get asleep. I had a nagging backache all the time and pains in my legs and joints.

"I got so that the Pure Herbal Medicine help you as it has so many others! Syntona relieves Constipation, improves and tones up entire system.

We not let the Pure Herbal Medicine help you as it has so many others! Syntona relieves Constipation, improves and tones up entire system.

Syria's Dictator Flees to Lebanon As Army Revolts

Man Deposed in 1951 Coup Likely to Be New President

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Syria's deposed dictator, Gen. Adib Shishekly, fled into neighboring Lebanon early today as leaders of an army revolt appealed in control of his country's major cities.

The first act of the new regime was to release 12 political leaders who had been imprisoned by Shishekly and ask them to consider the formation of a coalition national regime.

Shishekly, his brother Salah, and his adjutant drove across the border after midnight following Thursday's swift army uprising and an ultimatum that the dictator resign the presidency and get out of Syria within 24 hours.

The new regime in Beirut's Saudi Arabian legation. Speculation in the Lebanese capital was that they would continue on to that country.

The rebel army command now in control in Damascus, the Syrian capital, telephoned Lebanon's president Camille Chamoun Thursday to assure him of their "good intentions" toward Lebanon. He declined between southern Syria and the Mediterranean for many years after the First World War was joined with it as a French mandate.

The rebel command kept a tight rein on correspondents in Damascus. Only two briefed dispatches.)

Gen. Shawkat Shukairy, chief of the Syrian general staff, issued an appeal from Damascus Thursday night for the country of 3,000,000, mostly Moslems, to keep calm. He said the army is "the only responsible unit in the country's defence."

SEEN PROBABLE LEADER

It appears likely that former president Hashem Bey Atassi, deposed by Shishekly in December, 1951, in a bloodless coup, will head Syria's new government. Atassi is president of the National Assembly.

Atassi's elevation was demanded Thursday in a broadcast by rebel army leaders in north Syria, who installed the revolt there by taking over the major city of Aleppo.

(In London, the Syrian embassy's press attache said Shishekly's overthrow means Atassi would be installed president. If he has not already done so.)

Shishekly, army chief of staff since 1949 until he came to power, survivor of 26 assassination attempts, was forced to step down in his resignation later to the assembly speaker that he was quits to the country in order to get a contract," Mr. Frost said. "As long as I am head of the government I will tolerate no checkoff of any kind."

NOT MENTIONED

Mr. Doucett said no campaign funds "in any way, shape or form" were mentioned in contract negotiations.

Mr. Wren suggested Wednesday that there was a connection between the Progressive Conservative party and the Liberal administration at Fort William.

Mr. Roland Michener, Mr. Sinclair's statement was "mean, vicious talk" and a "disservice to the people."

Mr. Salsberg said the government in dropping rent controls had "committed a very serious offence against that section of the people that needs it most."

Premier Frost denied Mr. Salsberg's charges that the government sided anti-labor forces during the strikes in the northeastern Ontario gold mines.

No Uranium is Found In Oka Area Samples

QUEBEC (CP) — Deputy Mines Minister Dufresne said Thursday no specimens containing uranium have yet been submitted to the mines research laboratories from the Oka region, 40 miles northwest of Montreal.

Mr. Dufresne said radio-active traces have been found in samples submitted from the area, but none of these included uranium.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — Synopsis: Skies are cloudy across southern Ontario this morning and clear elsewhere in the province. By noon sunshine will be general across Ontario.

A disturbance moving eastward from the Prairies will reach the Great Lakes early Saturday. Cloudy skies and some light snow will accompany it.

Children Form Living Map To Greet Queen

MOUNT GAMBIER, Australia (AP) — Four hundred school children formed a living map of Australia today to greet Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh on their arrival here by plane from Melbourne.

Their plane circled over the human map, giving the royal couple a full view of it.

Tall boys holding the flag of each state stood on the positions of the capital cities.

Below the map, the word "welcome" was spelled out by girls in white frocks.

Mount Gambier's population had swelled to 50,000-five times its normal size—for the visit.

The Queen and her husband were due back in Melbourne tonight.

Premier Denies Charges Made By Members

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Frost and a member of his cabinet have denied opposition charges that Progressive Conservative party campaign funds came from donations received with the letting of government contracts.

The premier and Attorney-General Dana Porter denied statements made in the legislature by Joseph Andrew and Albert Wren (Lib.-Lee's Kenora). They were supported by W. G. Beech (PC—York South).

Mr. Frost interrupted Mr. Salsberg during the latter's opening debate when the member, in discussing irregularities in the Fort William letting of the highway department said the situation was aided by "the collection of election funds by the party."

"No one has to come to this government to get a decision of the government and make a contribution to the party in order to get a contract," Mr. Frost said. "As long as I am head of the government I will tolerate no checkoff of any kind."

NOT MENTIONED

Mr. Doucett said no campaign funds "in any way, shape or form" were mentioned in contract negotiations.

Mr. Wren suggested Wednesday that there was a connection between the Progressive Conservative party and the Liberal administration at Fort William.

Mr. Roland Michener, Mr. Sinclair's statement was "mean, vicious talk" and a "disservice to the people."

Mr. Salsberg said the government in dropping rent controls had "committed a very serious offence against that section of the people that needs it most."

Premier Frost denied Mr. Salsberg's charges that the government sided anti-labor forces during the strikes in the northeastern Ontario gold mines.

Tighter Control Of Credit Through Banks Endorsed

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons Thursday night passed a resolution by a government bill to give the Bank of Canada tighter control of credit through chartered banks.

The measure, which Finance Minister Abbott declared would be used sparingly as an anti-inflation device, got second reading without objection from the opposition parties. It now goes to a House committee for study.

Major provision in the bill—an amendment to the Bank of Canada Act—would give the central bank power to change the ratio of cash reserves that banks must keep on hand in relation to its deposits.

Winds Whip Destructive Gales Around British Isles and Norway

LONDON (AP) — Capricious winds whipped destructive gales around the British Isles today, brought foolhound Norway its heaviest snowfall in five years and turned warm with rain further south in Europe, threatening the deep freeze that had clogged northern Europe's seaports.

Germany's North sea and Baltic ports, icebound for weeks, welcomed the breakup, and icebreakers began freeing ships which had been locked in the frozen seas.

More than three feet of snow in southern Norway clogged roads, delayed trains, tore up pipes and broke down communication lines.

The winds turned to heavy gales around the British isles and churned up huge waves in the North sea, the English channel and the Irish sea, damaging property and ripping down communication lines in many coastal areas. Two ships flashed word that they were in trouble off the English channel but needed help.

60-ton four-engined airliner taking off from Shannon airport in southern Ireland was blown off the runway and mired down in four feet of soft ground. None of the 56 passengers aboard was hurt.

High winds blew down a 30-foot section of a hospital wall in Birmingham, England, killing several patients and medical attendants in a ward.

UNCLAIMED BANK BALANCES RISE TO $6,000,000

Public Privileged To Examine Documents

OTTAWA (CP)—Unclaimed bank balances on the books of Canada's chartered banks and the Bank of Canada have risen to nearly $6,000,000.

The accounts department reported Thursday that the chartered banks had about $2,117,000 in unclaimed balances at Dec. 31, 1953. This was an increase of about $331,000, compared with the corresponding date in the previous year. Another $3,606,000 is held by the Bank of Canada. This sum includes balances, other than dividends on bank stocks, which have not been claimed over a 10-year period.

The names of the depositors with unclaimed balances are contained in 15 bulky documents prepared by the chartered banks and tabled in the Commons by the finance department. The public may examine the documents, but the department cannot undertake to furnish information to inquirers unless it is provided with the name and branch of bank where the depositor has funds belonging to him.

The balances held by the Bank of Canada also may be claimed on the same basis. The owner will receive all his deposit, plus interest for a period of not more than 10 years. The department advises against making any attempts to locate rightful owners of unclaimed balances.

SOME LARGE ACCOUNTS

The bulk of the unclaimed money is in small accounts less than $100. However, there are hundreds of accounts which amount to more than $1,000, and many range from $2,000 to $5,000.

The largest account represents a small fortune. It totals $125,000 and belongs to L. Lazar, whose last known address was Esplanada App., No. 7, Takstim, Istanbul, Turkey. Mr. Satar deposited the money in a Montreal branch of the Royal Bank of Canada several years ago. The last transaction in his name at the bank was May 31, 1948.

Another small fortune belongs to Mrs. Margaret Louisa Maitland-Fetherstonhaugh, apparently lives in London, England. She has at least $98,000 deposited in a number of Canadian banks.

German Army Is Made Legal

BONN (AP)—The West German Bundestag (lower house) today approved constitutional changes authorizing the arming of half a million German soldiers in service in the proposed European army.

The vote was 336 to 144.

The decision represented an important victory for pro - Western Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who has based his foreign policy on friendship with the United States and politically to free Europe. For the two constitutional changes push through today, he needed a step in nearer reality.

Adenauer's coalition maintains that these changes wipe out the last legal obstacle to Germany to the plan to create a 2,000,000-man force to help defend Europe.

The changes, which the parliament have approved the army bill itself will start March 4. No date was set for the start of negotiations with Czechoslovakia.

The foreign office said the initiative for reopening negotiations came from the Communist countries in all three cases.

Speaking in the House of Commons Thursday, Churchill said he does not expect a European army should fix any traffic in military equipment or certain machine tools which could be used for a war build-up; but a substantial relaxation of the restrictions affecting manufactured goods, new materials and shipping would undoubtedly be beneficial.

AID DISASTER AREAS

TORONTO (CP)—Coppers, nickels and dimes contributed last year by more than 1,000,000 members of the Canadian Junior Red Cross added up to $133,597 in International relief. The annual report of the junior society said more than $100,000 of this amount was given as emergency disaster relief. Clothing and other articles contributed by the children themselves were valued at $24,344.

Canada's 614-Million Bushel Wheat Crop Begging Buyers

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's 614,000,000-bushel wheat crop is going begging for buyers.

Trade Minister Howe said Thursday in the Commons that, so far, none of the 1953 wheat crop, second largest in history, has been sold.

For that reason, he informed Hazen Argue (CCF — Assiniboia), the Canadian wheat board cannot, at present, make any interim payment to Western producers participating in the 1953-54 wheat board pool.

He touched on current problems as he announced a long-delayed interim for the 1952-53 pool. The board will distribute $58,282,000 to farmers as final payment on the pool's operation.

This amounts to an average of 10.934 cents a bushel on the 533,000,000 bushels delivered to the board in the crop year Aug. 1, 1952, to July 31, 1953.

It brings to $1.816 a bushel, basis No. 1 Northern, the total price paid to the farmer for his 1952-53 wheat, compared with $1.83 paid in the previous crop year.

Mr. Argue expressed fear that the close-out prices announced "are quite satisfactory." But he wanted to know whether the government would this year, as it has in recent years, make an interim payment on the current wheat crop.

NO INTERIM PAYMENT

The government's policy will be announced in due course, replied Mr. Howe, but he could say "an interim payment will not be made at the present time for the very good reason that we have not sold any wheat from the last crop."

Though Mr. Howe gave no further detail, it is generally known that wheat sales are lagging. On top of the 614,000,000 bushels produced in 1953, Canada also carried over 362,700,000 bushels of unsold wheat from the previous crop year.

On Jan. 1 Canada still had about 700,000,000 bushels of unsold wheat, well up from the 580,200,000 on Jan. 1, 1953.

In the past, the mid-year interim payment has helped farmers bear financial costs of spring seeding operations. It now appears the board, outside of the $58,282,000, will make no further distribution of funds until the spring navigation season opens and Canada is able to sell more wheat.

Britain to Resume Talks On Trade With Red Lands

LONDON (CP)—The foreign office said tonight that trade talks will be resumed next month with Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The announcement followed a plea by Prime Minister Churchill in the House of Commons Thursday for Anglo-American co-operation in easing the Western ban on sale of strategic goods to Russia. Secret talks on the matter are between American and British officials here on possible revision of the ban.

The foreign office announcement said trade talks between Britain and Communist Hungary will open in London March 15. Talks with Poland will start March 4. No date was set for the start of negotiations with Czechoslovakia.

The foreign office said the initiative for reopening negotiations came from the Communist countries in all three cases.

Speaking in the House of Commons Thursday, Churchill said he does not expect a European army should fix any traffic in military equipment or certain machine tools which could be used for a war build-up; but a substantial relaxation of the restrictions affecting manufactured goods, new materials and shipping would undoubtedly be beneficial.

St. Laurent Says New Delhi Visit Memorable One

NEW DELHI (CP) — Canada's tourist prime minister bade fare-well today to India's prime minister Nehru, and said his visit to this country will remain one of the most memorable experiences of my life."

Prime Minister St. Laurent then left for Bombay by air and arrived later in the morning. He will also visit Madras and talk with Indian leaders outside the capital before proceeding to Ceylon during the week-end on the next leg of his round-the-world goodwill tour.

Nehru, his daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, and a large crowd including the diplomatic corps members of the Canadian high commission staff were on hand to see the Canadian leader.

Nehru presented his guest with an album of photographs of the New Delhi visit which began Feb. 21, longest stop on the prime minister's tour.

"We are very heavily on the part played by the nations of the East and the West in the world," because their influence is considerable," the Canadian leader told reporters before the take-off in his RCAF C-5 transport.

During the final handshake with Nehru, the Canadian prime minister was overheard saying: "The time I spent with you in New Delhi will remain one of the most memorable experiences of my life."

Nehru replied: "No, the pleasure has been entirely mine."

LAWYER PROPOSES FEDERAL CONTROL OF DRIVING LAWS

Says Country Faced With Great Slaughter

OTTAWA (CP)—A lawyer-member of Parliament has proposed that the federal government take complete control over driving laws in the face of a growing toll of highway deaths and accidents.

George Nowlan (PC—Digby-Annapolis-Kings) said Thursday the country is "faced with a great slaughter on our highways today."

He admitted there are constitutional problems in the provincial jurisdiction, but said Parliament has power to declare what criminal things come under criminal law.

The establishment of centralized highway traffic had reached the stage where it was properly within the scope of the federal parliament.

Mr. Nowman spoke as the Commons turned to a general discussion of traffic accidents during a study of the new Criminal Code.

Other speakers joined in his appeal for action to make the highways safer but not all supported it. It is the federal government's problem.

PROVINCIAL MATTER

Justice Minister Garson said the place to prevent fatal accidents is in the licensing of drivers. Provincial legislatures were responsible for licensing, rules of the road and policing.

He agreed with the seriousness of the problem, but added: "Where are powerless to accomplish anything in the criminal field."

Opposition speakers urged the present traffic conditions are "little short of murder in many cases." There should be stricter control of driving habits.

Police should be more strict in ensuring that trucks obey the law. Some trucks were "little short of freight trains" and blocked the view of motorists behind.

"Their very size and the extent to which they block the ordinary view are contributing greatly to many accidents."

Walter Shaw, Liberal (PC — London) said more stringent suspension of driving privileges would make people realize that "highways are places where care is required and they are not the private facet of modern living."

Walton Newcombe (PC—Oxford), a former crown attorney, suggested a three-month minimum sentence for drivers convicted of criminal negligence, drunken and impaired driving.

SERIES OF SALES TRAINING FILMS WILL BE SHOWN

The second series of sales training films will be shown merchants and retail clerks on Monday and Tuesday at the Y.M.C.A. building, it was announced at the weekly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

Ralph Chatham of the Belleville Industrial Commission, William Argue, in a letter to the directors Thursday, invited the Chamber's newly organized Industrial Committee to meet with members of the Industrial Committee in the near future.

A number of other items of business were set aside until the meeting of the board next week.

The application for membership in the Chamber of Commerce, submitted by Pollock Shoes, was approved by the board.

DEADLINE EXTENDED

Residents will have another 19 days in which to obtain their 1954 motor licenses and driver permits. The deadline has been extended to March 17. According to a report, it will be the final extension granted.

Y Golf School Starts Tuesday

Considerable interest is being shown in the community, to the Golf School organized by the Provincial Education Dept. of the local Y.M.C.A., which starts next Monday, March 1st at 8:15 p.m. Inquiries and registrations are expecting the Golf Committee's expectations.

Due to a big and insisting demand by ladies wishing to enroll on the Golf Committee, headed by Mr. Homer Townsend, has made arrangements to provide one of the two locker rooms in the "Y" for his use by ladies, so that both men and women may take advantage of this unique opportunity.

Mike Acquatredde, another leading amateur player of our district, has been added to the list of instructors. The others are Dr. G. V. Faulkner, Tommy Carruthers, Val Smith, Spence Wonnacott and Joey Pidutti.

The entire YMCA gym will be taken over for golf instruction during 8.15-9.30 p.m. each Monday. There will be enough large hanging nets, plus balcony, a number of mats and enough instructors on hand, so that 8 to 10 students will be occupied at a time. This will minimize waiting times between instruction periods.

Students are asked to bring their own clubs and wear rubber shoes. The YMCA will provide golf balls and instruction. It will also provide clubs for individual clubs, should students wish to leave them at the "Y", instead of carrying them back and forth.

Plans for Legion Trade Fair In Armories Made

Arrangements for the fourth annual Belleville Trade Fair are off to a good start, according to a report from the Committee in charge, when it met at the Legion Hall recently. A spokesman described this year's show as being "bigger and better than previous shows."

This year's show is scheduled to be held from April 1 to 3 inclusive at the Bridge Street Armouries. The space committee reports booth sales are progressing satisfactorily and several new exhibits have already been booked including some from out of town.

Merchandise exhibits are expected to draw a record crowd over last year, the committee reports a few spaces are still available, however, which it is hoped these will be rented long before the opening date.

The 1954 fair is expected to take on somewhat of an outdoor flavour this year, with the erection of one of the merchandise displays. Included with this display, Gordon Dunval, Canadian spin fly casting champion, will make a personal appearance to demonstrate his art. Two other rod and line performers are expected for the following evenings. This portion of the program has been arranged by a local sporting goods manufacturer.

Along with this, other entertainment has been booked for Thursday and Friday evenings. One of the shows to be presented includes a musical novelty act featuring a group of girls in giant screen and television. This entertainer came to the Belleville district from New York City. The other show introduces to the city Evelynne Johnston, female comedy star.

On Saturday, Marjorie's Marionettes are the featured attraction and will give several performances, including a matinee for the benefit of those unable to attend the evening performances.

Hastings Meets Wellington In Playoff Tonight

The "Iron Dukes" of Wellington clash with the Hastings team tonight in Memorial Arena in a Trent Valley Hockey League semi-final-and-final playoff. The teams are said to be evenly matched and both clubs fight-hard-ing for survival the game should be one of the best "Valley" features of the year. The game gets under way at 8.30.

Obituary

CLARENCE WILLIAM GLADNEY.

The funeral of Clarence William Gladney was held Wednesday afternoon with service at St. Andrew's United Church at Marmora, being conducted by Rev. K. J. Crawford of Marmora, assisted by Rev. Duncan McTavish of Bridge St. United Church in Belleville. Interment was in Marmora Cemetery.

The bearers were Arthur Sweet, Vincent Lynch, Ralph Neal, Roy Smith, Solly Jones and Earl Prentice.

MRS. LILY A. MARTIN.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lily A. Martin were held at Christ Church Wednesday afternoon, where service was conducted by Venerable Archdeacon J. R. Cresswell. Interment was in Belleville Cemetery.

The bearers were Kenneth Yorke, J. Reid, James Wright, Bryson Leslie, Maurice Button and Gerald O'Brien.

FRANCIS A. KEEGAN.

In ill health for the past three months, Francis A. Keegan, 76, Front Street, died in the Belleville General Hospital, late Thursday morning.

A lifelong resident of Foster Ward, he was well known and highly respected. His whole life practically revolved around the waterfront, which he was born and loved. He was an ardent angler and knew the bay waters better than anyone along the front. For many years he conducted a boat building establishment, a boat livery and sale of all kinds of bait.

It was always a pleasure to drop in to have a chat with Frank, for he was familiarly called. He liked people and was never too busy to give the time of day on the topics of the day. His death will be sincerely regretted by a wide circle of friends.

He was born in Belleville, 88 years ago, the son of the late Patrick and Ellen Keegan and lived all his life in Foster Ward. A member of St. Thomas' Church, he is survived by his wife, the former Margaret Cousins, two sons, Ald. Arthur Keegan, James Keegan and one step-son, Thomas Ashley all of this city, two daughters, Mrs. Ernest Bleasdale of Toronto, Miss Vera Keegan at home, one brother, Fred Keegan of this city and seven grandchildren.

Resting at the Pinkston Funeral Home, 49 Victoria Avenue at Church St. Funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

JAMES MILLER CARL.
(Coburg—Belleville.)

Stricken with a heart attack at the home of Mrs. Annie Greenlaw, Coboung, where he was residing, James Miller Carl, formerly of this district, died suddenly this Friday morning.

The late Mr. Carl was born in Thurlow township, 80 years ago, being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Carl and resided in this city and district for many years until his home in Coboung several years ago. He was well known and highly respected in this community and while a resident here took an active part in civic and fraternal affairs. Fraternally he was a member of LOL No. 3 of Foxboro and the Royal Black Preceptory Chapter No. 322 also of Foxboro and could be seen at every Orange Walk in the district.

He took an active interest in the cheese industry and with the late James Irwin helped with many cheese shows. He was an income tax consultant. He was the last of his family.

The late Mr. Carl was a member of the United Church.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home. Funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

K of C Entertains Past Knights, Charter Member

The Knights of Columbus Hall on Front Street was packed on Tuesday night, when the Council entertained the living Past Grand Knights of the order and the only living charter member and also a Past Grand Knight, Walter N. Belair. Mr. Belair, through illness, was not able to be present, but sent his regrets in a well-worded letter, expressing thanks for the invitation and hoping for the Council many years of continued success.

Past State Deputy A. Bernard Collins presided in the chair and was assisted by J. V. C. Trudeau, Frank Corrigan, Maurice Callaghan, Robert Kitchen, Harry O'Neil, Frank Domenico, Robert Mohen, Hubert Gale, George O'Brien, all Past Grand Knights of the Council. After the business meeting was concluded the evening was turned over to the Lecturer, Frank Domenico, and A. B. Collins introduced the speaker of the evening, District Deputy Leo Abeles of Gananoque. Bro. Abeles held high tribute to the local Council and the Order stating at the present time there were over 4 million members. Appreciation was expressed by Grand Knight Joe Quinn of Trenton.

Past District Deputy Bernard Leader of Gananoque paid special tribute to Walter N. Belair. He was presented with a pin by Mr. Belair and Dr. F. R. Dale gave a thumbnail sketch of each of the other Past Grand Knights and they also were presented with pins by Mr. Abeles. Other speakers were Grand Knight O'Malley of Trenton, G. K. Godies of Kingston, Tony Quinn of Tweed, G. K. Walsh of Read, Charles Ross of Kingston and Grand Knight George Orrins, Very Rev. L. B. Garvin, Rev. C. E. Bricelad of Tweed and Rev. J. Buckley also spoke briefly.

A fine buffet lunch and a social hour closed a most delightful evening.

Film on Turkey Much Enjoyed By Large Crowd

Karl Robinson's outstanding technicolor picture, "Adventure In Turkey" charged the minds of a near capacity audience in the Belleville Collegiate last night about Turkey as a land of fez and veil, sleeping in the Mediterranean sun at the crossroads of two continents.

This picture, the fifth in the Kiwanis Club's "World Travel and Adventure Series", showed a busy nation of 23 million people making tremendous strides forward as a self-governing democracy in a land as old as mankind and in a setting more modern than downtown Belleville.

This unique picture was better than a magic carpet tour of Turkey. From busy Ankara, capital city of the Turkish republic, throbbing with the activity of 300,000 people, to deserted Roman ruins on the dusty central plains, Turkey emerged as a fascinating picture subject, at all times different from the pre-conceived ideas of an audience that was left gasping in wonder.

DIVIDED IN TWO GROUPS

The picture, divided by Mr. Robinson into town and country sequements, superimposed the spirit of new Turkey and its architectural, industrial, economic and social revolution, on a background of ancient civilizations and cultures, Roman aquaducts and modern hydro-electric developments, camel caravans on hardtop superhighways, diesel trains and donkeys, hermits caves and architecturally advanced homes and apartment buildings, home looms and humming textile factories, conveyed dramatically the contrast between the Turkey of the past and the Turkey of the last 30 years.

Scenes of Muslim mosques and Christian churches presented out of place in a land whose cities are very much like newer suburbs in Canada and in the United States.

SHOWS MANY SCENES

The picture included scenes taken in Ankara, the capital city; Istanbul, ancient capital of the Ottoman empire, and Izmir, the city whose Turkish silk is made. Also shown were beautiful scenes of rural areas where fruit, tobacco, figs and grapes are grown. There were magnificent pictures of hand made Turkish rugs.

Turkey, a land parched for lack of water, showed how it burst into magnificent bloom wherever water was available. There were beautiful pictures of landscaped gardens, public parks and beaches.

Mr. Robinson's fluent narration, touched with admiration for a tough, hardy race that has accomplished much for their own advancement in the last three decades, added immeasurably to the enjoyment of this excellent film.

Trenton Cottons To Build Plant At Stirling

The Trent Cotton Company Ltd., of Trenton, will build a branch factory in the Stirling area costing $350,000 and to employ approximately 75 persons when in full operation.

According to the Stirling News Argus the company has purchased the farm of C. B. Rollins fronting on Main street and will build a new textile plant.

The paper quoted C. A. Baker, manager of the Trent Cotton Company Ltd., as saying that Stirling had been chosen as the site for the branch plant because of its being easily accessible by provincial highways and because of its having available the type of manufacturing facilities required.

No announcement was made as to when building operations will commence or the nature of the product to be manufactured.

Mr. Baker said that when the new plant is in operation it will employ about 75 persons, half of them men.

Calgary Soldier Facing Charge Of Abduction

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Cpl. Stanley Kopinski, 22, a native of Calgary, will appear in court today on a charge of abducting Margaret Sisson of Watford, 18-year-old business school student here.

Kopinski, a member of the First Battalion, Royal Canadian Regiment, is charged with forcing Miss Sisson into his car at knife-point Monday night and driving her along country roads for five hours while he told her the story of his life and his views on the army.

Army authorities said Kopinski, a veteran of Korea, went absent without leave Monday. He was arrested Thursday and his car impounded by police.

Assault Charge Laid

TORONTO (CP) — Harvey Busher Jackson, 43, former member of Toronto Maple Leafs famed "Kid Line" of hockey, was arrested early today in suburban Etobicoke on a charge of assaulting his wife. He was later released on $1,000 bail.

Police said Mrs. Jackson had a black eye.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — Prices were mixed and trading quiet in forenoon trading.

Western oils and base metals were slightly stronger. Golds and industrials slipped.

First-hour volume was 417,000 shares.

Papers, steels, foods, liquors and manufactures were lower as the industrials slipped and Utilities and refining oils were higher and financial institutions were steady. Ford was up 50 cents.

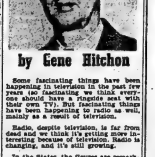
Western oils advanced with a few issues fairly large gain in light trading. Canadian Prospect was up 50 cents. Peace River added 25 and Canada Southern was up 20.

Golds were quiet. Kerr-Addison showed a 25 cent loss. Lattons and prospects were mixed. Holding companies showed a little strength.

Base metals' activity was concentrated in the Manitouwadge-Lake issues with Geco gaining 37½ cents. In juniors, Opemiska was down nine cents.

Uraniums were quiet.

Weekly Livestock Review



TORONTO (CP) — Brandable steers sold strong to 25 cents higher at the Ontario stockyards this week.

Prices were steady on other grades with a dull closing trade on common to medium classes. Lambs dropped $1 while hogs closed 30 cents higher. Calves were steady.

A heavy cattle run of 8,290 including 330 westerns, exceeded last week's receipts by 2,000 head. Choice light and weighty steers $18-19; few $19.25; good steers $17-18; medium downward to $16; few plain steers and heifers as low as $12. Good heifers $15.50-16; few $16.50; medium $14-15.50; good cows $11-11.50; few $12; canners and cutters downward to $7. Good heavy bulls $19-19.50; choice feed yearlings $20-21; medium downward to $17. Few good western stockers $16-17; one lot $17.50; plain stockers downward to $13. Calves totalled 1,300 head with good to choice vealers making $27-29; common to medium $15-26; few grassers $10-13.

Hogs were 2,953 head. Grade A hogs closed higher at $23.50; few dressed sows $26; stags $18.

Sheep and lambs totalled 300 with lambs selling lower at $22.50 for good feed-lots. Common to medium lambs $17-20. Common to medium sheep $4-7; few good light sheep $8-10.

TV NEWS

by Gene Hitchon

Some fascinating things have been happening in television in the past few years (so fascinating we think everyone should have a gigantic seat with their own TV). But fascinating things don't necessarily mean that they are basically as a result of television.

Radio, despite television, is far from dead and we think it's getting more interesting. The type of interesting radio is changing, and it's still growing.

In the States, the figures are remarkable. The number of radio homes is still growing, some two million were added last year. The number of sets in use is growing, too. Even the number across the line and those who are using many homes with two or more radios in them are homes with just one.

And here is one of the most interesting changes, so that can help you fit radio into your TV home: the radio has been kicked upstairs. In two-thirds of all homes with radios, the radio is not in the living room.

This means people are using the radio to help them along through the day, to listen as a background while the children are done (or the housewives is fiddled with). Radios have moved into the bedroom to help people get to sleep and wake up again.

Radio stations are doing their part by preparing more programs to please special tastes, and the minorities of interest, they've discovered, add up to a majority.

Yes as you've probably discovered yourself, even after you have, there's still a place for radio in the home (in a radio to give a variety of Electrohome models to suit the most discriminating taste, drop around to Graham's RADIO & TELEVISION, 8 Bridge East Bart. Our phone number is 84.

P.S. To answer the questions some of you folks have been directing at us regarding RADIO KINGSTON's affiliation with the station WORK discussed briefly in connection with WIRK's chief problem, C.K.C. O'Neill and have some encouraging news to dispense:

Radio Kingston's new 5,000 watt will go from its present 950 kc. to 590 kc. which will be accompanied with an increased in antenna height about the same time and undoubtedly mean much better reception of this station by residents of this area. So the only thing that will be left to do is for that heavy bad trouble getting, dear old Kingston WIRC is to be patient, better days are on the way.

United Church Minister Defends Quebec Methods

TORONTO (CP)—Methods used by Roman Catholics in combatting "undesirable ideologies" and moral laxitude in Quebec deserve a better understanding of motives than they usually receive outside the province, a United Church spokesman said Saturday night.

Rev. Ivor D. Williams of Montreal told the board of evangelism and social service that relations between Catholic and Protestant churches in Quebec "continue along friendly and tolerant lines."

He said the non-resident observer sees what appears to be a determined effort to drive liberal thought and action out of the province as a result of a recent amendment to the Quebec Freedom of Worship Act, aimed at restricting activities of the Jehovah Witnesses sect.

ANSWERS COURT RULING

The general belief, Mr. Williams said, was that the proposed amendment was an answer to a Supreme Court of Canada ruling on sentencing in Quebec City.

"This amendment probably reflects the temper and viewpoint of French-Canadian Roman Catholics respecting this sect," he added. "From their viewpoint the amendment represents no breach of civil or religious right against a legally organized religious group, but a necessary act of self-defence."

He suggested that non-Catholics must understand the Catholics' point of view and show the way to control extreme and often socially disastrous views without resorting to prohibition.

He said the amendment to the Freedom of Worship Act will probably strengthen the existing Protestant groups, and even work to their advantage in case of needed protection against the rare case of "abuse" by Roman Catholic groups.

Manitoba's Legislators Raise Own Pay

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A $300 a year increase for members has been approved in principle in the Manitoba legislature.

The increase would bring indemnities in line with the $3,000 paid legislators in other western provinces.

Cabinet ministers' salaries are not set by statute but they too will get increases.

In the Nova Scotia legislature, leader Robert L. Stanfield said the province's industries are in a bad state and the federal and provincial governments "have failed utterly to cope with the problems."

He had faith in the economy of Canada and the future but "disaster can occur if the men at the helm do not preserve a constant lookout for danger."

Sounds of desk-pounding and heckling filled the legislature buildings yesterday in Quebec and Saskatchewan.

Youth minister Sauve of Quebec charged Rene Hamel (L-St. Maurice) and Paul Emile Cote (L—Terrebonne) with making "wild charges." Flushed with anger, Mr. Sauve said the Quebec government had placed the question of scholarships above politics.

FAVORITISM CHARGED

Mr. Hamel had charged government favoritism in awarding scholarships. Mr. Cloutier said his two sons received scholarships totalling $600 and not $1,100 as the minister had said earlier.

Mr. Sauve described Mr. Hamel's charges as "lying."

To the outburst at Regina, a Liberal member said Attorney-General J. W. Corman should "do his duty" and prosecute J. G. Rawlinson, managing director of Financial Agencies Limited, which sold government insurance.

Herman Danielson said Mr. Rewlik should be prosecuted for conspiracy to bribe Saskatchewan government officials.

Last year a committee conducted a five-week investigation into charges Mr. Rawlik paid "kickbacks" for business directed too the firm to Provincial Treasurer C. M. Fines and M. F. Allore, then manager of the Saskatchewan government insurance office.

Both had denied the charge and the committee, by a split vote, adopted a report which said the charges were unfounded.

LIVES ARE IMPORTANT.

It was encouraging to learn that Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent endorses the proposal by Nehru that an effort be made to arrange a truce in Indo-China.

While the possibility that the conference to be held at Geneva in April may result in a settlement of the Indo-China war, it is certainly desirable that further bloodshed be avoided if at all possible.

Under some circumstances it might legitimately be argued that a cease-fire would only assist the Reds in allowing them to build up their strength, or to avoid an imminent defeat.

But no circumstances of this nature appear to exist in Indo-China today. The Vietminh forces are not on the brink of destruction—indeed they appear to be on the offensive. The season of the year is one in which campaigning, rather than build-up, has become customary in this war. No colossal sacrifices for the exchange of prisoners would appear necessary. All that is required is that the opposing forces agree to stop firing at each other. The Vietminh will accept such a truce, there is no other. If the Vietminh will accept it, there is no reason why the fighting should not cease.

Nehru's suggestion has not been well received in the United States. Two responsible sources suggest themselves. One is a distrust of Nehru. The other is a distrust of appeasement. But it is difficult to see what appeasement there is in an agreement to stop fighting temporarily until a conference between whether it is possible to stop fighting permanently. As for the U.S. distrust of Nehru, that involves many factors. But in this instance Nehru is showing a concern for human lives—and there are important. By concern for human lives—and there are important. By concern for human lives Nehru's pies, St. Laurent is focussing the supporting of Nehru's pies, St. Laurent is focussing the world's attention on a fact which, in these terrible mid-century years, we are becoming apt to overlook. Princ-century years, we are becoming apt to overlook. Princ-ciples are important—but so are lives. Sometimes lives ciples are important—but so are lives. Sometimes lives have to be sacrificed for principles—but lives should never be sacrificed when no important principles are at stake. And, as we said before, a cease-fire prior to a conference hardly appears to involve the sacrifice of any important principles.

"BUSH PILOTS" IN AFRICA

Almost every day brings some announcement of an advance in the science of slaughter.

Many of these new weapons are dependent upon aviation. Thus, in spite of an increasing use of heavily-moving artillery, transportation by air forces are accustomed to regard the plane as primarily a weapon of war.

In Africa, though, the plane has made possible a tremendous advance in communications. Canada a land of vast distances, Africa was plagued by many major obstacles to speedy surface transportation. The plane, flying high above sandstorms, safe from the tangle of the jungle, will within a few years occupy a pre-eminent place in African internal communications.

The French, with far-flung African colonies, early grasped the possibilities of air travel. In 1939 there were 300 aerodromes in French West Africa, 200 in French Equatorial Africa and 100 in Madagascar. The war ended—and many of these airports were overgrown by vegetation.

Today, however, the French have 230 aerodromes in Africa open to general air travel. It is true, however, that many of these aerodromes are only a single runway and many are inadequate for present traffic and for the tonnage of recently developed types of aircraft. There are numerous obstacles in developing communications, especially the climate, which is a distinct contrast between Africa and Canada. In our northland topography and climate aided the bush-pilots, providing ready-made landing fields, on water or snow-covered ice.

LIFE IN THE U.S.A.

That native in the Congo who did not want to leave the jungle he knew when it was well off.

Civilization's hazards make crocodiles and lions look tame.

Nor are all the hazards the product of man's scientific genius. The atom bomb and the automobiles are superkillers, but so-called civilized men not equipped with these weapons also make life unpleasant for thousands.

The situation was plain recently when FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover testified before a committee of Congress. Mr. Hoover said that in the first six months of 1953 there were 6,000 murders in the U.S., while 54,000 were violently assaulted by rapists or potential killers.

That means that 300 people were assaulted every day. Or, to look at it another way, if you are a resident in the United States and enjoy the Biblical life span of three score years and ten, there is one chance in twenty that at some time during your life you will have been the victim of an assault by a rapist or a potential killer.

The only factor that increases your chances of escaping scot-free is that there are some people who absorb more than their fair share of beatings.

Of course, some people are so obnoxious that they practically invite abuse.

Famous Harvard astronomer, Dr. Hawlow Shapely, has stated cautiously that there are probably 100,000,000 other planets suitable for high forms of life. Hi fellows!

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FILES OF BYGONE YEARS

25 YEARS AGO

February 26, 1929

A pressing need for warm clothing of all kinds for men and boys on the city relief lists, was reported today by the officials of the Central Relief Bureau. Clothing for school children is a great need. Donations of clothing have not been as generous as last winter.

Twenty extra men hired by the city public works department tackled this morning the job of removing the high billows and banks of snow on the congested residential streets caused by the heavy drifting over the week-end. In other sections of the home drawn graders and motorized plow ploughs are fighting what is being battle with the high drifts that block several streets. In some sidewalks are the snow bill the drifted snow is about five feet in depth. Crust has formed on the depth of sufficient thickness to allow pedestrians to walk, on the crust, but not to provide comfort. It sure has been some winter.

Mr. P. H. Wills left today for New York City and will sail from there on the American Line Steamship, Manhattan, for La Havre, France, and will proceed from there to Geneva, Switzerland, to visit his father, Mr. Henry C. Wills, who has resided in that city for a number of years.

30 YEARS AGO

February 26, 1924

Forty-three years ago the City Mission on Dundas Street east was instituted by the Rev. A. Schuster and his wife and after his death his wife carried on the great work until she died. The 43rd. anniversary was observed last evening when their chair was occupied by Mr. Charles S. Clapp. The following speakers took part in the proceedings: The Rev. Dr. A. Brown, the Rev. George Mercer Jackson, the Rev. R. J. McKetchnie. The following workers in the mission submitted reports: Mr. O. Elvins, Miss R. Templeton, Miss Maud Reeves, Mrs. Hall and Mr. Harry Flint and Mrs. M. Farley. A bouquet of flowers was presented by Miss Rita Keegan of the primary class to Mrs. Galloway, age 90 years, who is the oldest member of the Sunday School. The choir of Victoria Avenue Baptist Church led the singing.

At a meeting of the Quarterly Official Board of the Tabernacle, the pastor, the Rev. E. B. Kenner was unanimously invited to remain for another year.

February 24, 1914

Members of the Bethany Methodist Church recently visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Foster who are leaving the neighborhood to reside in Tweed. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Foster were presented with a beautiful combination oak book and writing desk accompanied with an address in which was expressed deep regret at their departure from the neighborhood. The pastor of the church, the Rev. S. A. Kemp, made a brief speech and the address was read by J. E. Cooley. The address was signed by Mr. Fred Swain, Mr. Daniel Phillips and Mr. J. E. Cooley.

Trauns are numerous; ten of them spent last night in the police station.

Mr. John A. McCoy, Madoc, has returned home after a trip to Cuba.

Mr. and Mrs. George Brown have returned home from Toronto.

50 YEARS AGO

February 26, 1904

Mr. William Johnson, who has been superintendent of Bridge Street Methodist Church Sunday School for 36 years, will attend the 99th Sunday School convention which will be held in Palestine. The trip, including all expenses is being given Mr. Johnson by the officers and teachers of the Sunday School.

A purse has been provided to cover all expenses including a visit to Hebron, the home of Mr. Johnson's early days. Many former teachers and pupils of the school have asked to be permitted in assisting in financing the trip. Mr. Johnson has been selected as one of the speakers from Canada.

The Rev. G. R. Beamish, rector of St. Thomas' Church, delivered a special Lenten sermon in St. Luke's Church, Peterborough, on Wednesday evening.

Fun With Mirrors

(New York Times)

A human being's relationship to mirrors is ont of the most intricate and interesting he can have toward any inanimate object. The initial attitude he has toward visual reflection is, as the infant's attitude seems to toward every aspect of living outside of physical discomfort, one of complete incuriosity. But the baby isn't a month old before he begins to learn to give the little thing the surprise and delight of its young life by grooping it up before a mirror and only having gotten its aimlessly rolling eyes under control a few days before, the child has its head pushed into the cold objective face of a mirror, the parents are invariably disappointed by the half-conscious reacalling all the fantasy and wonderment mirrors held in their own childhood. After that the child will respond with joyous frenzy. It seems, however, that it takes considerably more sophistication than a small baby seems to the charm and mystified by the magic of a mirror.

Of course, when that sophistication is finally reached, it is complete. First, there is the discovery that each movement is answered by a corresponding one in the smile, emotion by a parallel emotion. Everyone must have had little for ideal companion, that other being who would and could return mood whim. Later the teen-ager sophisticated baby that ideal which he will never meet; nevertheless the such perfection is laughing and gurgling and whimpering before the silvered glass. It is a way wonder-ey every child at times tries to do what other people see, through the mirror frame? Perhaps, as adults, we never completely outgrow the fascination of the boy stepping through. And maybe that infantile impossible wonderment is why we look at the corner of the mind, accounts for the ease with which our hearts and imaginations go through along with Alice when we open Lewis Carroll's book.

When the child becomes very, very sophisticated and begins realize that the mirror offers not, as he had always supposed, a true representation of reality, but what we call a mirror image. This is as fully a difficult matter for the child to grasp as, say, the alphabet of the twelve-hour, two-handed clock. The discovery that the mirror image after the child has begun to read, suddenly he notices for the first time the mirror in the table, perhaps, or the cover of a magazine in a mirror. And it is different. Not a little different, but entirely different. Is it backward? Upside-down? Inside-out? If the queried parent is very, very, very sophisticated he will be able not to explain the matter but at least to allay questions by showing the child a piece of writing through the back of the paper.

But mirrors (and the half-mirrors of shop windows and such) remain fixed in the fascination for years. There is the first sight of the double-facing mirrors in the barber shop where the child looks amazedly two ways into infinity. Then there is the problem of seeing others in mirrors and them seeing you. When a child begins figures out how to tell whether another person is watching his image in the mirror or not is pretty hard. Probably for boys when they begin watching girls, and the other way around, however age that is. Because then it is that the world itself is watched is watching in return. Some mirrors, actually, are arranged to go through life without ever discovering the answer to the mirror's strange mystery. For them let it be put on record that the watched person's image seems to be watching from the mirror it's a strong indication the other party to one reason or another, interested. To the heretofore-unaware this piece of knowledge should be invaluable.

'Charge It' Boosts Sales

(Wall Street Journal)

When Sir Isaac Newton, lolling under the apple tree, got knocked on the head he made the profound discovery that things are to be left to fall down. This had been vaguely suspected by small boys and even a few wise men, but the world got credit for the first case of formalizing common sense into a general law of physical behavior.

A dispatch from Cleveland reports that A. J. Wood and Co., a market research firm, has made a similar discovery about the notions counters of the nation's department stores and information is up in the air on female behavior.

The gist of this discovery is that when the lady has a charge account she is more apt to buy than when she has to pay cash. Translated into terms—the only terms that count in scientific research—it is found that the ladies who go into a store armed with a charge account buy something before they get out, whereas only 43 per cent of those who have to pay cash will buy anything.

Research has also probed into the psychology of the charge customeristic. It turns out, upon close study, that the ladies who charge come to be known as the Scarlet O'Hara syndrome or as the Midas-touch-in-reverse complusion.

This significant report comes just in time to cap the year-end flurry of why our New Year's budget plans are gone with the wind. The Cleveland lads had just discovered that the ladies had just disclosed to us a wide use of the charge sales when we had thought from the January bills that everything possible had been bought in December.

We don't know how long it took Mr. Wood and Company to get their hair-dos and come to such conclusions. But when the ladies of Cleveland have come to be known as the Scarlet O'Hara syndrome or as the Midas-touch-in-reverse compulsion.

Britannia Un-British

Winnipeg Free Press

Britannia pennies are probably associated in the minds of most people with the present and one would expect to find the origin of the imperial figure in the early days of the Tudor sovereigns. Yet it would appear from the British Museum, The Times of London to be a figure from antiquity which refers to Britannia. But the coin was in fact minted by Antonius Pius A.D. 138-161, who succeeded Hadrian as Emperor and like him, built a wall—between the Solway on the Forth to the Clyde). The coin was of brass and intended, according to the inscription, to celebrate one of the frequent Roman pacifications of Britain.

For many centuries, it would seem, such a figure had no relevance to the people of the island kingdom. Available accounts of Britain's history make no mention of it in the Saxon or Norman periods. Edward III issued a gold coin to reverse the figure of the king in a ship, apparently to commemorate his naval victory of Sluys.

But angels, roses, crosses, suns and lions appear, to have been the preferred symbols through many centuries before Britannia appeared. The Times article, it was not until the reign of Charles the Second that she was "borrowed" from the ancient Roman coin.

It is only a reasonable assumption that the original of Antonius Pius commemorating what was it intended to represent? Whether victory or Britannia herself is not directly implied in any case the subjugation of the British Isles is a very striking example of how the significance of a symbol can be utterly transformed in the onward sweep of history.

Deplore TV Commercials

(St. Catharines Standard).

Television, that is as provided the millions in the United States, has come in for a hot roasting. It is said that the larger part of the public will rejoice over the verdict of 100 top-level business and professional leaders, which was secured as a result of a survey made by a public relations firm. It was the unanimous opinion that the average TV commercial does not fit the man or for beast.

Until did these top-level business and professional men really say about the average commercial? It was the comment that they were, by and large "disgraceful, irritating, stupid, exaggerated, banal, puerile, raising, annoying, boring and insulting to the viewers' intellect." What's left to be said after that?

One New York newspaper states that the survey should be mandatory reading for the boys who dreamt up the commercials and the sponsors who approve of them. It may be a fine idea for the industry to acquire some wisdom and learn some valuable lessons.

Woman Keeps Her Mystery

(Detroit Free Press).

A "Transparent Woman" has gone on display at the American Museum of Natural History in New York.

She's a plastic model, of course, fashioned with loving care by a group of German scientists. They have done a mighty skillful job.

Complete with electrical wiring lights up various organs of the body as she revolves slowly on a pedestal.

Not content with his scientific marvel, a press agent is a burst of enthusiasm claims that this transparent model leaves women "literally nothing" of secrets, mystery or illusion."

That's absurd, of course. The ageless mystery of the female is not the relation of her kidneys to her liver. It's that accumulation of grey matter in the cranial cavity which makes her the despair of male creations.

A woman's mind remains about as transparent as a lump of coal.

A woman asked for a divorce because her husband threw his dinner at her. Maybe it was in a couple of cans.

Fun with Mirrors

(New York Times)

A human being's relationship to mirrors is ont of the most intricate and interesting he can have toward any inanimate object. The initial attitude he has toward visual reflection is, as the infant's attitude seems to toward every aspect of living outside of physical discomfort, one of complete incuriosity. But the baby isn't a month old before he begins to learn to give the little thing the surprise and delight of its young life by grooping it up before a mirror and only having gotten its aimlessly rolling eyes under control a few days before, the child has its head pushed into the cold objective face of a mirror, the parents are invariably disappointed by the half-conscious reacalling all the fantasy and wonderment mirrors held in their own childhood. After that the child will respond with joyous frenzy. It seems, however, that it takes considerably more sophistication than a small baby seems to the charm and mystified by the magic of a mirror.

Of course, when that sophistication is finally reached, it is complete. First, there is the discovery that each movement is answered by a corresponding one in the smile, emotion by a parallel emotion. Everyone must have had little for ideal companion, that other being who would and could return mood whim. Later the teen-ager sophisticated baby that ideal which he will never meet; nevertheless the such perfection is laughing and gurgling and whimpering before the silvered glass. It is a way wonder-ey every child at times tries to do what other people see, through the mirror frame? Perhaps, as adults, we never completely outgrow the fascination of the boy stepping through. And maybe that infantile impossible wonderment is why we look at the corner of the mind, accounts for the ease with which our hearts and imaginations go through along with Alice when we open Lewis Carroll's book.

Britannia Un-British

Winnipeg Free Press

Britannia pennies are probably associated in the minds of most people with the present and one would expect to find the origin of the imperial figure in the early days of the Tudor sovereigns. Yet it would appear from the British Museum, The Times of London to be a figure from antiquity which refers to Britannia. But the coin was in fact minted by Antonius Pius A.D. 138-161, who succeeded Hadrian as Emperor and like him, built a wall—between the Solway on the Forth to the Clyde). The coin was of brass and intended, according to the inscription, to celebrate one of the frequent Roman pacifications of Britain.

For many centuries, it would seem, such a figure had no relevance to the people of the island kingdom. Available accounts of Britain's history make no mention of it in the Saxon or Norman periods. Edward III issued a gold coin to reverse the figure of the king in a ship, apparently to commemorate his naval victory of Sluys.

But angels, roses, crosses, suns and lions appear, to have been the preferred symbols through many centuries before Britannia appeared. The Times article, it was not until the reign of Charles the Second that she was "borrowed" from the ancient Roman coin.

It is only a reasonable assumption that the original of Antonius Pius commemorating what was it intended to represent? Whether victory or Britannia herself is not directly implied in any case the subjugation of the British Isles is a very striking example of how the significance of a symbol can be utterly transformed in the onward sweep of history.

DUST AND LIGHT

Look out at the western sky some evening when the air is clear and is ready to dip below the horizon for the night. The scattered clouds are tinted with many colors, such as red, pink and gold, while the sky behind them shades down to the blue visible blue overhead through all varieties of red, orange, and gray into the deeper tones of purple over the rim of the world.

What causes this glorious evening display in the sky? Well, according to the scientists, dust. Just plain, ordinary dust in the atmosphere, with the sun shining horizontally through its various layers.

And therein lies the secret of beautiful living too. We are dust, but the Bible says so. But it is not ordinary dust that makes up most of our everyday lives, common as dust, which can create beauty. That is the difference above shining through us.

Without this light, men are no better than animals, and viewed from the standpoint of eternity are not much better. Without the light and lustful than most animals. With it, the plainest and most ordinary person becomes a guide and inspiration to those around him.

Remember that it takes both the light and the dust to make a beautiful sunset. "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

ARREST OF THE RHEUMATIC—(Part 3)

Today I'd like to square those of you who didn't get mad and quit following this blankety-blanked column when I said here yesterday that in most instances of rheumatism physical degeneration of fibrous tissues and cells, that the process of degeneration can be retarded, arrested, and, if taken in time, reversed—that is, the rheumatic (call it arthritis if you prefer) can be cured.

Dr. Brady.

I urged you yesterday to get the meaning of degeneration from Webster or a medical dictionary. But there's a good many who have the rheumatic have no dictionary and vice versa, so I'll define the word here:

Progressive deterioration of cells and tissues in contrast to functional efficiency is impaired and the living substance becomes gradually converted into inert mass.

For that matter degeneration begins in every one the instant he or she attains full growth and development—around the age of 25 to 40. In some instances it begins early, in others later; in some it progresses rapidly, in others slowly. A good deal depends on how one lives.

Without analyzing or decrying that other causes may account for the physical degeneration that manifests itself as rheumatic, I believe the cause of physical degeneration in most instances is nutritional deficiency.

This means lack of adequate daily rations of certain essentials of nutrition, not just recently or for a while but through the years.

Through the years—from infancy up to today, that is. So you may as well dismiss from your childish imagination the notion of "try" this or that medicine, diet, vitamin shot, miracle drug, mineral spring, change of climate, novel bath or wave or heat treatment. Whatever measure of relief of pain or discomfore one with rheumatic may derive from such remedies has little if any effect on the progress of physical degeneration.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

You would think by now that everybody who travels by sleeping car would know something about the upper berth, the dinky little accommodations, about the size of the old-fashioned section of upper and lower, which one person has all to himself or herself. There is little soil, a bedroll, towel and toilet. There is a curtain, nicely looped back with a tassel, and a reading lamp and also a solid steel door you slide across for final privacy.

The bed is up in the wall. When you are ready to turn in you unloop the curtains and pull a full length zipper which curtains you from the aisle. That is especially shy, you also slide the door shut.

After getting into your pyjamas, you have to slide the steel door open again and then, yourself a little against the curtain, allowing yourself to protrude slightly into the aisle, while you reach out and pull the handle in the wall and that lets your bed down. It looks is a mattress. Then you scramble onto the bed and pull the steel door shut.

One of my friends had never been in a roomette before. He is a shy gentleman. But he did not know the curtain could be unlooped and zippered. So he private, he slid the door shut.

When he got into his pyjamas, he went to get the bed down. He found, to his dismay, that if he pulled the bed down, he could not get on top of it. He squeezed himself against the steel door and got some room to get the bed down; but it obviously wouldn't work. So he stood, stood on the toilet, and tried to take a quick jump, up and over the bed, as if he came down.

But there just wasn't room enough for that. He came down on the bed half down, the minute he tried to quick jump into it. He tried to undress and caught his legs about the knees.

Size more can get mad, at last. So he got mad, rang the porter's bell, opened the door, and, wildly and demanded how the heck you go to bed in a roomette. The porter just grinned, pulled the curtains, zipped the zipper down, and said: "Now there just ain't room for you in it, little lower bed, and there you are."

And happily, there he was.

Safety Awards Presented To Warehousing Drivers

On Thursday night, at the Masonic Temple, the annual presentation of Safety Driving awards was made to the Brewers' Warehousing Company drivers who operate company vehicles in this district, which includes such centres as Kingston, Gananoque, Napanee, Trenton, Tweed, Cobourg, Port Hope, Lindsay, Oshawa, Peterborough Whitby and Belleville. This meeting is held to pay well deserved tribute to company safe drivers. The great importance which all employees of the Brewers' Warehousing Company attach to safe driving was clearly evidenced by the large and enthusiastic turnout of company members. In addition to the drivers, the eighteen stores and warehouses comprising the district were well represented by supervisory personnel and staff members. Further, the attendance figures were supplemented by a number of guests including Belleville municipal officials and safety directors from other large companies. The presence of these civic-minded personalities served to emphasize the ever-increasing awareness of the true value of safe driving and safety programs.

Mr. J. N. Garbutt, assistant district manager, as chairman, opened the meeting with a few brief remarks regarding the necessity of safety programs, then called on Mr. C. Bonnetta, district accountant, to introduce the guests.

GUESTS WELCOMED

Mr. F. L. Jones, district manager, welcomed company members and guests and expressed his appreciation of the full representation of all stores. It was pointed out that 26 of the 30 drivers in the district had qualified for Ontario Safety medals and $25 company bonus cheques. He congratulated the award winners for the splendid record they had achieved and urged all drivers to make every effort to add 1954 to their already impressive list of accident-free years. He further informed the meeting that on a provincial basis, 250 company drivers, representing more than 80 per cent of total drivers employed by the Brewers' Warehousing Company are eligible for Ontario Safety League medal awards and company bonus cheques for a corresponding accident-free year driving company vehicles during 1954. In closing, Mr. Jones mentioned that during the past 4 1-2 years more than 15,000,000 miles had been covered by company trucks without a driver having been liable for a fatal accident.

MAINTAINS MEMBERSHIP

Mr. H. Brown, manager of Industrial Relations department, of Brewers' Warehousing Co., Toronto, said as a temporary step in the building up of a comprehensive safety program, the company maintains active membership in both the Ontario Safety League and the Motor Vehicle Safety Association, with the latter organization carrying affiliation with the Division of Public Safety, University of Toronto. Originally the Company had only one safe-driving supervisor who covered the entire province. However this set-up was deemed inadequate and as of 1953, safety supervisors who were graduates of the University of Toronto's public safety division's course for fleet operators, were appointed to take care of each of the five respective districts in Ontario. Further, the Industrial Relations department of the company issues a constant flow of safety posters to all stores and these are supplemented by appropriate safety literature from the district office. Such material is used as themes for regular monthly management-staff safety meetings which take place in all operations throughout the province.

The safety-conscious attitude which has been adopted by employees of the Company has also proved contagious in that the wives and mothers of company members have become firm supporters of the safety campaign. In the 1952 essay contest conducted by the Motor Vehicle Safety Association, by the wives or mothers of drivers employed by association member firms, four of the top ten ranking essays (including the first prize winner) were submitted by wives of Brewers' Warehousing Company drivers.

WINNERS CONGRATULATED

Mr. L. B. Ferrier, co-ordinator of management development, Toronto, congratulated the safety winners and especially those with many years of accident free driving. Such records designate a courteous driver, courtesy being the golden rule of the road. A courteous driver is an alert driver. A safe driver is a safe driver who is always aware of the other fellow and what he may do. Other characteristics that are displayed are the respect for the property of others and the respect of human life, including his own. Another characteristic is a stable temperment, unaffected by personal problems which can remove concentration from the job of driving. Pride in achievement is a basic requirement in the success on any job.

The following drivers received safe driving awards presented by Messrs. J. H. Perry and L. B. Ferrier:—H. Lohnes (1); E. Lummiss (2); H. Ashton (3); F. High (3); L. Geyer (5); G. Devolin (6); Mr. Harold Meyers, local dealer of Truck & Farm Supply Ltd., introduced Mr. C. Axelson, general superintendent of Truck Sales, International Harvester Co.

IN FINE CONDITION

Mr. R. C. Axelson, stated that the Brewers' Warehousing Company, maintaining their large fleet of trucks in fine mechanical condition, and therefore, it is the full responsibility of each driver to prevent accidents. Safe driving awards are the outcome of proper driving attitudes and a safety program can only be accomplished through a co-operative spirit by all drivers. The award winners must possess such qualities as courtesy, care and caution in their daily driving habits. Having briefly outlined the requisite on driving attitudes and safe driving, he then presented a film "Man With a Thousand Hands." This film was produced by International Harvester and obtained through the courtesy of Mr. H. Meyers, local dealer of International Harvester. It was a pictorial report of the largest project ever undertaken by private business and private capital, which is turning a wilderness into the largest aluminum producing area in the world. The picture is a tribute to men of the construction industry who pioneer in the new frontiers.

Mr. P. J. Lawrence, manager of Kingston Branch No. 20, expressed the appreciation of the members to Mr. Axelson, for his instructive remarks and the educational film.

Mr. Garbutt in closing, outlined the safety program for the year and the expanded program to cover safety as well as safe driving. Awards presented were

Carelessness Greatest Single Cause of Fires Last Year

Just plain carelessness was the greatest single cause of fires occurring in Belleville last year, according to the annual report of Fire Chief Gerald Vance.

During the year a total of 553 alarms were answered by the department, a decrease of 114 alarms from 1952. Of the total carelessness was listed as being the cause of no less than 102 of the blazes.

Total fire loss in the city for 1953 was $75,350, made up of $33,329 building loss and $41,936 loss to contents. Major fire loss during the year was at the Belleville Bargain Centre on Front St. with damage to stock and apartments listed at $55,749.

Although 102 of the blazes reported were put down to carelessness, the cause of blazes remained unknown. There were 51 dwelling fires, 65 runs for oil burners, 42 chimney blazes and 25 runs for over-heated stove pipes.

CARELESS SMOKERS

In a further break-down of alarms it was shown that careless smokers were to blame for 5 faulty wiring 19, and short circuits 11.

Children playing with matches caused the fire reels to roll in 14 instances, and boys playing with fire crackers caused another 17 runs. Seventeen housewives allowed grease to catch afire in the oven. There are 49 grass fires listed and 37 bonfires.

There were 53 calls to fires outside the city of Belleville. The city also has fire fighting mutual aids with Sidney, Thurlow and Ameliasburg townships.

Day time alarms the most numerous with 347 listed from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Night calls totalled 205.

April saw the most alarms with 75 calls with July the lowest, when only 25 calls were received.

THREE DROWNINGS.

There were three drownings during the year and one child died of suffocation as result of a front street fire. Two children were revived by firemen, one a boy who tumbled into a well, and the other a boy overcome by smoke as result of a fire on Charles street.

Inspections by the fire chief and three full time inspectors were given as one reason for the reduced number of alarms during the past year. An extensive fire prevention week program was also carried out. Consisting of an essay writing and poster contest held in all public schools in the city and surrounding district.

A record of all major fires in the city since 1912 shows that the March 18th fire, 1952, which destroyed several business blocks at Bridge and Front streets, was the second worst blaze in 42 years.

Loss at this blaze is listed in the chief's report at $235,504.

BIGGEST LOSS IN 8917.

Biggest loss was back in 1917 when the Graham Food Evaporator burned with damage of $285,000. The only other fire loss going over the $100,000 mark was at the Graham Dried Foods in 1948 when damage was listed as $130,000.

Chief Vance recommended purchase of a Class "A" pumper with 500 gallon water tank, together with 118 feet of ladder and portable pumps. The pumper truck would be to replace the old 1935 pumper and 1926 ladder truck now stationed at the Dundas street firehall. Installation of a mobile radio in the department emergency truck was also recommended.

Victoria and Grey Trust Head Reports 1953 One of Company's Best

"Let us go forward with the slogan "Hats off to the past; coats off to the future," said T. G. Stinson Q.C., of Lindsay, president of the Victoria and Grey Trust Company, as the company's 64th annual general meeting in Owen Sound on Wednesday.

Mr. Stinson was discussing the possibilities of business depression in the near future.

"There must be a certain amount of ups and downs in the busines of any country and there are always adjustments to be made to meet new conditions. Even if the economic situation may be said to be strained in some respects, this does not necessarily mean that a depression is to follow. In my opinion," the president said, "there is no justification for either too optimistic or unduly pessimistic for the future."

"Let us never forget that the most vital elements in progress and prosperity must and always should be producers, workers, traders, investors, investors, and savers. Success depends upon personal thrift as exhibited by our forefathers."

"The only real freedom from want that you ever get is the one you write yourself by efficient work."

ONE OF COMPANY'S BEST

Mr. Stinson referred to the financial statement for the year 1953 as one of the best in the history of the company.

The statement showed net earnings for the year of $417,674, compared with $417,674 previous year's figure of $410,405. The dividend remained unchanged at 80 cents per share per annum, paid quarterly.

This 64th report, he said, told the story of 64 years of faithful service to the people of the community and the other communities in which the company operated. "It says that this company is worthy of the support of all good citizens in the territory in which it carries on its business," he went on.

To maintain the buoyant trade position which Canada had enjoyed during 1953, the president called for a thriving export trade, not only to pay for imports but to secure the enough quantity production, lower costs of production. Canada, he said, could chose to maintain her standard of living only if she kept her costs competitive.

Referring to the steady stream of new settlers coming into the country Mr. Stinson said: "It is said that the greatest asset a nation can have is men and women of character."

He referred to Canada's good fortune in being linked with the British Commonwealth and the "great republic to the south of us." "Beyond everything, we must plan as friends and neighbors to meet the menace of world communism in global terms," he said.

Mr. Stinson regretted the absence of the chairman of the Board, G. D. Fleming, from the meeting in St. George's parish hall owing to a recent indisposition. He expressed the board's appreciation of the work of the company's staffs.

GENERAL MANAGER'S REPORT

Analyzing the annual report general manager G. A. Weeks, of Lindsay, said that 1953 was a year of established new records in growth, profits and new business. Total assets were now $44,827,524, representing an increase of $3,676,000.

The large part of the increase, was in the sale of guaranteed investment certificates which had increased from $18,682,000 in 1953 to $21,050,000. Deposits had increased by $721,000 and estates under administration accounted for the balance.

Moving the adoption of the report, vice-president R. J. McLaughlin, Q.C., Toronto, said that self-congratulation on what was unquestionably the best statement ever, should in all fairness, be qualified by the knowledge that the company had been operating in an extended period of good times. Nevertheless he expressed appreciation on behalf of the directors and shareholders of the excellent work done by the key personnel and their staffs.

"If I could say anything with reference to the future," Mr. McLaughlin continued, "it would be that everyone connected with the company should remember always that we are a young and growing company, in young and growing communities, in a young, growing, and very prosperous country."

"There appears to have been some recession during the latter part of last year," he said, "but this seems to be rather a slow-up of our too rapid advance." Labor Department figures for 1953 give Canada an increase of five per cent in gross national product and a nine per cent increase in capital expenditures. There are signs pointing both ways, but the very fact of the long continuance of the good period should keep us always on guard and healthily apprehensive about the future."

HIGHER RETAIL SALES

Seconding the motion, vice-president, J. G. Fraser, of Owen Sound, said that increased retail sales resulting from higher wage levels, and a greater value of consumer credit, together with increased federal expenditures had maintained the buoyant trend.

This trend resulted in a record volume of retail sales, a relatively high level of construction activity, and the maintenance of almost full employment in Ontario and Manitoba in almost 10 per cent.

Referring to housing Mr. Fraser said that he could not forecast what effect bank lending would have, but he thought that the amount of labor and material available, rather than the money markets, would regulate any building program, with the exception of the costs of the finished house.

He referred to the importance of a free market for the expansion of trade and warned against Canada pricing herself out of the markets of world trade.

He thanked the company's loyal staff for continued co-operation and support and expressed thanks to the company's shareholders and friends for their assistance.

R. G. Thomas, Q.C., Owen Sound, assistant general manager gave an account of the operation of the estates department of the company.

BOARD RE-ELECTED

The board of directors was re-elected and officers were re-appointed as follows: Chairman, G. D. Fleming; president, T. H. Stinson, Q.C.; vice-presidents, R. N. Cooper, J. G. Fraser, Hugh J. McLaughlin, Q.C., T. A. MacKay, F. G. Farrin; Directors: W. R. Allen, W. B. Marton, Dr. A. Howey, Col. P. H. Wills, Gordon A. Matthews, Q. B. McLaughlin, W. W. McLaughlin, Q.C., Campbell Grant, Q.C., C. R. Weeks, Q.C., Dr. A. L. Tennant, Q.C., E. Shipman, S. A. Flavelle, W. L. Brown, L. A. Walding; General Manager and Secretary, G. A. Weeks; Assistant General Manager and Estates Manager, R. G. Thomas, Q.C.; Treasurer, K. D. Johnston; Chief Accountant, M. Glen Gordon.

Douglas J. Sales and Charles Gaviller were re-appointed auditors.

From the meeting directors and executives from the company's branches at Belleville, Lindsay, Peterborough and Owen Sound, had lunch at the Peterson House.

BILL APPROVED

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Governor Hugh White Wednesday signed into law a hotly-fought bill which prohibits denial of employment because of membership or non-membership in a labor union. The measure, fought by all labor organizations in the state, was sponsored by the Mississippi economic council.

The fourth annual birthday party of the White Cane Club of Belleville was held at the Y.M.C.A. on Wednesday evening. Representatives of the Kingston Friendship Guild and the Lions Braille Club of Peterborough, attended as well as the president of several district clubs.

Mr. Herbert Alexander, president of the Y.M.C.A., in a few words was chairman for the evening's program. In a brief address Mr. Alexander told how the club had added five members during the past year.

Mr. George Wishart, chairman of the board of directors of the Hastings Public Library spoke briefly as did Lloyd Skeaff, director of the Y.M.C.A., who brought birthday greetings to the White Cane Club were Mr. Hale, governor of the Men of the Moose; Harold Mott, president of Rotary; Sir Martin, president of the Kinsmen Club; Mrs. Ruth Mintz, senior regent of the Women of the Moose; Mrs. Whitfield, president of the Pamenettes; Mrs. Hallen, president of the Kinette Club; Mr. Timmins, field secretary of the C.N.I.B., Kingston; Mr. Simmons, field secretary of the C.N.I.B., Peterborough; Mrs. Spafford, president of the Kingston Friendship Club and Mr. Simmons, president of the Louis Braille Club of Peterborough.

Mrs. Harry Corby took charge of the entertainment. Rev. Keith Daniel sang two solos accompanied by Mr. Cooper at the piano. Miss Judith Mott gave two readings and Mary Clark played two solos on the bagpipes. Game prizes were won by Mr. Simmons and Mr. Martin of Peterborough. Capt. Bolton and Mr. Simpson won prizes on the two oldest members present.

Members of the Kinette Club were hostesses for the dinner and the club presented the White Cane Club with a birthday cake topped with four candles. The Louis Braille Club of Peterborough also presented the local club with a birthday cake.

Lend hand prize was won by Mrs. J. Boyle and Mrs. Grow.

Door prize was won by Mrs. J. Lee. The lucky ticket for the raffle held during the evening, was held by Mrs. F. Halloran.

Conveners for the party were Mrs. J. Lee and Mrs. J. Lee assisted by Mrs. P. F. Halloran, Mrs. B. Lynch, Mrs. J. E. Poirier, Mrs. A. Gibbons, Mrs. F. Meloshe, Mrs. H. O'Neill, Mrs. R. Lynch and Mrs J. M. Lawn.

Mission Circle Hears History of White Cross

The February meeting of the Women's Mission Circle of Victoria Avenue Baptist Church was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. L. K. Daniel, William Street, with more than 30 members present.

The president, Miss E. Nurse, presided. After a sing-song and prayer, Mrs. I. Stephenson read the 16th Psalm. Mrs. Gordon led a brief meditation. Mrs. C. Campbell read an interesting account of the life and conditions of the Ojibwekon Indians in the Six Nations Reserve, near Brantford.

Mrs. Robert Orr, spoke on "White Cross—Its Origin and Outreach." The idea of White Cross began 33 years ago in a small way, out of the conversation of two women, Mrs. C. W. Dengate and Mrs. J. B. MacLaurin. From the beginning of work among the families and friends of missionaries had been sending boxes to them, at great personal expense. These women thought it would be cheaper and more easily recorded to send materials in bulk. The work was called "The White Cross" because of the Christian flag.

In 1922 Mr. and Mrs. Dengate packed 1,000 boxes. Then the White Cross boxes, and they were sent to the Macedonia's in India.

SMALL BEGINNING

From this small beginning, the work has grown until in 1930 over 6,000 boxes of material were packed and sent.

Because of the extremely heavy duty which the missionaries were forced to pay for wearing apparel, boys, of the ages from 33 1-3 to 100 per cent of the cost), it was decided that more emphasis Kakinada last year that we be requested to send only hospital supplies which, if sent through the World Church Service, can go at freight rates and duty free. All boxes are sent to Pithapuram, and from there distributed to other hospitals.

Mrs. Orr read a letter she had received from Miss Ruth Watt, a nurse at Pithapuram Hospital, in which she expressed appreciation of the various supplies needed for work there.

During the speaker reminded the group that what we do for others we do for Him who we serve.

Plans were discussed for an open meeting at the church on March 30, when the special speaker will be the Rev. Howard King of Toronto, an interdenominational missionary to Nepenl. There will also be some pictures of his work. Mrs. King was formerly Marie Graham, whose home was on the Belleville Collegiate staff for many years, and this talk should be of particular interest to people of Belleville district.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Daniel and the social committee.

Women's Activities

COLLEGE HILL W.A.

The W.A. of College Hill held its February meeting in the church parlor with 16 members present. Mrs. Annis Dickens opened with a prayer and prayer. The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Jean Thomson.

Each member was asked to bring two articles to the March meeting for the fish pond for the Bazaar in the fall, and to buy silverware for the kitchen.

Mrs. Catherine Reddick conducted an interesting contest on hymns which was won by Mrs. Alice West.

Refreshments were served by Doris Carter, Mary Clapp, and Annis Dickens.

IVANHOE W.M.S.

The February meeting of the Ivanhoe W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Wood.

Members decided to have a quilting and pot luck supper on March 9th at the home of Mrs. Arthur Wood. A reading was given by Mrs. Allan Frost. President asked everyone to join in the World Day of Prayer which is to be held in the Baptist Church on the 6th Line.

Mrs. Jos. Reid, group leader, conducted the program. Mrs. George Wood accompanied the singing of hymns on the accordion. Miss C. Frost read a poem and Mrs. George Wood gave a reading. Mrs. Arthur Cooper read a reading from the study book.

Harmony Club Hears Pupils' Music Progress

On Wednesday, February 24, a number of pupils and their parents met with the members of the Harmony Studio Club at the home of Mrs. E. Nelles Dolsen. Mrs. C. Scott opened the meeting by welcoming members and guests.

Mrs. Scott gave a brief outline of this month's project "Study Night", before turning the meeting over to Anna Corinne Gray, the chairman.

The studies of Czerny, Clementi, Stephen Heller and Burgmuller and others, were played by the pupils, showing the progress of the studies of each grade. Those taking part were—Grade 1—Linda Lockyer, Laurie Rowbotham, Marilyn Phillips; Grade 2—Marina Bongard, Linda Clare, Marilyn Hunter; Grade 3—Karen Flindall, Wayne Flindall; Grade 4—Lana Lockyer, Roger Lingley, Lois Valley, Shannon Flindall; Grade 5—Eileen Hancock, Sharon Gifford, Diane Irvin, Barbara Smith; Grade 6—Marilyn Jones, Gloria Whittle; Grade 7—Gloria Whittle; Grade 8—Carole Thompson; Grade 9—Jean Corbishley; Grade 10—Grace Flindall.

The music appreciation number for the evening was "The Rhythm of the Race."

During the evening, Mrs. Vokey explained the difference between working at music and the playing or music.

It was announced that next month's meeting would be entitled "Author Night."

Refreshments were served.

W.I. Hears Talk On Best Values In Food

The Carmel W.I. held its February meeting at the home of Mrs. Stanley Geen with 13 members present. Mrs. Lafave presided.

Mrs. Geen proposed that the Institute send a box of cards at Christmas. Members decided to hold a quilting and pot luck supper on Tuesday at Mrs. Geen's home, and to hold the meeting in March at the home of Mrs. Inchbold.

Mrs. Earl Dafoe, home economics leader, conducted the program. Community singing with Mrs. Britnnell at the piano. Mrs. Dafoe spoke on "Your Money's Worth in Food." She stressed the fact that the housewife should choose foods of quality in the lower price ranges, which if cooked well, served cheerfully and attractively, are as good as the more costly foods. She outlined the requirements of balanced diet and pointed out the lack of knowledge about food and how it should be cooked often spoils a food's value.

Mrs. Urch read a poem about the housewife who brings her many troubles to the family meal and so spoils the appetites of everyone. Organization does well the meal is cooked or how attractively it is served.

Mrs. Dafoe conducted a contest which was won by Mrs. Demeryzza and Mrs. Britnell.

Mrs. Latlone closed the meeting. Refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants.

Housewives Race for a Kiss

Start of the famous Pancake Day race at Olney, England. This annual event, which originated 500 years ago, takes place next Tuesday (Pancake Day), and rules require the ladies to flip their pancakes three times while running. The winner gets traditional kiss from the bellringer of the village

Are Reviving Pancake Day, Once A Public Holiday

Next Tuesday, March 2nd, Canadians everywhere will celebrate Pancake Day—in old fashioned style.

Tables will groan with stacks of delicious syrup-smothered pancakes, just waiting to be eaten with gusto. And over it all will hang an atmosphere of old-time celebration similar to the spirit which shows itself everywhere at Christmas. It's a revival of those good old days, when people really knew how to enjoy themselves—and Pancake Day was a tremendous event . . . in most cases a public holiday.

In olden times a special Pancake Bell was rung in the churches to signal the start of Pancake Day. Housewives then rushed to prepare their pancakes—often called "Shriving Cakes") according to a prescribed formula. This done, they flocked to their churches to be "shriven" or absolved of their sins. Hence the last day before Lent became "Shrove Tuesday" now popularly known as Pancake Day.

In frying their Pancake Day delicacies, the housewives of yore were taking advantage of an opportunity to use their accumulated meat fats—then forbidden during Lent. Their pancakes were customarily turned by flipping them into the air and catching them in a skillet. "Throwing the pancake" became a recognized household sport, one of a number of diversions which came to characterize the day.

Gradually Pancake Day began to assume an atmosphere of celebration, and in some parts of the world was referred to as Mardi Gras (Fat Tuesday).

One writer of the period relates that the pancake bell, due to sound at 11 a.m., commenced was the before nine o'clock "by the help of a knavish sexton," who stopped the entire populace quit work and launched an enthusiastic celebration.

Boys and girls sang jingling little songs as they danced through the town, travelling bands of actors staged special plays, games of chuffbuck and battledore sprang up in the village streets and over all, hung the tantalizing aroma of pancakes and other treats. The spirit of the day is brought in a verse from Poor Robin's Almanac in 1684:

"But hark, I hear the pancake bell.
"And fritters make a gallant smell
"The cooks are' bkifng, frying lardo
"Stewing, mincing, cutting, broiling
"Carving, gormandizing, roasting,
"Carbonading, cracking, slashing toasting".

In the Buckinghamshire village of Olney, housewives still cook their pancakes at the first ringing of the pancake bell. At its second ringing they gather at the village pump, and when the bells peal for a third time, they pelt through the streets, frying pans in hand, to the churchyard. Winner of the race is rewarded with a kiss from the bellringer.

Another time-honored Pancake Day custom is enacted each year at Westminster School, London, England. At 11 a.m. a verger of the abbey solemnly emerges from the college kitchen, followed by a cook bearing a large pancake. In the schoolroom the cook skillfully will flips the cake in the approved fashion, then throws it into a crowd of willing boys, who fight for possession of the pancake. The lad who emerges from the fray with the biggest chunk is rewarded with the sum of a "guinea" from the abbey fund.

St. Joseph's C.W.L. Meets

Mrs. H. Carr-Brant, president of St. Joseph's C.W.L., presided at the February meeting held Monday evening in the school hall. There were 33 members present. Regular business was attended to, reports from each of the executive presented. It was decided to postpone the tea and bazaar which was to be held on St. Patrick's Day until Wednesday of Easter week, and there will be a home baking and candy sale and fish pond in the school hall on St. Patrick's Day instead. Reverend Father Valentin spoke briefly to the ladies.

After the business meeting Mrs. R. Lynch, 1st vice-president introduced the guest speaker, Mr. W. Jacques, rural artist. He gave a very interesting and demonstrative talk on flower arranging. Mrs. G. Cooper graciously thanked the speaker.

Refreshments were then served by Mrs. C. O'Neill and her committee.

Canadian Woman Looks Sleeker, More Lissom Than Ever in Spring Fashions

THE CANADIAN PRESS

Canadian women will follow the dictates of new spring fashions which look sleeker and more lissom than ever. The wrap of Canadian designers in high fever now that the New York and Paris influence is not so prominent.

The form-hugging effect will be emphasized in the latest princess line and the continued vogue of the empire sheath silhouette.

These silhouettes stress an unbroken, unbelted line from bust to hip. The princess has a long, graceful torso and a moulded, small waistline, offset by either a flared or straight skirt. The empire style features a high, moulded bustline, flat midriff, nipped-in waist and straight, sometimes slim skirt.

CANADIAN SURVEY

A Canadian Press spring fashion survey from coast to coast indicates that foundation garments will be a great deal used this season, with diet charts mandatory reading for over-weight lassies.

Fabrics, too, will be used in the following fashion foibles are revealed:

A forward tilt is the gimmick for Easter hats, which seem to grow smaller and smaller as one goes west. Both Edmonton and Vancouver report an almost non-existent hat hidden in a nest of hair. Winnipeg's fashion-wise say that which has been "slimmed," are tiny and perch on the top of the head. Sashes, ribbons and cascades are Easter leaders and the most popular shade is white with a close second.

Shirts are generally a little shorter, but they refuse to say how short, with the exception of Vancouver which says one inch from the ground. Saint John, N.B., which says 13½ to 14 inches, and Edmonton which says some dresses will travel up two inches. The color picture is puzzling. Traditional navy and grey hold the gait field with a slight leaning to dotted tweeds and pastel shades. Black is of course always popular. Toronto stands for flower arranging, Mrs. G. Cooper graciously thanked the speaker.

Refreshments were then served by Mrs. C. O'Neill and her committee.

NEW PROOF

THAT MILLIONS CAN END THE NEED FOR LAXATIVES

—find relief from constipation this safe, natural way—without the injurious effects of repeated laxative use.

Everyone knows that constipation is the cause of many ailments. With all the modern advances in medical science over the past 30 years, it is surprising that constipation is still the cause of so much suffering.

With all the progress of medical science over the past 30 years, authorities say there is no longer any reason why there should be such an enormous widespread human malady.

Nor is there any reason for developing the habit of using harsh laxatives—of dosing with one preparation after another in the hope that sooner or later a some potion or pill, the "secret" of lasting relief.

Long-continued study of the problem has shown that one of the most common causes of irregularity is lack of bulk in the diet. And when this is the case, the common-sense correction is to find food rich in bulk-giving substance. Such foods have been demonstrated in a series of systematic clinical studies reported in leading medical journals.

In one study, 135 people with chronic constipation were given one ounce of All-Bran daily for one week. They were checked clinically and with X-ray with tests made before, during and after they ate the All-Bran.

OF THE 135 PEOPLE, 107 SHOWED DEFINITE CLINICAL IMPROVEMENT IN JUST 7 DAYS.

IN A FOLLOW-UP STUDY, BETTER THAN 6 OUT OF EVERY 7 PATIENTS WHO WERE GIVEN ALL-BRAN IMPROVED.

The greatest advantage of All-Bran is that it corrects the cause of irregularity due to lack of bulk. Chemical or drug-type laxatives, on the other hand, are intended only for overnight relief of a temporary stoppage.

When people use these products habitually—in a way that laxative makers never recommend—they upset their digestive system in a way that makes nerver interest, instead of correcting the cause, they often actually make their condition worse.

If you think you must take a laxative every constipation occasionally, do so. But do it wisely. Read the directions completely. AVOID EXCESSIVE USAGE. But for natural and lasting relief year after year in safety, just eat daily a ready-to-serve serving of All-Bran for breakfast and drink plenty of water.

This All-Bran plan has helped millions to re-establish and maintain healthful regularity. Why not you?

RELATED ANNOUNCEMENTS OF MARRIAGE

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My husband and I were married a year and a half ago, and for several very serious reasons were forced to keep our marriage a secret. Now that the problems have been solved, we would like to inform our relatives and friends of our marriage. (1) Would it be proper for my parents to send formal announcements of our marriage, or would it be more correct to send informal notes? (2) If a formal announcement is sent, would it be proper to state the date we were married, also the church and the clergyman who married us? — E.

(1) While it is not customary to send formal announcements of a marriage after such a lapse of time, there is really no rule against it. If you and your husband have a large number of relatives and friends you wish to notify, these formal announcements would, of course, be very convenient. And I like very much the dignified idea of having your mother and father make the announcement. On the other hand, it is more personal to make this announcement in the form of a note to decide.

(2) If formal announcements are sent, they must include the day and date and the year; also the city and state.

SALAD ETIQUETTE

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

The other evening a group of us ordered soup and salad in a restaurant. I ate my salad out of the small wooden bowl in which it was served. The others removed their soup bowls from the service plate, served their salad from the individual wooden bowl to the underplate, and ate it. Which was the right procedure?

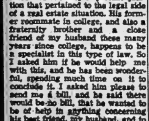
M. H.

It's proper to do as you prefer. The point is to choose the procedure your hostess or restaurant waterfall aid desirable eating. If you like to eat your salad from the small individual wooden bowl in which it is served, it's entirely right to do this. Personally I think it's more convenient, much pleasanter, to serve the salad from the bowl to a plate, as your companions did. This "twice space" seems the plate is more to my liking than the cramped quarters of the individual wooden bowl, — and with salad on the plate you have a better chance to mix the salad with the dressing. (In the above I've tried to be fair to the individual wooden salad bowls served in many restaurants. , but personally, I think they are very small unattractive and unappetizing service. I most heartily welcome salad served on a china plate, or a pottery plate, or a glass plate.)

THE PROPRIETIES OF A LUNCHEON

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

To settle a discussion we are having please decide: At a luncheon of some formality (say given at a club or in a private dining room of a hotel), what is the usual duration? That is, when guests are invited for one o'clock, when would they be expected to leave? (Just a luncheon, I mean, with bridge, cards, or other entertainment after the luncheon.)



Helen R.

The usual duration of this kind of luncheon is two hours and a half to two hours. That is, guests invited to a one o'clock luncheon would depart between two-thirty and, say, quarter to three or three.

GRATITUDE TO HUSBAND'S FRIEND

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My husband died several months ago, and in settling his estate, there was one very important question that pertained to the legal end of a real estate situation. His former roommate is in college, and also a fraternity brother and a close friend of my husband these many years since college, happens to be a specialist in this type of law. So I asked him if he would help me with this, and he has been wonderful, spending much time in it to conclude it. I asked him please to send me a bill, and he said there would be no bill, that he wanted to be of help in anything concerning his best friend, my husband, and to me. I am unwilling to accept this

Readers' Friday Column

QUESTION:

Many times I would like to have shaken your hand and said "Thanks", — our local church women are going to put on a supper for another local group of men to hear a prominent speak. There will be about 100 men. The menu is to be apple juice, cold roast beef, hot mashed potatoes, gravy, cabbage salad, relish, pickles, all kinds of pies, doughnuts . . . now the problem: This is to be on a Friday night and there will be some who cannot eat beef. What can we serve them? We do not like to have many we will have to serve thus.—Mrs. C. L.

ANSWER:

It's simple enough. Make hot salmon or tuna loaves and/or cold salmon or tuna molds. Make them in the same sizes as the recipes below. Make 4 of the hot salmon or tuna loaves and 4 of the jellied ones below. Make 8 molds. Put 2 or each on the tables. As you see you'll need no help in this. If any are left over the women who brought them can take them home for next night's supper. I am figuring on enough fish to serve 30 people at each table.

SALMON (OR TUNA) LOAF

One 1-lb. can salmon, 2 cups soft breadcrumbs, 1-3 cup milk, 1 well-beaten egg, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, shake of cayenne, 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine. Drain salmon or tuna reserving the liquid. Remove skin and bones and flake fish. Combine with remaining ingredients and pack into greased loaf pans about 7x3x2 inches. Bake at 375 deg. F. for about 40 minutes or until firm. Serve with medium white sauce, using salmon liquid as part of the milk content.

JELLIED SALMON (OR TUNA) MOLD

Two 1-3-lb. cans salmon or flaked tuna, 2 shelled hard-cooked eggs chopped, 1-3 cup sliced stuffed olives, 2 tablespoons capers (optional), 1 tablespoon minced chives or green onion tops (fine), 1 1-4 tablespoons plain gelatin, 1-4 cup cold water, 1 cup mayonnaise. Combine salmon or tuna, with the eggs, olives, capers, and chives. Soak gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes, and stir over hot water until dissolved. Add the dissolved gelatin to the mayonnaise, stirring constantly. Fold this mixture thoroughly. Turn into square, loaf or ring mold and chill until firm.

NOTE: For a special occasional meal (a delicious molded in ring mold, and when turned out centre is filled with crisp wedges and slices of avocado marinated in French dressing.

ASPICE

It's two weeks now since I went to my friend's house to bake our European Nic Cake. I thought the product we turned out was pretty good. A friend of mine asked about the recipe . . . it is a butter cake but is baked in a tube pan. Will you help this is what it consisted of.

It's a marble cake: 1 cup butter or margarine, 1 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon vanilla, 3 eggs, 1 teaspoon rum flavoring, pinch of salt, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-3 cup milk, 3 tablespoons cocoa, 2 tablespoons sugar, 3 tablespoons service gratis, and wonder if it would be proper for me to try to find out an approximate charge for such a situation, and send him a check with a note of deepest appreciation of his goodness and thoughtful generosity. Please advise me. — D.B.R.

It would be ungracious for you to send this kind friend a check, and I am sure he would consider your gesture lacking in grace. Instead of that you can call to make a definite appointment with him at his office, offer the check to him and when you are together say something like this: "I wish I could tell you adequately how grateful I am to you for your goodness to me. I do wish you would let me give you this check in even part-payment for your wonderful service." If he refuses, all you can do at the time is to thank him again, . . . then later you may think of a present he might like and find useful; a wallet perhaps or a professional brief-case, either to be stamped with his full names, and the brief-case, perhaps, with his address too.

milk. Beat butter, gradually adding sugar. Add vanilla, eggs, one at a time and beat. Add rum flavor; Sift flour, salt and baking powder and add alternately with milk. The mixture should be quite thick.' Put 3-4 of batter in tube pan. To the 1-4 of mixture add the remaining sugar, cocoa and milk. Add to batter in pan. Cut through it with fork to give marble effect. Bake 60 minutes in oven of 350 to 375 deg. Fahr. Hope you like it.—Linda G.

ANSWER:

I sure did and thank you and Mrs. Hugo P. for sending in the tested recipe and for constructive suggestions.

Beauty

By HELEN JAMIESON

ARE YOU UNDERWEIGHT?

While overweight is no help to the female figure, neither are sharp shoulders, flat chest and skinny shanks. And the girl who is underweight takes no more satisfaction in the reflection in the mirror than does the scales-watcher. She is more than fifteen pounds underweight, the family physician should take her in hand and find out about her living habits. If he gives her a clean bill of health, she will have no difficulty in adding a pound or two a week.

Chances are she has a yen for food elements that don't stick to the ribs, like fatless and pickles. That all the cuddlable foods—protein, fat, carbohydrate—that produce fat in the body has been proved by experimentation. Meat, eggs, milk, which are chiefly protein; butter and bacon that are largely fat; bread, potatoes, sugar which are largely carbohydrate, will all help to put on weight.

Eating is taken between meals or at bedtime will aid and abet the good work. Heavy rich cream and sugar should be put on a hot cereal, an important source of fat for the emaciated girl. Cream soups should be substituted for clear ones.

Mild exercise and deep breathing are essential to young women who are anxious to fill out their emaciated figures. The circulation will speed up so that self will no longer be cold, hands moist and clammy. The general tone and vitality of the body will be improved by giving the muscles a gentle work-out and by "air conditioning" the lungs.

Plenty of rest and sleep are necessary; worry and kindred emotional states should be avoided since they slow up the digestive system, interfere with nutrition.

Usually extremely thin girls are over-active, use up energy unnecessarily. If she hasn't a chance to catch up with them since they follow such a rapid pace. During the campaign for a more curvaceous silhouette, social affairs should be limited so that one gets nine hours of sleep every night. In that way weight can be increased steadily and naturally.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

HER GIRL'S MOTHER WON'T LEAVE THEM ALONE

Dear Miss Fairfax:

My problem is my girl's mother. I have been going with this girl for nearly a year, and we are very fond of each other, but whenever I go to her house her mother always sits in the same room with us and never seems willing to let us out of her sight, so we never have any time to ourselves to talk like young people do.

I just can't understand why her mother seems to feel she must always watch us closely, for we certainly have never given her any reason not to trust us. Can you think of anything I might do that would give my girl friend's mother confidence in me so she would trust her daughter with me?

M.T.

Dear M.T.:

Does this girl's mother insist that you and her daughter must stay at the house all the time, or is it just that once you happen to be there, she always wants to be on hand? Has she, for instance, refused to allow you to take her daughter to the movies or anywhere else?

If it's just that you have got in the habit of spending the evenings with your girl at her home, then I suggest that some time when you see the mother, in the most courteous and respectful way you can, if you might take her daughter to the movies or to some other proper place for the evening. If you ask her permission directly to take the girl out, she will either have to give it, or refuse, and if she refuses, it will give you the opportunity to ask her, just as courteously and respectfully, why she objects. Either way, it should be a definite step toward clearing the situation up.

Has your girl friend herself tried to disguise the matter with her mother? Is she sure she can't make her understand that it is only fair to leave young people in themselves a reasonable part of the time? If not, then it would be a good plan for you to ask her to do so.

It might help to win this mother over to your side, too, if you are thoughtful enough to make a point of bringing her a little gift such as flowers or a box of candy, once in awhile. Older people always appreciate it when the young ones show that they want to please them.

Let me know how you make out.

CAMPBELLFORD

Two Movies Shown Kinsmen At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD. — The regular supper meeting of the local Kinsmen Club was held on Monday of this week at the Tremont House.

Jack Tinney stated that the public is showing great interest in the Century Club and that there is now a waiting list. Keith Bull and Cy Johnston reported for the bantam hockey team and stated that they had enjoyed working with these young players who were a credit to themselves and the club. Forrest Dennis reported on the supplying of milk to the public and separate schools and presented the accounts to date. These were ordered paid.

Some correspondence was read in connection with the 34th anniversary of Kinsmanship. President Ray Hall spoke briefly and stated that while Kinsmanship is an all-Canadian organization it belongs to a world-wide fellowship of young men's service clubs.

INTER-CLUB MEETING

An inter-club meeting is to be held in Belleville in the near future and plans are being made to attend.

The latter two weeks of May have been chosen for the Ottawa trip to Ottawa with the Grade 8 pupils and Forrest Dennis was named to bring in a detailed report.

Irv. Blair addressed the club on the subject, "Physical Training." The speaker compared the methods used and the importance of this training in several countries. He stated that it is good for the body and good for the mind and recommended its adoption by any who are interested.

Dante Pace conducted a Chinese Auction on a mystery box.

Two colored sound films were shown through the courtesy of the Shell Oil Co. The first dealt with the general transportation problems in connection with the oil industry. The second film was entitled "The Screw Driver and the Screw." This was a safety film on driving and walking habits and contained many valuable tips for both drivers and pedestrians. Bruce Grills acted as projectionist.

Member Takes Seat

TORONTO (CP)—The 80th seat in the Ontario legislature chamber was filled Wednesday with the introduction to the house of Lloyd Letherby, newly-elected Progressive Conservative member for Simcoe East.

Mr. Letherby won a by-election last month for the seat made vacant by the death of Dr. J. D. McPhee.

Must Be Kidding

TORONTO (CP)—A man about 60 years old tried to rob a bank of $5,000, but walked out when a teller told him she thought he was kidding.

The man, wearing paint-smeared overalls, entered a branch of the Bank of Montreal and handed a note to teller Mrs. Mary Muir which said:

"Hand over $5,000—I've got a gun."

Said Mrs. Muir: "You must be joking."

The man grabbed the note and walked out.

STIRLING

Circuits Pay Fraternal Visit To St. Paul's

STIRLING. — On Sunday evening St. Paul's United Church entertained Rev. K. J. Crawford, the people of Marmora circuit; Rev. J. E. Glover and the people of Ivanhoe circuit.

This was a fraternal visit in centennial year. Rev. A. E. Baker, pastor of St. Paul's, welcomed the large number of guests and gave a historic picture of the church and activities at Marmora and Salem 100 years ago.

Mrs. A. F. Fraser, organist and choir master of St. Andrew's Church, Marmora, presided at the piano and 15 members of Marmora choir sang two anthems.

Rev. A. E. Baker presided over the service. Rev. J. E. Glover, a retired minister, who lives in Marmora, and is supply minister on the Ivanhoe circuit brought greetings before reading the Bible lesson. Rev. Glover served this area for many years as minister of Salem circuit and Seymour circuit.

CENTENNIAL SUCCESS

Rev. K. J. Crawford, secretary of Belleville Presbytery, commended Rev. Mr. Baker on the great success of his centennial venture. He based his message on the 16th chapter of St. Matthew's gospel in which Jesus asked His twelve disciples questions about His identity and nature.

Mr. George Carlisle thanked the visitors and the service closed with the hymn, "The Church's One Foundation is Jesus Christ Her Lord."

A Fellowship service followed in the Sunday School hall when 125 people were served refreshments by members of St. Paul's W.A.

Mrs. Rose Carr Honored On 80th Birthday

STIRLING. — A birthday party was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davies, Stockdale, in honor of her aunt, Mrs. Rose Carr, of River Valley, who was 80 years of age last Tuesday.

Mrs. Carr was born in Bulham, Kent County, England, in 1874, and came to Canada forty-five years ago. Her husband, the late Frank Carr, predeceased her a few years ago. She has one brother, Sylvenus, who resides in Rochester, Kent County, England, and is 84 years of age.

Mrs. Carr resides south of Stirling in the River Valley district and is a member of R.V.W.I., and M.M.A.

Her only son, Ernest, with his wife and children live with her on the homestead.

The party was planned for Tuesday evening but snow blocked all roads through the concessions. Mrs. Rose Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Carr and children, Donnie, Allan and Joyce were guests for supper on Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Davies, Stockdale.

Later thirty nephews and Messrs. H. W. Sabine, Presbytery representative; S. M. Sandham, clerk of Session, Deloro; Arthur Wilson, West Huntingdon; W. J. Cottrell, Marmora; A. W. Drew, Deloro; Harold Hagerman, St. Paul's; Herbert Burke, Fuller and William Johnston, Salem.

Mrs. A. E. Baker presided at the piano.

Mr. S. S. Pritchard, Deloro, thanked the ladies and Mrs. Edwin Warren of St. Paul's replied.

nieces came and gave their aunt a real surprise.

During the evening, Mr. Fred Heasman read an address and the youngest niece, Mrs. Douglas Rowe, Warkworth, made a presentation on behalf of the nieces and nephews. The group watched television and a decorated birthday cake was the centre of the refreshments.

Mrs. Carr received many birthday cards and numerous personal gifts. Mrs. Edward Heasman took flash pictures of the group.

On Thursday afternoon River Valley Missionary Auxiliary held its meeting at the home of Mrs. Rose Holland. Mrs. Jack Sager donated a cake which was cut by Mrs. Carr. The Auxiliary presented Mrs. Carr with a box of assorted fresh fruits. Mrs. Carr thanked both groups for their kindness.

ELECTED PRESIDENT

HAMILTON (CP) — James C. Jenkins of Belmont was re-elected president of the Ontario Concentrated Milk Producers Association Wednesday.

Marsh Hill

MARSH HILL — Many young people from Marsh Hill attended the fireside hour at Frankford United Church Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Williamson of Norwood, were guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Breeze.

Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Finkle and family called on Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ed. Bartlett of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Demille had as Sunday at the home of Mrs. Demille's sister, Mrs. Fred Cone and Mr. Cone of Canniton.

Rev. R. Merrick of Belleville, was in charge of the morning service at Marsh Hill on Sunday.

W.I. CARD PARTY

A successful euchre party was sponsored by the members of Pine Grove W.I., in the Marsh Hill School on Friday night with ten tables participating.

Prizes were won by ladies' high, Mrs. Blake Johnston, Wallbridge; consolation, Mrs. Faulkner, Oak Lake; men's high, Mr. Earl Horton; consolation, Mr. Everett Prindle, Foxboro, the door prize was won by Mrs. Fred Heasman.

Refreshments were served. The committee in charge was composed of Mrs. John Brown and Mrs. William Slater.

FIRESIDE HOUR

On Sunday evening about 75 young people, from Sidney and Frankford met in the Sunday School Hall of Frankford United Church for their fireside hour. Convener for the evening was Miss Barbara Jean Brown of Marsh Hill, superintendent of the Young People's groups of Sidney and Frankford, under the direction of the Ontario Religious Education Council.

Rev. C. E. Clarke of Frankford United Church, welcomed the guests.

The program opened with Templeton's recording followed by the hymn "Faith of Our Fathers."

Other items on the program included: piano solo, Miss Donna Stanley of Eggleton Church; musical selections on electric guitar by Jack Rushnel of the Stone Church; duet by the Misses Clark of Eggleton Church; readings by Wayne Whitney of Frankford and Bob Ireland of Batawa.

Douglas Detlor and Miss Joan Campbell of Marsh Hill, conducted contests.

During the worship period Gerald Grills of Aikens and Dick Pearce of Batawa read the Scriptures.

Rev. Miriam Collins of Bridge Street United Church, Belleville, was the guest speaker. She chose as her topic "So Send I You", the theme for the Young People for this year.

PLACE FOR EVERYONE

In the Christian adventure there is a place for everyone. Everyone has to learn by doing. We must be aware of our part in the Young People's group. Jesus has a part for each one of us to play and is depending on us.

What are we sent for? We make our contribution in Young People's group but must not substitute it for church, which is the household of faith and we as young people can give our enthusiasm to the older members. We should take our place in the choir, or perhaps as a Sunday School teacher, she said.

In your own community, as young people, uphold high standards. We are not just citizens of Canada but of the world and we should know what is going on in other parts of the world. This can be done in our missionary program.

Jesus sent us into the world to do His work and to witness for Him, she concluded.

The hymn, "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee," was sung.

Refreshments were served.

Miss Brown thanked the guest speaker for her message and all those who had made the fireside hour a success.

The report of the finance committee was laid over until the next meeting, which will be held on Monday, March 8, at the council chamber.

Cutlass-Armed Man Slashes Mother

Mrs. Joan Thorn and her son, nine-months-old Tommy, were attacked by a turban-wearing, cutlass-swinging intruder in their home in North York, Ont. Mrs. Thorn was slashed seven times by the cutlass, but none of the wounds were serious. Young Tommy had bruises to show where the man had grasped him by the throat. When Mrs. Thorn was able to scream, the man ran. She said he spoke six words: "I am going to kill you!" — Central Press Canadian.

Still No Personal Peace Between Stevens, McCarthy On Questioning Officers

By EDMON LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—There was no peace today between Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and Senator Joseph McCarthy despite a "peace pact" heralded as settling their official differences on questioning United States Army personnel.

Conciliation efforts foundered Thursday when Stevens issued a definition of his position, backed by President Eisenhower, and McCarthy retorted that it contained a "compilation of false" statements.

Stevens' statement was intended to counteract the widespread impression that he had yielded to McCarthy on the issue of the senator's handling of army witnesses, and to assure any military personnel interrogated in the future of protection against what Stevens had termed "abuse."

Stevens said he was confident there would be no such treatment in the future because of "assurances which I have received from members" of the Senate investigations sub - committee which McCarthy, the Wisconsin Republican heads.

That was the statement McCarthy immediately termed "completely false."

The senator, who a moment before had been speaking with reporters in complimentary terms of Stevens, said "absolutely no concession was made that any witness was abused."

To promise they would not be abused in the future, he went on, would be admitting they had been abused in the past.

James C Hagerty, the president's press secretary, said Eisenhower approved and endorsed 100 per cent the Stevens statement. Stevens spoke of the "assurances" and also said:

ADVICE OF COUNSEL

"I shall never accede to the abuse of any witness under any circumstances, including committee hearings. I shall never accede to their being subjected to ridicule. I do not intend to allow them to be deprived of the long established practice that they have the advice of counsel when the matter under consideration is one of essential interest to me as secretary, as was the case with Gen. Zwicker."

Thus the army secretary reverted to the episode which plunged his row with McCarthy to its depth of bitterness—the senator's questioning of Brig. - Gen. Ralph Zwicker, acknowledged by both remarks as one that Zwicker was "unfit" to wear his uniform.

Stevens at all times protected Zwicker and another general to disregard subpoenas for an appearance before McCarthy's sub-committee.

McCarthy Thursday night announced that he now will recall Zwicker and question him about an affidavit the general sent to Stevens after the meeting in which he was questioned. He said he wants to know whether Zwicker was "mistaken or deliberately trying to misinform" Stevens.

Moreover, the senator said it was "strictly untrue" that he had refused to allow Zwicker to be represented by counsel. He said he would ask the general "whether he wanted counsel, and if so why he didn't tell us."

NO CONSISTENCY

Informed of McCarthy's counterblast, Stevens sent word that he had no further comment.

So ended a day of extraordinary efforts by top officials, including the president, to find some formula for neutralizing critics' charges the Reds, and indirectly the whole Republican administration, had surrendered to McCarthy on a matter of principle and had left army personnel unprotected in situations where their service orders clashed with the investigations subcommittee's demands on them.

Thursday Stevens was described by associates as shocked and anxious at the general interpretation of the agreement, that he had struck his colors to McCarthy, and at the effect on service morale.

Stevens, the background by the Stevens - McCarthy exchanges over the questioning of Zwicker was the original cause of the whole controversy, the case of a former army major, Dr. Irving Peress, now a dentist in New York. Peress has called McCarthy's charges against him "sheer nonsense."

But McCarthy Thursday said he intends to go ahead with his investigation of why Peress was promoted and given an honorable discharge although he refused on Constitutional grounds to answer questions about membership in subversive organizations. Zwicker is commanding officer of the army post where Peress was discharged.

Head of Union Is Co-defendant In Action

TORONTO (CP)—President Walter Murdoch of the Toronto Musicians' Protective Association Thursday was named co-defendent in an action taken by Harold Corley after Mr. Corley's puppet act was pulled from a recent hobby show here.

Earlier, Mr. Corley started action against the Canadian International Hobby and Homecraft Show Ltd., charging breach of contract.

His act, The Miniatures, was called off after the musicians union announced its members, also billed for the show, would not appear with members of the American Guild of Variety Artists.

The writ amendment naming Mr. Murdoch claimed the hobby show was "induced to breach this contract by the action of Walter Murdoch personally or as the representative of the American Federation of Musicians," of which the Toronto association is an affiliate.

HORSE THEFT CHARGE

CYRSTAL FALLS, Mich. (AP)—Authorities today held Tom Knipp, 23, and his brother, Billy, 17, of Bucyrus, Ohio, for extradition to Ohio on a charge of horse theft. Prosecutor W. H. Lohr of Vinton county, Ohio, reported he has evidence the brothers stole a shetland pony from a pasture, loaded it in a second-hand hearse, took it to Mansfield and sold it for $60.

U.S. Becomes More Hopeful Of Middle East Defence Pact

By WARREN ROGERS Jr.

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States officials today were reported more optimistic than in some time that prospects for a Middle East defence alliance, despite political turmoil in Syria and Egypt, are good.

While these countries are not expected to embrace a defence plan to ring Russia's southern border, their affairs naturally influence the whole area to the south.

The council of 11 young army officers who gave Egypt made a point Thursday of announcing that there would be no change in Egypt's friendly attitude toward the West. This backed up a Washington state department estimate that the ouster of Mohammed Naguib as president-dictator was an "internal affair" only.

There was no ready interpretation here of fast-breaking developments in Syria. A military coup there Thursday forced the resignation of Adib Shishakly, who has survived numerous attempts to overthrow him while ruling with an iron hand for three years.

The big news, from the standpoint of the proposed Middle East Alliance, was Prime Minister Nehru's announcement Thursday of United States military aid for Pakistan.

Policymakers are careful to notify India's prime minister Nehru of the move in a letter obviously intended to avoid any further ruffling of Nehru's oft-voiced sensitivity toward it.

Nehru has campaigned long and hard against military aid for Pakistan or any other country of the region. He argues that this will upset the balance of peace.

But U.S. officials are understood to feel that Nehru, having had his say, may ease his criticisms now that they have failed to block Pakistan arms aid. The Indian leader has said he will not move toward communism in anger, but will continue his efforts to weld a neutral buffer bloc between the East and West.

At Karachi, Prime Minister Mohammed Ali said Pakistan has pledged "not to engage in any act of aggression against any nation." He added that the U.S. has not asked for bases or other concessions.

At London, a foreign office spokesman for the Churchill government said Britons, "being convinced that the present aid is designed to strengthen the defence of the Free World, believe that it will not be detrimental to India's defence."

Pope's Condition Again Improves

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—Pope Pius again rested fairly well Thursday night and his condition was slightly improved today, an authoritative source said. The pontiff has been ill with a stomach ailment for a month.

Rome's parish priests today called on all Roman Catholics in the city to attend special masses during the week-end for the Pope's recovery and, to mark the 15th anniversary next Tuesday of his election to the papal throne. The anniversary coincides with his 78th birthday.

Three Changes in Senior Army Appointments Made

OTTAWA (CP)—Three changes in senior armed forces appointments were announced today by the defence department. They become effective in August.

Maj.-Gen. J. D. B. (Des) Smith, chairman of the Canadian joint staff at London and Canadian military representative to supreme headquarters, Allied powers in Europe, will become commandant of the National Defence College at Kingston, Ont.

He will be succeeded overseas by Air Vice-Marshal D. M. Smith, air member for technical services at air force headquarters here.

Air Vice-Marshal C. R. Dunlap, now commandant of the defence college, will be transferred to RCAF headquarters. His actual appointment has not been decided later.

Gen. Smith, 42-year-old Ottawan, is a former armoured corps officer. He was commissioned in the Royal Canadian Dragoons in 1933 as a lieutenant.

APPOINTED BRIGADIER

In 1943, Gen. Smith assumed command of the 4th Canadian armored brigade with the rank of brigadier and for the first half of 1944 commanded the 5th Canadian armored brigade.

From December, 1944, until the end of the Second World War, he commanded the 1st Canadian infantry brigade in Italy and northwest Europe. In the fall of 1945 he was appointed commandant of the Canadian army staff college. He later attended the Imperial Defence College in England and served as secretary of the chiefs of staff committee and then as acting quartermaster-general.

Air Vice-Marshal Smith, 42, of New Westminster, B.C., joined the RCAF in 1934. In 1941, while with 414 RCAF fighter-Reconnaissance squadron and commanded it until July, 1942.

He was chief staff officer at Western air command headquarters at Vancouver, assistant to the chief of air staff at Ottawa and member for technical services. He attended the Imperial Defence College and was appointed to his present post and rank in November, 1948.

DIRECTOR OF ARMAMENT

Air Vice-Marshal Dunlap, 46, of Sydney • Mines, N.S., became a pilot officer in the air force in 1928. At the outbreak of war in 1939, he was director of armament at RCAF headquarters, a position he held for two years.

Late in 1942, he took command at Leeming, Yorkshire, of a station in No. 6 Canadian bomber group, and in 1943 went to North Africa as commanding officer of 331 wing, comprising three Wellington squadrons.

In 1946, Air Vice-Marshal Dunlap attended the Bikini atomic bomb tests as an RCAF representative. He later was commander of northwest air command, Edmonton, and in 1951 was appointed commandant of the defence college.

Housewife Says She Was Slashed By Razor Knife

TORONTO (CP) — A suburban North York housewife said Thursday she was slashed over the head by a razor knife and her baby son was carried off by a "big bearded man wearing a turban" who invaded their home.

Police apparently withheld reports on the case while seeking the man. Mrs. Joan Thorn, 21, said she suffered seven minor cuts in the Wednesday attack before she knocked her attacker from the house.

She told police she was in her basement when she heard someone upstairs. She went to investigate and found a "glassy-eyed" man who said "I'm going to kill you." He then produced the knife and grabbed a razor blade set in a holder.

River Patrol Craft Is Sunk by Vietminh

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—The French navy reported the loss of a small river patrol boat under Vietminh shelling.

Communist-led rebel gunners, firing recoilless rifles, sank the vessel near Son Tay, a river port 25 miles northwest of this French headquarters city.

In the continuing actions against rebel Vietminh troops of the river delta, the French announced that 41 Vietminh troops had been killed and 56 captured.

Only light patrol clashes were reported in the hills around Dien Bien Phu, the big French stronghold in northwest Indo-China.

Publishers Doing Well Says Senator Haig

OTTAWA (CP)—The Progressive Conservative leader in the Senate said Thursday the newspaper business has so good publishers scarcely know what to do with their money."

Senator John T. Haig, Manitoba, said in the upper chamber that he has nothing personal against the newspaper business, but publishers have increased their wealth during the last 15 years at a greater rate than any other class of people.

"The value of their publishing business has gone up over the last 10 years at a tremendous rate. They are doing a huge amount of advertising compared with that of 10 or 15 years ago, and they scarcely know what to do with their money."

He spoke during debate on a government bill to increase postage rates on first-class mail by a cent an ounce. The bill will increase postage on letters from one postal district to another to five cents from four cents. Rates on mail within the same district will increase to four cents from three cents.

Senator Haig referred to the publishing business after saying the post office department lost $15,000,000 a year on its second class operations, which include delivery of newspapers and periodicals.

He said newspaper publishers claim that it is their local rural routes which do not pay their way.

GOSSIP SHEETS

Senator Haig continued: "I have not seen all the rural papers, but in my constituency I guess I am sure for the most part gossip sheets."

Senator W. D. Euler (L—Ontario) interjected that the reason given at the Senate banking committee for not increasing second-class rates is that "the smaller papers would go out of business."

Senator Haig continued: "I didn't consider that a reason. Why should the latter writers pay a rate of postage to keep the smaller papers in business?"

"If a new business did not pay no one would subsidize it. If small publishers cannot make profits the government should subsidize them."

Senator W. A. Buchanan (L—Alberta), newspaper publisher in Lethbridge, said that a small proportion of daily newspapers' circulation goes by mail. Distribution was by truck and newsboys.

U.S. COMPETITION

However, monthly periodicals made representations to the government that they were claiming that high rates meant high subscription rates. "They have to compete with the wider-circulated publications from another country which come in almost to the corners in towns and cities."

He apparently referred to Canadian circulation of United States publications.

Senator Euler said he doubted that small papers would go out of business if second-class rates were increased.

"It is not fair at all that you should subsidize one man for a service that is done for somebody else."

He said the Senate committee was told that papers paid a rate of one cent a pound within a 40-mile radius of their publication office.

Solicitor - General Macdonald, government leader in the Senate, agreed that rural weekly newspapers are largely gossip sheets.

"But I suppose they and we are far from being gossip sheets," he said. "They print news and editorial these papers give considerable time and thought to the articles which appear in their papers, and I do not think these publications should be destroyed through any act of ours."

Buried in Gravel, Is Freed in Hour

SUDBURY (CP)—A cement plant worker was buried Thursday in a gravel pile cave-in at Wavy Industries Limited. When gravel was shovelled away from his head, he was able to grin and direct rescue operations.

Toivi Kentala, 43, of nearby Waters township, was buried in an upright position. At-out 50 men, including firemen and police, worked an hour to free him.

Another man, Albert Jones of Garson, landed atop Kentala, pulled himself free and ran for help.

Kentala's condition was reported as good.

CNR Engineers Honored

Canadian National Railways engineers who retired in 1953 and also engineers with more than 40 years membership in the B. of L.E. were honored by the organization at a banquet Tuesday evening. Six of seven engineers retiring last year are shown following the banquet. They are Fred Garleyy, John Benton, Henry Drury, Charles Doran, Dave McKee and Arthur Frankish. A seventh engineer, E. Townsend, was absent.

Receiving pins indicating 40 years membership or more in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers were Alex Bremner, James Reid, James Cooper, Sam Cherrie, Dave Fisher and Charles Doran. Five other former engineers who received pins are not in the picture. They were Jesse Barlow, R. P. Orne, J. Hall, George McGee and F. McLean.

Gemmell Wants Open Hearing On Pulp Exports

TORONTO (CP) — The Hearst Chamber of Commerce and other lumber interests today were invited to appear before the Ontario legislature's lands and forests committee late next week to discuss their claims that they are being ruined by government policy which prevents them exporting pulpwood to the nearest economic markets.

The committee, which elected Bryan Gilbert (PC — Lambton West) as chairman today, asked Lands and Forests Minister Gemmell to arrange the meeting.

Mr. Gemmell said the government has not changed its pulp export policy but he would welcome a "wide open hearing."

"Let the chips fall where they may. We don't want anything under the table."

The committee next Tuesday will hear D. J. W. B. Mason of the department of forestry. University of Toronto, Edward Zavitz, former head of the department of reforestation and C. S. Bailey, present head, outline government objects of the white paper on Ontario forest resources presented in the house earlier this week.

Canadian Mayors Ask Federal Govt. to Finance Housing

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities today appealed to the federal government to finance low-rental housing projects to overcome problems of slums and overcrowding.

The request was contained in a brief presented to the House of Commons standing committee on banking and commerce by J. O. Peterson, chairman of the federal executive committee and president of the federation. The committee is considering revisions in Canada's housing code.

A series of three projects, financed entirely by the federal government, would stimulate more active interest by the provinces and municipalities in low-rental housing, the brief said. At the same time it would help to dispel the fears which some people hold toward such projects.

The National Housing Act has made it possible to tackle the problem "in an energetic way," the brief said. Public apathy and active opposition in some quarters, however, have hindered attempts to relieve the congestion and slum conditions.

WANTS MORE MONEY

The resolution also asked the government to increase from $10,000 to $13,500 the amount of construction money available under National Housing Act loans and to lower the down payment to 10 per cent of the amount. The down payment might be reduced for houses costing less than $10,000, the brief said.

Provisions should be made to guard against any increase from the present 5¼ per cent maximum interest rate, the federation stated. Any increase would be a deterrent to new construction.

Another problem facing municipalities is the shortage of serviced residential land, the brief said. A reserve must be built up if the municipalities are to keep pace with housing requirements.

The limited financial resources of municipal governments also are hampering the opening of new sub-divisions, the brief said.

Crown Witness Describes Blood Stains Found in Car Of Man Accused as Girl's Slayer

CORNWALL (CP) — A witness testified Thursday that blood stains were found in a car seized by police after 2nd Lieut. Peter Balcombe was arrested in connection with the stabbing slaying of Marie Anne Carrier, 21-year-old CWAC reserve sergeant.

The witness said also that from the form of one of the blood stains in the car a lipstick traced was found on a silk stocking belonging to the slain girl there were indications a struggle had taken place when she was stabbed to death.

An Ontario provincial Court jury under Chief Justice J. C. McRuer heard the testimony from Corp. Noble Sharp, provincial government medico-legal expert, during the murder trial of Balcombe. The army officer, married and the father of two children, is charged jointly with Miss Carrier while stationed at the Valcartier military camp.

The nude body of the Blenville, Que., girl was found Oct. 18 in a ditch 25 miles west at here. Clothing identified as belonging to her was found in a tourist cabin near Woodstock 100 miles from where the body was discovered, and which a witness said Balcombe had rented the same day.

BLOOD IN CAR

Dr. Sharpe testified that he found human blood on the rear seat of the car seized by police at Balcombe's father-in-law's home near London, Ont. There was also blood on the slip cover over the rear seat and on the sun visor on the driver's side there was blood in the form of a smudge.

"Would that be as if a bloody hand had pulled it down?" asked Crown Attorney R. P. Milligan.

"Yes, it would be consistent with that," Dr. Sharpe replied.

Mr. Milligan suggested to Dr. Sharpe that the blood-stained silk stocking which was found in the tourist cabin near Woodstock with other clothing of the slain girl might have been used as a gag or to throttle a person.

"Yes, it could have been," Dr. Sharpe said.

Dr. Sharpe also agreed with Mr. Milligan that it was possible during the struggle to put the stocking around the throat of the victim, she might have put her head down and smeared lipstick and mucus on it.

Dr. Sharpe said that on a plastic seat cover taken from Balcombe's car he found a large stain that spread down the front of the cover to the floor of the car. This stain was found to be of human blood but its grouping could not be determined.

STAIN ON SEAT

He also examined the seat itself and found similar stains on the same portion of it as on the cover.

Dr. Ward, another provincial medico-legal expert, testified that the seat stain had a washed-out appearance and there was water beneath a front-seat floor mat. He said this indicated that "the interior of the car had recently been washed down."

Dr. Sharpe told the court traces of blood were found on a trousers, slip and panties which a witness earlier had identified as being among the clothing found in the tourist cabin rented by Balcombe.

Dr. Sharpe said there were two cuts through the centre section of the brassiere. One was as though it had been pushed through and in, partly withdrawn, and then inserted again.

START TOUR

NEW YORK (AP)—A party of 29 persons representing United States newspapers, radio and television stations left by plane Wednesday night for a month-long "editors' tour" of Europe and the Middle East. The group, third annual one organized by James J. Wick, co-publisher of the Niles (Ohio) Times, expects to interview top government officials in countries visited.

Victoria State Legislature Opened by Queen

MELBOURNE (Reuters)—Queen Elizabeth Thursday opened the Victoria state legislature from a chair used for her grandfather, George V, more than 50 years ago to open the first Australian federal Parliament.

It was the fifth opening ceremony of a parliamentary session performed by the Queen since the beginning of the Commonwealth tour last November. The ceremony took place in the cream and blue chamber of the Legislative Council.

The Queen took four minutes to deliver her speech, and signed copies were presented to the presidents of the Legislative Council and the Legislative Assembly. As the Queen ended her speech the elected house of a 19-gun salute was heard in the garden.

After leaving the chamber the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh visited the Victorian lower house where members of both houses and their wives were presented.

The royal couple had spent a quiet morning in contrast to Wednesday's tumultuous reception here, in the gardens of Government House, where they planted commemorative trees near those planted by the queen's parents planted 17 years ago when they visited Australia as the Duke and Duchess of York.

Former Major Accused of Stamp Theft in Italy

VANCOUVER (CP) — James Burns, a former major in the Canadian Army and now an unemployed truck driver, doesn't think much of the gratitude shown by Osvaldo Hollrigi of Bolzano, Italy.

He accused Burns of a $130,000 stamp theft and in an Italian court, only the Canadian was convicted in absentia, given a year's suspended sentence, and ordered to reimburse Hollrigi for the stamps.

"I arranged his release from a Russian prisoner-of-war camp in 1945," said Burns Wednesday night. "If I hadn't got him out, he might still have been in Russian hands. Is that gratitude?"

Burns obtained a stamp collection while overseas, but denied he ever had any stamps belonging to Hollrigi.

Burns said he intends to ignore the Italian court judgment.

"I checked and they can't do anything to me in Canada."

Everest Conqueror Says Descent Harder

TORONTO (CP)—The first man to reach the top of Mount Everest says it was harder to get down than up.

Sir Edmund Hilary, in a public lecture Wednesday night, described the difficulties he and a Sherpa named Tenzing overcame to conquer the world's highest mountain on the eve of the Coronation.

He said the most critical hour of the Everest expedition was the one return down the ridge from the summit.

"That was the worst hour of my life," said Sir Edmund. "Getting to the top was easy, compared to the nightmare trip through the soft biding snow to the South Col. Every second of the descent, Tenzing and I were expecting an avalanche that would send us tumbling to the valley below."

Sir Edmund said he plans to return to Nepal in six weeks with George Lowe, another member of the Everest expedition, to climb three other peaks, all more than 24,000 feet high, in the Himalayas.

Judge E. Cross, Once of Madoc Has Play Staged

A former Attorney General of Ontario, a former resident of Madoc and a graduate of Queen's University, Judge Eric Cross, now of Woodstock, Ontario, recently witnessed the premiere performance of his latest Canadian historical play, "The Patriots." Judge Cross writes under the name of Eric Blake.

The play was presented by the Queen's Dramatic Guild, Wednesday night in Convocation Hall, under the direction of Dr. William Angus, director of drama at Queen's University. The plot deals with the struggle for responsible government in Upper and Lower Canada between the year 1837 and 1849.

Prominent in that period and characterized in the play were: Robert Baldwin, played by Christopher Smith of Gananoque; Louis Lafontaine, played by James Bethune of Toronto; Frances Hincks, played by Sharon Taylor and the Hon. Peter Strachen, played by Michael Hilborn both of Toronto. All players included in the production were: Catherine Patterson, Lorna Rogers, John Little, Cathryn Totten, John Castelon, Harriet Roger, Bruce Boa, Stuart Howard, Dr. Wm. Angus, Joan Smale, Donald Grass, Robin Jackson, John Paul Harney, Bonnie Wood, Marion MacLachlan and Ruth Smallie.

Following the final curtain the author was called and Judge Cross spoke to the audience, thanking the actors and production staff for their efforts. He also offered a vote of appreciation to Dr. Angus for his help with the writing of the play. The production ran three nights.

Prepare Plans For Separate School in Town

PICTON. —Plans are now being made for the erection of a new Separate school here. Cost is estimated at $40,000, of which the Ontario Department of Education pays 35 per cent. It will be a one-storey two-room structure and will be built on Church Street, the property adjacent to the present school.

In order to assist in financing the new school, members of St. Gregory' parish were asked to pledge a weekly amount. The response was amazing, said the parish priest, Rev. J. G. Clancy, but further donations will be required in order to avoid making a direct levy on separate school taxpayers.

In the present one-room school there are 56 pupils and next term will see 22 new pupils with five Grade One students and also a yearly increase of fifteen can be expected. The present school is greatly overcrowded. Plans are being discussed and an architect will be engaged shortly.

Judge Rules Publishers In Contempt of Court

WHITBY (CP) — Judge J. R. Pritchard ruled today the publishers of the Pickering News and the Brantford Tribune, weekly newspapers, were in contempt of court in printing a letter from Dr. K. A. Roberts, deputy reeve of Pickering township. Dr. Roberts was fined $25 and costs for his action of contempt in writing the letter.

The judge accepted the apologies of W. C. Murray of the Pickering News and C. H. Nolan of the Brantford Tribune and their words there would be no recurrence.

The imposing of the fine was the highlight of this morning's hearing of the inquiry into the alleged irregularities in the conduct of the Pickering township election on Dec. 7, 1953. The hearing is continuing.

The letter in question was published after the first two days of the hearing, a week ago.

K. A. Newman, representing councillor William A. Newman of Pickering township, said the letter suggested that "if federal and provincial governments were conducted in the same way as Pickering's we would have another Communist state."

Dr. Roberts in his apology to the court said he had no intention of prejudicing the hearing or misleading justice. He only wanted to make his views known to the people of Pickering.

Referring to the "Communist state" suggestion, Dr. Roberts said: "That is a matter of opinion and one which I feel strongly about." I feel Pickering township is now a victim of habit than anything else but I don't contend they are good habits. I am not too interested in, so long as they are followed as long as rules are followed."

In addition to the contempt charges which took up most of the morning Judge Pritchard said it had been brought to his attention "that certain threats are being made to witnesses who have been called to give evidence. This is a serious situation and if allowed to go unchallenged it would completely destroy our system of law and jurisdiction. I hope these rumors that have reached me are entirely unfounded. I want to hear no more of it."

Rylestone

RYLESTONE—Mrs. Stella Gibson has been staying with her nephew, Jack Meiklejohn, while her brother, Richie Meiklejohn, was on jury duty in Belleville.

Mrs. Howard Finch has been sick. Her cousin, Mrs. Rosie Reid has been spending a few days with her.

Little Tommie Thomson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thomson, returned home on Sunday after spending over two weeks in Belleville General Hospital, following a serious operation.

Mr. and Mrs. King (nee Vera McKenzie) and family, have moved to Picton, where Mr. King has accepted a job on a farm. They had spent some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley McKenzie.

The Rylstone Women's Institute is holding a quilting and pot-luck dinner at the home of Mrs. Charles Stewart, 9th Line, next Wednesday, March 3.

Mrs. Murney McInroy of Bonarlaw, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Glenn Morton, Mr. Morton, and grandson, Alan.

Congratulations to Mrs. Minnie Morton, who last Saturday celebrated her 74th birthday.

Writer Never Felt Worse Than After Seeing TV Show

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP)— Out of a clinical curiosity, I went to an "agony" televising program recently and everything went according to plan; I never felt worse.

The show was "Strike It Rich," which gives away about $250,000 a year to people who tell their troubles before the cameras. For that kind of dough, you can buy a lot of trouble.

The audience involved mostly women and some servicemen who seemed to have wandered in out of boredom. On the stage there were many hours of a wash degergent and paste-board hearts since this is "the original show with a heart" and the soap pays for the heart.

A few minutes before air-time, a cheerful, tall man came out and introduced "the man with the really big heart," who turned out to be Walter Framer, the show's producer.

MADE SPEECH

Framer made a little speech which I took to be an answer to recent criticism of the show on the grounds that it attracts needy people to New York who end up on relief and that it exhibits bad taste in parading human misery in public.

"We're not running a welfare department," Framer said. "Just a little quiz game, which is basically for entertainment and also some inspiration."

Framer concluded by telling us he wasn't asking us to applaud but he'd appreciate it if we did when he raised his hands thus and so, besides, there would be prizes later for those who applauded the most.

As the show got under way, Framer was very busy, running around checking camera angles, watching the clock, leading applause and several times darting backstage to announce "heartline calls," which presumably come from people waiting at home.

HELPED SICK GIRL

The first contestants were Mayor Dominick J. Saluzzo of Hartford and Lionel Hampton, the band leader. After a few questions, they won $500 for a girl in Hartford "who is sick—very sick—just to prove how sick she is, her weight has gone from 143 to 73."

After a singing commercial and a plug for a movie magazine, a grey-haired, nervous woman tried to win $125 per week indefinite. She said she's alone in the world,

Miner Credits Wife With Much Of Good Fortune

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—Bill Dewidowich, former hardrock miner and one of three Geraldton prospectors who last fall staged the claims which led to the Manitouwadge copper strike in northwestern Ontario, credits an understanding wife with much of his good fortune.

Dawidowich, who drove into Fort William Wednesday in his newly-acquired automobile to get medical attention for his 18-year-old son Matt, said in an interview:

"I guess if my wife Olga had been any other kind of wife, I'd never have been in on the deal. When we began this prospecting, she never dreamed it would amount to so much but she encouraged us anyway and let me go along with Ray (Barker) in what she figured was at least a good pastime.

"She just hoped we might get something out of it sometime to make up for the money we spent. Now that it's happened, she just can't get used to the idea and so far as she's concerned there will be very little change in our habits."

AMASSED FORTUNE

Dawidowich, who Roy Barker and Jack Forster, all of Geraldton, staked the claims after another prospector neglected to file papers on them. All three now have large holdings in two new mines and the fortune they made almost overnight is estimated at upwards of $1,500,000 each.

Will Construct Millbrook Jail In Near Future

TORONTO (CP)—Construction of a new jail for incorrigible prisoners at Millbrook will begin shortly, Col. G. Hedley Basher, deputy minister of reform institutions, said in a report tabled in the Ontario legislature Wednesday.

Col. Basher also said in the annual report of the department of reform institutions that consideration should be given to the establishment of a guidance-classification centre, an extension of the Brampton plan for the training of the most reformable young prisoners and a centre for the study and treatment of the mentally retarded, the physically handicapped and the provision for aged derelicts.

A total of 965,003 persons was sent to jail in the province during the fiscal year ending March 31, in 1953, a decrease of 140 over the previous year. In 1953-53, 40,578 persons were convicted, an increase of 87.

Poor home and no control was given as the reason why 326 youngsters were sent to training schools. Of the 518 new admissions, the separation of parents was listed as a factor in another 105 cases. Twenty-seven had alcoholic parents. Seventeen were admitted because of their stepfathers and six due to their stepmothers. Lack of parental care was listed as the chief reason in 85 cases.

Avoid necessity for emergency stops—keep speed lower.

- Don't jam on the brakes. Sudden stops cause dangerous skids!
- Use your engine as a brake by shifting into a lower gear.
- As car slows down, pump the brakes carefully. This reduces the possibility of a skid.

Fourth Twin Shutout As Maple Leafs, Canadiens Battle To Scoreless Tie

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

THIS IS IT.

The Memos write a hockey "thirty" to their seasonal activities tomorrow night when they meet the Orillia Pontiacs in the final scheduled game of the season. The Memos are playing no favorites in the sizzling rush for home ice spots in the final standing, and if it is humanly possible to tack a shellacking on the licence plates of the Pontiacs, that is what will happen.

The Oshawa Truckmen took a three-point lead over the second-place Petes with a 3-1 win over Orillia Wednesday night. The Truckmen meet the Pontiacs tonight in Oshawa for their final game and a win will cinch top spot for the Motor City crew. The Petes who have two games left with the Kingston Canadians can only grab top honors with two wins, if Orillia beats Oshawa tonight. Kingston with two victories over the Petes can tie the Perdueville clan for second place. And likewise Orillia can take the runner-up spot if they defeat Memos and Oshawa, and the Petes lose both games. You figure it out. We will wait until Sunday morning and get it straight.

NICE GOING.

Bowlers, like baseball players, and married men, have to be consistent to be anything that resembles a successful operator.

Bowlers that roll on an even keel, though not breaking any individual records, baseballers that smack out a hit or so a game and the married bloke that makes home run limit steadily are usually found somewhere near the top of the heap.

We would rather have them on our side than the kegler who wins the ends with a flashing triple of 897, then fades away the next few weeks to a 456; the diamond dick who hits three for one game then whiffs the course for the next seven in a row, or the benedict who spends a quiet week-end at home then crashes all Saturdays.

Take Jim MacKenzie for instance.

Don't get Jim mixed up with the baseball player or the meandering benedict of this piece. Just confine him to the maple-toppling fraternity.

Jim is one of the better bowlers of Belleville. He proved that last Saturday when he faced sixty of the cream of the district's crop of keglers in the Molson's Bowling Classic's men's singles competition in Brockville—and won.

And with it he won the honor of representing Eastern Ontario in the provincial finals of the classic, which will be "rolled off" at the Sportsmens' Show being held in Toronto next month.

Jim piled up the enviable score of 2,637 for ten games, or an average of 263.7. If that is not consistency, then then Marilyn Monroe played one of the witches in MacBeth.

Nor was his feat in winning the eastern Ontario title a flash-in-the-pan. Looking up the records of the Major "A" League in which Jim has played for the past five or six years, we noted that his annual average over that period of time was always in the vicinity of 240. Consistency plus.

Nor do we hear the head of the Mackenzie clan heresbouts shouting about his feat from the house-tops. The buttons on all his shirts are intact. He wears the same size hat as two weeks ago.

Jim is the modest type. Quiet, never bombastic, he goes about his favorite indoor sport in the alleys, as if he were going to his business. He wears the halo of victory beneath his hat. He smiles in defeat.

In the all-Ontario finals, he will compete with eleven top bowlers of the province. That fact won't "faze" Jim in the least when he steps to the bowling "plate" for his opening pitch. In fact he will be as much at home as he would be stacking his stays ability against the "gang from the Major "A".

Naturally clsied with his success in eastern Ontario, Jim realizes he is up against stern opposition in the "chips-down" series. He may not win the coveted title, but if his well-known consistency does not desert him, he should be well up among the top-fighters when the final results are announced.

More power to his elbow.

BASKETBALL

"Pete" Beach sets this department right on the senior basketball set-up in this district. It appears the Belleville Crawfords and Kingston Edwards, or Monarchs, were named representatives of their respective league by the parent Ontario Basketball Association. Both teams have been assembled by playing off with the runners-up for the league titles. In the Crawfords case, they will meet Doug. Woodley's Trenton Town team in a series to decide the Bay of Quinte title. The Kingston team which eliminated the Crawfords last night in the Limestone city will be hosts to the Peterborough representatives in the first game of the second playdown round tomorrow night.

Four Canadian Colts Eligible For Hambletonian

COLUMBUS, O. (CP) — Four Canadian three-year-olds are eligible for two of the United States' richest harness racing classics, the Hambletonian for trotters and the Little Brown Jug for pacers, the U.S. Trotting Association announced.

The $115,000 Hambletonian will be raced at Globen, N.Y., Aug. 4 and the $70,000 Little Brown Jug at Delaware, O., Sept. 23.

J. E. and C. E. Armstrong of Brampton, Ont., owners of Helicopter, the 1953 Hambletonian winner and first Canadian-owned horse to win the event, have entered Meadow Zombie, a colt they own jointly with Del Miller of Meadowlands, Pa., in the Little Brown Jug. Also a candidate in the pacing race is Gay Counsel, a colt owned by G. Veilleux of Drummondville, Que.

Canadian-owned candidates for the Hambletonian are the Rimoski Stable's Rotary Hanover and Our Scotchman from Rimouski, Que. Rotary Hanover won three races as a two-year-old and was in the money eight of his 15 starts. Our Scotchman did not start last season.

Lumley Has Three To Credit In Bid For Vezina Trophy; Wings Edge Black Hawks 3-2

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

The hockey game in which nobody scores isn't a novelty in the big time this year.

There have been four 0-0 scores in the National Hockey League so far this year. Chubby-faced Harry Lumley, making a strong bid for his first Vezina trophy and goalkeeper's award, has three of them. Lumley, a key man in Toronto Maple Leafs' run for second place in the league race, made it No. 3 Thursday night when the Leafs and Montreal Canadiens battled to a scoreless tie at Montreal.

The game gave Harry his 11th shutout of the season and moved him ahead of Terry Sawchuk of Detroit Red Wings for goaltending honors. Jacques Plante, Canadiens' sub goalie, scored his second shutout in the six games he has played substituting for the injured Gerry McNeil.

In the night's only other game, league-leading Detroit Red Wings edged Chicago Black Hawks 3-2 at Omaha, Neb.

At 34,541, a record of 14,152 had little to get excited about as the teams checked closely and seldom got set up. The tie left Leafs and Canadiens deadlocked in second place with 39 points each. There is 11 points off the Red Wing pace.

AHEAD OF SAWCHUK

Lumley, who never taken the Vezina in his 10 years in the big leagues, now is two goals ahead of Sawchuk.

Harry kicked out 24 Montreal shots, 12 of them in the second period. Plante handled 20, including eight in the first period.

Beside Thursday night's tie, Lumley has been in two 0-0 games against the Red Wings. Sawchuk and Chicago registered the other one.

At Omaha, Gordie Howe, the league's leading marksman scored the winning goal midway through the second period to give the Wings their 34th victory of the season. The game was a regularly scheduled contest, however, as moved to non-league rinks by the Hawks in a move to boost hockey interest.

Ted Lindsay got the other two Detroit goals, Johnny Wilson and Pete Conacher tallied for the Hawks.

No games are scheduled tonight.

Announce Dates For Senior Series

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Hockey Association announced the dates for the three playoff series in the senior A series.

The winner of series A, between Owen Sound Mercurys and Chatham Maroons, will be a best-of-seven playoff with the winner moving into the finals. The other two series, one between Hamilton Tigers and Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen and the other between Windsor Bulldogs and Stratford Indians, will be best-of-five affairs.

The winner of the Kitchener-Hamilton series, series B, will meet the winner of series C, Stratford and Windsor, in a best-of-five series for the right to advance into the finals.

Dates for each of the series are: Series A (Owen Sound and Chatham)—at Chatham: Feb. 26, March 3 and 10. At Owen Sound: March 1, 6, 8 and 13.

Series B (Kitchener and Hamilton)—At Kitchener: Feb. 26, March 4 and 6. At Hamilton March 1 and 5.

Series C (Windsor and Stratford) At Windsor: Feb. 28, March 2 and 7. At Stratford: Feb. 26 and March 7.

Assumption Ties For Hoop Top

KINGSTON (CP) — Assumption College of Windsor Thursday night moved into a first place tie with University of Western Ontario by defeating Queen's University 70-64 in an Intercollegiate Senior Basketball League game.

The victory gives Assumption a score of six wins and one defeat. UWO has a similar record. Both teams gave up their single defeats at the hands of University of Toronto.

Giants After Alouettes Star Doug McNichol

MONTREAL (CP) — New York Giants of the National Football League are attempting to sign Doug McNichol, star defensive end with Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four, in what is interpreted as a new move in the international grid war.

McNichol, a 23-year-old native of Merritton, disclosed that the Giants had got in touch with him by phone and had later confirmed the call by letter. He said he plans to go to New York this week-end to meet officials of the club.

"I am definitely interested," McNichol said. "Of course, I've got to find out the terms of the contract. While the proposition looks very attractive at the moment there is many angles to it and possibly in the long run I might be better off to stay with Alouettes."

The New York move was interpreted as retaliation against Canadian football teams for the signing of star tackle Arnie Weinmeister by Vancouver Lions of the Western conference.

Palmer Leads Mexican Open

MEXICO CITY (AP) — John Palmer of Charlotte, N.C., took the opening-round lead of the $12,200 four-day Mexican open golf tournament with a four-under-par 68 on the tough 6,679-yard Club Mexico course Thursday.

The North Carolina pro was one stroke up on Ed Furgol of St. Louis, Mo., and Ted Rhodes of Chicago who turned in 69s.

Palmer was second in the recent Texas Open.

A field of 135 braved a chilly breeze to launch the 10th annual tourney which has attracted 76 foreigners from four continents. Three dropped out before the day was over.

A total of 19 broke or tied par 72 on the course, which was shortened for the event after only one player—Ben Hogan—managed to break par in a previous match.

Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener landed among the leaders with a par 72. Jack Kay of Montreal shot a 75, Al Balding of Toronto 77 and Murray Thacker, Toronto, 78.

Canada On Hockey Sideline As Tourney Opens

STOCKHOLM (CP)—A schedule promising little difficulty for the top-rated teams opens the world hockey championships today. Canada had an open date in the eight-team round-robin series.

Czechoslovakia, the pre-tournament favorite, was drawn against Switzerland, once a power in European hockey but not seeded in the top four this year.

Sweden, the defending champions, were scheduled to face lightly-regarded Norway in today's second game. The Swedes, who faced no North American opposition last year, are given an outside chance for top honors.

The third game on today's schedule pits Russia against Finland. Observers saw it as a workout for Moscow Dynamos, who are heavily backed in their country's first try at international hockey honors.

Toronto East York, joined by Germany on the sidelines, spent the day integrating four newcomers who joined the team Wednesday. The Canadians are scheduled for their first action Saturday against Switzerland.

The new arrivals, goalie Don Lockhart, defenceman Tom Jamieson, centre Eric Unger and right-winger Bill Sihil bring experience ranging from Senior A to National Hockey League competition to a senior B club which Stockholm sports writers have termed the worst ever to represent Canada in an international tournament.

Manager George Preston of the East York club defended his players' Thursday night from charges of rough play.

Preston explained that the team is used to Canadian rules, and now has the job of learning that a charging penalty is apt to be imposed in Europe for what would be considered a good, clean bodycheck back home.

Trappers Defeat Wolves 6-4

NORTH BAY (CP)—North Bay Trappers defeated the second-place Sudbury Wolves 6-4 in a Northern Ontario Hockey Association Senior A southern group game Thursday night.

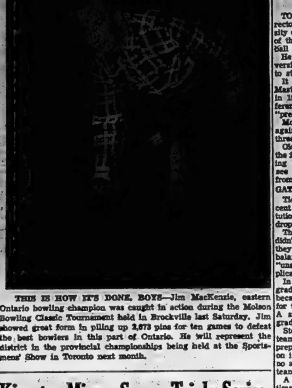
The victory just about clinched a playoff berth for the Trappers.

The worst they can do now is end up in a two-way tie for fourth place.

Chet Koncenzy led the victory with two goals. Alf Guarda, Stan Maxwell, Bill Dwyer and Gord Pankhurst shot singles. Red Barrett, Maune Raupel, Rob Beaudry and Yackey Evans shared the scoring for the Wolves.

The victory moved North Bay into a tie with Pembroke Lumber Kings for third place.

NEVER TOO OLD



CORNWALL, Ont. (CP)—William Taillon swillingly declined offers from youngsters to clear his driveway after a snowstorm. Taillon probably figured he has more experience at snow-shovelling. He's 84.

Eastern Ontario Bowling Champion

THIS IS HOW IT'S DONE, BOYS—Jim MacKenzie, eastern Ontario Bowling Champion and Dominion Bowling Classic Tournament held in Brockville last Saturday. Jim showed great form in piling up 2,672 pins for ten games to defeat the best bowlers in this part of Ontario. He will represent the district in the provincial championships being held at the Sportsmens' Show in Toronto next month.

Kingston Minors Sweep Triple Series Lose Juvenile Game But Win Round

The Kingston Bantams, Midgets and Juveniles picked up where they left off on Wednesday evening to defeat the Belleville minors, both in last night's games and on the round in the first round of the OMHA playoffs.

The Kingston Bantams won their game 5-2 and the round 12-6 while the Kingston midgets racked up a 4-2 victory and an allover 8-3 win. The local juveniles put up the best battle when they forced an overtime period to break an 8-8 deadlock on the round. Belleville was ahead on the night's play 5-2 but the Kingston crew rapped in five during the extra ten minutes to take the game 8-5 and the round 13-8.

BANTAM GAME

Belleville, playing much better hockey than they did in Kingston held the "Vics" to a pair of goals in the first period with Earle MacDonald scoring one for the locals. Kingston extended their lead in the middle stanza with two more but they would have notched several more had it not been for some fine stops by Soden and good back checking from Dave Coe.

Each team added a goal in the final period with Brennan getting Belleville's goal from Rowbotham. Aylsworth scored two goals for the winners with Senior picking up two assists.

BANTAM GAME

The teams:

Kingston: Nichols, Holland, Turnbull, Senior, Mulholland, Pettitt, Nolan, Aylsworth, Krock, Minaker, Coleman, Lees, Bristol, Simpson.

MIDGET GAME

Kingston built up a four goal margin in this game before the homesters let the score sheet in the second period with Bob Cruil pulling the trigger after taking Bill Porter's pass. At that time Kingston held an 8-2 lead in the series but the local lads never slacked up and they scored the final goal just ten seconds before the game ended with George Ferguson converting Thomas' pass into a goal.

Sanderson led the winners with the stick, scoring a pair and assisting on the same number while Hagerley had one and a pair of helpers.

The third period of this fixture was high-round with the referee handing out nine penalties in the 15 minute period.

Kingston: O'Neill, Stephenson, H. Hacker, Hagerley, Ball, Sanderson, Frawley, McPhail, Wilson, Walton, St. Rexy, Iley, Turner, Brooks, Compeau.

JUVENILE GAME

Gerry Goyer, firing home a trio of goals and setting up another came close to sparking the Belleville club to victory in this game. At the end of regulation time the locals were ahead in the game 8-3 and had over come a three goal deficit to tie the total series at 8-8.

Each team scored once in the first period with the Kingston crew holding a 2-1 edge in the middle stanza. Belleville then banged home three in the third to tie the series. Goyer had two of Belleville's goals while Conway with 38 seconds to play.

Kingston took command in the overtime, slamming home five in ten minutes to carry home the prize.

Doug Murray, McKenna, Vesterfelt and Buskard were the pick of the home, after Goyer, while the whole team played good hockey most of the game.

Mistake To Admit Marauders Says Stevens

TORONTO (CP) — Athletic director Warren Stevens of University of Toronto told of the trouble of the Intercollegiate Basketball Union.

He also discussed several controversial steps taken in an attempt to straighten things out.

It was mistake to admit McMaster Marauders into the union in 1953, he said at a press conference. The club was dropped on "pressure" on football union.

McGill University, the only club against counting McMaster, had threatened to quit too.

Old grads' were dissatisfied with the former schedule and were beefing because they were unable to see their old schools play away from home.

GATE DOWN

Ticket sales were down 38 per cent here in 1953 and other institutions suffered a "comparable drop."

The college group, Stevens said, didn't foresee the difficulties after they adopted a system of a balanced five-team schedule was "unsatisfactory" in practical application.

In Montreal, Queen's University graduate living there complained because no games were scheduled for their alma mater in that city.

A similar howl was heard from Montreal fans in other cities.

Stevens said a three- and four-team league schedule has been prepared. If McGill decided to go through on its threat to drop out, "there's no alternative but to play a three-team league."

A statement issued said: "In outlining the decision with the McMaster game replacing the Western game — another of the biggest gate—we were faced with a further estimated loss in revenue of $15,000 to $20,000."

Galt Hawks Whip Junior Dutchies By 6-4 Count

KITCHENER (CP) — Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen passed up a gilt-edged opportunity to move into second place in the fourth place with the idle Hamilton Cubs in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series last night and stayed tied to the last-place Galt Black Hawks.

Smallman Cup of the season here. 577 fans, attended.

The Hawks scored four goals in the final period to clinch the verdict. Two came after left winger Ron Stewart was given a match-misconduct penalty and another was punted into an open net when the Greenshirts withdrew their goalie.

Buddy Horne, Del Topoll, Beryl Klinck and Gary Collins scored for the Greenshirts while Johnny Beaver led the Hawks with three goals. Hec Lalande, Rich Collin and Neil McDonald were the other Galt snipers.

Good Skiing At Larder Lake

TORONTO (CP) — Larder Lake offers the best skiing in Ontario with conditions excellent both on the hill and in the bush.

Good conditions were reported at Haileybury, Kirkland Lake, Owen Sound and Sinclair township (good in the bush); at Fleshorton-Markdale (good in the bush), Huntsville (good in the bush), Orrsville-Hockley (good in the bush), Sudbury and Sundridge; (fair at North Bay (none on the tow); and poor at Barrie (fair in the bush), Brimmacombe and Colingwood.

Other centres reported no skiing.

The second game will be played in Toronto March 7.

Chicoutimi Nips Montreal 4-1; Takes Over Lead

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The two top teams in the Quebec Hockey League met Thursday and now there is only one top team.

Montreal Royals and Chicoutimi Saguenays were tied for first place with 72 points before game time, but Chicoutimi won 4-1 and took over undisputed possession of the top spot. In the other scheduled game, Valleyfield Braves edged Sherbrooke Saints 4-3.

At Chicoutimi, Montreal went into an early lead on a goal by Dick Gamble but that was all the scoring they did. Jimmy Moore scored twice, and Jacques Locas and Stan Smrkovski once for the Saguenens.

Gord Haworth paced the Valleyfield attack at Sherbrooke, and the win enabled the Braves to move within one point of their fourth-place adversaries. Motto McLean scored twice for the losers.

Canadians Ousted From Tourney

ORLANDO, Fla. (CP)—The remaining Canadian contender in the International Amateur Golf tournament was eliminated in the second round.

Mrs. Elias McDougall of Saskatoon and Paul Kirby of Concord, N.H., were eliminated 2 and 1 by Patty Berg of Chicago and Pete Cooper of Tampa, Fla., Thursday.

In the opening round, 18-year-old Marlene Stewart from Fonthill, Ont., and her partner, veteran Dutch Harrison of Chicago, were defeated 1 up by Betty Dodd of San Antonio, Tex., and Bill Kalen of Louisville, Ky.

Saskatchewan Defeats Manitoba For Schoolboy Curling Championship

HAMILTON (CP) — A missed rock by Manitoba on the last shot of the game in the all-western final Thursday night gave Saskatchewan the fifth C a n a d i a n schoolboy championship in six years.

Saskatoon Technical Collegiate of Saskatoon, who defeated Gordon Bell High School from Winnipeg 10-7 to take the Sifton Trophy Thursday night, have been the champions for three of the past five years.

This year's winning rink, skipped by Bayne Record, 18, won the championship when Gene Walker, 15-year-old Manitoba skip, missed the final shot of the game.

The Walker rink, on the short end of the score throughout the game, shortened Record's lead to 9-7 going into the 10th end. Record put a stone deep into the house on his final throw and Walker needed only to knock the Saskatoon stone out for the game and the championship.

Walker missed his shot, took out one of his own stones and left Saskatoon with one point.

THOUGHT HE HAD IT

After the game the Manitoba skip said "I don't know how I could have missed that- I thought I had it in the bag."

Saskatoon lead, 18-year-old Don Brownell, said "I knew we'd won it." Skip Record added "that was the best game I've seen." Stan Austman, 17, of the winners said "I figured he (Walker) would have made it. I don't see how he missed it." Don Snyder, 18, was Saskatoon's vice-skip.

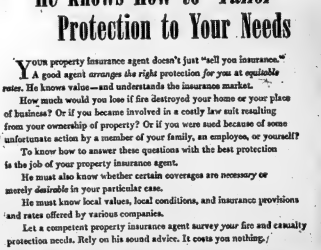
It was the 104th game for Saskatchewan this year. The west's only other winners were Numbolt, Sask., in 1949 and Regina in 1950. The only eastern championship was won by Oshawa Collegiate and Vocational Institute in Saskatoon last year.

Other members of the runner-up Manitoba rink were vice-skip Larry Morison, 18, second Mitch Cragg, 18, and lead Jim Urad, 17.

The large silver Sifton Trophy was presented to Second by Victor Sifton, publisher of the Winnipeg Free Press. Mr. Sifton also presented individual trophies to the members of the winning rink.

The members of the Manitoba rink also received individual trophies—from Mrs. Sifton.

WIDE COVERAGE



The final night of the tournament received the widest radio and television coverage of any Canadian curling championship. Parts of the final Saskatchewan-Manitoba sudden-death game were filmed and will be televised later. Radio coverage included a broadcast over a local Hamilton station and a coast-to-coast broadcast over the CBC.

The tournament, in which every province but Newfoundland took part, was scheduled so that every rink would play nine games because of a tie at the end of their nine the Saskatchewan and Manitoba representatives played an extra game.

Saskatchewan finished the tournament with nine victories and one defeat. Manitoba had eight wins and two losses. New Brunswick was third with a 5-4 record. Northern Ontario, Alberta, British Columbia and Ontario each won four and lost five to tie for fourth place. Nova Scotia and Quebec followed, each with three victories and six defeats. Prince Edward Island was last with two wins and seven losses.

THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR PROPERTY INSURANCE AGENT—

He knows How to "Tailor" Protection to Your Needs
YOUR property Insurance agent doesn't just "sell you insurance."
A good agent arranges the right protection for you at equitable rates. He knows value—and understands the insurance market.
How much would you lose if fire destroyed your home or your place of business? Or if you became involved in a costly law suit resulting from your ownership of property? Or if you were sued because of some unfortunate action by a member of your family, an employee, or yourself?
To know how to answer these questions with the best protection is the job of your property insurance agent.
He must also know whether certain coverages are necessary or merely desirable in your particular case.
He must know local values, local conditions, and insurance provisions and rates offered by various companies.
Let a competent property insurance agent survey your fire and casualty protection needs. Rely on his sound advice. It costs you nothing.

Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's strange what a little wiggle can do.

It was just such a thing that started Lana Turner and Marilyn Monroe on the road to stardom. Now the same thing is happening to a luscious blonde charmer who calls herself Sheree North.

The doll appeared on Bing Crosby's first television show, and toward the end of it she flung off her shirt and went through a dance routine that amazed the cables—also the sponsor and some irate TV viewers.

"The dance was criticized as a burlesque routine," she related. "It wasn't. A girl who was only a burlesque dancer wouldn't have been able to do it.

"Actually, the routine was not as bad as some people made it out to be. It's just that it seemed wild after the easy pace of the show. When a girl throws off her shirt and does a fast dance number after Bing has been on, it's something of a shock.

REHEARSAL TIME SHORT

"I realized this, and that's why I picked the most conservative choreographer I knew. The trouble was that I didn't have time to learn the routine. I had only a couple of hours to rehearse the dance. Then they shot it mostly from the waist up. When you have a girl jitterbugging to the 'One O'Clock Jump,' it's bound to look a bit sensational."

But while the protests poured in, so did the offers. The biggest was the personal call for filling Monroe's "Pink Tights." She was given the most extensive test in recent memory—and days ago 20th Century-Fox signed her to a contract. She gets another lucky break this Sunday. She'll star in the NBC-TV comedy hour version of "Anything Goes," along with Ethel Merman, Frank Sinatra and Bert Lahr.

"I don't know whether I'm going to dance on the show," said Sheree. "I'm almost afraid to. I don't want to offend the mothers and fathers of America."

RESCHEDULE NHL GAME

MONTREAL (CP) — National Hockey League officials announce the Detroit-Boston game scheduled for Feb. 29 has been changed to March 16. The Boston Garden will be occupied by an ice show on the earlier date.

Bantam Soccer Champions Feted At Banquet

Last evening the teachers of Holloway Street United Church Sunday School played host at a banquet for their trophy winner bantam soccer team.

The city league champions proved to be as useful with their knife and fork as they were with the soccer ball last fall when they beat out Wanderers for the East Hill champions for the Bill Harvey trophy.

Alf Hughes team manager admirably filled the chairman position and once again showed his interest in boys in general and his team in particular.

Les Digby, Bay of Quinte F.A. president and Ontario Minor F.A. council member spoke a few words of congratulation to the team and announced the probability of provincial cup competitions for all age groups being run this year.

In the absence of Bill Harvey donor of the trophy, Rev. S. E. Larman minister of Holloway Street Church said a few well chosen words on the subject of sportsmanship and presented the trophy to Doug Findlay captain of the team.

Ron Jones Sunday School superintendent presented a crest and team photograph to each member of the team and added a few words of congratulation.

Before the program concluded Doug Findlay on behalf of the boys and coaches presented a gift to lady Sunday School teachers for the very excellent meal they had served.

Kingston Edwards Oust Crawfords By 80-56 Score

By ED. MacDONALD

Picking up where they left off Wednesday night, the Kingston Edwards maintained their basketball mastery over the Belleville Crawfords as they handed the locals an 80-56 setback in Kingston last night. This was the second on the home and home total point series and marked the end of the trail for the Crawfords as this year's hoop-ball wars.

The Kingston squad held a clear edge throughout the game but the Crawfords kept plugging until the final whistle in an effort to narrow the margin of defeat. Faulkner, Soule, and Batchelor were the mainstays for the Belleville crew with 17, 13 and 16 markers respectively. Again it was Duncan who spearheaded the Kingston attack with 28 points while Purcell and Harbley aided the cause with 17 and 16 of the best.

At the end of quarter mark, the Limestone five were on top 17-12. They extended the gap at the half to 42-31 and romped from thereon in. The game was cleanly played with a minimum of fouls being called. Kingston now goes on to meet the Northumberland Marines in the next phase of the Ontario playdowns, while the Crawfords put their suits in mothballs and turn their thoughts to the up and coming baseball season.

Lineups:

Belleville Crawfords: Mulread 7, Batchelor 16, Soule 13, Faulkner 17, Jefferies 3, Garrow, Bovay, Peters, Breaugh.

Kingston Edwards: Purcell 18, Harley 17, Cervenko 6, Estord 2, Shepherdson 8, Kelly 8, Eliord, Duncan 26.

OMHA Awards Apsley Series To Wellington

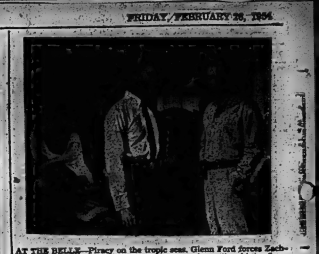
As a result of the Apsley team having used a player under an assumed name, as well as using two other ineligible players in their games with Wellington, the Ontario Minor Hockey Association has announced the following action.

The Apsley team has been dropped from competition for this season, and the series awarded to Wellington.

Manager McCormack stands suspended until such time as he appears before the executive committee.

Coach Bill Houle is suspended for one year for permitting ineligible players to play for his team.

Player Greenville Crosby is suspended pending a hearing before the executive committee.

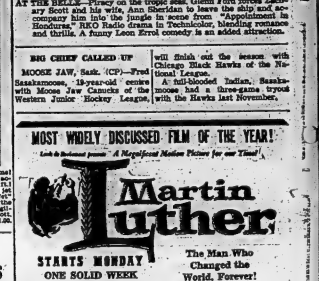


Players Ken Darling of Lakefield and Eric Batten of Warsaw, are declared ineligible for competition with Apsley teams.

Player Noreana of Barrie, Juvenilles, who was suspended for rough play, has been reinstated.

Player Allen Sanders of Bracebridge Juveniles is suspended one additional game for having received two misconduct penalties in one game against Bobcaygeon.

AT THE CAPITOL—Wild Bill Elliott heads the cast of Allied Artists' fast-shooting action drama, "Vigilante Terror", the current attraction at the Capitol Theatre showing today and Saturday. On the same program is thrilling color feature "Sabre Jet" starring Robert Stack and Coleen Gray. Starting Sunday is a three showing and is to be seen on our wide curved vision screen.



AT THE BELLE—Piracy on the tropic seas, Glenn Ford forces Zachary Scott and his wife, Ann Sheridan to leave the ship and accompany him into the jungle to dramatic scenes from "Appointment in Honduras," RKO Radio drama in Technicolor, blending romance and thrills. A funny Leon Errol comedy is an added attraction.

BIG CHIEF CALLED UP

MOOSE JAW, Sask. (CP)—Fred Sasakamoose, 19-year-old centre with Moose Jaw Canucks of the Western Junior Hockey League, will finish out the season with Chicago Black Hawks of the National League.

A full-blooded Indian, Sasakamoose had a three-game tryout with the Hawks last November.

AT THE CAPITOL—For the first time! Thrilling suspenseful big fights are filmed at full length of Ring Action! See the thrill-packed story of our joe ness and their woes in "Baby Joe" showing today and Saturday at the Capitol. On the same program is dramatic Terror" with Wild Bill Elliott. Continuous show Saturday from 1.00.

Your Individual Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY, Feb. 27, 1954

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — This day is likely to be more suitable to your talents and training than it will be to many. Close scrutiny, patience. Farsightedness can bring about unusual results. Investigate the new.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Many of your benefits today can come through better co-operation with associates, friends, family, superiors. Impatience and snappy retorts can bring about setbacks.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — A good outlook for clever management; advantageous connections; smart trading easier than usual. Be aware that you are working in a period that needs concentration, keenness.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Some congenial influences in personal undertaking, in your position, home affairs. Concentrate on essentials, follow through resolutely and you'll achieve.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — You may have to handle a little more than usual, but the results will be gratifying. Don't waste time fulfilling. Work; then relax.

August 24 to September 22 (Virgo)—There will be plenty of opportunities today. Will you take advantage of them? Accept improved ways and means.

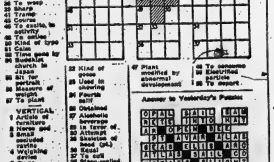
September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Aspects indicate pressure from the unexpected. Increase vigilance, be alerted at all times; even get forth leaders to be on newest happenings. Have no domestic misunderstandings.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Tendencies toward the unusual now. Better to go slowly until you have thoroughly scanned the possibilities and analyzed what you can handle adequately.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Take things calmly, equably, temperately and you will be able to think clearer, better. A plan of practical wisdom will lead to furthering out prizes and rewards today.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Avoid any capricious thoughts, and desires for things of superficial value. Work hard and sincerely done will bring real satisfaction, true benefits.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Uncertainties may deceive; guidestep the unknown for the present.



February 21 to March 20 (Pisces) — Several paths may be opened to you in the early hours. Investigate each, decide your course quickly, and hold to it. Let non-essentials wait—within reason, of course.

YOU BORN TODAY are the idealistic type; have a love for science, mechanics and philosophical endeavors. Usually fond of travel, you will move on a minute's notice, change abode forthwith. You often lack-that something to back up your ideas. You may be slacken pace through lack of confidence. Have faith and better results will be yours. You work with patience but also can be indifferent. Birthdate of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, Amer. poet.

TELEGRAPH MILESTONE

CANBERRA (CP)—Australia will issue a 3½-penny stamp to commemorate the centenary of the telegraph here next April. Since the first telegraph line opened in 1854, the Australian network has grown up to more than 800,000 miles.

Minister Claims 12 to 14 Papers Pro-Communist

OTTAWA (CP)—Citizenship Minister Harris says 12 to 14 foreign-language papers published in Canada are attempting to undermine Canadian democratic institutions.

Mr. Harris made the statement Thursday in the Commons in commenting on a speech in Montreal by Alan Boyd, an officer of his department. Mr. Boyd said the aim of 13 pro-Communist publications in Canada is furtherance of international communism, specifically the Sovietization of Canada.

Michael Starr (PC — Ontario) asked whether Mr. Boyd was correct in stating that the Communist press was subsidized from abroad, was guided by a common board of strategy in Toronto and was aiming its propaganda at New Canadians.

Mr. Harris said there was nothing in the speech which was not common knowledge to officials of his department.

Liaison officers of the department visited groups of New Canadians to warn them of the evils of the Communist doctrines. Active steps were taken by these officers in an attempt to prevent immigrants coming under the influence of Communists in Canada.

Guides, Scouts, Honor Founders' Birthdays

STIRLING. — On Sunday morning a special service was held at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church commemorating the birthdays of Lord and Lady Baden Powell.

The scouts, cubs, guides and brownies gathered in formation under the direction of their various leaders.

An impressive ceremony took place as Rev. W. H. V. Walker dedicated the flag which the First Stirling girl guides received at the banquet last week. Captain Kent received the flag and presented it to the standard bearer, Rose Anne Vandervoort.

The color party gave their salutes to the pastor. Rev. Walker dedicated and presented four "Religious and Life Emblems" to Wendy Warren, Patsy Fraser, Sally Fox and Rose Ann Vandervoort.

EXPLAINS REQUIREMENTS

Capt. Kent explained how these emblems are earned and gave the requirements that each must fulfill. Dale Nisbet and Sally Fox read the two Bible lessons and Mrs. O. L. Clapper sang a solo. The message was given by the Rev. Mr. Walker based on guide laws and promises.

The pastor felt Stirling people should be proud of their young people of today.

A "Wolf Cub's Prayer" was sung by the congregation and Miss Marilyn Eggleton sang a solo.

Following the singing of a "Boy Scout Hymn" the color party received their flags and the service was concluded.

Sunday School Lesson:

Passing Judgement on Jesus

By ROY L. SMITH

Every judge is on trial every time a prisoner comes before him to be tried. In a somewhat similar fashion Jesus of Nazareth, by whom man are judged, must Himself submit to judgment. This is a part of the image of God in which man was created, that he is an independent personality endowed with the capacity to judge.

Jesus must be judged by (1) what He proposed to do for men, and (2) the faithfulness with which He has kept His promises.

The author of the Fourth Gospel reports Him as having said that He was a "door," by which He seems to have meant that He had the power to open life up for men so that it could be lived in a glorious new enthusiasm.

The Uniformed Sunday School lesson for February 28: "The Good Shepherd," John 10.

That is exactly what has happened. It is not by any accident that the great scientific, social, and political development of the last 2,000 years has occurred in those lands which have been most open to Christian teachings. The modern hospital, for example, is the direct fruitage of the Christian spirit of inquiry. The modern nursing profession owes its rise directly to Christian influences. There are charitable institutions inside the life of pagandom, of course, but nowhere outside of Christian lands is there to be found anything corresponding to our community chests, and the International Red Cross is colored by its Christian ancestry in all its far flung enterprise.

"DOOR CALLED JESUS"

There have been those individuals, it is true, who have grown up under a Christian environment and who have repudiated Christian ideals in almost every aspect of their living. It has even happened that occasional leaders of the Church have been recreant to their trust and have betrayed their Christian professions and auspices.

But the very fact that they are the exceptions make them even more conspicuous in their infidelity, and for that reason they get the headlines. In the meantime, millions of devout and honest souls have found their way through to a level of living, and a quality of life, by entering through the "door called Jesus." The transformation that comes in the life of any person who accepts the shepherding of Jesus of Nazareth—who uses Jesus as a door—is the lasting miracle by which the Nazarene must be judged.

There is a large place in religion for theology, but it must never be forgotten that theology does not produce the spiritual experience of the individual. It is only the honest effort of careful and logical thinkers to explain the miracle of the experience.

NOT JUDGED BY THEOLOGIES

This means that Jesus is not to be judged by the theologies that men have built up about Him, but by the contribution He is able to make to the life of that individual who is willing to accept His formulae and live by them.

A doctor may have a large suite of offices, with a beautiful waiting room and works of art hanging upon the walls, His receptionist may be the soul of culture, and his attendant nurse a model of efficiency. But in the last analysis the physician himself must be judged by what happens to his patients. Do they get well under his care? Are they taught to conserve their physical resources and husband their strength? Do they leave his office stronger and better able to cope with the world? That is the test. By similar logic Jesus must be judged by what has happened to Christians.

New Egyptian Regime Running Into Trouble

Council Warns Disorders Will be Severely Crushed

CAIRO (AP)—A conflict was reported today in the Egyptian Army ranks over the ouster of Maj.-Gen. Mohammed Naguib from the presidency and premiership. The ruling Revolutionary Council broadcast a warning that all disorders will be severely crushed.

The government-run Radio Cairo interrupted a program to broadcast the council's statement three times.

Leaders of the council, a group of 11 young army officers who unseated Naguib Thursday and elevated Lt.-Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser to premier and acting president, bolstered defence forces in the main army headquarters barracks at Abbassia, a Cairo suburb in which the 1952 revolt that ousted King Farouk was launched.

But up to noon, there were no signs of fighting in Cairo.

Just who was revolting against what regime and how serious it might be remained a mystery.

Urgent defence measures at Abbassia indicated a pro-Naguib plot had been discovered. Counter-measures were hastily organized. The army blocked traffic on the highway in front of the barracks and, reinforced with tanks, dashed in and out in jeeps.

NAGUIB ISOLATED

The government isolated Naguib for "a month or two" at his home under military guard at the time it announced he was being dropped on charges that he intended to turn the Nile republic back to dictatorship."

"Armed forces lined up against Colonel Ibn Mahmoud, cable office in Cairo, where foreign correspondents file their dispatches, as they did the morning Naguib lost his post.

Red-fezzed police and army troops in battle gear were stationed in the main squares of Cairo, though traffic was permitted to move normally.

Police guards were augmented in Garden City, a foreign district in the heart of Cairo, the United States and British embassies.

Jet fighters flew over the city.

Father of Six Found Guilty of Manslaughter

ST. CATHARINES (CP) — William Jacobs, father of six young children Friday was found guilty of manslaughter in the Christmas Eve blasting death of Mrs. Ruth Hindres, his 26-year-old landlord.

The jury deliberated only one-five hours before reaching a verdict, and Mr. Justice Judson said he would have to pass the usual of sentence "some considerable thought."

He remanded Jacobs for sentence next week.

Jacobs testified he had no knowledge of events surrounding the death of the landlord. He said that except for three instances his mind was a blank from the time he was sitting in his Port Weller home before the slaying, till he woke up in police custody Christmas morning.

Dr. Kenneth Gray, assistant professor of psychology at the University of Toronto, testified Jacobs's intoxication would have rendered him incapable of forming an intent to kill.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP)—Synopsis — A disturbance moving rapidly northeastward through Missouri spread cloud across Ontario this morning. Rain is expected over southern Ontario tonight and early Sunday as this disturbance moves across the lower Lakes. Cold air over northern Manitoba is expected to cover northern regions on Sunday.

Dairy Industry To Be Given Shot in Arm

TORONTO (CP)—The provincial government plans to give the dairying Ontario dairy industry a shot in the arm.

A bill co-ordinating the various activities of the industry under one body was introduced in the legislature Friday.

A consolidation of six acts relating to various functions of dairying, the bill recommended the formation of a milk industry commission composed of representatives of the processor, distributor and producer sides of the industry.

Acting Agriculture Minister Goodfellow said outside the house the commission would be headed by Everett Biggs, present dairy commissioner, and would be under the deputy minister of agriculture, C. F. Graham.

Mr. Goodfellow told the legislature the stabilization plans was requested by representatives of the industry "with the realization that the industry does need to be co-ordinated."

Under the co-ordination would come the milk control board and the milk products board, a new group to deal with concentrated milk.

The milk control board would still handle prices and marketing problems.

The commission, according to a plan prepared by the agriculture department would:

1. Be representative of the whole industry.

2. Be concerned with the co-ordination and improvement of all phases of the industry.

3. Promote and co-ordinate research.

4. Promote quality milk production.

5. Make recommendations to the milk control board and the milk products board.

"It is recognized that all milk products are tied very closely together and that in making decisions with reference to milk products, legislation should be such as to allow equal attention to be given to all phases of the industry . . . quality milk production, milk sanitation and marketing," said Mr. Goodfellow.

During the throne speech debate, J. N. Ginsberg (Lib-Prog—Toronto St. Andrew) called for an all-Canadian St. Lawrence seaway, an all-Canadian natural gas line from Alberta and operated in Ontario as a public utility.

Report Stevens Will Remain Army Secretary

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top sources high in President Eisenhower's administration says Robert Stevens will continue as secretary of the army, despite the criticism levelled at him during during his quarrel with Senator Joseph McCarthy.

This source, who declined to be quoted by name, said some of the Republican administration's top advisers had counselled Stevens against taking on the Wisconsin Republican senator on a televised hearing. The source said they were also satisfied that Stevens had the prestige Stevens may have suffered in the course of an agreement widely interpreted as a surrender, he still would have been made to look "the winner" if he hearing had taken place.

Dogs, Soap and Pies Just Part Of Lingo at Defence Headquarters

By DAVE McINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Know what UN stands for? Sure, United Nations and NATO? Easy, North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

NDHQ? A cinch, National Defence Headquarters.

Well, how about DOGS, SOAP, PIES, JAGS or DADJ? A real jungle, eh?

You'll find them all in the new list of official abbreviations for directorates and committees of the Canadian armed forces. The 15-page list contains more than 400 examples of military brevity.

DOGS is the official short form for the Director of General Stores in navy directorate.

Mail addressed to SOAP doesn't go to a giveaway radio program but ends up on the desk of the Staff Officer Air Personnel.

PIES

PIES stands for the Panel of Inter - service Engineering Standardization, DODE for Director of Organization and Establishments, an RCAF directorate.

DAD is the Director of Armaments Development at army headquarters. ADA is the Air Distributing Authority.

JAG is the Judge Advocate General; VAG the Vice Adjutant General and WAG the Vice Quartermaster General.

DJIB is one of the Joint Intelligence Bureau and DID for the Directorate of Inter-service Intelligence.

DND naturally doesn't turn out to be the department of national defence. It stands for the Director of Navigation and Direction, a navy directorate.

You reach the centre of this weird jungle at SHAPE-UNRLE. Any smart client can translate without hesitation into Senior Air Liaison Officer Royal United Kingdom Service Liaison Staff.

EXPECT VERDICT IN BALCOMBE CASE SATURDAY

Army Officer Charged With Slaying Nude Girl

CORNWALL (CP) — Indications today were that the jury in the murder trial of 2nd Lieut. Peter Balcombe, charged in the axe-killing of a 21-year-old girl who turned down his offer of marriage, would be given the case Saturday.

Chief Justice J. C. McRuer was scheduled to deliver his charge this morning, directing the jury on points of law involved in the case.

Balcombe, 24, pleaded not guilty to the murder of two young children, was found guilty Thursday of manslaughter in the Quebec City area was found in a grassy ditch 35 miles west here.

Evidence was that Balcombe kept company early last year with the girl, who was a typist in a Levis bank by day and on some weeknights took part in exercises squad drills of a reserve army unit used his barracks.

Members of the girl's family testified that Balcombe gave her a ring and offered to divorce his wife and marry her but that she refused him.

KENTED APARTMENT

After returning to Valcartier last June, Balcombe rented an apartment in Levis, across the river in Quebec, he said, to take his wife and family there from his father-in-law's home in Scmoka near Sherbrooke. But, witnesses said, the same week he took a room in Quebec's Carrier and went out with her at least once.

Miss Carrier, a vivacious brunette, disappeared the night of Oct. 14 and the next morning a farm boy found her dead in the ditch. A pathologist said she apparently had not been sexually attacked.

Crown witnesses said during the trial, which started Monday, Balcombe was in Montreal about 1 a.m. Oct. 15, a defence witness placed him in Colborne at 8:30 a.m. Oct. 15, a crown witness said he rented a cabin near Woodstock about 2 p.m. the same day and a defence witness said the dead Woman's clothing found later in a mile of the cabin was identified as belonging to the slain girl. Witnesses said bloodstains were found on Balcombe's car.

SEVEN WOUNDS

A pathologist said the seven stab wounds in the girl's body were made with a stiletto-type knife.

Three of the six defence witnesses testified that Oct. 15 they were in the area in which the body was found but saw nothing. Balcombe himself did not testify.

Addressing the jury Friday, Crown Attorney R. E. Mulligan said:

"Can you come to any other reasonable conclusion, from the evidence presented, than that Balcombe committed this crime?"

He said it was a clear case of circumstantial evidence and the possibility of a manslaughter verdict; it had to be one of guilty or not guilty, he said.

Defence counsel J. M. P. Kelly of Ottawa asked the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty and "return Balcombe to his family and two children."

Canadian A-Power Chief Forecasts Exports of A-Fuels

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (CP)—Canada's atomic power chief has taken a look into the future and come up with two long-range forecasts.

William J. Bennett, president of Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., says uranium-rich Canada some day may be shipping atomic fuels to other countries to operate their atomic power plants. He also may see build packaged atomic power plants and export them to power-hungry areas of the world.

Mr. Bennett, in an address Friday night to the Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce, said atomic energy for peaceful purposes will play a major role in promoting peace and combating communism in underdeveloped countries. Through its use power-poor countries could improve living standards and defeat poverty, one of the chief causes of political unrest.

He suggested the goal could be reached through implementation of President Eisenhower's plan to pool the atomic energy resources of world powers. This would make peacetime uses of atomic power available to all nations.

CONSIDER FUTURE

"If a way can be found to implement the Eisenhower plan we will have to look beyond our own boundaries and our own needs, when we consider the future of our Canadian atomic energy program," he said.

"Certainly we will have an important contribution to make from our fund of technical experience. It is also probable that we will be called upon to supply the field for atomic power plants, it is not beyond the realm of possibility that we may even export package power plants."

But Mr. Bennett said industrial application of atomic energy is not around the corner. It was from eight to 10 years away.

He said atomic power plants will play a big role in overcoming an electric power deficiency of 2,000,000 to 10,000,000 kilowatts expected in Canada by 1979.

Mob Backing Syrian Rebels Seizes House of Parliament

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Thousands of demonstrators supporting the rebel army forces who ousted Syria's dictator - president Col. Adib Shishekly, swept through Damascus today and seized the house of parliament, it's army reaching here said.

The demonstrators demanded the resignation of the new temporary president, Maahmoud Ziverbari, speaker of the house who took over Friday after Shishekly fled the country.

Reliable sources said the demonstration appeared aimed at installing one of the rebel leaders in the presidency.

Planes belonging to the military command of Aleppo were reported flying over Damascus as crowds swarmed through the city. The informants said the Damascus army garrison withdrew to the north.

Kuzbari, who took over in the wake of Shishekly's overthrow announced he would stay in office until constitutional elections could be held to choose a new president.

FLIES TO EXILE

Shishekly, who arrived in Beirut Friday, flew today to exile in Saudi Arabia. He was the guest of the Saudi Arabian Legation during his brief stay here.

The provisional regime established Friday in Damascus, the capital and southern metropolis of Syria, was headed by Col. Fawzi el Seipo, the commercial centre of the north where the uprising against Shishekly was masterminded Thursday.

Telephoned reports from Damascus said communications between the northern and southern parts of the country had been cut.

CHANGE CONSTITUTION

A communique broadcast from Aleppo, whose 350,000 people make it Syria's largest city, declared the aim of the Aleppo rebels was not only the removal of Shishekly but the changing of the entire government and constitutiuel. It declared they would continue the struggle until completely successful.

Kuzbari promised Friday in a speech the election of a new president within two months, and pledged to uphold the constitution Shishekly put through last June.

Prime Minister Spending Last Day in India

MADRAS (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent visited this southern Indian metropolis today for the last full day of his visit to India, longest stop on the Canadian leader's global goodwill tour.

The prime minister, accompanied by his son, Jean-Paul, and his daughter, Mrs. Hugh O'Donnell of Quebec, arrived aboard the RCAF's C-5 transport which is taking him around the world. He flew here from Bombay, the big Indian port on India's west coast.

The Canadian party' was received by the governor here, C. Rajagopalachari, chief minister of Madras and a veteran Indian statesman. The prime minister planned to hold discussions with the chief minister and other officials here today before leaving for Colombo, Ceylon.

In Ceylon he will be a dinner guest of Prime Minister Sir John Kotelawala at the official residence. Monday he will call on the president of Ceylon's Senate, the speaker of the house, receive a guard of honor and hold a press conference.

OTHER VISITS

From Ceylon, the Canadian party goes on March 4 to Indonesia, then to the Philippines, Japan and Japan before flying home via Honolulu and San Francisco. They are due back in Ottawa March 17.

Friday the prime minister visited state governor Sir Giffi Baljsad and other high officials in Bombay after bidding farewell to Prime Minister Nehru, with whom he had conferred almost daily since arriving in India Sunday, in New Delhi, the capital.

CHEATING FACTORY TIME CLOCK STILL OFFENCE

House Defeats Motion To Take Law From Code

OTTAWA (CP) — Cheating the factory time clock will continue to be an offence under Canada's Criminal Code.

The House Friday night defeated by 67 to 13 a CCF bid to remove it from federal crimes.

Colin Cameron (CCF—Nanaimo) said it should not be the court's business to arrest a workman because he "smashed off five, 10 or 15 minutes" from his time.

Mr. Cameron, a west-coast shipyard worker, is looking his election to the Commons last summer, said if the law had been enforced against Liberal MPs many would have been prosecuted.

Justice Minister Garson said the practice "is really obtaining wages under false pretences."

Mr. Cameron moved an amendment to a section in the new revision of the Criminal Code which states that a person who falsifies an employment record or punches a time clock with intent to deceive is guilty of an offence.

He proposed deletion of the reference to punching clocks.

AMENDMENT APPROVED

Later the Commons approved an amendment, introduced by Leon Fulton (PC—Kamloops) stating it is a crime to falsify employment records "including punching of a time clock." Both Mr. Fulton and Mr. Garson said the false punching of a time clock is simply one way to falsify employment records.

Mr. Cameron said employers "seem entitled to their own rules instead of asking the courts to do it. When an employee smashed out a few minutes early to get his car while another workman punched his time card, it was just carelessness on the employer's part.

Employers used time clocks as a "cheap and easy method of keeping accounts" and forced employees to punch them.

"If they want to do it in that way, it is their right, but they must take the risk."

Mr. Garson said the law applies to both employers and employees. In fact, the employer was in a better position to get "some moral return" from cheating.

Changes in the Criminal Code had gone a long way toward the CCF position. Under the existing code, the maximum penalty was two years, a $5,000 fine, or both. Under the proposed revision the maximum penalty would be six months, a $500 fine, or both, but in practice there would be a nominal fine.

Mr. Garson said the law had been in effect for 18 years but he knew of only one instance it had been used against employees.

Four Children Are Hit by Truck At Port Credit

PORT CREDIT (CP) — Four small children were hurt Friday, one seriously, when, police said, a tractor-trailer went past a line of stopped cars and hit a group of children on the sidewalk.

All the children were 8 and 9 years old. Lorraine Tomlinson suffered a fractured skull. Her condition was reported serious. Bruce Cameron suffered broken feet. Geoffry McIntyre cuts, and John Hodgson a wrenched knee.

Buy Your Coffee in Jewelry Store It Will Cost You Less, Not More

TORONTO (CP) — A Jewelry store started selling coffee at 49 cents a pound this week in protest against prices of as much as 69 cents a pound in the grocery stores.

Customers are lining up outside for half a block outside the jewelry store on downtown Yonge street.

A cleaning shop and a shake bar on Toronto's Bloor area have taken up the idea.

It all began with Mrs. Ann Paige, a housewife who happens to be a business woman. Daughter-in-law of Charles Paige, who owns four Toronto jewelry stores, the attractive brunette is the buyer for the jewelry chain.

Like most housewives she watched the recent rise in the coffee price with increasing concern.

"But I had no idea of doing anything about it until one day a coffee importer came into the store to see my father-in-law," she said in an interview. "He said the people were burning coffee growers in Brazil. They are not getting fat on extra profit. He told me that coffee was selling at 85 cents a pound wholesale and 69 cents retail.

"We bought coffee at 45 cents a pound and added four cents to cover the cost of bags and printing. We're not making any money, but we're not losing any either."

Since Tuesday the Paige store on downtown Yonge street has sold more than 700 pounds while the other three also are doing brisk business. And amid all the activity, jewelry sales have picked up, too.

Fines Totalling $14,000 Levied, Distributor Jailed

Penalties For Publications Of Stories on Stabbing Case

CORNWALL (CP)—A magazine distributor was jailed for 30 days and fines totalling $14,000 were imposed Friday on corporate and court charges arising from publication of magazine stories about the slaying of Mario Acco, carrier prior to the murder trial of 2nd Lieut. Peter Balcombe.

Chief Justice J. C. McRuer, presiding at the Balcombe trial, sent dealer Lucien Lamoureux of Cornwall to jail without option of fine.

He fined Fawcett Publications of New York and Triangle Publications of Philadelphia $4,000, T-D Publications of New York $3,000, Mrs. Rene Rau, editor of True Detective Cases, $2,000 or 1 six months.

He gave Mrs. Buse until noon today to pay her fine.

The judgment was considered the most severe of its kind on conviction of court charges in Canadian legal history.

M. P. Kelly of Ottawa, counsel for Lieut. Balcombe, showed the magazine stories to the chief justice Monday at the start of the 24-year-old army officer's trial on charges of murdering a 21-year-old girl whose nude and stabbed body was found in a ditch 35 miles west of here Oct. 15.

The articles were: "His Alibi Came to Me"; "The Strangest Secrets of Canada's Nude CWAC," in True Police Cases.

BASED ON NEWSPAPERS

Counsel for the publishers sought to show that the articles were based largely on material published in Canadian newspapers.

Mrs. Rau, unable to find a clipping to support a quotation read to her by the chief justice, said:

"Sometimes we rephrase."

"Did you create this conversation?" asked the chief justice. "Do you print what is not true?"

Mrs. Rau, a former lawyer appearing for Fawcett Publications, said the "Nude and Dead" story was written from clippings from Canadian newspapers. Also unable to find a clipping to support a quotation selected by the chief justice, he said:

"I am bound to admit the authors embellish it sometimes and that occasionally it is not quite fact."

He said his clients were in the dark about Canadian law.

"They are used to freedom," said the chief justice. "There is going to be a great ray of light."

Mr. Justice of Toronto, appearing for Triangle Publications, said the Balcombe magazine's story was no more prejudicial than some that appeared in Canadian newspapers.

The chief justice said there was a great difference in that news papers performed a public service by informing the public of what was happening and that often information helped the administration of justice. He said the magazine stories are for the object of attracting attention and making money.

"These articles are far more than a mere accidental error," said the chief justice, referring to the stories on the Balcombe case. "They contain false quotations put in the mouths of reputable police and army officers and they are written in a lurid way to attract the attention of the reader. They could do far more to prejudice a trial than a factual newspaper account of what may have taken place."

Accused Man Suffering From Paralytic Polio

EDMONTON (CP)—Frank McNulty, 41, on a charge of murdering Jr. St. Thomas, and sentenced in Calgary Jan. 15 to three months for arson, Friday was reported stricken with paralytic polio.

McNulty was taken to an Edmonton hospital from the provincial jail at Fort Saskatchewan, 15 miles northeast of here, and authorities said he was confined to an iron lung.

McNulty was in solitary confinement in the Fort Saskatchewan pending an appeal against the conviction in Calgary. He was to be taken to eastern Canada later to face charges of murdering two girls by setting fire to the YMCA in St. Thomas.

Controller Says Policemen Hide Behind Poles

TORONTO (CP)—A few hours after Controller Roy Belyea told board of control that some Toronto policemen hide behind telephone poles to trap unwary motorists, he received a call for an overtime parking.

He said his car was the only one tagged on the west-central Olive avenue block.

"This is how fast they (the police) start to discriminate," he said in an interview. "I made a charge against them in board of control in the morning and by evening my car is tagged. No wonder the police brass never hears about this practice. People are afraid to complain for fear they will be discriminated against.

"And laugh this off — I was parked in front of three garages on my way here. Belyea's company's rent and use, so I won't interfere with anybody's agents. I was parked overtime, but nobody else was tagged."

The police board of control meeting, Mr. Belyea said some police officers conceal their cars hiding behind posts and trees in hopes of catching motorists breaking traffic laws.

Many Recommendations Made Before Garbage Contract Let

George Greatrix, local trucker, will collect garbage from city industrial plants from March 1st to the end of the year it was decided yesterday at a special meeting of council. Mr. Greatrix will be asked to provide a bond satisfactory to council.

Mr. Greatrix' tender of $2,300 for the collection of industrial garbage for the balance of the year was the lowest of two tenders received. The other tender was from Eugene Rosebush for an amount of $5,500.

Although the Greatrix tender was finally accepted, council did considerable juggling before a decision on the matter was reached. First a recommendation was tabled by the public works committee which would have given the contract for collection of industrial garbage to the present garbage collector, Smith and Sons. The recommendation called for Mr. Smith's present contract to be extended for five years at an additional cost of $3,500 per year for the collection of industrial garbage. The amount of Mr. Smith's present contract is about $33,000 per year. His present contract runs out with the collection of industrial garbage.

LOGICAL OFFER SAYS ALD.

Alderman Bruce Smith, as chairman of the public works committee, said the offer of Smith and Sons was the only logical one. He noted that the tender of Mr. Greatrix made no mention of a bond.

The public works committee recommendation was amended by Alderman Countryman calling for the industrial garbage contract to be given to Mr. Greatrix.

Alderman Countryman said he approved of the work of the present garbage collector with the possible exception of the hours which work was commenced, but pointed out that by awarding his contract without first calling tenders the city would be leaving itself open.

"We asked for tenders on the collection of industrial garbage for the balance of the year in good faith and have received two tenders," he said. "Council would be open for criticism if it extended the present contract unless tenders were called."

Alderman Ben Sills said the same way. He admitted it might seem odd to have two garbage collectors but pointed out Mr. Smith's contract for five years would "leave council quite open." He felt there was no alternative but to give Mr. Greatrix the contract for the collection of industrial garbage.

HAVE EXTENDED CONTRACT

Alderman Tice pointed out, however, that the contract of Rex Bridge had been extended some years ago without calling tenders. He wanted to know if council would be within its rights to call tenders now for the collection of all garbage, the successful bidder to start work next January.

Alderman Temple said council was being told that it should extend the present average contract for five years in order to get a price, "which of work does it is just not right," he said.

The amendment calling for tenders to be given the contract was lost with the ten members present splitting even on the vote. Five council members were absent.

Approving the amendment were Aldermen Counigrman, Duffy, Hyde, Sale and Temple. Voting against the motion were Mayor Boh and Aldermen Bradford, Clarke, Smith and Tice.

MOTION IS LOST

The original motion to give Mr. Smith a five year extension of his present contract was then put and the vote was 7-3. Approving the motion were Mayor Boh, and Aldermen Bradford and Tice. Opposing were Aldermen Clarke, Counigrman, Duffy, Hyde, Sale, Temple and Tice.

Alderman Smith then introduced the recommendation calling for the Rosebush tender at $5,500 to be accepted.

Again Alderman Countryman counseled caution in awarding the contract to Mr. Greatrix.

"Maybe I am stupid," said Alderman Countryman, "but the recommendation regarding the Rosebush tender, which is lower, considering a tender for $5,500 when we have one for $2,300."

Mayor Boh is of the opinion that the amendment to give Mr. Greatrix the contract was out of order, noting that the motion had already been lost.

RULED IN ORDER

The amendment was ruled in order by Mayor Boh following a chairman of the committee of the whole, and Mayor Both tabled a second amendment to have the Greatrix tender to be considered not in order with the tender call and thus Mr. Greatrix should not be given the contract.

The amendment was defeated 6-4 with Mayor Both, and Aldermen Bradford, Clarke, Smith and Tice voting against. Approving were Aldermen Counigrman, Duffy, Hyde, Sale and Temple.

The amendment giving Mr. Greatrix the contract was then voted on and it won council approval. Approving were Aldermen Bradford, Clarke, Counigrman, Duffy, Hyde, Sale and Temple. Opposing were Mayor Both, and Aldermen Smith and Tice.

Central Mortgage Opens Office In This City

The establishment of a new loans office of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation in Belleville and the appointment of E.T. Connell, of Toronto, as manager, was announced here by H. W. Hignett, Ontario regional supervisor.

Mr. Connell, a native of Alliston, Ontario, has been an appraiser at the London loans office since 1952. He was employed by the Dominion Construction Company in Toronto from 1937 until 1939 when he accepted a position with the Department of National Defence at Camp Borden. In 1942 he was a project officer with the Ontario Department of Labor before joining the RCAF. Following his discharge he joined the staff of the Corporation in February, 1947, as a valuation officer with the Ontario regional loans department. In March, 1951, he was appointed administrator of the London rental sub-office.

The new office will absorb the Belleville rental sub-office.

Egg Prices Again Take Slight Drop

Egg prices took another slight drop on the local farmers' market today with vendors quoting 47c per dozen for Grade "A" large. Mediums were offered at 45c and a few extras at 53c per dozen. Price for Grade "A" eggs was down a cent from last week.

The fowl offering was not large. Capons brought 60c per lb. with mature birds being offered generally at 50c per lb.

Potatoes were quoted at $1.50 per bag on the outside market with 25c per bag asked by the lot.

Parsnips were 20c per half peck with carrots and beets 20c for same quantity. Cooking onions were 50c per basket and Spanish type onions were a nickel and a dime each.

Spy and Delicious apples were 25c per hamper for No. 1's. Talman Sweets were $2.50 and Stoans $3 per hamper. Basket lots ranged from 85c down to 60c. A few Starks were offered at $2.50 per bushel.

Smelts were 35c per lb. or 3 for $1 with whitefish at 60c.

Pork by the quarter sold at 35c per lb. for fronts and 45c per lb. for hinds.

Obituary

JAMES A. ROBINSON

In ill health for some time, James A. Robinson, 21A Dresden Street, died in the Belleville General Hospital on Friday.

He was born in Glasgow, Scotland, 77 years ago and came to Canada as a young man. He had resided in Belleville for the past 22 years, where he was well known and highly esteemed. Previous to moving to Belleville he resided in Kingston.

He was a veteran of the South African war and a loyal and faithful member of the Salvation Army, the Canadian Legion. He attended the meeting regularly and was always ready to assist in any cause where the veteran was involved.

A member of the Standard Church, he is survived by his wife, the former Jerusha Blair, one son and one son-in-law Alexander Robinson of this city.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home. Funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

MRS. HAZEL RAMSAY

The funeral of Mrs. Hazel Ramsay was held from the Belleville Burial Funeral Home on Friday afternoon. The service in the chapel was conducted by Rev. Ray Bowyer of the Bridge Street Church. There was a large number of intimate friends in attendance and the many beautiful floral tributes testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held in the community.

Interment was in Belleville cemetery, Mr. Bowyer conducting the committal rites. The honorary pallbearers were Messrs. Frank Clarke, Charles Meagher, Harry Langsbeer, J. W. Davidson, and the active bearers were Arthur Gough, Len Jones, Toronto, Claude D. Tice, Don Hache, Cecil Womacott and A. "Nobby" Jones.

MRS. EDITH (WATSON) ROBERTS (Wallasey, England)

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Edith (Watson) Roberts, Wallasey, England, on Monday, February 22nd. She was in her 90th year.

Surviving are her husband, Leslie Roberts, Wallasey, England, aged 10., one son, Austin aged seven and one brother, Austin Watson of Frankford.

Interment will be in England.

MRS. JOE DOCTER (New York)

Word of the death at New York on Friday of Marie, wife of Mr. Joe Docter, formerly of Belleville was received by Mrs. C. H. Bristow. The funeral and burial will take place at Towanda on Monday.

FREDERICK PETER RUPERT (Thurlow Township)

After an illness of four days, Frederick Peter Rupert, 3rd concession of Thurlow township, died in the Belleville General Hospital on Friday evening.

He was born in Rawdon township, 73 years ago, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rupert, and for the past 34 years resided in the township, where he successfully carried on farming operations until his retirement some years ago. He presently resided at his former township. He was well known and highly respected in his community lines.

A member of Bethany United Church, he is survived by his wife, the former Carrie Juby and one son, Harold Rupert, Toronto. He was the last of his family.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home. The funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

CAPT. BENJAMIN BOWEN (Trenton)

The funeral of Capt. Benjamin Bowen, 63 Marmora St., Trenton, took place Saturday afternoon, February 27th, at 3.15 p.m. from Grace United Church. Rev. G. A. Puttenham officiated. Pall bearers were Angus Duffy, Gordon Stenburg, Ross Milligan, Donald Hall, Harry Mowson and J. G. Fitzgibbon.

The deceased was born at Deseronto in 1887 the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John N. Bowen. He began a 56 year career as a sailor on the Great Lakes in 1904 as a deckhand. He served as a fireman for five years and later became a cook on a ship sailing out of Chicago. In 1906 he qualified for his master's papers. He was known to his associates as "Hoarin' Ben Bowen" until his retirement six years ago.

His three sons became master mariners. His son, Alcide, drowned in the North Sea on a voyage to Murmansk during the Second World War. Gordon Bowen, Toronto, has retired from sailing to take a job with the railroad. Capt. Walter Bowen, Trenton, is a captain with the Frank Hall Shipping Co. of Montreal.

Capt. Bowen, who retired six years ago from his sailing, still piloted boats through the Bay of Quinte on occasion. He had been a resident of Trenton for the past 55 years.

He had been in failing health for the past year and died at his home on Marmora Street, Trenton.

He is survived by his wife, the former Agnes Stenburg, two daughters, Carma Bowen of Toronto, and Margaret Bowen of Trenton, two sons, five grandchildren, four great grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Rosela Allen, Trenton.

The deceased was a life member of the I.O.O.F. Trenton, a life member of Trent Lodge A. F. and A. M. No. 38, a member of St. Mark's Chapter, and the Rebekah Lodge, Trenton.

Interment took place in Mt. Evergreen Cemetery.

Ontario Intelligencer to Publish 'The Story of The Resurrection'

Next Wednesday, Ash Wednesday, the Ontario Intelligencer will commence the publication of "The Story of the Resurrection" in book form. This outstanding series is taken from Book I of the "Great Faith Ever Known", written by Fulton Oursler.

Readers will remember the Lenten Story, written by Mr. Oursler and published by the Ontario Intelligencer, was so well prepared from material based on the book, "The Greatest Faith Ever Known."

At the time of his death Mr. Oursler had completed all but the last few chapters of "The Greatest Faith Ever Known", the final book of his trilogy on the Bible. The new book, was in large part, in final draft. The handwritten manuscript, a corrected copy and copious notes for the remainder of the book were left, and only a few hours before his death Mr. Oursler asked his daughter, Mrs. April Oursler Armstrong, to finish the work. They had worked on many projects since her graduation from Barnard College.

"The Story of the Resurrection" is of greatest interest and is of particular pertinence during Lenten season. It dramatizes the events of the Crucifixion, Mary Magdelene's discovery of the empty tomb, and the miracle of the Risen Lord Sunday. It contains the episodes describing events in Pontius Pilate's own household, the hearts of men who were to spread God's faith most effectively.

The entire Christian church is derived from the faith of a dozen men and a few women who drew their strength from the sight and words of a Man reborn. From this ultimate miracle, the narrative of "The Story of the Resurrection" is the Christian faith drew its lifeblood.

In hey comment on the series, the author's daughter, Mrs. Armstrong says, "In this season of Lent, as we approach Easter, it is fascinating to see our major papers carrying not only the grim news and the weekly hats and bunnies and parades, but the everlasting good news in the human story of Easter.

"It began on Calvary, this story, but it did not really end with the rolling away of a stone from the mouth of this tomb. The Resurrection is not an end but a beginning."

Twenty days more Christ remained on earth. He appeared to His disciples, let them touch His wounds, talked with them, ate with them, proving beyond a doubt that he had risen from the dead. Those forty days, like the forty days of Lent, were a time of preparation, and of spiritual growth for His followers, as they are for many common folk. It took them time to absorb the magnificent truth that the Son of God had indeed conquered death."

"To understand Easter, we must live again the days of the disciples. "The Story of the Resurrection", narrating America's newspapers, may help us to rediscover its former meaning of the greatest faith ever known."

Expect Hospital Addition Plans Will Be Complete Soon

Completion of the architects' plans for the new 100 room addition to the Belleville General Hospital is expected within a few days, announced yesterday, following the regular monthly meeting of the Hospital Board of Governors.

Messrs. Govan, Ferguson and Holiday, the architects who are handling the job, were in Belleville this week and held several discussions with the hospital officials about the plans. This same firm was responsible for the plans of many important hospitals, including the Hospital for Sick Children and the General Sinai Hospital in Toronto and the Peterborough Civic Hospital.

When the plans have been finally approved, blue prints will then be prepared and when these have been carefully checked, tenders will then be called for the new structure.

A hospital spokesman pointed out today that the delay of plans for a new hospital wing is an extremely complicated job as every effort must be made to ensure that the new building will integrate itself most easily into the hospital building as a whole. Special attention must also be paid to the economical operation of the wing. In order that full consideration could be given to these matters, every department head in the hospital, and the medical staff have been consulted and their recommendations concerning their particular divisions carefully considered.

Senior officials of the hospital and members of the Board of Governors have also visited other hospitals in other centres with a view to finding out what difficulties existed in operation during construction, so that the minimum of problems, and inconvenience to patients, will arise in Belleville.

It was announced yesterday that the annual general meeting of Board would be held on March 26th in the Nurses' Residence. Members of the general public are welcome to attend this meeting when detailed reports concerning the administration of the hospital during the past year, the Hospital Campaign for Funds, and a detailed progress report concerning the new wing will be presented.

POLICE BLOTTER

Theft of a late model delivery truck from the market square was reported by Joseph Bourette, 24 East Moira street. Police in the area were notified but the vehicle had not been recovered at a late hour this morning.

Close to $25 a dozen drunks were picked up by police during the night and were kept in custody until this morning when several paid their fines and were released.

Husband and wife trouble was reported at one residence where the man is said to have attempted to choke his wife. The man was located at the hospital where he was receiving treatment for a possible fractured nose.

MALLORY — In loving memory of our dear father, Arthur Mallory, who passed away February 28th, 1953.
Sweet memories are treasures,
Patient, kind and true;
He was dearer than the world
To those who knew him.
For all her loving kindness
She asked nothing in return;
If all the world deserts you
To pray another you turn,
For all I can do dear mother,
Is to love you and pray,
And always behind a shadow
Of love To the best mother God ever gave.
—Sadly missed by son Wesley and wife.
But I will remember them all my life.
—Ever remembered by daughter Dolly, son-in-law Vincent and grandson Allan A. Vanderburg.

MALLORY — In loving memory of our dear mother, Annie Mallory, who passed away on February 28th, 1953.
Sweet smiling way and pleasant face
Are treasures to recall;
She had a kindly word for each
And cheered by all.
Some day we hope to meet her,
Some day, we know not when,
To clasp her hand in the better land
To part again.
—Ever remembered by daughter Lois, son-in-law Harry and grandson Garry.

Brothers All

By NANCY CLEAVER

An unknown writer has voiced his conviction in these lines:

"All men are my kin
Since every man has been,
Blood of my blood;
I glory in the grace
And strength of every race,
And joy in every trace
Of Brotherhood."

In the last of February in many lands Brotherhood Week is celebrated. The common bond, that only people of different races, but also of different faiths, is emphasized.

Behind the Iron Curtain, religion is scorned as "the opiate of the people." It is well for Jews and Protestants and Catholics to be reminded that theirs is One God, the Creator of all men! "One God, The Ways We Worship Him," by F. M. Fitch, published by Macmillan, is an excellent book for any home library. It shows the helpful ceremonies in the major denominations on this continent.

When a donor turns up at a Red Cross Blood Donor clinic, the nurse is not interested in his racial background. Not the color of the skin, but the type of blood is the important question! Scientists have discovered that the blood of all the members of the human family falls into four predominant blood types. A knowledge of these groups is essential in blood transfusions and in research.

Adults are far more conscious of contrasting skin colors than children. In crowded downtown areas of large cities, in the Nursery School play groups, there are often children whose parents come from many lands. Some of them are New Canadians of Oriental, Negro and European extraction. John may notice that Sam is yellow-skinned and Tom is black, but they play together on an equal footing.

Racial prejudice is not inherited, it is learned from grownups. Children are very quick to accept the snobbish attitude of parents who consider the Anglo-Saxon race superior. The unfair practice of judging an individual because he belongs to a class, and not on his merits as a person, cuts across the ideal of brotherhood.

A small pair of wood shoes were left outside the door of a Canadian rural school by a little Dutch child who had recently arrived from Holland. The other scholars thought this a great joke. The little newcomer didn't know much English, but he soon "caught on" that he was being laughed at. Who would wonder at his tears from a hurt and homesick heart?

Children are quite callous if they are not encouraged by their teachers and parents to be considerate. Thousands of New Canadian youngsters have been making their own way in a strange land. Many of them have excelled at school. Their parents are working on our farms, in our industries and institutions. Many of them have brought skill in handcrafts, appreciations of music and art and the culture of the World with them. Brotherhood Week would be a very good time for families to extend hospitality to a new Canadian household. Try to make plans for this in your Family Council!

The vast Missionary Enterprise of the church is based on the belief of one God who is Father of all men. The greatest Teacher of all time taught that all men were brothers bound by love. In little Mission Band groups in countless churches large and small, boys and girls learn of the healing and educational work of missionaries in distant lands and in remote districts in the far North.

A lasting faith in the Brotherhood Code is firmly based on the Golden Rule. Just as more and more people think, feel and act in a brotherly fashion is there any hope of building a "One New World." Let us and our children make this ideal come true in so far as we are able to be neighborly to those around us. They may differ in creed or race, but they are like us in so many ways!

A Lift for Living

When God Cleans House

By DR. RALPH W. SOCKMAN

Are you satisfied with your life? How near are you to those goals which you set for yourself when you were in your teens? Do you ever feel that you are missing something which life ought to give? Even if you are pretty well content with your own career, do you not admit that the world is in trouble?

Next Wednesday is Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent. For centuries the Christian Church has observed the forty days of Lent, leading up to Easter as a period of soul-searching and life-cleansing.

In my boyhood days on the farm, housewives would have a spring house-cleaning. The houses, after being closed for the winter, would be opened and aired, the furnishings would be dusted, and the whole place would be freshened.

Likewise in Lent let us call in the Creator of our lives to clean house. And if we are to believe our Scripture, God is waiting for our invitation. The writer of Revelation interprets the Divine Spirit as saying: "Behold, I stand at the door and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in and sup with him and he with me."

GIVE GOD A CHANCE

Why not start, first of all, with God a chance in the circles of life which are now in such sore straits?

Why no start, first of all, with prayer? Remember, "The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him in spirit and in truth." God is everywhere, but since He is a Spirit He draws nearer to us when we draw near to Him, just as an earthly father can get closer to a son when the son earnestly seeks to understand the father.

We all use the Lord's Prayer, and perhaps daily we repeat "Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven." But we really mean just what we say?

Let's be honest and admit that most of our praying has been almost at getting God's aid in carrying out our wills and desires rather than at helping to further God's will. But He is waiting for us to surrender our wills to His sovereignty. And we can never have a well-ordered life until we settle the seat of sovereignty. That is a basic principle of government.

Every nation, if it is to be orderly and strong, must determine where the sovereign power resides. And it has the last word in an emergency. CANNOT MY OWN SOUL

And if I am to have peace and order within myself, I cannot place the seat of sovereignty in myself. Suppose I say, "I shall be my own boss absolutely." High-handed troubles on my hands, for within me are conflicting forces. As a human being I have an impulse to boast, to exalt myself. But also I have a human desire to be liked by my fellow men. But if I boast, I do not make myself likable. Here then is a conflict.

And if I go around watching myself, calculating just how far I can boast without being disliked, I dissipate my energy, balancing that motive against that motive and watching my own shadow. How such a weak way of living differs from that of the decisive, forceful fellow who doesn't care what others say of him because he is carried along by a cause to which he has committed himself.

SERVE HIGHER WILL

We must learn that inner peace and power come only when we are committed to something bigger than ourselves. Washington prayed at Valley Forge when defeat stared him in the face. Lincoln bowed his head in prayer during the dark days of a divided nation. Robert E. Lee maintained a noble spirit free from bitterness after Appomattox. Marshal Foch went to chapel each morning when pressure was greatest during World War I. These men had inner strength because they were seeking and serving a will higher than their own.

And what we let God in to take over our wills, we should also let Him in to clean up our minds, for our bitter world of cold wars we have shut ourselves up to the bad germs of man's doings. Let us now open our minds to the good news of God's deeds. Christmas is just weeks of Lent us shift our thought from the frightening things other nations and people may do to us and think of the blessed things God has done for us.

Stories of Famous Hymns

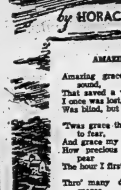
AMAZING GRACE

Amazing grace! how sweet the sound,
That saved a wretch like me!
I once was lost, but now am found,
Was blind, but now I see.



'Twas grace that taught my heart to fear,
And grace my fears relieved;
How precious did that grace appear
The hour I first believed!

Thro' many dangers, toils and snares,
I have already come;
'Tis grace hath brought me safe thus far,
And grace will lead me home.

The Lord has promised good to me,
His word my hope secures;
He will my shield and portion be
As long as life endures.

Yea, when this flesh and heart shall fail,
And mortal life shall cease,
I shall possess, within the veil,
A life of joy and peace.

The earth shall soon dissolve like snow,
The sun forbear to shine;
But God, who called me here below,
Will be forever mine.

"AMAZING GRACE"

This is one of the best-known and best-loved hymns in a long list that turned out by the Rev. John Newton, eighteenth century English churchman, and its message suggests that the author, as he penned his stanzas, was thinking of the transformation which Christ's sway worked in his own life.

In his earlier years, John Newton lived far from the church and from religion. He was a lad of seven when his mother died and lacking her care and influence he drifted into godless ways. He went to sea and in the course of events became a trader in African slaves. It was while engaged in this traffic that he heard the call of Christ and was converted.

His conversion one night during a terrifying storm at sea when it seemed for a time as though his slave ship would be capsized and wrecked. John Newton learned to pray that night and when the storm subsided came through to safety he felt that the prayer had been answered. He was in his early twenties at the time and from that day on his life was completely changed. Soon afterward, at the age of 25, he married an English girl and was persuaded to study for the ministry. He was ordained by the Church of England in 1764 and that same year began a ministry at Olney, where, with his friend William Cowper, he later produced the famous volume of "Olney Hymns". It was in this collection, brought out in 1779, that the hymn "Amazing Grace" first appeared.

THE GRASS ROOTS THEORY.

That statement made the other day by Albert Wren, the Liberal-Labor member of the Ontario legislature for Kenora, will bear a second reading. Mr. Wren is announcing that he was sold in the fight for the post of Liberal Party leader in Ontario. But his observations were of greater significance than those customarily made by politicians when they have their eyes on a particularly plump political plum.

Mr. Wren voiced objections to the actions of a leadership committee in touring the province in search of a man to become leader of the party. The weight, for instance, of the support of provincial party which holds only eight seats out of the 90 in the legislature.

Still, it would be unwise to write off Mr. Wren's remarks on the leadership issue as a case of sour grapes. For in his criticism of this method he made a vital point.

"Whoever is chosen (as Liberal leader); the only foundation of authority and success he will have is the spontaneous eruption of confidence from the Liberal party at the convention," he said.

Mr. Wren here reveals a faith in the grass roots section of the Liberal party which is probably just what that party, or any party, needs most.

It was such an "eruption of confidence" which enabled Mitchell F. Hepburn to sweep Premier George S. Henry's Conservative government "from power" back in 1934. Whether or not this "spontaneous" eruption may be open to argument. There are some observers of the political scene who will never be convinced that Mitch did not generate that eruption himself—and that whether he was selected as leader by a committee in a back room or a convention in a big hotel would not have affected his election. But there seems to believe that even the most extensive travels by a leadership committee will discover another Mitch. Lacking such a find, the Liberals might better well get the benefit of whatever "spontaneous eruption of confidence" might result from a convention given a completely free hand in selecting a leader.

RUSSIA'S 'WILD EAST'.

Russia, characteristically, is following an old adage in reverse.

Horace Greeley's "Go west, young man, go west" has become "Go east, young man" after being given the Marxist-Lenin-Stalinist-Malenkovite treatment.

The Communist wants of the cowboy is a factory worker or technical student and it is fairly obvious that he will not conquer the wilds with mustang and six-shooter nor do business with long-horns and lariat. Nevertheless, Buffalo Bill would find a familiar note as young speakers in the Kremlin's ornate hall in Moscow referred to "campfires under an open sky" and the "timeless lure of new lands."

The Russian version of the wild west lies on the border of China, in Kazakhstan, a vast territory stretching from the Caspian Sea to Sinkiang and boasting, besides prairies, rich mines and farmlands.

One might imagine that the coming of the Communist "wagon-trains" would be bad news for the Kazaks, but they might have to play "Indian" to the Russian "cowboys." This impression, as far as we can learn, is completely erroneous. The Kazaks will not resist the invasion and most of the Kazaks will not even resent it. This is because it seems that the Kazaks have already left Kazakhstan, having received a most pressing invitation from the Kremlin quite a few years ago to seek other abodes. Their state-assisted search led many of them to the happy hunting grounds, while others are to be found in refugee camps in Germany, having received assistance from the Nazis, as well as from the Communists, in locating these new homes.

A recent newspaper report from Toronto quoted an American geneticist as saying that men were inferior to women because they were the product of a "damaged chromosome". Charlie McLeod is ready to return to Louisiana to Charlotte McLeod, says a newspaper report commenting on a year-long series of quarrels and hormone injections which supposedly changed his, her, sex. Is this going a little too far in repairing the original damage?

A news report from The Netherlands states that a farmer, Henricus Kort, married off five daughters and one son on the same afternoon, and that nearly all of the village's 3,216 inhabitants turned out for the all-day festivities. Probably all relatives.

THE CHILDREN.

"They're nice when they're good," Say the tired mothers one and all,
"But they get on your nerves When you're sick or are bad.
They scream and they shout when you're taking a snooze, And they tramp through the rooms without wiping their shoes.

"Their worst they display when you wish for their best. Til they get what they want they will give you no rest.

They talk at great lengths, but when visitors come They shame you by acting as though they were dumb.

"At table they force you to coax them to eat.
The home until bedtime is bedlam complete.
They won't stop their noise when you want to be still,
But the quiet is harder to bear when they're ill."

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

February 27, 1934

Mr. Cyril Waite, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, and a member of the Board of Education, gave an interesting and informative address at the meeting of the Y's Men's Club Tuesday evening on the matter of Belleville's financial position, especially with regards to the unfortunate debt of the city. Mr. Waite was introduced by Norman Edwards and the appreciation of the club was conveyed to him by the president of the club, Earl Ketcheson.

Belleville Juniors were defeated by Queen's Juniors in a match last evening in the Jock Hardy arena in Kingston, the score being 4 to 2. The Belleville boys played a purely defensive game and despite the fact that they lost last night's game, the Belleville Juniors advanced over Queen's to the second round in the Junior O.H.A. playdowns by a score of 9 to 8. The following composed the Belleville team: Sinfield, Greer, McElrath, Barrigar, Fisher and McGuire subs, Hammett, Semark, Ridley and Harvey. The Eddie Thomas boys will meet Oshawa Generals in Bowmanville Juniors in the second round with goals to count.

Tweed's oldest resident Mr. Samuel Bowers, celebrated his 92nd birthday anniversary on Feb. 22nd. He is enjoying excellent health. Many friends extended to him congratulations and good wishes.

The waterworks department reports that more telephone calls are being received than at any time since during the coldest weather on record here last week, from consumers who think they are frozen. An average of 100 calls are being received daily. The greatest pumpage of water recorded by the local waterworks department, namely 5,417,000 a half million gallons per day is necessary to supply the city with running taps in houses for the purpose of preventing freezing.

30 YEARS AGO

February 27, 1924

This is leap year and February has 29 days. This being the case it will be of interest if a baby is born in this city on that day. If such happens there are numerous presents in store for either the boy or girl, which will be presented by several Belleville merchants. The gifts will go to the first baby born on that day and if a baby is not born in Belleville the gifts will go to the first baby born in Hastings County. This following merchants will contribute: R. Oliphant & Son, a baby silver spoon; Geen's Drug Store, a baby food; Ault's Comb, Doyle's Drug Store, combination set baby soap and toilet powder; Adams Shoe Store, a pair of baby shoes; Walker Manufacturing Company, scales to weigh the baby; Dolan's Drug Store, a baby bol water bottle; Leslie's Shoe Store, a pair of baby shoes; Wray's Homefurnishing Store, a "bunny" baby blanket; Laithen's Comb, a combination set of baby soap, baby talcum powder and baby cream; E. J. Neate & Co., a handmade baby jacket; C. B. Scantlebury, nursery scarf paper.

The City is having the lower of the city hall today in honor of the brave deeds of the Canadian volunteers who in the past four years ago, were largely instrumental in forcing Kruger, "The Lion of Africa" to surrender at Paardeberg. May the bright laurels rest on that day never fade.

Mr. W. H. Biggar of Montreal, formerly of Belleville, is spending a few days in town.

Mr. F. Parker is visiting friends in Lyon, Ontario.

Mr. P. C. Jones will leave his native city tomorrow to reside in Toronto. Belleville can ill afford to lose the services of this highly esteemed citizen. All will join in wishing him abundant success in his new home.

Mr. Arthur Curry is home from Toronto on a short visit.

Sugar Meets A New Rival

(Lethbridge Herald)

We think we should warn the sugar beet growers of South Alberta that they're being invaded. The invader is known to most of those synthetics. Dairy farmers haven't recovered yet from the invasion of that guy margarine and now comes sucaryl or sorbitol or some other trade name which means a substance for sweetening food without adding calories. It's made out of goodness only knows what; one of the non-sugar sweeteners of old to be made by an explosive manufacturer.

In any event we're told that sugar beet growers and Fatty's buildup waistline are being threatened.

Looks as if the fellow who predicted that we'll one day living on one food pill daily may be right. But how will we ever chart our days if we have no meals to work between?

Letters to The Editor

Sees Many Benefits If Population Doubled

Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer,
Dear Sir:

I certainly concur in your conclusion that Canada has been playing for a "Fortress North America" (North Atlantic Treaty Organization), and note the interesting definition of Canada's contribution to NATO—$1,171,000,000—as "$142 worth of protection for every man, woman and child in Canada's 15,000,000 population"; also, "in other words, NATO is worth to Canada at current prices, the equivalent of the Eldorat and Urgava development, the Ontario Hydro's huge new works at Niagara Falls, the St. Lawrence seaway, and proposed project, a trans-mountain pipeline, and $10 to change for everyone in the country."

There isn't much room for doubt that Jack Canuck has, indeed, been carrying his share of the above load of a monstrous defence armor. On the other hand, I was reminded of the fact that there is another side to the picture—and achievement in the post-war years by the comparative handful of people in the greatly favored land.

So far as I can measure the situation, from observing, there is something very like a concensus among the experts that there is presently favorable conditions—and subject to the over-riding proviso that there be no World War 3. The Belleville boys played a purely defensive game and despite the fact that they lost last night's game, the Belleville Juniors advanced over Queen's to the second round in the Junior O.H.A. playdowns by a score of 9 to 8. Tweed's oldest resident Mr. Samuel Bowers, celebrated his 92nd birthday anniversary on Feb. 22nd. He is enjoying excellent health. Many friends extended to him congratulations and good wishes.

The waterworks department reports that more telephone calls are being received than at any time since during the coldest weather on record here last week, from consumers who think they are frozen. An average of 100 calls are being received daily. The greatest pumpage of water recorded by the local waterworks department, namely 5,417,000 a half million gallons per day is necessary to supply the city with running taps in houses for the purpose of preventing freezing.

30 YEARS AGO

February 27, 1924

This is leap year and February has 29 days. This being the case it will be of interest if a baby is born in this city on that day. If such happens there are numerous presents in store for either the boy or girl, which will be presented by several Belleville merchants. The gifts will go to the first baby born on that day and if a baby is not born in Belleville the gifts will go to the first baby born in Hastings County. This following merchants will contribute: R. Oliphant & Son, a baby silver spoon; Geen's Drug Store, a baby food; Ault's Comb, Doyle's Drug Store, combination set baby soap and toilet powder; Adams Shoe Store, a pair of baby shoes; Walker Manufacturing Company, scales to weigh the baby; Dolan's Drug Store, a baby bol water bottle; Leslie's Shoe Store, a pair of baby shoes; Wray's Homefurnishing Store, a "bunny" baby blanket; Laithen's Comb, a combination set of baby soap, baby talcum powder and baby cream; E. J. Neate & Co., a handmade baby jacket; C. B. Scantlebury, nursery scarf paper.

Mr. Lyle Anderson is home on a visit from Edmonton.

Mr. Bernard Collins, barrister, of Tweed, was in town today.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hall of Redeersville entertained a number of their friends at their home recently. They are ideal entertainers and the event was most enjoyable.

Mr. R. McCormick has returned home after spending a few days in Toronto on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Pratt of Rochester, N.Y., are visiting Mrs. Pratt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Rutan in this city.

Ald. Ed. D. O'Flynn went to Toronto today.

The City is having the lower of the city hall today in honor of the brave deeds of the Canadian volunteers who in the past four years ago, were largely instrumental in forcing Kruger, "The Lion of Africa" to surrender at Paardeberg. May the bright laurels rest on that day never fade.

Mr. W. H. Biggar of Montreal, formerly of Belleville, is spending a few days in town.

Mr. P. C. Jones will leave his native city tomorrow to reside in Toronto. Belleville can ill afford to lose the services of this highly esteemed citizen. All will join in wishing him abundant success in his new home.

Mr. Arthur Curry is home from Toronto on a short visit.

He Had No Credit Rating

(St. Catharines Standard)

This is a report of a remarkable phenomenon of the times.

It is the story of a young man and wife who were left a point to pay cash for everything they purchased. The time arrived, however, when the couple was received to have a home of their own and in the ordinary routine secure the credit or mortgage as under the National Housing Act.

On application they were told that they had no credit rating. And before a mortgage loan was available, the young man had to go out and dig up references.

Here, then, was a case where a young man with a clean face and clean sheet, employed, could not secure a loan until he had more or less proved his honesty in other words, he could not incur a debt because he had never been in the habit of going into debt before. Life has its incongruities.

Senators Successful In Increasing Incomes

Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer.

The next time you file us by our senators last week must fill us all with pride and admiration, believe-it-or-not industry, enterprise and self-advancement as we all do.

Here we have a bunch of men in the twilight of their careers, and including the blind, the lame and the halt, who have succeeded, sir, by their own efforts, and at a time when most of us will have to live on our hard-earned savings, in doubling their incomes.

I further understand, sir, that this was accomplished in the space of time of one-half hour.

Truly this is an example and a goal to be set before our young and to be told in the texts of the studies.

Looked upon as something akin to the appendix, with no discernible function in the lower parliamentary digestive tract, save for the swelling of the members, they still have achieved an income several times greater than our premier.

A remarkable achievement! Let us hope that other senatorial sons are in dotage (look for shame. No sir, not here) will be found anywhere in our great Dominion.

TODAY'S SALT
By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

"THE BEST IS YET TO BE"

One of my favorite quotations is that from Robert Browning's "Rabbi Ben Ezra" where he wrote:

Grow old along with me!
The best is yet to be,
The last of life, for which the first was made.

Browning might have said: Mature along with me, for I, who am advanced age is—it's a maturing a flowering of the heart, rich and enriched with experiences, the love of many things, and an awakening to the glory of accomplishment in a well-spent life reveals.

We look upon the beautiful blossoming of all fruit trees at Springtime. It is a natural display in the youth of the year, and it promises, one, too, it's so full of promise. But what a revelation of completeness when the ripened fruit appears! Old age is like that. The harvest is at hand. The building is at an end. The race is over. Victory! And into memory will go the records of our stewardship. The last of life, for which the first was made.

Everything in this world is quite so consoling and satisfactory as to the state of mind which has reached its full maturity. There is an atmosphere of peace to it. We are not unwilling to die when life has searched and found the answers to the needs of the human heart, problems of life. These answers are written into the lines of the face, in the light of the eyes, and is made visible glow of the soul.

So not dread or fear the oncoming years. As you enter the gate to them bear in mind that the lovely fruit who had placed there those words of Browning: "The best is yet to be." And if you will look skyward you will see a rainbow of love all about you!

FORMING HABIT PATTERNS

There was a news item recently about a community in England which in its collective wisdom believed that it had discovered a way to curtail the destructive propensities of children. They moved a brook and its attendant waterfall into a playground and told the children to play with the brook in preference to vehicles to please. The theory was that, having done this, the children would find their natural drives impulses satisfied. But of course they didn't. Wrapped up in playing with the trucks, they started on the playground equipment and ended by tearing down the playground fence.

How could any sensible person have expected that the issue would have been otherwise? The children were not getting anything out of their experiences that was unusual to ancient vehicles; they were simply establishing habits of violence.

The philosophy of the English town fathers often reappears in other areas and concerns the rearing of youth. We are told that if we give them a book to read or drink in their youth, say these authorities, the liquor will lose its fascination. All of which of course is dangerous and wicked nonsense. Such measures of action establish habit patterns and that is all probability persist through life.

Need More Information

(Milwaukee Sunday Journal).

An elephant's memory, we have been fatalistic on the Pennsylvania turnpike. All by itself it has become a way of life. Highway conditions are up ahead, and flashes of caution lights are becoming a way of life. — whether snow, fog, wet, freezing or clear roadway.

One of the big troubles motorists don't stop there. Surely such ignorance can be applied also to warning us that: (a) The man in the blue Ford has had one too many; (b) there's an old clunk ahead doing 30 with no taillight; (c) we'd do well to stay clear of the nervous lady in the green convertible.

Or perhaps even that our own eyesight are drooping and we'd better stop for a cup of—ah—tea, sir.

Reason For More M. L. A's

(London Free Press).

There is a good deal to be said in favor of the proposal to increase the number of seats in the Ontario Legislature from the present 90 to 100. Formerly there were 112 seats, but in 1933, in the depth of the depression, the Henry Government decided to reduce the membership by 22.

Since then the population of the province has increased from 3,400,000 to 4,500,000. There has also been a decided swing from rural to urban population. If representation by population is the big new urban communities without getting rural areas would cause an increase in membership and the Legislature seems reasonable.

Personal Health Talks

THE HEART AND PERPETUAL MOTION

From assay of the prodigious quantity of propaganda or "news" material mailed to the press and the country day by day by medical societies it seemingly evident that trick specialties are now nearly as avid for free newspaper publicity as the professional entertainers who live on it.

In my own mind this explained the open letter published in an eastern paper by a trick heart specialist who was afraid my teachings about digitalis might encourage some poor—poor souls to try going without their daily dose of digitalis, which, the man said, is all that keeps the heart going in some cases of heart trouble.

Bear in mind, please, that the man who published that letter in his home town paper is a well known, eminent, leading, noted, prominent heart specialist, a professor specialist' and I am an obscure, bumbling one-horse practitioner. So I might be justly laughable to compare my view or opinion with that of such a doctor. Well, then, I'll give my a modern authoritative text book that had a page or two on my view or opinion about this—that is as an unbiased laugh, and particularly one with istrogenic heart disease.

No use looking up that word in Webster—like crt (krez) and cyst (sist) there yet—but I've had had a year of Creek and a year of Latin in high school and would know it means produced by the doctor, either by autosuggestion based on the quack's stock expression as he listens to the heart or by any affection or "murmur" or his grave manner of telling you to "take it easy" for a while.

That heart specialist's open letter, wickedly misleading many persons must have a daily dose of digitalis to remain alive, probably made many victims of "heart" phobia. Such victims are too severely injured by respond to my feeble rescue efforts, but I'll keep on trying, in the hope of reaching a few others at the same fate.

I have said here many times that I believe the very best, in fact the only real heart tonic we have is an optimal daily dose of vitamin B complex. I say now that if you are in the habit of pay taxes."

Young Man's Big Job

(New York Herald Tribune)

There is an unusual quality to President Eisenhower's appointment of Roswell B. Perkins as Assistant Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Mr. Perkins is only 37 years old, which makes him especially qualified for the job. Not often that youthful ability is so quickly recognized. The White House checked back and found only three comparable instances in more than half a century. Grover Cleveland chose a 25-year-old Assistant Secretary of State, and Woodrow Wilson picked two youngsters of 28 as Assistant Secretary of Treasury and Assistant Secretary of War.

The choice is interesting because it varies from the average, and that is what makes news.

Apes Are Smart

During a convention of the French Anthropological Society, an expert on South Asian jungles told the story that Malays consider the ape to be a kind of especially clever human being. According to the natives, "apes are perfectly capable of talking, but won't do it in the presence of humans for fear of being forced to work as people and having to pay taxes."

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

It is at this very season of the year, when we watch out train windows for the first cars as they drive outside the cities for the first faint evidences of spring, that we begin to look at the east and realize the beauty of the elm tree. If westerners have any affection for the east, if now and then friendly recollection of the landscape of the east comes to mind, it must be the elm, standing in the fields and pastures, that will be the last picture of the scene.

The elm tree is perhaps more beautiful in winter, when it is leafless, than in its full foliage. If had not been for the beauty of the east, the elm might very well have been chosen for a Canadian emblem.

A young poet I once knew referred to the elm as "a great fountain of earth." Most trees, when bare of leaves, lose a great deal of their beauty. Their basic form, of trunk and branches, often assumes a ragged and even an ugly shape, and the tangles of their lesser branches are formless and without design. Even pines, which in summer, with other trees around them reflecting background and relief, take on a rather grim and even forbidding shape in winter.

But the elm is a creature of Student Personalities At Albert College

A weekly feature of interesting facts revealed in interviews with those young undergraduat. s who hail from countries beyond the seas.

By GEORGE H. CARVER

The modern Chinese youth does not have to cling to the traditions of his forebears, that is those with the proper political background.

Time was, when mandarins of old, laid down the law, so to speak, and abided by the edicts of their forefathers—and the sons did likewise.

Bill Wong, sixteen year-old student at Albert College is an example.

BILL WONG

Bill bears the name of an honoured Chinese family. He speaks impeccable English, and is spreading his second educational year in Canada.

Two brothers, John and Address are studying medicine at Queen's University, A sister, Miss Wong, graduate of an American ladies college is associated with the Ontario Department of Welfare, Toronto. A younger sister Joan lives with her parents in far-off Hong Kong.

FATHER BORN IN CANADA

Strangely enough, while his family was born in Canton and Hong Kong, Bill's father, Min Gow Wong, was born in Victoria, British Columbia. He graduated from the University of Minnesota with a degree of a doctor of dentistry.

Following graduation he returned to his native Canton where he taught English and biology in the University of Kwangtung. This was before the Chinese Communists over-ran the mainland. They opened a practice and many of his patients were ambassadors, attaches and other representatives of British, American and European legations.

This was some twenty years ago. When the Red tide swarmed over China Mr. Wong left his properties and land holding and moved to Hong Kong with his family.

The Wong family speaks excellent English and have done so since early childhood. Their father used to speak it in the household and when English-speaking guests were in the Wong home the children were permitted to listen to the conversation. Thus they received an excellent foundation for later teaching.

Bill and his brothers are exceptions to the rule that Chinese sons should follow the occupation of their fathers.

No dentistry for Bill, John and Andrew. They have made up their minds to be doctors of medicine. Both John and Andrew are graduates of Albert College and made many friends during their tenure of study here.

Bill was born in Canton. He came to Canada for the first time a year ago attending Jarvis Collegiate Institute in Toronto. The boys were pleasantly surprised at Christmas when their mother and thirteen year old sister arrived here from Hong Kong to visit them.

Bill will spend next year at Albert, then will make up his mind as to which university he will attend. He has a strong attachment for Queen's since his brothers are there, but he smiled and said: "Perhaps" when asked if he might attend Varsity or McGill.

Bill found it with a school basketball team, and between study periods dashes about a ping pong table. He plays soccer during the summer months.

LIKES CANADA

He likes Canada and Canadians. Would he like to live here for-ever, graduation and open up practice?

Bill shook his head. "I think I shall worry about getting that degree in medicine first," he smiled. "After that I guess we'll see."

Again this reporter remarked on the remarkable English.

He elaborated somewhat on his earlier remarks about learning the language. His father has a most valuable collection of Chinese antiques and curios. When these were inspected by English-speaking visitors, Bill would interpret the Chinese symbols. In this way, he said, he learned many things about the English language.

However if Bill's ability to absorb medical instruction even comes close to that of learning the English language he need have no fear of "flunking" his examinations.

Guilty of Falsely Registering Holstein Cattle

L'ORIGNAL (CP)—Gerald Howe, Riceville cattle breeder, Thursday was found guilty of falsely registering holstein cattle. He will be sentenced March 26.

In delivering judgment, Magistrate Leopold Lalonde said he is convinced Howe has been "conducting a dishonest scheme"—falsify registrations of animals—at artificial breed societies of distinguished pentagree.

There was ample evidence, he added, that the cow, Lady Beau Reno Echo, which Howe registered with the Holstein Freisian Association as the mother of Lady Beau Supreme could not have given birth to the calf on the date mentioned in the registration.

"The crown has proved by two methods that Lady Beau Reno Echo did not drop a calf on May 8, 1951, the date registered by Howe."

Engineers Find Way to Prevent Pipe Corrosion

TORONTO (CP) — Engineers have found a way to prevent corrosion of underground pipe lines due to the natural electric current that flows through the earth. The engineers have just reversed the flow of the current.

A. H. Murchison, Toronto engineer, told the National Association of Corrosion Engineers in an address to the Engineering Institute here. Although the principle has been in use for many years, Mr. Murchison spoke of its particular application to the Sun Oil Imperial Oil Company pipeline which carries refinery products from Sarnia to Toronto.

To protect the 195-mile pipeline, the engineers have placed a sacrificial layer of coal tar, enamel applied hot, fibre-glass matting and felt. That was dotted with sacrificial layers

LYNCH—RIVERS

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Monday, February 22, in St. Carthagh's Catholic Church, Tweed, when Doreen Mary Rita Rivers, Reg'N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rivers, was married to Thomas Augustine Lynch, Erinsville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Lynch. The Rev. Father Shannon said the Nuptial Mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of net over satin with Chantilly lace neckline and a slight train, and a three-quarter length veil held in place with a halo of seed pearls. She carried a round corsage of red roses and white heather.

The maid of honor, Rose Marie Rivers, Tweed, and the bridesmaids, Helen Tweed, and Sheila Rivers, Oshawa, all sisters of the bride, were identical floor dresses of net over taffeta with matching bolero. The maid of honor wore a gown of mauve, while the bridesmaids were gowned in pink and green dresses of light green. They carried bouquets of mauve and pastel shade blossoms in mauve shades.

The groomsman was Joseph Lynch, Tweed, brother of the groom. The bride, Frank Kelly, Kingston, brother-in-law of the groom.

The altar was decorated with daffodils and white snapdragons.

The soloist, Mr. James Lavis, sang "Ave Marie," "Panis Angelicus" and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother". Sister Mary Joan of Arc played the wedding music.

At the reception held in the Hotel Tweedsmuir, the bride's mother received wearing a suit of stitched irridescent taffeta with mauve accessories and a corsage of mauve and white carnations. She was assisted by the groom's mother who wore a gown of grey crepe with lace insets and a corsage of red carnations.

For her wedding trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo, the bride chose a grey tailored suit and a blue and white checked coat with grey accessories.

Guests were present from Oshawa, Peterborough, Marmora, Kingston, Napanee and Belleville.

A WAYSIDE FRIEND

She sits aside her village door
Each day as I pass by.
And greets me with a cheery word
And bright and happy eye;
And though the autumn air is cool
On every sunny day
I find her in her favored spot
As I pass on my way.

She tells me of the Emerald Isle
Her loved ones left behind
And in her pretty Irish brogue
Speaks of the people round;
Their hardships, joy and toil
Who seek their open door.
The young who roam and wanderer
Who return to Erin's shore.

Methinks she's lonely in this land,
Caressing are so cold,
She needs far more a friendly hand
Than wealth or pearls or gold;
And as I listen to her tales
Of days long agone for me,
I'm glad I've met this lonely lass
Who keeps in memory.

Compliments of Dr. J. Anderson.

Handicapped Persons' Club Receives Pledges Of Aid at Opening Meet

The Belle Haven Club was officially launched yesterday evening on a voyage which may bring some scores of activities to Belleville and district to a safe haven of financial security, usefulness and happiness.

The club, for disabled and handicapped persons, is the brainchild of Howard Ackerman, who hopes to see the day when it will possess its own building, when this building will house not only recreational facilities but a workshop where handicapped persons can use their talents, and when the products of their handicraft and brains will be offered for sale in a shop in the front of the building. Assisted originally by his sister, Miss Helen Ackerman, and later by a growing group of public-spirited citizens and by handicapped persons themselves, Mr. Ackerman now finds himself president of a club already numbering sixty members.

Yesterday evening at the Calvary Temple annex, at the club's opening meeting many of these members heard words of encouragement and pledges of support from a dozen speakers. Chairman of the evening's program was Mr. E. R. Folliffe, Acting Minister of Mines, who represented Premier Leslie M. Frost. Also present were Mayor John Both, Elmer Sandercock, M.L.A., Mrs. Marjorie Beamish and Cecil Chapman, employees of the Ontario Department of Public Welfare; Ald. Jack Bradford, chairman of the City Council's welfare committee; H. H. Reed, manager of the Belleville office of the National Employment Service; Lawrence Kells, inspector of public schools; Rev. Keith Dunk, president of the Belleville Ministerial Association; Father P. B. Murphy; Stanley Goodwin, Kerry Robins and Mrs. Herbert McCabe.

Miss Helen Ackerman, vice-president of the club, and F. T. Hulin, treasurer, also spoke. Miss Dorothy Mitchell, a member of the club, played a piano solo. The work of the members of the club, in flowers made by Mrs. Hannah E. Norris and sewing by Mrs. William Fairhead, was exhibited. A film, "Everybody is Handicapped," prepared by the National Film Board for the Federal Department of Labour, was shown.

EXPLAINS CLUB'S OBJECT

The chairman, E. E. Folliffe, explained the objects of the club, that the object of the club was to help disabled and handicapped people to help themselves.

"Those of us who are not handicapped sometimes feel we can do every way possible," declared Mayor John Both.

Stanley Goodwin suggested that the facilities of the Collegiate and Vocational Institute might be utilized in training handicapped persons. He also urged that the general public and industrial leaders be made acquainted with the club's objectives and that the assistance service clubs be sought.

A basic element of Christianity is service and service is the foundation of the new club, said Mr. F. T. Hulin, the treasurer. He said the club's leaders would like to obtain a building where the members could meet once or twice a month; that they would like to establish a business school, where handicapped persons could receive instruction in shorthand and typewriting; that they would like to secure a workshop where rugmaking and weaving could be taught; that they would like to have a canteen where spectacles and artificial limbs to those needing them, and that they would like to be able to find jobs for disabled and handicapped persons. Some of these things could be done without money, he said.

Mr. Hulin said there were only 2,300 persons in Ontario are now receiving disabled persons' allowances. Later Mr. Cecil Chapman said that these allowances were of great help "in keeping the wolf away from the door" but that they did not provide full maintenance. It was, he said, "a terrific job" for an individual to devise ways by which he could earn a dollar or two. He said, "It is terrific for me to be left sure that handicapped persons could sell the products of their labor without this effort being misconstrued as begging."

GREETINGS FROM MINISTER

Mr. Elmer Sandercock M.L.A. brought greetings from Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Ontario Minister of Public Welfare. He said that when he was first elected to the legislature he had pressed for pensions for disabled persons and that now these people, could receive $60 a month.

Miss Helen Ackerman said that the club now had 60 members. "The next objective," she said, "is to find jobs for handicapped who feel is their home" with a little store in front to sell the products they make. Members range in age from 18 to persons in their sixties or older, she said. Later she and others made clear that it is planned to launch a financial appeal shortly.

"I believe great things can come of this meeting," said Mr. Kells.

"Canada spends a billion and a half dollars a year on welfare," said Ald. Jack Bradford. "Though this is 8 per cent of the national income, it is a smaller percentage than is spent in Great Britain or New Zealand. There was nothing in the budget for Belleville for assisting such a club," he said, "but I remember that the city would "give every help it can."

"Among people who have never heard the Gospel of Jesus Christ there are no disabled or handicapped, or infirm people," said Rev. Keith Daniels. "They are all ideal."

EXAMPLE OF O.S.D.

Father P. F. Murphy said that the Ontario School for the Deaf in this city is an example of what a proper training can do to assist people to overcome handicaps.

"There isn't a taxpayer in the city of Belleville who won't help up both hands and sing your glories if you make it possible in the next year's budget for a building to be put up for this club," Harry Rollins told Mayor John Both. "Let us all get behind this project and see it through," he urged.

Mrs. Herbert McCabe read an address prepared by the president, Mrs. Ethel Dickenson, in which he expressed his appreciation for the assistance received from various service organizations and firms and outlined some of his hopes for the club's future. Mrs. McCabe also brought a pledge of support from Mr. Frank Caldwell, M.P.

Solving the problems facing handicapped and disabled persons is not a one-man job nor a one-government job but requires the co-operation of all, said Mr. H. H. Reed.

What to Do... To Help Accident Victims

Each year in Canada some 10,000 people are killed or injured in traffic accidents.

In a war this total would be considered serious. But we take such accidents calmly—until we are involved in one ourselves or are called upon to give first aid to a victim.

It can be a nerve-wracking experience to happen upon an accident and not know how to help. St. John Ambulance says the first thing to do is to get a doctor, an ambulance or the police—all three, if necessary. The biggest mistake most people make, says St. John, is to turn to bystanders and say: "Will someone phone a doctor" or "Someone" usually turns out to be no one and everybody "leaves it to George." The right way is to point to one person who looks responsible and say: "You, will you please phone a doctor right away?"

DO LITTLE

What should you do next? As little as possible, strange as that may seem. In most cases you should remove the injured person or persons from further danger, fire or traffic and such things. But you should not move him unless you have to. Many people are injured more seriously by those trying to help them than by the accident itself. If the victim has to be moved, try to ascertain his injuries first so you can go easy on the injured part.

Of course, if blood is flowing you should try to stop it. This can best be done by applying direct pressure to the wound, preferably with a thick, clean bandage if you can improvise one.

Screen clean person for shock—loosen clothing and keep him warm with blankets but do not overheat him with hot-water bottles.

Reassurance is important. Keep cool yourself and your attitude of confidence will help the injured.

Take command of the scene. See that someone directs automobiles so that there will be no traffic jam. Keep curious people back the crowd. And don't forget, ask someone specifically to get a doctor, the police and an ambulance.

VIEWS OF SWITZERLAND

The views of Switzerland shown in the United Church, Tuesday evening, were much enjoyed. The pictures of scenery as shown in the snow-capped mountains and flowered valleys, the placid blue of the lakes with their swimming swans, the wonderful architecture and the modernly-clothed people combined to make a most remembered picture. The travelogue was given by a native of the country.

Mrs. Harry Carley entertained at cards on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Norman Benham of Bloomfield, was among those present.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Vandewater, Belleville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Byford.

Mrs. Arnold Vandewater, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Austin Whyte, Trenton, spent Friday with friends in Wellington.

Mrs. Frank Harris spent a day recently as the guest of Mrs. M. Beckley, The Willows, Picton.

Mrs. Dora Nelson is spending some weeks with Mrs. Charles Carter.

Mr. Frank Brimley, Jr., is a patient in Kingston hospital.

Mrs. Alma Gerow is also in Trenton hospital, having fallen at her home and broken her hip.

I.O.D.E. Holds Annual Meeting

MARMORA.—The annual dinner of Marmora Chapter I.O.D.E. was held in the Sacred Heart Church parish hall on Wednesday evening. The Catholic Women's League served an excellent dinner. Husbands of the I.O.D.E. members were present as guests.

Mrs. J. M. Brownlie proposed the toast to the men with Mrs. F. R. Loveless replying.

Members enjoyed round and square dancing. Diversion was created by an obstacle race in which four lines took part. The team captained by Mrs. F. Parent won the honors. Mr. Berger won a prize for being the youngest man present. On opening it by a key on a string given to the man who had the loudest tie. This was Leighton Ginnis, who in turn presented it to Fred R. Wells, as the man with the most colorful shirt. Mrs. Ginnis received the prize for the program were Mesdames J. Aitchison, C. Brady and J. Reynolds.

SISTERS ALL

By Jean Love Galloway

Leave it to Edna Jaques, the Canadian poet, to bring back a new idea from the Coronation. In a talk to the Kingston Women's Press Club last week, Edna told about the magnificent red geraniums that banked the Coronation route. When she saw them, she thought if she could only bring back a little slip from one of those geraniums red geraniums and let it grow on that she might give slips from it to her friends. Edna managed to bring a slip in her purse and is nurturing it in her own kitchen window.

When plans were being made for her church bazaar this spring out at Clarkson, Ontario, Edna thought it would be an idea if she wrote to the London Parks Commission to ask for some Coronation geranium plants from which she could sever slips to be sold at the bazaar. Back came a huge box of geraniums. From these, Edna will get nearly a thousand slips.

She plans to pot each, do them up with gold paper and type out a little Coronation tag with the story of the plant. These will go on sale at the Clarkson church bazaar for 50c each.

All the women in the district are bound to want one of these plants. From them, slips will be cut until Edna's Coronation geranium has spread across Canada in the kitchen windows of sister citizens everywhere.

So, from a single thought in the mind of a woman poet, a whole country will slowly flower out with red geraniums in perpetuate the coronation of a Queen.

WOMEN'S WORK

This time of year, there are sales in a number of materials. One of the most welcome ordered is a need new draperies to freshen up a room, try some of the soft shades of fine corduroy. These curtains don't necessarily have to be lined. They wear a long time and can be laundered at home. If you have only one window in a room, or two small one's you can turn a corduroy suit or housecoat into drapes.

RICE

As a vegetable, rice can be used many times as a change from potatoes. After washing it in cold water, bring to a boil in boiling salted water, and cook slowly for about 20 minutes. Drain and dry in the oven. Or, if you like, you can cook rice in a double boiler, using 1 cup rice to 2 cups boiling water and 1 teaspoon salt. Cook over boiling water for 1 hour, stirring occasionally with a fork. Rice is delicious with chicken stew. Because we are so used to serving potatoes, many of us forget to change rice into a meal for a treat.

Student Tells Women's Guild About China

The Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church met recently. Newly-elected president, Mrs. Gordon Byran, presided over the meeting.

It was reported, during the business session, that an executive meeting was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Jessie Cunningham presented the fall-winter program and Mrs. Angus read the minutes of the previous meeting.

The main study project of the C.G.I.T. will take the form of a cook book supper this Tuesday.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Li Wing Chin, a student at Bible College. Mr. Chin is planning to enter the faculty of medicine at Queens University, following graduation from the College. He told the group he was his wish to return to China to practice medicine.

The speaker described the desperate efforts of the Chinese government to unify the people of the home land. He said their work is hampered by language barriers.

Other obstacles hampering government efforts are illiteracy, which includes a difficult housing system and water problems.

Mr. Chin revealed that most ambitious students in China attempt to leave the country and try to alter countries. He said that Canada is a popular choice of Chinese students.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

IS TWENTY-EIGHT "TOO OLD TO START OVER"?

"I have been divorced for about a year, and ever since, I've been lonely and very depressed," writes a young woman in her late twenties, who continues:

"I have tried going out with my married girl friends, but that doesn't seem to work. I'd like to go out on dates with young men, but I never seem to meet anyone. The only men I come in contact with are the married ones where I work. Several of these have asked me out, but I know better. It just doesn't work. There are no dates between the ages of 30 and 50. I know some girls go to the movies to meet men, but I just can't seem to do that. Aren't there any clubs for divorced people? I can't be the only lonesome person my age.

"I'm considered very attractive and have a lovely home. Maybe another reason I'm lonesome is that I have no family. However, I am also very shy.

"Can you suggest anything, and do you think I'm too old to start over, or will I meet someone some day?"

Twenty-eight "too old to start over?" Well, hardly! In fact, it's never too late to start all over, even so far as marriage is concerned. Hardly a day goes by that one doesn't read of some couple getting married in their sixties, seventies and eighties!

I admit, however, that there does seem to be a dearth of "dates" in this woman's age group, because most young men in their late twenties or thirties are either already married or engaged. But this is a situation that applies for every woman over the age of 23, one is by no means yet in the category that gives acceptance of those who do get married is down to the minutest. So I'm afraid I'll have to cross that particular subject right off the list as worthless.

Moreover, she might like to know that the chances of a second marriage are far better, generally, for the older woman who has once been married than for the novice for a single woman of around the same age for getting married at all. Psychologists, as they say, is that the woman who has once been married usually understands men better, as a rule, than the woman who hasn't and so is more attractive to the men she meets.

To this woman's question about clubs for divorced people, I would say that I don't know of any, but I certainly wouldn't recommend her joining one if I did. I think it would be a big mistake. I do not commend, however, her joining any club she now belongs to which has both men and women members. She lives in a small town where there must certainly be a number of such clubs, and since her letter shows her to be an intelligent, thoughtful person, she should be able to make up her mind for herself them out. If she doesn't know how to begin, let her go and ask the local YWCA what they tell her specifically what the opportunities are in her town.

The fact that this woman has a lovely home, a good asset, for one she has joined some club and begun to make new friends, she can invite them in for meals and over her house a center for many interesting social affairs. Also, I'm very I hope this young woman will make a careful and conservative groups she might join, she may find one which needs an attractive place to meet, and it would be a fine thing for her to make her house available to the family of her own, the house must often seem to her like a very empty place. If she will look at it as an asset for widening her circle of and interests for her value to the community, she will soon feel quite differently about it.

I'm very glad she is sensible enough not to make dates with any of the married men in her office. Many young women in her position are not that wise, and, as a result, frequently find themselves in very unhappy situations.

The woman who has been married, and then is not, whether through death or divorce, is bound to have a difficult time readjusting herself. But there is no reason at all why she should remain lonely and lost. If she will go at the business of making the necessary adjustments, she can gradually develop a very satisfying and happy life. It takes time, will power and intelligence, but I feel sure she has enough of these things to succeed in creating her own satisfactory new life. Moreover, if she does so, it's not at all unlikely that eventually she'll meet a new friends and she will make, she may find a second husband!

PREPARING NEW STAMP

WASHINGTON (AP)—The post office department today said it will put on sale here in early April the first regular United States postage stamp to bear the motto "In God We Trust" and the first such stamp to be printed in two colors. It will be a regular eight-cent issue, principally used for international mail. The central design in red will portray the Statue of Liberty with the motto arching overhead. The frame will be in blue shading into a white halo behind the statute.

Readers' Saturday Column

By Mary Moore

Dear Readers: I have a problem "You help so many others" you help me" . . . Problem: Space. Could you let me be the judge as to whether I print the recipe you want in this column or send you a copy of a previous release which contained it? When I do that it is small consolation that I must have your name and address. I'd like a stamped envelope too.

QUESTION:

Would you be good enough to print a recipe, using cooked Rolls" . . . as soon as possible "Ethel."

ANSWER:

Had you give me your surname and address I could have mailed it to you two weeks ago Ethel.

CABBAGE ROLLS

One lb. ground beef, 1-2 lb. ground pork, 1 cup raw rice, 1 cup tomatoes, 1 tablespoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1 medium cabbage, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 cup milk or cream or sour cream. Break cabbage leaves apart, and parboil 3 minutes to wilt them. Combine meat, rice, onion, salt, sugar, pepper. Steam or parboil the cabbage leaves only, and add to mixture. Put heaping tablespoon of mixture in each cabbage leaf and roll up, being sure to fold over and tuck in ends before you place them. Place in open side down in greased baking dish. Continue until all filling is rolled into cabbage leaves, placing rolls close together. Cover with milk (or part milk and tomato juice or sour cream). Cover. Simmer or bake (if you wish we baked it desired, at 325 deg. F.) for 1 hour. Thicken gravy with milk or cream or sour cream. Lebanese or Turkish folk serve yogurt with this dish.

LETTER:

Please let "Starved" get his nice, firm and white potatoes! I would dearly love to send him some very much, but this time I have to voice a little protest. If "Cleveland" would only do it, the magic will You could tell "Starved" that he can enterprise as a fairy, watch his Mom putting the potatoes on the stove, add a bottle of vinegar, swirling it three, times mumbling some magic words and just pour a little vinegar into the pot. And the potatoes will be white. I think it worth a try, and not sure I can't tell you how much vinegar to use—but I know you'll remember it is spoon full will be enough for 3 or 4 potato-loving people. You can use vinegar on mashed potatoes. The milk will not curdle, and the mash is going to look pretty as an iceberg. By the way—cauliflower stays white, when a bit of lemon juice is added to the cooking-water, but I guess you know that Frits.

ANSWER:

Your whimsical letter and the original sketch were very refreshing. I know of no "magic" treatment, but was advised by a research worker who has been studying potato chemistry for many years, not to print it because I might bring down blasts on my head from many authorities. I hope you saw column of Feb. 17, where I gave proportion of cream or tattar to use in boiled potatoes, and your tendency to darken—1-4 teaspoon to each 6 peeled potatoes, added after they have cooked 15 minutes. Thanks a million.

LETTER:

Wish I could be chatting with you instead of writing . . . I look forward to your column every week, and enjoy it. We have a family—just my husband (Cos) and I. At one time I entertained big parties, but now prefer to something new in food. I want to make Yorkshire Pudding—Sauerkraut. It is delicious. I sear (not brown) a piece of pork, sear all over, then add water and if I have barley liquid some of it is added). A little celery and sauerkraut with onion as you want. Let that simmer. Add kraut and let simmer anywhere from an hour to an hour and a half. I use all the juices liquid for a cocktail. It is lovely. I use quite a heavy aluminum kettle. Also want to tell you about celery. All the lovely green leaves and outside stalks I cut up and stew them with water—when tender I put through sieve—make sure none of the pulp goes through. I use that in tomato juice, soups, gravies, etc. I have quarts of it now and it is quite jellied. . . my hobby is cooking. Guess you'd like to send you a box some time when I make them. I know when you opened them you would ah! ah! . . . would you like to hear about my weight? Down! Down! When Les and I were married I wore a size 16. Made up my mind I'd wear nothing larger—that was 27 years ago. . . . On studio scales 8 a.m.—11 lbs. It shows it can be done. . . happy days and good health and God bless you.—Mary O.

ANSWER:

Well done! and thanks. Yes, please Mary I would love a box of your cookies. I remember it's little one—I have to keep my weight down too—

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECHAM

SHOULD SHE ACCEPT HIS INVITATION?

Dear Mrs. Beecham:

About a year ago I met a very fine young man, and we have been good friends ever since. We are not engaged, and have never spoken of being engaged. Of course he knows my family, and also knows several of my relatives. Two or three times he has suggested that I go with him to visit relatives of his, but I have stalled about accepting. Do you think I should accept when (or if) he says anything about this again? (Two of my girl friends have this same problem, and we would all be grateful for your advice.) — Ester F.

What do you mean by "visit"? If you mean your friend suggests that you go with him to stay in the house of one of his relatives, or perhaps to dinner at their house, then of course, you would certainly incorrect for you to accept unless the hostess herself invites you, by telephone or by note. But if, as I Judge, you and he would also be invited to your relatives on Sunday afternoon, perhaps, to the evening, it would be quite proper for you to go with him to make similar calls and calls.

NEWSPAPER ANNOUNCEMENT OF BROKEN ENGAGEMENT

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My daughter and her fiance have just broken their engagement and I cannot help it. Is it correct for us, her parents, to send to the newspapers a formal announcement of the broken engagement. My daughter would like to follow the custom. Do you advise her published announcement? If so, please tell us the correct form.

Mother

You are right in the announcement of the broken engagement should be sent to the newspapers by the parents of whichever one the engagement was published. This is the correct form. It is: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lee Robinson of 123 Fourth Street, announce that the engagement of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Robinson, and Mr. Edward Jones, No. 29 Jarvis Street, has been cancelled." (That "by mutual consent" must always be included is important.)

TWO GOOD QUESTIONS ABOUT INTRODUCTIONS

Will you please answer two questions that are puzzling me regarding introductions? (1) My mother and my aunt call each other by name, much older man is being introduced to them, should he say "How do you do" or wrong? — Celia R.

(1) Right. It is a matter of courtesy, a fine courtesy, and respect. (2) Right.

TODAY'S RECIPE PAPER DOILIES

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My lace doilies are all worn out, and, since they are remaining inexpences, edged with lace, are on their last legs! Would it be correct for me to buy the paper doilies on serving plates or other dishes for such items as sandwiches, little cakes, cookies, and so forth?

Keen-Eyed Woman Sees Five Moons

LONDON (Reuters) — A keen-eyed British housewife who can see five moons with the naked eye has made her debut on television.

Clifford Davis, TV editor of the London Daily Mirror, said today that Mrs. Janet Hitchman "can probably see farther and clearer than any other white person."

Without spectacles or a telescope she can spot the three major moons of the planet Jupiter, more than 230,000,000 miles away, he said. Sounding the earth's moon, that makes five she can see.

Davis reported that Mrs. Hitchman was discovered by the British Broadcasting Corporation, which had appealed for someone who could see Jupiter's moons to appear on a scientific program for night.

Until week Mrs. Hitchman's sight was tested by the British Optical Association in London, he said. Her eyesight was checked by picking out two of Jupiter's moons straight off.

She couldn't spot the other two moons because they were behind the planet at the time.

Beauty

By HELEN JAMIESON

IT'S THE ENSEMBLE THAT COUNTS

The ladies' fashion comes by this distinction because she knows what to wear and when to wear it. She is keen about the ensemble that she presents to the observing eye. Hat, gloves, purse and shoes, hair-do, make up—there must be a bond between them. She is aware of the pitfalls that those which are not so good. If she is tall and thin she avoids long lines and long draperies; if she is inclined to be short or a bit too plump she avoids severe lines. If she is the tallored type she doesn't go in for excess trimmings. If she is the fluffy type she is entitled to ruffles and pretty doodads. The idea is to keep in character.

Heavyweights who wear shoes with high heels in which they toddle unsteadily are completely out of order. They need a solid foundation because their feet have a heavy load to carry. Footwear of an important detail of dress, should be selected carefully. Street shoes should be smart and in keeping.

Buying clothes for the coming season is a problem for many women or will be very shortly. When you fare forth to buy, be sure your purse holds enough for your needs. Then you will be a wary shopper and not a spendthrift.

The dress purchase should be the coat. Then you can build around it. Select a neutral color so that it will be versatile enough to suit your frocks. Note the effect upon your face and your complexion. Certain cold greys and dingy browns will drain the skin of its natural coloring.

Remember that the simplest dresses are the smartest. Cling depends upon fine fabric, gracefull lines and impeccable fitting. When you buy a hat stop and consider it with your frocks. Harmonious certain frocks. Give thought to accessories too—gloves, hosiery, costume jewelry and belts.

The Evening Auxiliary decided to sponsor a program, conducted by the choir of St. Andrew's United Church, Peterborough in May. A reading was given by Mrs. Wingfield on Christian Stewardship.

The worship service was conducted by Mrs. R. Osterhout.

Included in the program were readings by Mrs. Hazel Howe, Mrs. Jean Chase, Mrs. J. Finnegan and piano solos by Mrs. E. Marcin, and Miss Sue Ann Wallace.

Mrs. Helen Charlesworth was a guest.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ina Montgomery, Mrs. R. Osterhout, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Doreen Montgomery.

The "Bus" raffle prize was won by Mrs. R. Jewell.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S UNION

The young people of the district including Frankford, Belleville, Wallbridge, Stirling and Foxboro, met in the Frankford United Church Rose Lowery hall on Wednesday evening under the leadership of Miss Barbara Brown of Foxboro. The theme "Young People's covenant for Sidney and Trenton Christian Education. Worship service each Young People's Union provided entertainment for the evening.

Rev. Mirian Collins, assistant rector at Bridge Street United Church, Belleville, was guest speaker and her theme for the evening was "Purpose of Young People."

Refreshments were served by members of Frankford Young People's group.

LEGION LEGION

Along with all other branches of the Canadian Legion in District 7 the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion is organizing a membership campaign to be held throughout the present year. The immediate aim is to show an increase of at least 25 per cent. Also in addition a hundred branch is also aiming to play its part in the effort of District 7 to win the cup and awards of $500 offered to the district in the Ontario command which achieves the greatest percentage increase in membership. The unit in the district which has the greatest actual gain in membership, 75 to 100 per cent, or 25 per cent must show an over-all increase of 25 per cent in membership at December 31, 1953.

According to Jack McInally, membership campaign chairman, is being appointed to conduct the campaign locally. Special bonuses will be held to which all non-Legion veterans will be invited as they may become familiar with Legion aims, objectives and work.

H. J. Madill has been named chairman of the Frankford branch membership committee which will be in charge of the campaign.

Nasser Takes Over from Naguib as Egypt's Premier

Firm friends when this photo was taken, Gen. Naguib, left, has been deposed as premier of Egypt and his place taken by Col Gamal Abdel Nasser, right. Nasser has always been regarded as top man in the military clique which ousted King Farouk and installed Naguib as premier. Naguib's removal from power came as a surprise to the populace, but not to the military group from which Naguib obtained authority and power. — Central Press Canadian.

Canadians Find Life in Japan So Commonplace Boys Have Nothing to Write Home About

BY JACK BRAYLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TOKYO (CP)—Japan can provide the RAF Canadians in the Far East forces, with topics for letters home as varied as the ingredients in sukiaki, which soldiers describe as the Irish stew of Japan, "cooked while you watch."

Some probably will get tired of these things. To others, the Japanese way of life has become so commonplace they no longer consider it worthwhile describing to their families.

A Canadian soldier, sailor or airman giving his first impression can't ignore the ever-present smell of sewage but he soon learns there is good reason and why it's so incredibly handy to the nose—it's fertilizer, into "honey-buckets" and sent to the rice paddies and vegetable terraces to fertilize the soil.

INTENSIVE FARMING

The boy from the Alberta or New Brunswick farm is impressed by the use of every inch of soil for cultivation and every facility for fertilization.

This maximum use of resources explains in some measure how this country was able to put through a gigantic war effort despite the general sub-standard of living. Now the industrious Japanese is working 10 and 12 hours a day, seven days a week, for his country's recovery.

The boy from the farm can tell about the picturesque countryside, with wispy browns at this time of year, or describe to his folks how the Japanese farmer lays out his terraced fields to make maximum use of the space at the foot of the big hills, a method of agriculture successful only where mechanization has not replaced cheap labor.

"You see, they write the Canuck, "you couldn't operate a tractor on those steep farms and anyway if you could what in the world would all those farm hands do for employment?"

The soil on the terraces seems to be a reminder in some quiet spots of the bleak slopes of the gaff topsails in Newfoundland where no Canadian would think of growing crops. Even the verges between road and railway are under cultivation for the nation's 90,000,000.

PLAIN DIET

The hard-won national larder, consisting mostly of vegetables and fish, is made a little more varied by home-grown oranges and enormous pulpy apples. There are also exotic preparations made from snakes and snails, and slices of bamboo that taste like chestnuts, put into stews and salads.

The letter writer, too, can probably tell you in on many interesting phases of the Far East news because in Japan he can read half a dozen English-language papers which keep him up-to-date on the situation. He is made sharply aware of Japan's attempt at economic recovery and reads the reaction to new trade agreements aimed at providing this industrial country with markets to replace those lost in eastern Asia.

It is no wonder the Canadian may write confusingly about the political trends in the Far East. It must have been startling to him to read in a recent paper a congratulatory New Year's message from the new Ceylonese minister recalling with thanks Japan's gallantry in the Second World War because it speeded recognition of independence for countries such as Ceylon.

The letter home may describe a wild ride in one of the Tokyo taxis and pass on the unconfirmed report that they are driven by former Kamakaze suicide pilots. But in spite of the speed there are fewer dented fenders in Tokyo than Montreal and traffic moves as quickly because of the split-second timing and aim of the driver.

ORIENTAL THEATRE

The Canuck may be a bit restricted in what he writes about the strip show, but he will describe the more traditional live stage entertainment such as the Kokusai Theatre. This company trains for a year before each season and mixes a little Western music hall variety to add spice to the show—and, incidentally, to appeal to the mass of American and British troops.

This is a fast moving and at times elusive program. Numbers range from the classical Kabuki symbolism, with ornate costumes on a grand scale, to modern presentations that include a human puppet tableau that is unique and amusing.

The sets and decor are also on the grand scale and in one recent piece a "big temple—occupying a stage nearly as big as Radio City Music Hall—crashed in rubble amid a crescendo from the big orchestra and realistic and almost horrifying off-stage sound and lighting effects.

Some Canadians even go to the Kabuki itself but it is doubtful if many write about it. This long-winded and heavily-costumed theatre escapes nearly every foreigner and some Japanese but its audience, for the most part, is made up of repeaters. It goes all night hours and usually only the most hardy Canuck stays to the end. Costumes are rich and reminiscent of the Japanese pottery patterns displaying the wide-pantalooned warlord slaying the fiery dragon.

FISHERMAN DIES

KILLARNEY (CP) — The oldest commercial fisherman on Georgian Bay and Lake Huron's north shore, Capt. Joseph Roque, 85, died at his home here Thursday. He started his fishing days as a youth in sailing vessels and lived his entire life at Killarney.

Madoc Junction

MADOC JUNCTION. — Billie Stapley was able to return home from Bellevile General Hospital on Tuesday.

Many persons from here attended the hockey match in Campbellford on Thursday night when Gordon Meiklejohn was in Kingston General Hospital.

Mrs. William McMullen, Wayne and Keith, spent Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Sharpe, Mount Pleasant.

Mrs. Hiram Ashley and Mrs. Harold Hollinger visited Mrs. Forde Stapley, Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith are leaving this week by motor for Florida. On Friday evening, Mrs. Carl Bridges, Mrs. Harry Clarke, Mrs. Clarence Fitchett and Mrs. William McMullen represented the Eggleton W.M.S. and W. A. met at their home for a social hour.

The W.A. president, Mrs. McMullen, gave a brief address and Mrs. Fitchett presented Mrs. Smith with a gift. Mrs. Smith thanked her friends for the gift and also for the good wishes extended to her and her husband.

Mrs. Arthur Fitchett entertainments and everyone enjoyed watching television.

Guests for dinner on Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Clancy were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Clancy of Wellman's and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fitchett.

Miss Thelma Prest spent last week-end at the home of her school friend in Belleville.

The Sidney Sunday school executive met at the home of the president, Mrs. Warren Harlow, on Saturday night.

Mr. W. H. Farrow was a guest for dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William McMullen on Sunday.

The February meeting of the Eggleton, West Huntington W.F.U. was held on Friday night at Eggleton school house.

Mrs. Maurice Clancy, presided over the program.

The worship period was conducted by Thomas Bridges.

Joanne Reide and Marlene Madill sang a duet. Marilyn Reid and Thelma Prest each took part in a reading.

Mr. W. H. Farrow showed an interesting film.

Two contests were conducted during the recreational period.

Refreshments were served.

Roslin

ROSLIN. — On Friday afternoon a Valentine concert and sale of work was held at the Roslin School. A varied program was presented by the pupils under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. R. Wheeler. Many mothers and friends attended. The sale table of fancy work and candy was well patronized.

On Tuesday evening, a successful concert and pie supper was held under the auspices of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. A varied musical program and films were presented.

On Wednesday the W.A. of St. Paul's church held a pot-luck dinner and quilting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Bates.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fargey spent several days recently at Grimsby Beach.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT!

The standing senior "B"-group has subsided somewhat after last night's results but the bubbles are now concentrated on one spot, the game between the Peterborough Petes and the Goodyears in Kingston tonight. For as the results rests the top perch of the group ladder.

Peterborough walloped the Carr-Harris crew 7-3 on Peterborough last night while the group-leading Oshawa Trunkers got set back in their own ballwick by a 4-3 count. The results leave the Truckers clinging to first place with 44 points and the Petes breathing down their necks with 42. Oshawa has completed its schedule so everything hinges on the result in Kingston tonight.

Orillia by virtue of its victory over Oshawa has clinched third position and is the Goodies solid in fourth spot. If the Petes knock off the Goodies tonight they meet Kingston in a best-of-seven semi-final series with the first game scheduled for Peterborough on Wednesday, March 3. If the Goodyears win, Oshawa will meet Kingston in the series starting in Oshawa, Tuesday, March 2. Semi-finals winners will be declared by March 13 at the latest. The finals series also is a best-of-seven affair.

Tonight the Memos take on the Orillia Fontiacs in their final game of the schedule. The Memos will be at full strength and although they are out of the playoffs they have every intention of proving they still are one of the best teams in the group. Game starts at 8:30.

CAN'T BLAME 'EM!

If the hockey fandom of Stirling is walking around these days with their chest slightly expanded, don't think for a minute somebody has struck oil in a back lot, or has discovered a uranium mine somewhere near Doc Vandervoort's property.

The reason is they have a juvenile hockey club that bids fair to emulate the exploits of the Detroit little team of a few years ago that swept everything aside until they met Fort Dalhousie in the Ontario Minor Hockey Association finals.

It's a bit early to say that Russ Pyear's fast-skating hard-hitting crew is of championship calibre. But from their exploits in the past few going to let some Ontario teams know they are in the running.

They have won the group title and the first round of the juvenile "C" playdowns by eliminating the defending champions, Stellar Lines of the old home town in Wellington. The little "Dukes" pushed them to the wire in their final bid to avoid elimination, being edged by a 3-2 score in the second game of the series.

They face the first severe test of their trek down the playdown trail next Tuesday in Memorial Arena when they meet the Marmora team from the Bancroft District. The "Bridgers" won their group and defeated Bobcaygeon in the first round. The second game will be played in Bracebridge next Friday.

The Stirling-Bracebridge series will be the semi-finals since thirteen teams originally started in quest of the title. Six of these have been eliminated, it is presumed, leaving a triple series and a team drawing a bye. If Stirling defeats Bracebridge, it will likely draw a bye since the OMHA matches teams having the shortest distance to travel.

The schedule of the respective playdowns of Stirling and Bracebridge will be seen next Tuesday night when the teams clash in the series opener here.

GOLF SCHOOL

Dubs and duffers, students and veterans will get the chance to catch-up-with, refresh, or learn the ancient and honorable game of golf when the YMCA Golf School gets under way on night.

Leading golfers of the city including Dr. George Faulkner, Mike Aconforti, T. A. Carruthers, Val. Smith, Spence Wonacott and Joey Pidutti will act as instructors.

Considerable interest is being shown in the school. In fact the ladies were insisted that they be included that arrangements have been made for their instruction, too. Homer "Red" Townsend is chairman of the golf committee of the "Y". He is being assisted by Di Diamantino, physical director, with Clare B. Morgan acting as technical adviser.

Bring along your clubs and other gear. The Y will supply the balls. It is a fine opportunity to learn the game, or if you're a trifle rusty, to brush up on the swings and putts. School starts at 8.15.

Willie Pep Reaches End of Trail, Following 2nd-Round KO By Perez

NEW YORK (AP)—Young Tulio Perez of Brooklyn Friday night stopped 31-year-old Willie Pep in 1:53 of the second round on the three-knockdown rule at Madison Square Garden.

Pep weighed 127½, one pound more than Perez.

Referee Al Berl halted the fight after the fighter who once floored the former featherweight champion for the third time with a vicious right to the head.

A left and right dropped the former champ for the count shortly after the round began. Swarming after the ring-secured Hartford, Conn., veteran, the flashy Perez clipped Pep with a right uppercut that snapped Willie's head back and brought a roar from the crowd.

BIG RIGHT

Another right dropped Pep right on his pants. He shook his head and then got up at the eight count. Lulu stormed after him again, 10, throwing punches with machine-gun speed. As Willie backed against the ropes, Lulu smashed over another right and Willie hit the deck for the third time.

As soon as he fell, Berl waved his hands, signalling the end of the scheduled 10-rounder. Under New York rules, the referee must stop the fight when one fighter is dropped three times in one round in non-title bouts.

The defeat snapped a 19-fight winning streak Pep had built up since he was stopped by Tommy Collins last June. It was only his sixth defeat against 133 victories in his 14-year career and the first time he had been stopped.

It about marked the end of the big time for the dark-haired little gladiator who had held the 126-pound title twice.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello, a physician for the commission, said "Pep is not going to fight any more as far as I'm concerned." He can't take a punch any more. I wouldn't pass him in a physical."

Dapper Coach Will Set Record Unless Team Folds Suddenly; Leafs, Habs 11 Points Behind

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Tommy Ivan has never played big-time hockey but the guess will always remember him as one of the greatest coaches in the business.

Ivan, the dapper, reserved coach of Detroit's rambunctious Red Wings, is almost a cinch to lead the Wings to a sixth straight National Hockey League championship this year. No coach has ever done that before.

Unless the Detroiters fold during their 10 remaining games in this season's 70-gleth schedule, it is in. The Red Wings have won 34 starts and tied 11 for 79 points, an 11-point lead over Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens.

Ivan won't get his boys into action in the 10 games this week end. But they will be fresh for their encounter against the Leafs in Detroit Thursday.

In two games tonight, the last league Chicago Black Hawks are at Toronto and the fifth-place New York Rangers are at Montreal. On Sunday it's Toronto at Chicago and Montreal at New York.

BANKING ON TITLE

Ivan never says much but it's obvious he is banking on the Red Wings breezing through to the league Chicago Black Hawks isn't a fan who will argue with him.

The 45-year-old Ivan has been successful ever since he succeeded Jack Adams, now manager of the Wings, as coach in 1947-48. The Wings jumped from fourth to second place during Ivan's first season, then captured five straight titles. However, they won only two Stanley Cups in the five years.

Ivan, a native of Toronto, ended his playing career in the centre in Brantford, Ont., at 37 when he fractured a cheekbone and dislocated his jaw. He turned to coaching and scouting before Adams moved him from Omaha to Indianapolis to Detroit.

Before Ivan took over as coach, the Red Wings last won a league crown in the 1942-43 season.

CLOCK SAVES WORKMAN

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—Time had Harold Wood on its hands Thursday—for five hectic minutes. Then nearby workmen ran over with a ladder and plucked Wood from the face of St. Mary's Hospital clock 60 feet above the street. Wood, 42, was repairing the clock when a gust of wind blew down his wooden shutters. He fell three-and-a-half foot minute hand and hung on.

Favorites Emerge Winners In World Hockey

STOCKHOLM (CP) —Canada plays its first game in the 1954 world hockey championships today and the showing of Toronto East York against Switzerland may provide a hint on where the Canadians will finish in the 16-day tournament.

Czechoslovakia, one of the top four teams in the eight-nation round-robin, defeated the Swiss 7-1 Friday and is considered by many sports writers here the favorite to win the world title.

The showing of the Canadians against the same Swiss team was expected to give observers a basis for comparing Canada and Czechoslovakia.

While Canada did not take part in the opening day schedule Friday, six other teams did and in each case the favorites emerged the winners.

In addition to the Czech win over the Swiss, Russia, appearing for the first time in a world championship play, trounced Finland 7-1.

The third member of the big four, Sweden, swamped Norway 10-1.

GAMES SLATED

Results of other games, Germany, which was also idle Friday, meets Czechoslovakia and Norway plays Russia.

The games are played on an outdoor rink in a small crowd of 1,400 heaved a storm to watch the opening day's play.

Possible upset of the championships may come on the final day Thursday, with a long history of domination in international hockey, plays the Moscow Dynamos, rated by some writers here as favored over the Ontario Hockey Association Senior B team.

Lead Shared In Mexican Golf Open

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Argentina's Roberto de Vicenzo Friday shot a tournament record five-under-par 67 to forge into a tie for the lead with Johnny Palmer of the United States in the Mexican open.

The Argentine, who won the Mexican title last year, thrilled his large gallery with the best golf of the match to date, turning in a 33-34—67 to bring his total for the first two days to 139.

Palmer, from Charlotte, N.C. shot a first nine 37 but tightened up on the back nine with a 34 for 71.

Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener, Ont., was one of seven in the top 20 tied at 145.

Fail To Reach Sked Agreement In Intercounty

GALT (CP)—Operators of teams in the Senior Intercounty Baseball League held a long meeting here but failed to agree on a draft of the 1954 schedule.

Disagreement on the schedule, submitted by Don Gallinger of Kitchener, centred around the playing of doubleheaders.

Gallinger also proposed that United States residents with no previous experience in professional baseball be permitted to play in the Intercounty League. League rules this year permit only eight imports for each club. Two of the eight must be members of last year's club.

The proposal would allow the players without previous professional experience to be classified as non-imports.

Jack Sharkey, the Boston sailor, won a slashing 10-round bout from Young Stribling at Miami Beach 25 years ago tonight. The fight was one of a series to find a successor to Gene Tunney, who had retired undefeated in 1928. Sharkey lost to Max Schmeling on a foul in 1930 and Schmeling was awarded the championship.

Training Camp Notes

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) Tom Poholsky, handicapped by a sore pitching arm during most of his St. Louis Cardinal career, looks in fine shape this spring and may get manager Eddie Stanky's No. 4 starting assignment.

Gerry Staley, Harvey Haddix, and Vic Raschi appear slated to start in that order.

Poholsky, just back from two years in the army, was operated on a year ago.

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Although there are 21 pitchers in the Dodger camp, Don Newcombe pitched to the Brooklyn batters for the second time in three days Friday.

Newcombe, bearing down to regain his ace status of 1951 when he won 20 games, has been out of the army three weeks.

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Bill Terry now knows the Dodgers are still in the league.

The former New York Giant manager, once hailed in Flatbush for his snide remarks regarding Brooklyn, has recommended a spare pitching arm during most of his St. Louis Cardinal career, looks in fine shape this spring and may get manager Eddie Stanky's No. 4 starting assignment.

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Pitcher Ray Crone is one of the most unsung rookies in Milwaukee Braves' training camp. At 22 he already has had five year's experience in the minors.

Crone, who is not too proud of his 19-11 record of 1953 with pennant-winning Jacksonville, Fla., of the Sally League, is confident this is his year to break into the major league. "All I want is a chance," he says.

Pitcher Herb Grissom became the first casualty when a batted ball he was struck on the ankle by a line drive during batting practice.

With The Minors

By GARRY ALEXANDER

There's one thing you can say about the Belleville Minor League teams; they all stick together, even in defeat.

It was apparent after Wednesday night's games in Kingston that our side would have to play much better hockey than they did to even venture close to beating the Limestone City crews.

From the first faceoff in the bantam game until the last in the juvenile game it was study skating perfect slowing up once that enabled the Kingston crews to stay out front all the way. The bigger ice surfaces also had the visitors stymied while the opposition's stronger skating could be credited to the same thing but here in our own domain they still licked all three teams in the place of the first game didn't mean much.

* * *

The bantams took the worst beating losing in Kingston 12-3 and dropping a 6-1 verdict at home. That adds up to a 17-6 score or a big goal difference.

The midgets lacked scoring power scoring only three goals in the two games which is not enough to win in eight.

For a while Thursday night it looked as if we might pull out with one win when the juveniles were tied at eight goals apiece but then the overtime period and the winners banged home goals to win their round by that many goals.

* * *

Most of the time the Belleville teams played good hockey but it was a case of not enough good hockey to offset the rest. We understand the Kingston boys have been playing together all this year and some for several years.

The results: Thursday night for Belleville was the Goyer-Vesterfelt-McManus line and they played together all year. The juveniles scored eight goals and this line produced seven of them. Add the five and the other two had one each. This should be a good unit working with each other for a length of time can do. The other goal was scored by Bowerbank on his linemates for the regular season, White and Vaughan, getting assists.

Doug Murray, Pete Upper and Bill Charlton all played fine games hockey and Bob Day did more than anyone else but it just was not enough to profit a win.

* * *

Wright, Gill, St. Denis and Engerer were the pick of the midget team with Reaves and Sills both turning in respectable games in goal. Sergeant-Thomas-Keegan line played well with the first mentioned getting one goal. St. Denis and Crull got the other two.

* * *

Leo St. Denis scored about the prettiest goal of the midget series in Kingston on Wednesday when he carried the puck straight at the two Kingston defencemen, they both hit him, one from each side but as he went down he drifted a shot that the goalie hasn't seen yet.

* * *

The Kingston bantam "Vics", undefeated in the last two years had little trouble in handing the Jones coached banlams. In the first game they caught the Belleville defence out of position on about every other rush and they had no trouble scoring their six in the nets.

It was a little different here Thursday night with Bob Carrigan and Dave Coe breaking up a lot of rushes and Coe finally picking out a goodly share of rubber.

Gerry Bowerbanks was the best for Belleville in both games. He no doubt would have scored more goals Thursday night if his line mates had not been in a scoring slump. That they were.

* * *

Belleville was the first side to side on most of the rushes. Bowerbanks had fire on line in but it was called back and he was ready to blast on several other occasions when the rest of the team failed to ball to the plays.

Kingston was in season's play, MacDonald-Boulter-Brennan play three goals in the series, MacDonald-Boulter-Brennan play three goals in the series, MacDonald-Boulter-Brennan play three goals in the series

Varsity, McGill Win Openers

MONTREAL (CP)—Teams from the University of Toronto and McGill University Friday won opening matches in the women's Intercollegiate basketball tournament here.

The Varsity girls dumped a Queen's sextet 43-28 and McGill edged University of Western Ontario 26-24 to go into the sudden death championship final today.

Queen's will play Western in a consolation event.

Co-captains Jane Duff and Sally Wallace, along with Shirley Roberts, paced Varsity's girls in their easy win over Queen's. Duff collected 19 points and Roberts eight —all on field goals—while Wallace sank two hoops and four foul shots for eight points.

Toronto led 21-13 at half-time and both teams doubled their points during the second half. Dorothy Enwright—the night's highest-scorer—scored five goals and three free throws to earn 13 points for Varsity. Statistegirl Norma Higgs counted seven and, along with Jean Nelson, played a strong checking and intercepting game.

AT THE CAPITOL—Ida Lupino gives a powerful dramatic performance in "Jennifer," as Alfred Antenore rests his head on her shoulder. Coming Sunday, Howard Duff is co-starred. On the same program "These Gems Sparkle," a unique salute of a bauxite mine starring Gina Lollobrigida and Victoria De Rica. Each hits are first showings, see them on our wide curved giant screen.

THEATRE FEATURE TIMES

AT THE BELLE — "Appointment In Honduras" in Technicolor, starring Glenn Ford, Ann Sheridan, Zachary Scott—Last Day.

AT THE CAPITOL—In color — "Sabre Jet" — Robert Stack, Coleen Gray — Starts Monday. "Ida Lupino — Jennifer" — Wild Bill Elliott — 2:45-4:55-7:05-9:25.

AT THE McCARTHY—"War Arrow" — color by Technicolor — Jeff Chandler, Maureen O'Hara — 2:45-7:45-9:45.

AT THE McCARTHY—Joanne Dru is very much out-of-bounds for Tony Curtis in the Universal-International melodrama "Forbidden", which is set in the dangerous background of Macao. Lyle Bettger, the third co-star, has staked out his claim for Miss Dru, which makes Tony's interest very hazardous. The film opens Monday at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre.

Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—You think you've got problems? Walt Disney finds he is competing against himself in two academy nominees.

The wizard of Burbank faces his biggest year in the Oscar derby. He is up for six different productions, an amazing number for an independent producer. But his films have to fight each other as well as the rest of the nominees.

Disney has two entries in the cartoon short subject class — "Toot, Whistle, Plunk and Boom" and "The Rugged Bear." In two-reel shorts, "Ben and Me" lines up against "Bear Country."

The nominations show how Disney has branched out from his original business of grinding out Mickey Mouse shorts. "The Living Desert," up for the feature-length documentary award, is his first feature in the true-life adventure series.

"The Alaskan Eskimo," nominated for the best documentary short, is his first venture in a companion series called "Peoples and Places."

"Ben and Me" is Disney's first 30-minute short and "Toot" his first cartoon in cinemascope.

His major 1953 effort, "Peter Pan," isn't up for an Oscar since cartoon features have no niche in the voting set-up. However, Walt isn't worrying. It has already won the movie-goers' award of $7,000,000 if domestic gross.

"The Robe" may rank as the top money-maker of all time when the returns are totalled up, but it has been something less than an artistic triumph. Witness the fact that it garnered only five Oscar nominations to 13 for "From Here to Eternity."

This may be the reason: The script was written for Gregory Peck. The studio long hoped for Peck to play Marcellus and expected him to. But he had gone to Europe.

Lacking a final turn-down from Peck, it continued to have the script rewritten to fit his talents. As a result, the role of Demetrius, so important in the book, became subordinate.

Finally, Peck declined to return to Hollywood for "The Robe." The studio had an investment of millions of dollars, as well as staking its whole future on the new cinemascope process. So the promising young actor Richard Burton was assigned to the Peck role.

The scrip didn't fit Burton as well as it did Peck, and the weakening of the strong Demetrius role didn't help matters.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It will be good to see a lot of old friends in baseball again after five spring-times spent touring the training camps in Arizona and California, but there will be pangs of nostalgia for the Golden West, too.

Trouble is they are running short of ball clubs out there. A few years back it looked as though the big movement was toward the West, and that even Texas might regain its oldtime status as a big league training centre.

Then the minor league magnates, jealous of the money carried away by the big shots from their exhibition games, began throwing up obstacles and laying down rules about when and where and against whom the visiting clubs might play. Now they need not worry about that any longer.

In the last few years the Chicago White Sox, Chicago Cubs, St. Louis Browns (not Baltimore Orioles) and Pittsburgh Pirates all have hauled out of California. The White Sox and Pirates have gone to Florida. The Cubs and the Orioles have joined Cleveland and the New York Giants in Arizona, and that now is the crop.

So it is back to Florida for this traveller, and with no complaints to make. Lots of people spend money to go there. Tampa is an ideal base from which to visit many training camps and listen to managers say nothing much.

Florida is all right, but we still expect to miss Arizona. The shining mountains about Phoenix and Tucson will remain sharp in memory if we never get back.

AT THE BELLE—"You'll Do As I Say" orders Glenn Ford to Ann Sheridan, as Zachary Scott, Rodolfo Acosta stands by for action in scene from "Appointment in Honduras", Radio's romantic adventure drama in Technicolor, showing today for the last time at the Belle Theatre, with a funny Leon Errol comedy, "Polo Ponies," and a Disney color cartoon.

Your Individual Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SUNDAY, FEB. 28, 1954

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Gains aspects prevail, particularly for Sunday interests. Go to your church and, if possible, visit someone sick or lonely. Doing chores cheerfully will bring fresh benefits.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Your generous, understanding nature can be of great service now—for charity, children's and religious affairs especially. Necessary work should not irritate. Good fun advocated, too.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — You can profit today if you heed advice to Taurus. The whole day encourages right thinking, good deeds. Material matters can be handled quickly, without fuss. Rest, play in free time.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — The bigger and better you can grow, add to spiritual credits this day. Show the graciousness and kindliness for which Cancer folks are well known. Don't forget God's plan.

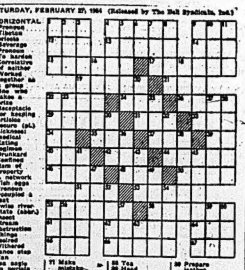
July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Temper your usual enthusiasm with commonsense lest you go overboard in any endeavor or activity. Day requires quiet thought and action to better interests; favors church, family, and good fun.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—A helpful aid now—and in next few periods—is good reading first church services, then carry out prearranged plans. Music, quality activities and entertainment endorsed.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Advice to Virgo suits you today. No need for worry, confusion or unhappy differences. We are often to blame for so much of this. Seek God's aid and blessings.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—If possible and convenient, enjoy some diversion from daily routine. Do something with a talent: write, sing, visit good friends.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Make this a day of relaxation and rest, without neglecting essential duties. There should be time for all three, and your religion!



December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—One finds inner contentment, fortifying strength in prayer, in true charity, kindly deeds. And nothing can take the place of that contentment. Necessary work favored, also relaxation.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—An opportune day for those with unusual talents and skill to develop their artistic leanings. Blessings will be yours for any and all kind deeds.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Unusual twists in the planetary aspects give you an edge on many today's worries: you may lay new groundwork for future action. This means thought, backed by God's abiding help. Happy prospects!

YOU BORN TODAY have many fine traits and talents. You are in the intellectual category and are usually eager for accomplishment, will study and work for it. You possess quantity of patience and determination but are at times too restless. Try to cultivate concentration and inner contentment. You can achieve so much when you do. Prayer, steadfastness of purpose and truthfulness are always helpful. Birthdate: Michel de Montaigne, Fr. philosopher and essayist; Geraldine Farrar, American opera singer.

SINGING CLASS

STAINES, England (CP) — The Middlesex county council started a program here of singing classes for disabled persons. The council has a conductor and pianist, and free transport is provided for those unable to use public transportation services.

UNIQUE COLLECTION

ALTOFTS, England (CP) — Jeffrey Dinsdale, 7½, has collected 1,620,000 tinfoil milk-bottle caps in this Yorkshire district. The cash, totalling a ton, was worth £30 for scrap, and he plans to turn the money over to charity.

Checkoff Brings Sharp Debate Between Members

OTTAWA (CP) — Two Liberal Commons members Friday expressed opposite views on legislation for the checkoff of union dues.

The division came between Mrs. Anne Shipley, freshman member for Thunderning and former reeve of Ontario's Teck township, and James Byrne of Kootenay East, a one-time mine union official.

Mrs. Shipley argued a CCF bill for the checkoff "would only place more money in the hands of union leaders."

Mr. Byrne, a member of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.) at Kimberley, B.C., said the measure would give employees and employers something on which to build better relations.

They were debating an amendment to the federal labor code introduced by Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre). It would make employers under federal jurisdiction—railways and other interprovincial industries—collect dues for unions when individual employees authorize this.

The system is known as the "voluntary revocable" checkoff. It now is in effect in contracts for most workers under federal jurisdiction. Several provinces have legislation making it compulsory on employers, as the Knowles bill seeks for those under federal control.

TALKED OUT

Mr. Knowles' bill did not come to a vote in the hour devoted to legislation sponsored by non-cabinet members of the Commons. It was still being discussed when the hour expired.

Earlier this week, Labor Minister Gregg said legislation such as proposed by Mr. Knowles is under consideration by his department. However, he said, there appeared no urgency about it.

The CCF member drew support Friday from R. Johnston, Bow River, chief labor spokesman for the Social Credit party. Johnston said the Social Credit group favors the voluntary revocable checkoff, but it raised strong opposition to unions using dues to finance political fights.

"When a union uses money to assist a political movement," he said, "that has a very disturbing effect on its members."

Mrs. Shipley said she is not against the checkoff when it is negotiated by unions with employers and when unions have earned it by "responsible behavior."

Other unions had not shown such behavior, and they should not get the checkoff by compulsion under legislation.

In some unions, she said, "pressure and intimidation" was used to get the signatures of members for the checkoff.

If this legislation were passed, she asked, "where is compulsion going to end?"

PRESSURE ON PROVINCES

It appeared "the height of folly" to reward, which such legislation, unions that had shown "contempt for law and order."

If the measure was adopted, Mrs. Shipley said, it could be used as "additional pressure" on those provinces which do not want to pass checkoff legislation now.

Mr. Byrne took up the same point by saying it is "regrettable" that the matter now is before the Commons in the shadow of a union-management struggle in Ontario "so that perhaps it cannot be argued dispassionately."

This was a reference to the northern hard-rock strikes lasting several months, now under settlement, in which the checkoff was an issue.

"If we succeed in showing the way to some of the provinces and some employers and in avoiding one more disastrous strike," Mr. Byrne said, "we will have accomplished a very good purpose."

He said there is no compulsion on union members to sign checkoff slips. The process also costs the employer practically nothing, he added.

FINDS 1885 NEWSPAPER

SOUTH HAVEN, Mich. (AP)—Harley Rhodes Thursday discovered in a stack of musty old newspapers an April 13, 1885, copy of the New York Herald carrying the news of the assassination of President Lincoln. In a fine state of preservation, the paper also carried an ad that offered Rhodes' grandfather. It offered coffee for 12 cents a pound.

STUMBLING BLOCKS

BOULTON, Eng. (CP)—Brides have literally been tripping to the altar in this Derbyshire town. Officials of St. Mary's church said £150 will be spent to replace jutting flagstones in the ancient flooring before the Easter marriage rush.
